CITY COUNCIL.

In the BOARD OF ALDERMEN, on Thursday evening, a petition of Thomas Norton and others, to extend State to Cass street, was referred.

The following resolution was received from the Common Council:

Resolved, the Board of Aldermen concurring, that the City Marshal be authorized to take such measures at once as may be necessary to put an end to the general practice on the part of shopkeepers in this city of emptying the sweepings of their stores and shops into the public streets.

[illegible] to be acted upon.

NAVAL.—Dispatches from Commodore Tatnall, of the East India squadron, announce the receipt of instructions for him to send the Portsmouth to Portsmouth, N. H., and states that she sailed on the 5th March, bringing home Midshipman J. C. Mosely, who was transferred from the Minnesota to the Portsmouth, to allow him to attend his examination. Also, bringing home Lieut. Colville Terrett and eight seamen, invalided.

☞ The Portsmouth correspondent of the Boston Journal, speaking of our new and deservedly popular Street Commissioner, Dea. David Libbey, says:

"He seems to have entered upon his duties in good earnest, and to show a desire to have our streets kept clean, a state so novel as desirable. On Saturday, after a long search, the pavement of Congress street, which has hardly been seen within the memory of the oldest inhabitant, was brought to light, and the vast quantities of dirt that had accumulated here were carted off much to the gratification of our a-touished citizens. It is to be hoped that this "new broom" will continue to "sweep clean."

☞ Lyman D. Spalding, William L. Dwight, and Charles H. Chase, of Portsmouth, were appointed Commissioners of Pilotage for the harbor of the Piscataqua, by the Governor and Council at their meeting in May last.

☞ The Legislative Reporter for the Patriot makes the following personal reflections upon some of the Democratic members:

Distinguished among the Democratic members, we notice the venerable features of that old Democratic war-horse, Hon. Abner Greenleaf, of Portsmouth; also, the tall form of Hon. Walter Harriman, of Warner, a gentleman worthy to be ranked among the prominent Democrats of the State; the pleasant and intelligent face of Charles W. March, Esq., of Portsmouth; a man who features of Geo. W. Stevens, of Wilton; James F. Lyford, Orland Gilbert Eastman, Joseph H. Cutter, Tristram Garland, Moses C. INSTRUCTIONS FROM THE DEPARTMENT OF STATE TO THE GOVERNOR OF KANSAS.—The letter from Secretary Cass to Gov. Denver, concerning the "act for the admission of the State of Kansas into the Union," tells the Governor that his duties under the act are of the most delicate and important character, but are clearly and distinctly defined in the act.

In this short letter, Mr. Cass reiterates four times, once in each paragraph, the desire of the President for a fair expression of the popular will.

Does Gen. Cass grow old, and repent himself as old men do? or does he reiterate the desire for fear the people of Kansas may not readily believe it after bitter experience?

FIRE AT THE STARK MILLS.—The north picker room of No. 1 Mill, on the Stark corporation at Manchester, N. H., took fire about 4 o'clock on Wednesday evening, but the fire was extinguished with not more than $1500 damage. The fire took from some foreign substance, probably gravel, coming in contact with the machinery and igniting the cotton, which will burn, at first, with a flash like gunpowder. One man was considerably burned about the face.

A CURIOUS STATEMENT.—It is stated that the British government, when called on to explain the recent outrages on American vessels, may reply that some months since the administration of Mr. Buchanan REQUESTED of the British government to change the cruising ground of its squadron for the suppression of the slave trade, from the coast of Africa to the coast of Cuba, and that the late transactions are in consequence of that request. If it should turn out that he administration did make such a request, Mr. Buchanan will stand a good chance of being laughed at for getting into a passion because John Bull took him at his word, and supposed that he really desired to suppress the slave trade. As Father Ritchie always said, when puzzled, "Nous Verrons."—Atlas and Daily Bee.

NEW YORK, June 4.—Steamship Black Warrior, from Havana May 30, arrived this morning. The English officer who boarded the American vessels at Sagua la Grande, has been arrested and sent to Jamaica. One account says he was arrested for exceeding his instructions, another for allowing himself and marines to be driven from the dock of ship Grotto.

ESCAPE.—Mr. Tucker, the Exeter stage driver, informs us that a prisoner in the Exeter jail, named Willey, sawed off the bars of the window of his cell, with the main spring of a watch, on Tuesday night, and had been gone six hours before they discovered his escape.—Newburyport Her.

REVOLUTION AT NEW ORLEANS.

It has been known for a long time, that the police of New Orleans was inefficient either from corruption or timidity, and while trivial offences were hunted up and severely punished, crimes of deeper dye, robbery and murder were perpetrated with impunity. Now a crisis has come, and a Vigilance Committee is in operation, as seen by the following dispatches.

NEW ORLEANS, June 3.

A revolution broke out here last night—The Vigilance Committee in large numbers took possession of the arsenal to Jackson Square, and the prisoners.

The Executive Committee call for all law and order people to join them, and are determined to carry out their measures.

Nothing else has transpired as yet, but at this time, 7 o'clock, A. M., cannon are posted about the Arsenal, and about 200 armed men on guard.

The occasion of the rising is the numberless disorders, outrages and assassinations of the past few years.

10 o'clock, A. M.—From 700 to 800 men are under arms.

Several arrests have been made, and it is reported that opposition will be made to the Comm ttee, in which case a severe battle is certain.

Volunteers are still crowding up.

11 A. M. Gen. Trucip's division of militia has been ordered out by the Mayor.

11 1-2 A. M.—The Common Council is in secret session. Considerable confusion is amongst the members.

There is great excitement in the street, and the Council have got possession of the First District Armory.

Noon.—More arrests have been made.

The following document is published today:

Citizens of New Orleans:—After years of disorder, outrage and unchecked assassination, the people, unable and unwilling either to bow down in unresisting submission to a set of Ruffians, or to abandon the city in which their business, their social sympathies and their affection cluster, have at length risen in their might—have quietly taken possession of the Arsenal and the building in Jackson square, and have established there the head-quarters of a Vigilance Committee, pledged each to the other to maintain the rights inviolable of every peaceful and law-abiding citizen—restore public order—abate crime, and expel or punish, as they may determine, such notorious robbers and assassins as the arm of law, either from the imbecility of its public servants or the inefficiency of the laws themselves, has left unwhipped of justice.

In the present, the ordinary machinery of police justice is suspended,—the Mayor and the Recorder, as we understand, yielding up the power, which confesses their inability to exercise it for the preservation of the public peace and the security of property.

The Vigilance Committee will therefore provisionally act in their stead—administer to each and to every malefactor the punishment due to his crimes, without prejudice or political bias.

All citizens who have sympathy with this movement, and who think the time has come when New Orleans should be governed like all other well-ordered and civilized communities, will report themselves without delay at the principal office, where the character of this movement will be explained, and the determination of the people more fully made known.—All has been done noiselessly thus far.—All will continue noiselessly, dispassionately and justly; but the ruffians who have dyed our streets with the gore of unoffending citizens and spread terror among the peaceable, orderly and well-disposed, must leave or perish. So the people have determined. Vox populi vox Dei.

10 o'clock P. M.—The Mayor and Council have gone to the headquarters of the Vigilance Committee to end the riot act.

Two companies of militia are employed in making cartridges.

The Committee have established as a signal the firing of three guns from the Arsenal, at the sound of which all its supporters are invited to repair to the Arsenal, prepared to resist attacks.

8 P. M.—The Vigilance Committee are still triumphant, and have torn up the streets and erected barricades of cotton bales. The city forces are an armed rabble, having no organization or a head. No fight has occurred as yet. The Mayor issued an order this afternoon, to take the arms belonging to the city, wherever they could be found. Acting on this order, the rabble broke open and seized some weapons in Kittredge's store. It is expected that the Vigilance Committee will seize the City Hall to-morrow. Bands of armed ruffians are now parading the streets.—The stores in the city closed their doors this afternoon. The Vigilance Committee are supported by the respectable citizens, and the municipal authorities must yield.

10 P. M.—It is now expected that a fight will take place to night.

There is an immense gathering around the Headquarters of the Vigilance Committee.

NEW ORLEANS, June 4.—The Mayor's forces are as yet unorganized, and all remains quiet. Great preparations are being made by both parties.

The forces of the Vigilance Committee are under the command of Major J. S. Duncan, late of the U. S. Army, and are well organized and drilled.

A crisis is expected to-day.

The city papers are divided in opinion. The Picayune and Crescent are in favor of the city authorities, and the True Delta and Delta in favor of the Vigilance Committee, while the rest remain neutral.

10 A. M.—The excitement is increasing. The Mayor has issued orders to arrest John Maginnis, of the True Delta, and the opponents of the Committee declare that if he is taken they will hang him. Maginnis takes it coolly.

W. E. HAGAN & CO., Troy, N. Y.—Having used your Hair Coloring and Restorative, and having been much pleased with it, I feel pleasure in making the following statement: For the space of two years I was very much troubled with sickness, when at the age of eighteen years of age my hair commenced turning grey, and so continued to grow until it became perfectly white. I then tried various remedies, but without success, and I had reached my fifty third year, when I was induced by a friend to purchase two bottles of Hembright's Hair Coloring, prepared by you. I commenced using it according to directions, and in a few days was surprised to find my hair turn from the roots outward and turning back to its original color. I then continued to grow until it was as truly brown and glossy as it was in my youthful days, and is now fully restored to its original color. MYLES SEAMAN.

Essex Co., ss: Myles Seaman came before me and was duly sworn, and says that the above statement is true, this 9th day of Feb., 1858.

JOHN F. PATTEN, Justice of the Peace.

TICONDEROGA, N. Y., Aug. 1, 1857

I hereby certify that my hearing became quite dull, and used Hembright's Hair Coloring (prepared by W. E. Hagan, of Troy, N. Y.) for four weeks, and my hair was in that time restored to its original color. I can fully recommend the article to all of delicate nerves. W. KNIGHT,

Pastor of the Baptist Church, Pittsford, Vt

The above are but two of the many letters of recommendation which have been tendered to the proprietor of Hembright's Hair Coloring and Restorative. It has been used by hundreds of people, and it never fails to restore the color and growth of hair. This singular effect is produced as when dyes are used, for it acts upon the natural secretions of coloring matter at the roots, and thus effects the change. Beside, the color produced is not a counterfeit, but the natural shade of growth. It does not color the skin. Prepared and sold by W. E. HAGAN & Co., Troy, N. Y.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

PALPITATION OF THE HEART.

When not arising from organic disease, palpitations are due either to nervous excitement, or to a general impoverishment of the blood. The PERUVIAN SYRUP, by restoring the vital fluid to its proper condition, calms nervous excitement, arrests palpitations, and invigorates the whole system.

MYERS' ROCK ROSE.

We have but very little faith in patent medicines generally, in consequence of the thousand and one quack nostrums which are retailed through the country, with no earthly use but to swindle the purchaser out of his money. Occasionally, however, a good medicine is introduced, and such we believe to be the article which has so long been here. We have had occasion to use several bottles of the "Rock Rose" for dyspepsia and indigestion, and the results have been highly beneficial. We advise others to try the Rock Rose, because we believe they will be benefitted by it.—[Plymouth Rock.

LOCAL.

FOURTH OF JULY.

A meeting of the citizens of Portsmouth was held at the City Council Rooms last evening to take into consideration the celebration of our National Independence.—Wm. H. Siss Esq., was chosen Chairman and Edward P. Nowell Secretary.

The Chairman stated the object of the meeting and a Committee was appointed to solicit subscriptions to the amount of $200, agreeably to the resolution passed by the Common Council and which is awaiting the action of the Board of Aldermen, the Committee consisting of G. F. Melcher, A. H. Hoyt, J. M. Davis, J. H. Hall, J. Warren Towle, E. N. Mathes, F. W. Miller.

A committee of three was appointed to present to the Board of Alder en a plan of the proposed celebration at their next meeting.

The meeting adjourned to meet next Tuesday evening, at 8 o'clock, at the City Rooms, to hear the reports of committees.

☞ Patrick Cochran, an Irishman, aged 43, died very suddenly on Thursday night in this city.—He was at work on Thursday, for the Gas Light Co., and left about half past 3 o'clock, when his job was finished. He gave his three children their supper, and put them to bed at dark; took a seat in a chair near the head of the bed, and telling his boy that he would sit awhil, laned his head back against a pillow which he had drawn towards himself. The children slept, like children; and when, at a late hour, the boy awoke, he saw his father still sitting, as he thought asleep. He spoke but the father gave no answer. The boy stepped out of bed and touched him—but he was dead,—and undoubtedly had passed away without a groan or struggle. He was a sober, working man, but very poor He had lost his wife a few weeks ago.

AUBURN STREET CEMETERY.—This beautiful resting place for the dead is every day improving in appearance. As you approach it through Auburn street, the heavy gates placed at the main entrance last year, look far more suitable than the old one, which was not massive enough to portray the weight of grief so often felt by those who entered therein.

Then the beautiful row of elms, which, by the liberality of some of our citizens, were set out last fall, relieves the oppressive monotony which has heretofore been experienced on this route. But about half a dozen out of seventy have died, and we hope other persons may be induced to contribute toward finishing the work so well begun, and thereby furnish us with a walk or drive unequalled (when the odorous slaughter house shall be removed) for beauty in this vicinity—to Sagamore.

The northern part of this Cemetery, is so filled, already, that no extensive changes may be expected there; but the walks are in fine order, the trees and grass grow beautifully, and the flowers, which evince our taste and our devotion for the departed, are not few.

At the Southern portion of the grounds, improvements are in constant progress. The fine monuments erected the past season by Messrs. Jones and Pattigrew are conspicuous among these. Many lots are being enclosed, trees set out, and various other works in operation—all tending to beautify the whole. The view from this part of Cemetery is very fine—on the north the city, showing its eight or ten steeples,—"monuments of Christian humility"—towering among them the tall, dark chimney of the factory, like a grim sentinel, never moving from its post; as we scan the horizon from north to east, and from east to south, Kittery Freeside, Navy Yard Village, the Navy Yard, Trefethen's Island, Kittery Point, Fort Independence, Sullivan and McClary, Newcastle and Little Harbor come in view; giving a variety scenery, land and water, cities and woods, green fields and rugged rocks, hardly to be found elsewhere in this neighborhood.

☞ By the Legislative report, it appears that Thos. L. Tullock, Esq., has been elected Secretary of State, and Thos. J. Whittem, Commissary General—both residents of Portsmouth Peter Sanborn, of Concord, State Treasurer. If ever men merited office for service rendered to a party, our townsmen above-named do. Tuesday next is the day appointed to nominate a U. S. Senator. The Senatorial election is assigned for Wednesday next.

LOOK BEFORE YOU DRINK.—A gentleman who lives at the South End of the city, brought into our counting room, on Friday afternoon, a bottle containing a Lizard about three inches long—which was drawn from his aqueduct faucet at home.

☞ Operations on the new Custom House have been suspended for a few days, on account of a delay in furnishing the granite.

"RUM DID IT."—Rum does some droll things, as well as many that are dreadful. Not many days ago, a man, (who shall be nameless here,) being at once a seller, a drinker, and a victim of rum, seemed to be a little bewildered in mind, and sadly weakened in the knees, about dusk; and bfundering into a stable, he passed thro' it, and sank down against the doors, in the condition commonly called dead drunk.—The hostler did not like to have him there, but could not remove him alone, and thought of getting the police to carry him off—but afterwards found in the street a mutual friend, who would help him get the drunken man home. By the time they got back to the poor fellow, he was so sound asleep that they had much trouble to wake him up; but when they did so, he exclaimed, "Who locked me up here? What did they take me for?" He supposed they were police officers, and that he must have a trial. As it was not so, he did not come before the court, and so we need not name him.

HEIMSTREET'S HAIR COLORING.—This Hair Colorings is one of the signal inventions of modern times, and in its way, deserves a prominent niche in the great storehouse of modern improvements. Every triumph of Art over Nature is curious, and often highly suggestive. When the vessels of the scalp become old, and but poorly perform their function—worn out, as it were by the fevers of the brain, generated often by active mental strifes and excitements, nature marks the decay with a growth of grey or white hair. Here Heimstreet's Hair Coloring comes in, and a few applications restore the vessels of the scalp to their original health.—[Troy Budget.

TORONTO MARKET REPORT.

Front Street, Corn-Market Square,
TORONTO, C. W., May 31, 1858.

Our market rules very dull for produce of all kinds. The weather has had a depressing effect, for we have had it most boisterous for a fortnight past with much rain; and in the Western States fears are entertained that the excessive rains will preclude the possibility of planting an average crop of corn, and this cereal is advancing when all others are declining.—The wheat crop, although backward does not cause any alarm here, nor in the West. The quantity of wheat still in the country is large, and with fine weather our receipts will become heavy. We have over 75,000 bushels of wheat in store now and 27,000 barrels of flour.

	Flour, bbls.	Wheat, bush.
1858	60 0 0	861,000.
Increase....	5 0 0	7.8 0 0

Or reducing wheat to flour the excess of '58 over the '57 is equal to 190,000 bbls.

We notice the arrival in New York of the first flour from new wheat from Georgia—three weeks earlier than last year.

FLOUR.—The market is very dull, and transactions have been of the most unimportant kind. There are a few orders for the immediate wants of the trade in Montreal and Eastern States. Our standard of inspection, has been raised, and all, save the lowest brands of No. 1 superfine, would now pass extra, in New York or Boston.

WHEAT of good quality maintains its price, owing only to the small supplies coming to market being inadequate to the wants of local millers. A few days of such weather as we have to day, will dry up the roads, increas supplies, and reduce prices.

PEAS, Barley, and other raw grains are in better demand, but very little offering.

LAKE FREIGHTS are very low. One vessel to Oswego was taking wheat up at 2c a bushel for wheat.

Fine Flour $6 00 to $6 00 per bl; No. 2 Superfine 3 60 to 3 25; No 1 do., 3 75 to 3 80; Fancy 3 85 to 3 95; Extra 4 00 to 4 15; Double Ex. 4 55 to 4 60. In quantities not less than 100 bbls. of any one grade.

Wheat—Prime white winter 90 to 95c; fair average do 85 to 90c; Spring 75 to 78c; per 60 lbs.

Oats 34c per 34lbs. Barley 50 a 55c per 48 lbs.

Rye 55c per 56lbs Peas 50 a 55c; per 60 lbs.

Butter firm at 14 to 15c; Double Ex. 16c per lb.

Freights from Toronto by rail and steamer, to Boston 75c a 1; to Portland 80c a bl., 20c bush.; to New York 55c a bl; to Oswego 15c. a bl.

Charges on Wheat are 5c per bus., which covers commission for purchasing, storing, bagging, and putting on board. On Flour—1 per c. with funds in hand, or 2½ drawing with Bill Lading

Ayer's Pills

Are particularly adapted to derangements of the digestive apparatus, and diseases arising from impurity of the blood. A large part of all the complaints incident to our climate originate in one of these, and consequently these PILLS are found to cure many varieties of disease.

Subjoined are the statements from some eminent physicians, of their effects in their practice.

AS A FAMILY PHYSIC.

From Dr. E. W. Cartwright, of New Orleans.

"Your PILLS are the prince of purges. Their excellent qualities surpass any cathartic we possess. They are mild, but very certain and effectual in their action on the bowels, which makes them invaluable to us in the daily treatment of disease."

FOR JAUNDICE AND ALL LIVER COMPLAINTS.

From Dr. Theodore Dill, of New-York City.

"Not only are your PILLS admirably adapted to their purpose as an aperient, but I find their beneficial effects upon the Liver very marked indeed. I have, in my practice proved more effectual for the cure of bilious complaints than any one remedy I can mention. I sincerely rejoice that we have at length a purgative which is worthy the confidence of the profession and the people."

DYSPEPSIA — INDIGESTION.

From Dr. Henry J. Evar, of St. Louis.

"The PILLS you were kind enough to send me have been all used in my practice, and have satisfied me that they are truly an extraordinary medicine. So peculiarly are they adapted to the diseases of the human system, that they seem to work upon them alone. I have cured some case of dyspepsia and indigestion with them, which had resisted the other remedies we commonly use. Indeed I have experimentally found them to be efficacious in almost all the complaints for which you recommend them."

DYSENTERY — DIARRHŒA — RELAX.

From Dr. J. G. Grace, of Chicago.

"Your PILLS have had a long trial in my practice, and I hold them in esteem as one of the best aperients I have ever found. Their effective yet gentle action on the bowels is an excellent remedy, when given in small doses, for bilious dysentery and diarrhœa. Their sugar-coating makes them very acceptable and convenient for the use of women and children."

INTERNAL OBSTRUCTION—WORMS—SUPPRESSION.

From Mrs. E. Snart, wife of the proprietor of a Physician and Midwife's in Boston.

"I find one or two large doses of your PILLS, taken at the proper time, are excellent promotives of the natural secretions when wholly or partially suppressed, and also very effectual to cleanse the stomach and expel worms. They are so much the best physic we have that I recommend no other to my patients."

CONSTIPATION — COSTIVENESS.

From Dr. J. P. Vaughn, Montreal, Canada.

"Too much cannot be said of your PILLS for the cure of costiveness. If other of our patients have found them as efficacious as I have, they should join me in proclaiming it for the benefit of the multitudes who suffer from that complaint, which, unhappily had epsoken is slight, is the progenitor of others that are worse. I believe costiveness to originate in the liver, but your PILLS effect that organ and cure the disease."

INFLUENCE OF THE BLOOD — SCROFULA — ERYSIPELAS — SALT RHEUM — TETTER — TUMORS — RHEUMATISM — GOUT — NEURALGIA.

From Dr. Rankel Ball, Philadelphia.

"You were right, Doctor, in saying that your PILLS purify the blood. They do so, I have ample proof, every day in my practice, and agree with your statements of their efficacy. They stimulate the excretories, and carry off the impurities that stagnate in the blood, engendering disease. They stimulate the organs of digestion, and infuse vitality and vigor into the system.

"Such remedies as you prepare are a national benefit, and you deserve great credit for them."

FOR HEADACHE — SICK HEADACHE — FOUL STOMACH — PILES — DROPSY — PLETHORA — PARALYSIS — FITS — &c.

From Dr. Edward Engel, Baltimore.

"DEAR DR. AYER: I cannot answer you what complaints I have used with your Pills better than to say all that occur treat with a purgative medicine. I place great dependence on an effectual cathartic in my daily context with disease, and believing as I do that your Pills afford us the best we have, I place value them highly."

☞ Most of the Pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Has long been manufactured by a practical chemist, and every ounce of it under his own eye, with invariable accuracy and care. It is sealed and protected by law from counterfeits, and consequently can be relied on as genuine without adulteration. It supplies the surest remedy the world has ever known for the cure of all pulmonary complaints; for COUGHS, COLDS, HOARSENESS, ASTHMA, CROUP, WHOOPING COUGH, BRONCHITIS, and INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease. As time makes these facts wider and better known, this medicine has gradually become the best influence of the kind offered, from the log cabin of the American peasant to the palaces of European kings. Throughout this entire country, in every state and city, and indeed almost every hamlet it contains, Cherry Pectoral is known as the best of all remedies for diseases of the throat and lungs. In many foreign countries it is extensively used by their most intelligent physicians. If there is any dependence on what men of every station certify it has done for others, if we can trust our own senses when we see the dangerous affections of the lungs yield to it; if we can depend on the assurance of intelligent physicians, whose business is to know what is true, if there is any reliance upon anything, then it is indubitably proven that this medicine does cure the class of diseases it is designed for, beyond any and all other remedies known to mankind. Nothing but its intrinsic virtues, and the unimpeachable benefits conferred on thousands of sufferers, could originate and maintain the reputation it enjoys. While many inferior remedies have been thrust upon the community, have failed, and been discarded, the late gained friends by every trial, confirmed benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures so numerous and remarkable to be forgotten.

THE RESTORATIVE OF PROF. O. J. WOOD for restoring hair perfectly and permanently, has never yet had a rival. Volume after volume might be given from all parts of the world and from the most intelligent to prove that it is a sure Hair Restorer; but read the circular and you cannot doubt; read also the following.

THE HAIR.—People have for centuries been afflicted with bald heads, and the only remedy, heretofore known, has been those abominable wigs. By a recent discovery of Professor Wood these articles are being just dispensed with, but a great many persons still patronize them, because they have been so often imposed upon by Hair Tonics of different kinds. To all such persons we earnestly make the request that they will try once again, for in Wood's Restorative there is no such thing as fail. We know of a lady who was bald, who used the article a short time, and her head is covered completely with the tiniest and most beautiful curls imaginable. We know of numerous cases where hair was rapidly falling out, which it restored in greater perfection than it ever had been before.

It is also without doubt one of the best articles for keeping the hair in good condition, making it soft and glossy, removing dandruff, and has proved itself the greatest enemy to all the ills that hair is heir to.

It is the duty of every one to improve their personal appearance though some may differ in regard to the ways of doing it; but every one will admit that a beautiful head of hair adds a man or woman, is an object much to be desired, and there are no means that should be left untried to obtain such a consideration.—Woman's Advocate, Philadelphia.

COCHECTON, Ohio, Nov. 17, 1856.

O. J. Wood & Co.—Gents: As I have been engaged in selling your Hair Restorative the last season for one of your local agents (R. M. Hackinson,) and having experienced the beneficial effects of it myself, I would take the pleasure to obtain an agency for the State of Ohio or some state in the west, should you wish to make such an arrangement, as I am convinced there is nothing equal to it in the United States, for restoring the hair. I have been engaged in the Drug business for several years, and have sold various preparations for the hair, but have found nothing that restores the secretive organs or invigorates the scalp as well as yours, being convinced that your restorative is what you represent it to be, I would like to engage in the sale of it, for I am satisfied it must sell.

Yours truly, S. T. STOCKMAN.

WAYLAND, MASS., Feb. 5, 1857.

PROF. O. J. WOOD & CO.—Gents: Having realized the good effects of your Hair Restorative, I wish to state, that finding my hair growing thin, and in patches, I was induced from what I read and heard to try the article prepared by you, to promote its growth and change its color as it was in youth, both of which it has effected completely. In the operation I have used nearly 3 bottles.

Yours &c., JAMES FRANCIS.

Use Philbrick's Celebrated Fire-Kindlings.

THESE Kindlings are the best of anything that has ever been used for wood or charcoal fires. They are CHEAP, a Box containing 144 squares, 1 square being sufficient to kindle a fire, burning from 8 to 10 minutes with a free blaze, therefore kindling nearly 6 fires for 1 cent, and are not affected by age or climate. They are safe, being composed of a substance not liable to spontaneous combustion; thereby dispensing with use of shavings and paper, thus removing a great risk of fire from kindling, and are HANDIER, CHEAPER and CLEANER.

DIRECTIONS.—One of the small squares lighted and placed on the bottom of the stove or grate is sufficient to kindle a wood or charcoal fire.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and his owners commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings and certify the drawing connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Managers would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that some one hit on the number among them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $70,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published immediately after drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Dog Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

IMMORTELLES.

MORNING.

Throw up the window! 'Tis a morn for life
In its most subtle luxury. The air
Is like a breathing from a rarer world;
And the south wind seems liquid—it o'erseals
My bosom and my brow so delightingly,
It has come over gardens, and the flowers
That kissed it are intoxicated—for as it parts,
With its moist's fringes, my loose hair,
I know it has been trifling with the rose,
And stooping to the violet. There is joy
For all God's creatures in it. The wet leaves
Are stirring at its touch, and birds are singing
As if to breathe were music; and the grass
Sends up its modest color with the dew,
Like the small tribute of humility.
Lovely indeed is morning! I have drank
Its fragrance and its freshness, and have felt
Its delicate touch; and 'tis a kindlier thing
Than music, or a feast, or medicine. —[Willis.

SONNET.

So am I as the rich, whose blessed key
Can bring him to his sweet up-locked treasure,
The which he will not every hour survey,
For blunting the fine point of seldom pleasure;
Therefore are feasts so so dom and so rare,
Since seldom coming, in the long year set,
Like stones of worth they thinly pinced are,
Or certain jewels in the cuvcanet.
So is the time that keeps you as my chest,
Or as the wardrobe which the robe doth hide,
To make some special instant special bless'd,
By new unfolding his imprisoned pride.
Blessed are you, whose worthiness gives scope,
Being had, to triumph; being lack'd, to hope.
—[Shakspeare.

HOOPS IN BROADWAY SIXTY YEARS AGO.

From the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin we extract the following reference to Mrs. Robert Morris and dress fashions sixty years since:

"An old gentleman, whose memory is very clear, informs us that in 1798, the ladies each wore a single hoop which was as large as the lower one now worn. The hoop was worn as high as the hips, and below it depended a train, often five or six yards long, that was carried by waiting maids or boys. The old gentleman recollects seeing Mrs. Robert Morris walk along Broadway, N. Y., in company with Aaron Burr, while her train was borne by six French mustee women, richly dressed, with turbans on their heads. The women all wore stays, and shoes with heels two or three inches high, immense silver buckles being on the shoes.

Silk dresses were not then common, and muslin ones worn were admired according to the size of the flowers on them, roses as large as one's hat being considered most elegant and tasteful.

At that time enormous head dresses were worn, towering far above the head of the wearer. The headgear for the street was a sort of cap, which was placed upon the top of the head dress with a curtain or cape at the sides and back, which hung down nearly to the shoulders.

The ladies of the present time differ from those sixty years ago in several respects. The waists of their dresses are not so near the armpits as of old, and instead of wearing the capes upon their shoulders, they wear their bonnets there; but crinoline is spreading fast, skirts are growing longer and heels are gradually working their way up the last century pitch."

Vulcanized Gutta Percha Clothing.

MOSES & DOWNIE,

SOLE Agents for the above Goods, have on hand a large Stock of the same, suitable for wear as a cloak.

These fabrics, since their first introduction to the public, (almost three years since,) have been fully tested, and the result has proved them to possess all the qualities requisite to make a perfect article. They have on hand numerous testimonials from gentlemen in the navy and merchant service, which they would be pleased to show any one who would favor them with a call. They have been supplying some of the officers of the Valparaiso, who have tested the Rubber goods, and found them suitable for sea service.

LETTER FROM KENSINGTON.

KENSINGTON, June 1st.

Messrs. Editors:—The season here, as elsewhere, is quite backward. We have had several frosty nights, but I do not learn that any material damage has been done. Some have early corn and potatoes high enough to hoe, but they do not appear to have been hurt materially. Fruit and grass promise well.

The young folks are well pleased when the Chronicle has one of Uncle Toby's dialogues in it; and when it does not, they think he might write them a letter. Clean print, good selections, and a general summary of news makes it quite interesting to those who feel no interest in it as a temperance paper. It is in general very free from typographical errors, though you made me say touch for torch and united for uniting, in the last letter. Your readers are intelligent and will correct as they read, so that it is of little consequence to a writer generally.

Has Mr. Everett ever received any "dirty shillings," as John Randolph expressed it, that makes him value the favor of the South so much? One would have thought that the rebuke of that eccentric statesman would have roused all the man that was in him, and made him bold on the side of right ever after. Standing where he does, he has not the respect of North or South in this matter. An open, independent course would have commanded both, and I should think such a man would have gloried in taking it, with the opportunities he has had, and the splendid talents possessed by him to give him influence.

It seems a pity that there could not be some arrangement with Great Britain and our government in regard to vessels trading with Africa. Probably not a month passes that some small, fast-sailing vessels do not leave New York and New Orleans with rum and tobacco to purchase slaves for Cuba and Brazil. Men who have always been familiar with slavery think it no harm, and even Northerners have engaged in it. As they cannot be boarded, unless slaves are seen on board, they are almost certain of escape. A mutual right of inspection of all ships within a certain longitude and latitude, would not compromise the dignity of either government. As most of the navy officers are Southerners, probably a "masterly inactivity" characterizes the operations of our fleet there.

Your column of quotations from the poets is quite an idea. One likes to meet old friends and make new ones in this way.—I never could see how people can like Pope and dislike Byron. It seems to me that Pope's "January and May' is worse than anything Byron ever wrote. Certainly it is coarser and more gross, with no fancy or poetry to relieve it. And one is cried up as a saint and the other denounced as the chief of sinners. I wish Abbot would give us a life of them or Thackeray. I think we should see a change in the estimate of Pope at least. I think he must have been converted before he wrote the "Dying Christian," or inspired for the time as Balaam was.

Your paragraph on new bread does not include Rye-and-Indian, I presume. If I were on the committee for giving premiums, I would offer one for the best brown bread and Indian cakes. They will soon be among the things that were. No former knows how to make them, and except for porridge they never use anything but flour. It would be a benefit to them and to the country to teach them how to use Rye and Indian meal, so as make healthy and palatable bread of it.

Henry Dwight's operations do indeed "cast Tuckerman into the shade." Perhaps corporations will build at their own expense some carpeted prisons for their gentlemanly officials. Would it not be nice? Perhaps too the people may find out that it is not necessary to take men who never earned a dollar to fill responsible situations, because they are somebody's cousin or belong to "our set." If Stockholders would pay a man to look after their interests, taking the conductor's place one day in the week, the Depot Master's another, looking over books, etc., I think they would get their dividends, and they would be larger too. Irresponsible power in money matters does not seem to work very well.

"Saved from Fire" would be a fine scene for a painter. I hope it will prove a blessing to the widow and her child. Just think of carrying home clothes late in the evening after a week of toil like hers. Water to carry up and down three or four pairs of stairs, clothes to go after, wash and iron, to buy soap and fuel, to support herself and child, year in and year out; and perhaps to look forward to nothing better for the child when she became a woman! How does her heroism contrast with Mr. Herbert's cowardice. And yet there are women worse off. Perhaps she could say

"The love where death hath set his seal,
No time can change or distance chill;"

—while the wife of the drunkard, whose love is turned to hate by the liquid demon the gentlemanly rumseller prepares, works as hard, and carries a load of shame beside. How comforting to one in such a case to be told that "moral suasion is all that should be used with men who are engaged in this traffic; we have no right to legislate on what men shall drink."

How would it do for Henry W. Beecher to be as unsectarian as he is, if he was only a third or fourth rate preacher? Would he not be called to account for it before some synod or conclave. It is refreshing, though, and makes one breathe more freely.

I shall not apologize for my long letter, for you have furnished the texts, and I have passed over a good many without comment. In conclusion, I would recommend to each subscriber to pay for an additional copy. If they should send it to an enemy, it would be "heaping coals of fire on their heads;" if to a friend, it would be a weekly remembrancer, and a kindness oft repeated, while it would help the cause of truth and sound morality. VERITAS.

Morning Chronicle.

MONDAY, JUNE 7, 1858.

THE NEW ORLEANS WAR.

NEW ORLEANS, June 4—Noon. — The Vigilance Committee offered to resign, provided the city will vest the police authority in their hands, which the city refused to do.

If the Committee succeed, Gerard Stith's native American party will be killed. The Vigilance Committee is, nevertheless, composed of men of all parties.

A rumor is current in the streets that a compromise has been effected, that the city authorities will deliver up twenty-five noted ruffians to the Vigilance Committee, and that 500 men of each side will be sworn as police.

I have been refused admittance to the City Hall, and cannot vouch for the reliability of the report.

1 P. M.—50 men, with two cannon, have just taken possession of Canal street. They are said to be men who have been marked by Vigilance Committee for punishment.

2 P. M.—The Vigilance Committee are triumphant. The Mayor has resigned the municipal authority into their hands. The city is quiet, and the crowd has withdrawn from Canal street.

The Committee have appointed a special police of over 1000 men.

A dispatch dated New Orleans, June 3, P. M., says:

There is intense election excitement here, and three hundred of the Vigilance Committee have seized the State Arsenal, and are in possession of the second district police office. The have seized the notorious Gallatin street, and have barricaded several streets and made a number of arrests.—They are well armed with minnie rifles and have cannon ready. They are opposed to the Stith ticket.

The Boston Journal says the "Stith ticket" above referred to is the Native American ticket. Gerard Stith, late foreman of the Pizayune office, is the candidate of the Native Americans for Mayor. Major G. T. Beauregard, formerly of the Topographical Engineers in the Mexican war, was nominated for the same office by a highly respectable and influential body of citizens, irrespective of party, for the purpose of putting down the rowdyism and crime which have disgraced New Orleans, and it is probably the friends of the latter candidate who have organised the present Vigilance Committee.

THE OUTBREAK AT NEW ORLEANS. — Washington, June 5.—(Dispatch to the Boston Journal.)—A dispatch from New Orleans says that Randall Hunt (a brother of Judge Hunt) and his friends will be forced to leave. The Vigilance Committee is equally composed of Americans and Democrats.

FATAL RAILROAD ACCIDENT IN NEW YORK.—A shocking accident occured near Piermont a few days since by which Judge Kinney, of Schuyler Co., was killed and a drover seriously injured. It appears that a freight train broke down, and before the other could be stopped, which was just behind, the engine ran into the caboose, smashing it to pieces and instantly killing Judge Kinney, who was in the caboose, and seriously injuring a drover, whose name was not ascertained.

☞ A lad of eighten years purloined a package of bills amounting to $1040 from the office of the American Express Company at Erie, on Monday, and left for Buffalo, where he bought clothing and jewelry, and in the evening visited the theatre, where he was caught by the police, who had been informed of the affair by the telegraph.

THE LOWELL MURDER TRIAL.—In the case of Francis E. and Miriam Y. Heath, on trial at Lowell for murdering their father, Joshua Heath, at Dracut, in January last, the Jury came in with a verdict of Guilty of Murder in the Second Degree against both prisoners. Francis was sentenced to the State Prison for life. The sentence of Miriam was postponed till the next term of the Court.

☞ The Milwaukie and Superior Railroad Co. turns out a swindle. Fictitious stock subscriptions and farm and road mortgages to the amount of $525,000 were got up, as a preliminary to getting Milwaukie city bonds in aid, to the amount of $100,000, which was divided among the the officers, Edward Button, formerly of Hartford, getting $15,000.

☞ The Indiana State Journal says that the wife of H. W. Herbert was at that place prosecuting a divorce, when the intelligence of the death of her husband was received. She manifested something more than indifference on the occasion, during the day, and in the evening went to a festival with a gentleman whose acquaintance she had made there. The lady will probably soon form a third romantic matrimonial alliance.

☞ Mr. N. Mann of Concord, N. H., dropped down dead while walking in his garden on Friday last.

☞ Mr. Charles H. Foster, the celebrated Spiritual Test Medium, who interested and puzzled so many of our citizens, a few months since, is now in Havana. Capt. Charles Tyng, of Newburyport, who became much interested in the "doctrine," through Mr. Foster, at Newburyport, represented the manifestations to his friends at Havana, where Mr. Tyng is engaged in business; and many citizens, among others, the Governor-General of Havana, were desirous that Mr. Foster should visit the Island. Accordingly he proceeded directly thither, when he left Portsmouth; and is now there, giving public exhibitions of his power, and that of the Spirits,—with good success.—Though entirely unacquainted with the French or Spanish languages, yet he writes and speaks both when under the "influence." The manifestations through him as well as others, are certainly remarkable; and more easily, if not more correctly, explained on the ground of Spiritualism than in any other way we know of.

In a letter received from Mr. Foster, by a friend in this city, he says: "In a country where the Papal religion rules, I cannot do that good that I should like—yet for all this, I find the Catholics here much more liberal than at the North." F.

THE FORT SCOTT SWINDLE.—A member of a company that has been stationed at Fort Scott since last winter, writes to the Missouri Democrat, from Leavenworth.

Since my arrival at this post I have read in the Missouri Republican what purported to be a copy of the proceedings of a meeting of the "Committee of Safety," composed of Free State men, and containing outrageous and treasonable threats. I know that they are concocted and written by Gen. Clark, Brockett, Dr. Hamilton, and their like, while in secret conclave at the Western Hotel. The object in this ruse was two-fold—to excite the country at large, and the soldiery in particular, against the Free State men, and to keep the troops with them to protect them in their rascality.

This is the other side of which we spoke some days ago. These precious scoundrels fabricated a bogus document to shield themselves, and to bring evil and death upon others.

ESSEX CO.—At the C. C. Pleas, at Newburyport, last week, the following sentences were passed:

Jane Perkins, of Lawrence, keeping an house of ill fame, sentenced to six months hard labor in House of Correction at Lawrence.

Jane Robinson, of Lawrence, keeping a house of ill fame, sentenced to four months hard labor in House of Correction at Lawrence.

Timothy Donnegan, of Lynn, common seller, sentenced to pay a fine of $50 and costs, and to be confined at hard labor in the House of Correction at Lawrence for the term of three months, and to recognize in the sum of $1000 not to violate the law for one year.

Angus McDonald, of Essex, convicted of one sale of spirituous liquors, sentenced to pay a fine of $10 and costs, and be confined at hard labor in the House of Correction at Ipswich for 30 days, and 20 days additional if fine and costs are not paid; and further to recognize in the sum of $300 not to violate the law for one year.

Josiah Hibbard, Philip A. Babson, Leander Manchester and Elisha Hall, all of Gloucester, for malicious mischief in discharging fire arms into the dwelling house of a widow Rowe, in the night time. A nol. pros. was entered in the case of Elisha Hall, who was used as a State's evidence. Hibbard was the Chief of Police at Gloucester at that time, and also headed this drunken party in committing the offence on the citizens whom he had sworn to protect. Verdict guilty.

☞ The Duchess of Orleans died at her residence near London, on the 10th ult., aged 49 years. Should either branch of the royal family of France ever be restored to the throne, her son, the Count of Paris, might have a kingdom on the ruins of the empire. He is the legitimate successor of Louis Phillippe, and since Henry V. has no children, he would be heir to the throne should the Bourbons succeed again. His mother regarded him as a future king, and has educated him for one. She was an ambitious woman, and refused to enter into any alliance that would give ground to delay his coronation one day.

☞ Samuel Spencer, an old gentleman of 70 years, living with his son Samuel G. Spencer, in West Springfield, was run over and killed by a freight train on the Western Railroad on Monday while walking on the track. He was formerly a leading citizen of Hinsdale, N. H.

☞ Most of the operatives who have been on a strike at Valley Falls, R. I., have returned to work at the old price.

SWILL-MILK AND LAGER-BIER.

Is swill-milk wholesome? Is lager-bier intoxicating? Grave questions these. If Udolpho Wolfe can induce two thousand physicians to testify that his detestable gin-grog, popularly known as "Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps," is a pure and wholesome "medicinal beverage," and if the lager-dealers can get such eminent chemists as Dr. Chilton to certify that the stuff is not intoxicating, why should not the swill-milk venders avail themselves of the opinions of learned men to let us know that the filthy excretion they find it profitable to sell is just the best and most wholesome food that can be imagined? They can and they will. Certainly more can be said in favor of swill-milk than lager-bier; or, rather, less can be alleged against it. If swill-milk is abominable, lager-bier is infernal. If one corrupts and rots us, the other stupifies and kills us. Swill-milk contains more of the elements of food than lager-bier does, and less of the alcoholic poison. Both are compounds of decayed organic matters and other "morbid poisons."

In the Court of Common Pleas last week, Mr. Wilhelm, formerly one of the coroners of the city, swore that a man can drink six or eight glasses of lager without being harmed by it. Mr. Wiessman, one of the supervisors of the county, swore that it was "cooling and nourishing." A German witness testified that he had drunk one hundred and six glasses in a day without becoming drunk.* On the contrary, it made him feel "goot and sleeby." Here is a precedent for the swill-milk gentlemen. And they are too shrewd in the business ways of the world not to avail themselves of it. Already they have petitioned the Mayor on the subject. A number of those who are interested in the extensive cow-stables in Sixteenth Street, with a brazen impudence that might put the face of Satan to the blush, represent that their stables, whose horrid stench pervades the neighborhood, are perfect models of cleanliness. They admit that they feed their cows on distillery swill, but they declare that it makes extremely wholesome milk. And they even ask for a chemical analysis to prove that the milk they manufacture in this way is in all respects equal to the country article!

Here is a chance for the chemists and the doctors, and the topers and the officials. We have no doubt that chemists can be found who will "certify" as desired. But we submit that the best test of its "goot" and "nourishing" qualities would be the capacious-bellied lager-bier drinkers. Let a few of them, who have by long practice converted abdominals into swill-tubs, and who have distended their areolar tissue until it will hold fluid like a sponge, be employed to swallow daily the contents of two or three cans of milk—say fifty to a hundred quarts. If at the end of a week they are willing to swear that it is "so better as goot," the subject may be considered as judicially determined. Frank Leslie may discontinue agitation.—Life Illustrated.

☞ The Committee on Cow Stables commenced their investigation in New York on Monday, when a number of persons interested in the swill milk business, gave in their valuable testimony. One or two new facts came out, such as that nearly all the cows, when no longer valuable for milk, are butchered and sold as number one beef by some of the most prominent dealers in Washington and other markets. Another point is that these cows never get pure water.

☞ The Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Examiner, speaking of the town of Newport in that State, says:

There is a very fair temperance sentiment here, and it is felt. During the recent revival, Mr. Thompson, keeper of a hotel in which liquor was sold, was made a subject of grace, gave his heart to the Saviour, and at once abandoned the liquor business, keeping now a strictly temperance house. We regard this as a conversion worth recording, and thank God for that blessed spirit which is able to accomplish such a glorious work.

Recently, in this place, a couple of men while intoxicated got into a small boat, and pushed it out in the stream, just above the dam. In consequence of their drunkenness the boat soon became unmanageable, and carried them over the dam. One escaped with his life, but the other was drowned—a victim of the regulating Excise Law of the State of New York.

WAR DECLARED BY NEW ORLEANS.—We regret to hear that New Orleans has declared war against Great Britian. The city council of "the Crescent City, seated upon the father of waters," as Mr. Yeadon says, have authorized the Mayor to fit out a sloop to sink the whole British fleet.—N. Y. Post.

While the New Yorkers were becoming excited over the late British interferences with American vessels, the English steamship "Saladin" came up their harbor with sixty-one of the officers and crew of the steamship Susquehanna, saved by their care and medical treatment, when ill of yellow fever off Jamaica. John Bull is sometimes saucy; generally humane.—Statesman.

☞ Patrick Lear, 17 years of age, while sleeping in bed at Lacon, Illinois, was killed by lightning. The lightning entered through the roof. Another person sleeping in the same room awoke, saw the paper blazing, extinguished it, and then discovered that Lear was dead. There was no external wound.

TOBACCO.—Two leading clergymen of New York, Rev. Drs. Tyng and Cox, have recently come out with heavy denunciations of Tobacco. Dr. Tyng, it is said, calls cigars "Devil's playthings," and Dr. Cox, emulating King James in his "counterblast," pronounces tobacco "a hatefully offensive pytalism, concomitant with dirt ineffable."

The Boston Journal learns from a correspondent that an old gentleman in Somerville, who is 87 years of age, and has been a tobacco smoker for sixty-five years, has come to the determination to abandon the habit, and has found his general health benefitted by the change. Let his example be imitated by all slaves to the weed.

☞ Counterfeit bills on the Mechanics' Bank, Concord, N. H., once altered to twenties, well done, have made their appearance.

READ! READ!! READ!!!

SCHOOCK LAKE, ESSEX CO., N.Y., February 6, 1858.

W. E. HAGAN, Troy, N. Y.—Dear Sir: Having used your Hair Coloring and Restorative, and having been well pleased with it, it is a pleasure in making the following statement: From the effects of a very severe fit of sickness when about eighteen years of age my hair commenced turning grey, and so continued to grow until it became perfectly white, being very harsh and coarse. Last Summer I had reached my fifty third year, when I was induced by a friend to purchase two bottles of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, prepared by you. I commenced using it according to directions, and in a few days was surprised to find that my hair from the roots outward was turning back to its original color. It so continued to grow until it was as truly brown and glossy as it was in my youthful days, and is now fully restored to its original color. MYLA SEAMAN.

Essex Co. ss: Myla Seaman came before me and was duly sworn, and says that the above statement is true, this 13th day of Feb., 1858.
JOEL F. PATTEN, Justice of the Peace.

FERRISBURG, Vt., Aug. 1, 1857.

I hereby certify that my having become quite grey, I used Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, (prepared by W. E. Hagan, of Troy, N. Y.,) for four weeks, and my hair was in that time restored to its original color. I can fully recommend the article to be all it claims. WM. KINGSLEY,
Pastor of the Baptist Church, Pittsford, Vt.

The above are but two of the many letters of recommendation which have been tendered to the proprietor of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring and Restorative. It has been used by hundreds of people, and it never fails to restore the color and growth of hair. This singular effect is produced as when dyes are used; for it acts upon the natural secretions of coloring matter at the roots, and thus effects the change. Beside, the color produced is not a counterfeit, but the natural shade of youth. It does not color the skin. Prepared and sold by W. E. HAGAN & Co., Troy, N.Y.

MYERS' ROCK ROSE.

We have but very little faith in patent medicines generally, in consequence of the thousand and one quack nostrums which are vended through the country, with no earthly use but to swindle the purchaser out of his money. Occasionally, however, a good medicine is advertised, and such we believe to be the article which heads this notice. We have had occasion to use several bottles of the "Rock Rose" for dyspepsia and indigestion, and its results have been highly beneficial. We advise others to try the Rock Rose, because we believe they will be benefitted by it.—[Plymouth Rock.

LOCAL.

Not So.—A letter from this city to the Boston Atlas, dated June 4, says:

Last Sunday a man committed suicide, and another was arrested on the day after on suspicion of wife-murder.

The suspicion of wife-murder ripened into imprisonment, but there was no suicide here. There was such a report, arising from the following circumstances: A farmer made a little scare-crow of boys' clothes stuffed with straw, but the live boys carried it off or destroyed it. He then took a suit of his own old clothes, stuffed them with straw so as to make a scare-crow "as large as life and twice as natural," and hung it up high in a tree, to overlook the cornfield. The boys did not disturb this, but said, in foolish sport, that the farmer had hung himself on a tree.

Another Head off! John R. Reding, Ex M. C., has been removed by the President from the office of Naval Store-keeper at Portsmouth, to make room for a secdy, broken down politician, of Maine, named Virgil D. Parris. Parris formerly held the office of Lieut. Mail Agent, and was removed for incapacity, by a man named Franklin Pierce! This appointment is the more significant, that Maine has some score or more of seaports, furnishing fat places for any number of hungry cormorants, while New Hampshire has but one. Ind. Dem.

The Ballot says:—

Mr. Parris will be remembered as a delegate to the Cincinnati Convention in 1856, and who, on stopping at Washington and announcing his intention to vote for Buchanan, was summarily removed by Pierce from the office of special mail agent. President Buchanan now evinces his gratitude by appointing Mr. Parris to this office.

Per contra, the Journal says:

Mr. Reding has ever been the advoatec of rotation—and a year since, told us he had no cause of complaint to have it applied to his own case.

☞ There are few public Houses which offer such beautifully united rural and sea attractions as the Atlantic, on Rye Beach. Washington, June 4.—The Secretary of War has despatches from Col. Johnston, confirming the report that Gov. Cumming has been driven out of Salt Lake City.

He to-day received a telegraphic despatch from Gen. Harney dated Leavenworth, in which he says the express has arrived, and reports Gov. Cumming driven out of Salt Lake City. The despatch does not obtain full credence, for the reason that Gen. Harney merely repeats a report and does not communibate as from direct intelligence to himself. It is believed as probable that Gov. Cumming has retured to Fort Scott, for it is known to the government that when he left there contrary to the advice of Gen. Johnston, he promised to be back in two weeks.

Washington News.—New York, June 5. (Times Washington correspondence.)—Gen. Harney's despatch to the Secretary of War, embodied a request for the reinforcements to be hurried forward.

Gov. Denver has made a requisition on the commanding officer at Fort Leavenworth for a detachment of dragoons to repress the disturbances in Kansas.

The President has withdrawn the nomination of Wiggin, of Maine, for Fishing Commissioner under the treaty with England. Gen. Ward B. Burnett is pressed for the place, with some prospect of success.

H. D. Pratt has been confirmed as Sub-Treasurer at Boston.

The President told a member of the House to-day that the question of the right of search must be settled definitely, and that the British government must abandon its pretensions. It is the intention of the President to send the Saratoga to the Gulf next week, and the Constellation, now on way home from the Mediteranean, will be ordered immediately to the same station.

Senator Henderson, of Texas, died this evening.

British Outrages.—Augusta, Ga., June 4.—We have been unable as yet to obtain any further information from Pensocola concerning the reported firing into of an American vessel off that port, by a British war steamer.

There is probably no further information about it, except that it is a bogus report.

CONGRESS.

Friday, June 4.

Senate.—The bill, introduced by Mr. Kennedy of Maryland, to establish a mail steamship line between New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Europe, was read twice and referred to the Post Office Committee.

Mr. Douglas reported against the present organization of Dacotah.

Mr. Seward called up the resolution respecting the adjournment, and called for the yeas and nays on agreeing to the House amendment, proposing to adjourn on the 10th inst., which was concurred in by a vote of 29 against 27.

Consequently, both Houses will adjourn on Thursday.

The private calendar was then taken up.

The bill, as reported from the Committee on Commerce, to surrender the stock of the United States in the Dismal Swamp Company to the said Company, on certain conditions, was passed.

Sixty or seventy private bills were also passed.

The House passed the bill confirming the settlers in their right to the pre-emption of their lands in Illinois.

Also concurred in the amendment of the Senate to the Diplomatic and Consular Appropriation Bill, striking out the proviso confining the appropriations strictly to the fiscal year ending June 30, 1858.

Mr. Bocock of Virginia asked leave to introduce a bill anthorizing the Secretary of the Navy to cause to be constructed without unreasonable delay, by contract, or at the Navy Yards, ten propeller sloops-of-war, &c.

The bill appropriates for these purposes $1,2000,000.

Mr. Sherman of Ohio inquired how much the vessels would cost.

Mr. Bocock replied, according to the estimates of the Navy Department $2,300,000.

Mr. John Cochran of New York gave notice of an amendment, providing for 20 such vessels.

Mr. Hatch of New York said he would move for the construction of three war steamers for the North-western Lakes.

Objections were made to the introduction of the bill.

Mr. Boocock moved a suspension of the rules, which failed, 127 against 86, not two-thirds voting in its favor.

The House passed the bill giving a construction to the 24 section of the Act of February, 1853, continuing the half pay of certain widows and orphans of revolutionary officers and soldiers, by which their pay will commence from the 4th of March, 1848, and involving the expenditure of a million and a half of dollars.

Washington, June 2.—(Times correspondence.)—Instructions received to-day by telegraph, warrant the belief that the steamer from England brought important dispatches, which will arrive here to-morrow. There are also intimations that these dispatches are pacific.

Messrs. Lafitte & Co. of Charleston, recently applied to the Secretary of the Treasury for a clearance for a vessel bound to Africa, to bring back a cargo of African immigrants. The Secratary refused the clearance on the ground that some of the States have laws prohibiting the importation of pauper immigrants.

☞ The Washington City Election comes off on Monday next, and it is thought more than probable it will be attended with riots as usual. It is announced already that the "Fourth Ward Democrats have a couple of howitzers concealed," for use on that occasion.

TEMPERANCE NOTICE.

The Rockingham County Conference of Congregational and Presbyterian Churches will hold the next annual meeting with the church at Raymond, (Rev. D. B. Bradford's,) commencing on Tuesday, the 8th day of June next, at 10 o'clock A. M., and continuing two days.

As this will be a favorable time and place, the Rockingham County Temperance Committee will hold a meeting there on Wednesday morning, June 9, at the close of the morning prayer meeting.

And the several District and Town Committees, and the ministers of the several towns, are requested to bring or send particular statements of temperance efforts, of intemperance, &c., in their respective places. T. H. Miller, Sec. Co. Com.

Portsmouth, May 27.

☞ To cure Dyspepsia or Indigestion use the Oxygenated Bitters, a medicine more favorably known than any remedy ever offered for the cure of these troublesome complaints. It always relieves the most obstinate cases.

The attempt to re-establish capital punishment in Wisconsin has failed.

Wolfe's Celebrated Scheidam Aromatic
SCHNAPPS.
This medicinal beverage is manufactured by the proprietor, at Scheidam, Holland, expressly for medicinal use, by a process peculiar to his own Factory. It is the pure Tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, whose more vinous extract is distilled and rectified with its spirituous solvent, which thus becomes a concentrated tincture of exquisite flavor and aroma, altogether, transcendant in its cordial and medicinal properties to any alcoholic stimulant now made in the world. It is now prescribed by more than 5,000 physicians in the United States, in cases of Gravel, Gout, Dropsy, and Bladder and Kidney Complaints.
Put up in Quart and Pint Bottles, in cases of one dozen qts., and cases of two dozen pts., and for sale by all Druggists and Country Merchants.

Ayer's Pills

Are particularly adapted to derangements of the digestive apparatus, and diseases arising from impurity of the blood. A large part of the complaints that afflict mankind originate in one of these, and consequently these Pills are found to cure many varieties of disease.

Sold[illegible] are the statements from some eminent physicians, of their effects in their practice.

AS A FAMILY PHYSIC.

From Dr. E. W. Cartwright, of New Orleans.

"YOUR PILLS are the prince of purges. Their excellent qualities commend them to the sick everywhere. They are mild, but very certain and effectual in their action on the bowels, which makes them invaluable to us in the daily treatment of disease."

FOR JAUNDICE AND ALL LIVER COMPLAINTS.

From Dr. Theodore Dell, of New York City.

"Not only are your PILLS admirably adapted to their purpose as an aperient, but I find their beneficial effects upon the Liver very marked. I have been in the practice of medicine long enough to know the inefficacy of most of the remedies officinal for the cure of bilious complaints than any one remedy I can mention. I sincerely rejoice that we have at length a purgative which is worthy the confidence of the profession and the people.

DYSPEPSIA — INDIGESTION.

From Dr. Henry J. Knox, of St. Louis.

"The PILLS you were kind enough to send me have been all used in my practice, and have satisfied me that they are truly an extraordinary medicine, in the peculiarly happy manner adapted to the diseases of the human system, that they seem to work upon them alone. I have cured some cases of dyspepsia and indigestion with them, which had resisted the other remedies we commonly use. Indeed I have experimentally found them to be effectual in almost all the complaints for which you recommend them."

DYSENTERY — DIARRHŒA — RELAX.

From Dr. J. S. Green, of Cincinnati.

"Your PILLS have had a long trial in my practice, and I hold them in esteem as one of the best aperients I have ever found. Their alterative effect upon the liver makes them an excellent remedy, when given in small doses, for bilious dysentery and diarrhœa. Their super-coating makes them very acceptable and convenient for the use of women and children."

INTERNAL OBSTRUCTION—WORMS—SUPPRESSION.

From Mrs. S. Stewart, who practises as a Physician and Midwife in Selma.

"I find one or two large doses of your PILLS, taken at the proper time, are sufficient to remove all the natural secretion when wholly or partially suppressed, and also very effectual to cleanse the stomach and expel worms. They are so much the best physic we have that I recommend no other to my patients."

CONSTIPATION — COSTIVENESS.

From Dr. J. P. Fowler, Montreal, Canada.

"Too much cannot be said of your PILLS for the cure of costiveness. It others suffer disorder from them, as I have heard some of my patients say, I should join in proclaiming it for the benefit of the multitudes who suffer from that complaint, which, although bad enough in itself, is the parent of other evils. I find it is only those who are audacious enough to obstruct in the liver, last year, PILLS which cleansed and cured the disease."

IMPURITIES OF THE BLOOD.—SCROFULA — ERYSIPELAS — SALT RHEUM — ULCERS — TUMORS — RHEUMATISM — GOUT — NEURALGIA.

From Dr. Rudolph Hick, Philadelphia.

"You were right, Doctor, in saying that your PILLS purify the blood. They do that. I have used them of late years in my practice very frequently and I recommend them highly. They stimulate the extremities, and carry off the impurities that stagnate in the blood, engendering disease. They stimulate the organs of digestion, and infuse vitality and vigor into the system.

"Such remedies as you prepare are a national benefit, and you deserve great credit for them."

FOR HEADACHE—SICK HEADACHE—FOUL STOMACH—COSTIVENESS—DROPSY—PLETHORA—PARALYSIS—FITS—&c.

From Dr. Edward Boyd, Baltimore.

"DEAR DR. AYER: I cannot answer you what complaints I have cured with your PILLS better than to say of them, as I do over many other preparations of medicine, I place great dependence on an effectual cathartic in my daily contest with disease, and believing as I do that your PILLS afford us the best we have, I of course value them highly."

Most of the Pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Has long been manufactured by a practical chemist, and every evidence of it under his own eye, with invariable accuracy and care. It is sealed and protected by law from counterfeits, and consequently can be relied on as genuine, without adulteration. It supplies the sure and safe remedy the world has ever known for the cure of all pulmonary complaints; for COUGHS, COLDS, HOARSENESS, ASTHMA, CROUP, WHOOPING COUGH, BRONCHITIS, and incipient CONSUMPTION. Consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease. As time makes these facts wider and better known, this medicine has gradually become the best reliance of the afflicted, from the log cabin of the American pioneer to the palaces of European kings. Throughout this entire country, in every state and city, and indeed almost every hamlet, it contains CHERRY PECTORAL is known as the best of all remedies for diseases of the throat and lungs. In many foreign countries it is extensively used by their most intelligent physicians. If there is any dependence on what men of every station certify it has done for them, it is certain that our own neighbors will have the diagnosis and cures of the lungs yield to it. If we can depend on the assurance of intelligent physicians, whose business is to know; in short, if there is any reliance upon anything, then is this wonderfully potent. Of the medicine does cure the class of diseases it is designed for, beyond any and all other remedies known to mankind. Nothing but its intrinsic virtues, and the unmistakable benefit conferred on thousands of sufferers, could originate and maintain the reputation it enjoys. While many inferior remedies have been thrust upon the community, have failed, and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, confirmed those who at first doubted, and has cured many, whom the afflicted they can never forget, and professional men to numerous and remarkable to be forgotten.

THE RESTORATIVE OF PROF. O. J. WOOD for restoring hair perfectly and permanently, has never yet had a rival. Volume after volume might be given from all parts of the world and from the most intelligent to prove that it is a perfect hair Restorative. Read the circular and you cannot doubt; read also the following.

THE HAIR.—People have for centuries been afflicted with bald heads, and the only remedy, heretofore known, has been those abominable wigs. By a recent discovery of Professor Wood these articles are being last dispensed with, but a great many persons still patronize them, because they have been so often imposed upon by Hair Tonics of different kinds. To all such persons we earnestly make the request that they will try once again, for in Wood's Restorative there is no such thing as fail. We know of a lady who was bald, who used the articles a short time, and her head is covered completely with the tiniest and most beautiful curls imaginable. We know of numerous cases where hair was rapidly falling out, which it restored in greater perfection than it ever had been before.

It is also without doubt one of the best articles for giving the hair its good condition, making it soft and glossy, removing dandruff, and has proved itself the greatest enemy to all the ills that hair is heir to.

It is the duty of every one to improve their personal appearance though some may differ in regard to the ways of doing it; but every one will admit that a beautiful head of hair, either in man or woman, is an object much to be desired, and there are no means that should be left untried to obtain such a consideration.—Woman's Advocate, Philadelphia.

COCHECTON, Ohio, Nov. 17, 1858.

O. J. Wood & Co.—Gents: As I have been engaged in selling your Hair Restorative the last season for one of your local agents (R. M. Hackinson,) and having experienced the beneficial effects of it myself, I feel bound to obtain an agency for the State of Ohio or some state in the west, should you wish to make such an arrangement, as I am convinced there is nothing equal to it in the world. I have been engaged in the Drug business for several years, and have sold various preparations for the hair, but have found nothing that restores the secretive organs or invigorates the scalp as well as yours, being convinced that your restorative is what you represent it to be, I would like to engage in the sale of it, for I am satisfied it must sell.

Yours truly, S. T. STOCKMAN.

WAYLAND, MASS., Feb. 5, 1857

PROF. O. J. WOOD & CO.—Gents: Having realized the good effects of your Hair Restoratives, I wish to state, that finding my hair growing thin, as well as gray, I was induced from what I read and heard to try the article prepared by you, to promote its growth and change its color as it was in youth, both of which it has effected completely, in the opinion I have used nearly 3 bottles.

Yours &c., JAMES FRENCH.

Use Philbrick's Celebrated Fire-Kindlings.

THESE Kindlings are the best of anything that has ever been used for wood or charcoal fires. They are CHEAP, a Box containing 144 squares, 1 square being sufficient to kindle a fire, burning from 8 to 10 minutes with a free blaze, therefore kindling nearly 6 fires for 1 cent, and are not affected by age or climate. They are safe, being composed of a substance not liable to spontaneous combustion; thereby dispensing with use of shavings and paper, thus removing a great risk of fire from buildings, and are HANDIER, CHEAPER and CLEANER.

DIRECTIONS.—One of the small squares lighted and placed on the bottom of the stove or grate is sufficient to kindle a good or charcoal fire.

THEREFORE, BE IT KNOWN, that NOTHING but the said PILLS of Dr. CHEESEMAN will accomplish the desired object, when numerous WOMEN have been experienced under the regime of OTHER PILLS; and the Ladies will cause this Proclamation to spread amongst them, to their own everlasting benefit—assuring promising that said Proclamation in one case must be considered null and void; that is to say the PILLS MUST NOT be used when any female is in an interesting situation, otherwise a MISCARRIAGE will be the inevitable result.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of New York, and have seven commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Managers will respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent out unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $70,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia.

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m18ly

AS A SPRING MEDICINE

MYERS' EXTRACT ROCK ROSE is invaluable. It changes the vicid humor, opens the pores of the skin, promotes insensible perspiration, thereby purifying the blood and invigorating the system. A free use of this medicine, in the spring months, will not only cure all diseases caused by impurities of the blood, but will beget a healthy action and prepare the system to resist the attacks of fevers, derangement of the bowels, &c., so prevalent in the summer season.

IMMORTELLES.

MAN.

How poor, how rich, how abject, how august,
How complicate, how wonderful is man!
How passing wonder He who made him such!
Who center'd in one make such strange extremes,
From different natures marvellously mixed,
Connexion exquisite of distant worlds!
Distinguished link in being's endless chain!
Midway from nothing to the Deity!
A beam ethereal, sullied and absorpt!
Though sullied and absorpt, still divine!
Dim miniature of greatness absolute!
An heir of glory! a frail child of dust!
Helpless immortal! insect infinite!
A worm! a God! I tremble at myself,
And in myself am lost. —[Young.

FRIENDSHIP.

Friendship, like love, is but a name,
Unless to one you stint the flame.
The child, whom many fathers share,
Hath seldom known a father's care.
'Tis thus in friendship; who depend
On many, rarely find a friend.—[Gay.

And, as I gaze, thy billowy roll
Wakes the deep feelings of my soul.

SOLE Agents for the above Goods, have on hand a large Stock of the same, suitable for shore and sea wear.

These fabrics, since their first introduction to the public, (almost three years since,) have been fully tested, and the result has proved them to possess all the qualities requisite to make a perfect article. They have on hand numerous testimonials from gentlemen in the navy and merchant service, which they would be pleased to show any one who would favor them with a call. They have been supplying some of the officers of the Falmouth, who have tested the Rubber goods, and found them unfit for sea service.

PROVIDENTIAL DELIVERANCE.

The Portsmouth (Virginia) Transcript tells the following true story, stranger than many fictions, which would help to make a plot for a novel.

A few days since we alluded to the suicide of Samuel C. Bain, formerly of this city, in New Orleans, by taking laudnum. Our readers will remember that Mr. Bain, when a resident of Portsmouth, in the year 1855, was charged with murdering his son in a drunken fit, who died very suddenly, but he was acquitted for want of evidence.

The circumstances of this self murder were most singular, and the rescue of the family in which the suicide occured from a criminal prosecution, was most providential. Bain had been without work for some time; and his money had given out. He became gloomy and solitary, often remaining whole days in his room. Some time since he had his life insured for a considerable amount.

On the Monday before he committed suicide, Bain wrote a letter to Mr. J. H. Robinson, in which he acknowledged his indebtedness to Robinson; but stated that as they would never probably meet again in this world, he hoped for forgiveness of the debt. Mr. Robinson received that letter on the following morning, and concluded to call at Mrs. Hamilton's, where Bain boarded, and ascertain what he was doing, or what he intended to do. Arriving at the house, what was his surprise to find that Bain was dead, having taken laudanum during the night. And most singular of all, under his clothes was found a letter, in which he stated that, being sick, the family visited him late in the night, and given him some medicine which he found in a short time to be violent poison, and that before his death, and before he could make up his mind to write, the same family had again visited his room and robbed him of seven thousand dollars. All this was detailed in the letter, and the package was folded up and concealed under his shirt.

The Coroner, in his inquest, found this letter, and on its strange accusation, proceeded to arrest the parties pointed out in the dying allegations of the self-murderer.

This was the the position of affairs when Mr. Robinson arrived at the house. He went immediately to the Chief of Police and exhibited the letter written by Bain on Monday, clearly hinting at some desperate deed, and from which no other inference could be drawn, than that he meditated on Monday the very consummation he carried out that night. On these revelations the family under arrest was released. Bain's intention in accusing the family with whom he boarded, of the dark deed, no doubt was to secure the insurance policy on his life to his heirs, which is forfeited by self destruction.

Without the presence of Mr. Robinson the poor family would have had a hard time of it. His interference was purely accidental, too, for he was making preparations to leave the city, and only called at the house by accident. This is the fourth time this gentleman has been the means of interposing in great danger to save human life. His rescue of three persons, at three different times, from the dangers of Niagara Falls, has earned him the sobriquet of the "Great Navigator of Niagara Falls."

NATICK.—Senator Wilson in his noble reply to Senator Hammond, the South Carolina slaveholder, who said that Nothern workingmen were "hireling laborers" and the "mud sills of society" who would yet "learn the tremendous secret of the ballot box," and though it would at once divide the property of their employers, and cause anarchy and ruin, drew the following powerful portrait of his own town of Natick:—

I live, Mr. President, in a small town of five thousand inhabitants. Nearly half the population are employed as operatives and mechanics for the manufacture of shoes for the Western and Southern markets. In 1840 we had thirteen hundred inhabitants, and the property valuation was about three hundred thousand dollars. Last May we had fourteen hundred names on our poll-list, two-thirds of them "hireling mechanics," and a property valuation of over two millions of dollars. The "hireling laborers" on town meeting days, make the appropriations for schools, for roads, and for all other purposes. Do they not know the tremendous secret of the ballot box? Have they proposed to divide the property they themselves created? No sir, no! but I will tell the Senator what they have done. Since 1850 they built seven new school houses, with all the modern improvements and at an expense of about forty thousand dollars, one house costing more than fourteen thousand; they have established a high school, where the most advanced scholars of the common schools are fitted for admission to the colleges, or for the professions, the business, and the duties of life; they have established a town library, freely accessible to all the inhabitants, containing the choicest works of authors of the Old World and the New, of ancient and the modern times. The poorest "hireling manual laborer," without cost can take from that library to his home the works of the master minds, and hold communion with

"The dead but sceptered sovereigns, who rule
Our spirits from their urns."

Morning Chronicle.

TUESDAY, JUNE 8, 1858.

THE TROUBLE AT NEW ORLEANS.—The revolutionary movement at New Orleans, really, has nothing to do with any particular or recent crimes in the city, but appears to be connected with the municipal election, which is close at hand. How quick this state of wild excitement has been got up may be seen from the fact that only one week ago, the New Orleans papers, received by due course of mail, yesterday, were lamenting the absence of every symptom of popular interest in the approaching municipal election, and earnestly calling the attention of citizens to its importance. Within this brief space of time the nominations have been made, and all this anarchy and threatened deadly strife excited.

This state of things has arisen from the nomination of an Independent candidate for Mayor, against the nominee of the American party. The call for the meeting at which the independent candidate was nominated, was signed by six hundred citizens, many of them Old Line Whigs and Democrats. They charge that the elections of last year and the year previous were carried by the Americans by intimidating their opponents from approaching the polls. This violence and intimidation, they allege, has been carried on to such an extent, that last year only 4000 votes were given, tho' there are 12,000 registered and entitled to vote. They say that the dominant party have organized a band of bullies, called Thugs, to drive away their opponents from the polls, and that last year it was at the peril of a brutal beating or loss of life, that the polls were approached by the opponents of the dominant party. This is given as the true cause of the present revolutionary movement.

THE NEW ORLEANS WAR.

NEW ORLEANS, June 4, 7 P. M.—We are on the eve of a fresh excitement. Inflammatory placards have just been issued by the so-called American party, calling upon the Americans to resist the authority of the Vigilance Committee.

More than one-half of the American party are on the Vigilance Committee, and many of the leaders of the Committee are well known Know-Nothings.

One man has been killed, and another wounded, accidentally, in the Vigilance camp.

NEW ORLEANS, June 5.—Incendiary speeches have been made to the mob by Col. Christy, one of the candidates for Mayor, and Col. Henry of the Nicaragua Army. They call the Americans to arms, and offer to head a charge against the Vigilance Committee to-day.

12 O'CLOCK, M.—T. P. White, a money broker, was shot at and very dangerously wounded last night, in front of the City Hotel. He was a white man, and is said to have furnished the cotton for the barricades of the Vigilance Committee.

Over 1500 names have been enrolled by the Vigilance Committee.

Trouble is expected to-day.

NEW ORLEANS, 5th, 5 P. M.—The Mayor is at the rooms of the Vigilance Committee, having placed himself under their protection.

No attack has yet been made by the mob, and Col. Christie has withdrawn from the leadership of the movement on account of the legal position of the Vigilance Committee.

The Recorders are engaged in swearing in special policemen.

☞ The Brooklyn Eagle on Charles Sumner says:—

"A man with such as exceedingly tender cranium ought to have kept a decent tongue in his head. A Democrat would have his head broken a dozen times without whining so much over it. Had Sumner graduated at Tammany Hall he would have taken all he got as a friendly joke."

The Boston Post has the following on the same subject:—

History tells us of a Roman who made his horse a Consul; but the Yankee who has attempted to make a "vacant chair" a Senator, surpasses the Roman.

Uncle Toby deems both these extracts as stupid as they are cold. But there may be men who relish them.

COWS WITH DELIRIUM TREMENS.—The swill-milk investigation in New York, is making queer revelations. On Thursday, Dr. John W. Francis testified that cows confined in impure air, and fed upon distillery swill live in a state analagous to delirium tremens. Their stomachs and livers become diseased, ulcers and tubercles appear, and the tails and hoofs fall off. His attention was called to this subject twenty-five years since. Medical men experienced great difficulty in treating children fed on swill milk. The flesh of such animals was not good for food. If the Aldermen were fed upon it their number would rapidly diminish. Cooks have been obliged to leave the kitchen by reason of the nauseous odor from swill-fed meat.

ARREST OF LOTTERY OPERATORS

IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Police officer Berney, of New York, who lately visited Connecticut and arrested certain managers of Gift or Lottery Enterprises in that State, has, within a few days, visited New Hampshire, and, according to an account in the New York Journal of Commerce, has succeeded in breaking up seventeen concerns of that character, arresting several of the parties engaged in the enterprises:

"Sergeant Berney having given a heavy blow to the Georgia swindling lotteries, turned his attention about a fortnight ago, to the investigation and exposure of the lotteries in New Hampshire and Massachusetts, which have done a large business in this city and State, and throughout the whole Union. The Mayor has received letters almost daily from parties all over the country, who have been swindled by these bogus institutions, and repeatedly wrote to authorities in those States, calling their attention to these concerns, and requesting them to break them up.—These suggestions were, however, entirely disregarded, and Sergeant Berney was despatched last week to visit those States, and, as far possible, to assist in breaking up the lotteries. He carried with him an explanatory and introductory letter from the Mayor to the District Attorney of Rockingham Co., N. H.

The Sergeant passed through Boston to Dover, N. H., making some arrangements as he went along, finally visited Exeter, N. H., the shire town of Rockingham Co., in which the lotteries were mainly located, and where he hoped to procure the assistance of the authorities in carrying out the object of his expedition. The District Attorney and Sheriff of the county readily entered into the Sergeant's plans. The Sergeant made complaints against the parties, but found great difficulty in getting any Justice of the Peace to sign the warrants. He visited four or five Justices, who dodged the responsibility of meddling in the matter, under one pretence or another, but finally he came across one who was not afraid, and who issued the necessary warrants.

The Sergeant, accompanied by Sheriff Towle, then visited Plaistow, N. H., where it had long been known that a notorious lottery was located. They found the concern in a hotel, kept in a chamber in the second story, but there was nobody on the premises who answered to the ownership of the concern. The real owner was a Mr. Wm. P. Shute, who had escaped to Haverhill, having learned in a secret manner of the Sergeant's expected visit. A large number of documents were found conclusively showing the whole thing to be a swindle.

About 100,000 tickets were sent out every month with a scheme, and about one-third of the whole scheme is received back in money. Not long ago, 2,600 letters were received in one mail. The lottery has been in existence about three years, and has never distributed a single prize. The proprietor is very wealthy and lives in luxurious style.

The appearance of the officers in the quite village of Plaistow made a great stir, but the people were not astonished at the revelations of the existence of these iniquitous concerns in their midst, having been long aware of them.

The sergeant and sheriff having overhauled the Plaistow lottery, went next to North Salem, N. H., where the firm of Morgan, Wilson & Co. is located, but no office could be found there in which the business was carried on. It was ascertained that the owner resided in Haverhill, and visited Noth Salem daily to take out the letters which came to the post office there. The lottery at North Salem was conducted on exactly a similar plan with one already described.

The next move was to Atkinson Depot, N. H., where there is only one house.—Joel Miller & Son, Harris Rogers & Co., Kent, Marshall, Harmon & Co., E. R. Spaulding, Moulton & Co., Hargrave, Pearson & Co. A. L. Howe, Wilson & Co., C. R. Rowen & Butler, all had lotteries purporting to do business at this one house and "one-horse" village. The postmaster told the officers that the lottery owners came from Haverhill daily for their letters, and left their schemes to be sent away, and that each firm were represented by different men. Five hundred letters were found in the Post Office which had accumulated in one day, and had not been called for. The postmaster was requested by Sergeant Berney, who has received authority to that effect from the Postmaster General, to send the letters and all others that should afterwards arrive, to the dead letter office at Washington.

The officers then went to South Kingston, a village with half a dozen houses, where they found a firm of Hargrave, Benton & Co., pretending to do business. The lottery concern was situated over the post office, and George F. Carlton and A. A. Burbank (the latter the Postmaster's son) were the real proprietors. Those persons having learned of the Sergeant's coming, escaped arrest with a fast horse. After instructing the Postmaster's to return the letters, &c., the officer went on to Newton, N. H., a town of bigger dimensions—and there found that French, Foster & Co. were carrying on a flourishing lottery business without any office, through the post. The real owner was Alonzo Shute, brother of the Plaistow Shute, who lives also in Plaistow, and called daily for his letters. Several letters were found in the post office there, which were re-mailed to Washington.

All the above mentioned lotteries were visited and overhauled in one day. They were all conducted on the same plan, and each send about 10,000 letters a month, with the accompanying tickets, schemes, &c., and receive about one-third of the tickets ($1 each) back in money.

The next day, the indefatigable sergeant, bidding farewell to the Sheriff of Rockingham Co., went to Nashua, N. H., and Manchester, N. H., and Haverhill, Mass., where lotteries formerly had been; but parties having got frightened by the action of Mayor Tiemann, who was understood to wage extermination of lotteries all over the globe, had abandoned the business and gone to Boston. The serjeant returned to Boston, and there hunted up four bogus lotteries conducted on the above plan, by the following parties:—C. H. Parker & Co., G. W. Moore & Co., Wm. H. Ayers & Co., Carter & Co. The Chief of Police of Boston did not know of the existence of these lotteries, but, being informed by the sergeant, promised to take measures for their suppression.

The Herald gives the following account of his operations in Boston:

Sergeant Berney arrived back in Boston Thursday morning, and before his departure for New York in the afternoon, succeeded in "showing up" several parties who are said to be interested in various swindling operations. These are—William H. Ayer, George W. Moore and C. H. Parker, said to be concerned in the bogus lottery business; Gustavus M. Howard who advertises to send, upon the receipt of two three cent postage stamps, information of a sure method of winning at all the various games at cards; Mrs. Mary E. Dewitt, a lady, who, having been cured of great nervous debility, after many years of misery, desires to make known upon the receipt of a postage stamp, a sure means of relief; and Professor James T. Horn, who advertises to send for a paltry consideration, receipts whereby the affections of the opposite sex can be won. All these names are doubtless fictitious. No arrests were made, but all the letters addressed to these parties will hereafter be sent to the Dead Letter Office. Howard, it is stated, upon receiving the postage stamp, returns an answer that for $1 he will send a pack of cards of a peculiar character. Horn was formerly located in New York.

Sergeant Berney was to leave New York for the West, yesterday, in search of some offenders in that region.

RENOUNCING SPIRITUALISM.—At the close of a lecture against Spiritualism, in Plymouth, a few evenings since, Miss Lizzy Doten, a young lady whose discourses in a trance state have frequently excited the highest admiration on account of the beauty and eloquence of her language, arose before the audience and, with much emotion, declared that she could not conscientiously speak to them again as a medium. She said that she feared she had been laboring under a delusion. So said an item in the papers.

Miss Doten, writes the following note to the editor of the Boston Courier:

As it has gone out through your columns that I have renounced Spiritualism, will you do me the favor to insert this correction? After giving to Prof. Grimes the attention due to a scholar and a man of great industry and scientific research, I felt myself obliged to modify certain points of belief, which I had previously held concerning the phenomena of Spiritualism.—There is, however, much remaining, which has received no satisfactory explanation from science, and from that I cannot renounce until I have substantial reason for doing so. Therefore I have not and do not renounce Spiritualism. Yours respectfully,

ELIZABETH DOTEN.

Plymouth, June 1.

The editor of the Courier says:

It is too much to expect of any lady to yield all her illusions and preconceptions, on the instant, no matter what is the subject of discussion. But we respectfully extract Miss Doten not to wait for "satisfactory explanations from science" of many things necessarily unintelligible in this world. Revelation will come with improved intelligence, though Spiritualism itself is really beneath science. It by no means follows that all the strange things we see, or think we see, are in themselves inexplicable, because we cannot explain them: and surely no ghost is needed to perform the juggling tricks with which spiritual charlatans so easily delude easily-deluded people.

Gen. William Larimer, formerly of Pittsburg, Pa., was killed by the explosion of a cannon at Fort Leavenworth, a few days ago. Gen. L. was a banker in Pittsburg, but meeting with a reverse of fortune he removed to Nebraska.—Exchange Paper.

A mistake. The General had the pleasure of reading the announcement of the sad tragedy (a forgery of some malicious person) in the papers — upon which he naively remarked to a friend, "As soon as I saw it I knew it was a lie."

THE CATHEDRAL TO BE SLICED OFF.—The Roman Catholic Bishop of Boston has been notified that the city will require a portion of the Cathedral in Franklin street, for the opening of the proposed street to Winthrop and Otis places. The Catholics will build a new Cathedral in some other part of the city.

IS IT SO?—Mr. Moran, President of the Erie Railroad, is reported in the New York papers to have publicly stated that "the present railroad system was unprofitable. There was no profit accruing to any railroad in the United States for any business they were now doing."

MYERS' ROCK ROSE.

We have but very little faith in patent medicines generally, in consequence of the thousand and one quack nostrums which are retailed through the country, with no earthly use but to swindle the purchaser out of his money. Occasionally, however, a good medicine is advertised, and such we believe to be the article which heads this notice. We have had occasion to use several bottles of the "Rock Rose" for dyspepsia and indigestion, and its results have been highly beneficial. We advise others to try the Rock Rose, because we believe they will be benefitted by it.—[Plymouth Rock.

YES, YOU MAY

READ! READ!! READ!!!

SCHROON LAKE, Essex Co., N.Y., February 6, 1858.

W. E. HAGAN, Troy, N. Y.—Dear Sir: Having used your Hair Coloring and Restorative, and having been much pleased with it, I take pleasure in making the following statement: From the effects of a very severe fit of sickness when about eighteen years of age my hair commenced turning grey, and so continued to grow until it became perfectly white, being very harsh and coarse. Last Summer I had reached my fifty third year, when I was induced by a friend to purchase two bottles of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, prepared by you. I commenced using it according to directions, and in a few days was surprised to find that my hair from the roots outward was turning back to its original color. It so continued to grow until it was a truly brown and glossy as it was in my youthful days, and I have fully restored to its original color. MYLA SEAMAN.

Essex Co., ss., Myla Seaman came before me and was duly sworn, and says that the above statement is true. This 6th day of Feb., 1858.

JOEL F. PATTEN, Justice of the Peace.

PITTSFORD, VT., Aug. 1, 1857.

I hereby certify that my having become quite grey, I used Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, (prepared by W. E. Hagan, of Troy, N. Y.,) for four weeks, and my hair was restored to my time restored to its original color. I can fully recommend the article to be all it claims. WM. KINGSLEY,
Pastor of the Baptist Church, Pittsford, Vt

The above are but two of the many letters of recommendation which have been tendered to the proprietors of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring and Restorative. It has been used by hundreds of people, and it never fails to restore the color and growth of hair. This singular effect is produced as when dyes are used; for it acts upon the natural secretions of coloring matter at the roots, and thus effects the change. Beside, the color produced is not a counterfeit, but the natural shade of youth. It does not color the skin. Prepared and sold by W. E. HAGAN & Co., Troy, N.Y.

MR. GREENLEAF'S SPEECH.

The Concord Daily Statesman contains the following report of Hon. Abner Greenleaf's speech against the election of General Whittem, delivered in the House of Representatives on Friday, June 4, after the election:

Mr. Greenleaf, of Portsmouth. — Mr. Speaker: I feel it my duty to say that the gentleman who has just been elected Commissary General is, as is well known, a foreigner; and, sir, I never could learn that he had ever produced, or could produce, to my satisfaction, or to the satisfaction of those about me, to establish his right as a citizen. He has voted from year to year in the ward in which I reside, and there has been but little said about it.—Sometimes it has been called up, but he has been permitted to vote so many times that I believe the people have concluded to let it go. I should think, sir, now that he has become a State officer, that he should be required to produce his naturalization papers, at least, before he enters upon the duties of his office. I cannot say, on my own authority, that he is not a naturalized citizen; but neither myself nor my friends could ever be satisfied that he had received his naturalization papers. He was born in England, I believe, came to Portsmouth with his father when a boy, and learned the printer's trade there. I lived in the vicinity where he lived many years. I only wish, sir, to make a motion in this case, that before the gentleman enters upon the duties of his office, he shall be required to produce his naturalization papers to show that he is a citizen of the United States. I have no feeling of unkindness towards the gentleman at all. I am on perfectly good terms with him. I meet him almost every day, and pass the time of day with him.—But it appears to me that the question whether he is a citizen or not should be settled before he assumes the duties of his office.

The Speaker said he should be obliged to rule the motion of the gentleman from Portsmouth out of order, since it is not within the province of the legislature to make such a provision as is involved in the motion, in the form in which it had been put.

Mr. Greenleaf said he had his doubts whether such a motion would be in order, but he put it in the form he did, merely for the purpose of calling up the subject for consideration.

The Patriot heads the speech thus:

A Foreigner! A Foreigner! The Know Nothings and Black Republicans elect a Foreigner as Commissary General of the State!

And in the middle of it says "Sensation—the Hindoos are aghast!" The only Hindoo we have yet seen gasping is the Patriot, which says:

The black republican members of the Legislature, to whom the language of Gov. Haile, above quoted, was addressed, yesterday elected to the important office of Commissary General (one of the most important offices in the State—an officer having charge of the arsenals, the artillery and general means of State defense) Thomas J. Whittem, an Exile — and an alien—a man born in the land of our hereditary enemies, who has resided here for years, and has yet never felt sufficient interest in the affairs of the State or prosperity of the country to take the necessary steps to become a citizen.

Uncle Toby don't think there will be much of a shower out of this cloud. Mr. Whittem has been a "Democratic voter" in the South Ward, has gone over from that to be a Republican, and has been and now is editor of the American Ballot. He has been here a good deal more than 21 years, and has paid his taxes; and can not only read his Ballot, but write and print it, well and quick. And besides, he was naturalized, long ago.

CHURCH MEMBERS.—On the last Sunday, being Communion Day in most of the Churches in this city, additions were made to several of them. The Methodist Church received 25; Universalist, 3; Baptist, 4; Unitarian 1; Orthodox, 4 by profession, 3 by letter; Christian, 6.

There have been additions to nearly all the churches in this city, on the first Sunday of the month for several months past.

☞ The Morning Union Prayer meetings this week are to be held at the Brick Vestry in Fleet St., commencing at 7, and closing 1-4 before 8 o'clock.

☞ Rev. Dr. Lamson will deliver an Address, this Evening, in Academy Hall, before the Temperance Mutual Improvement Society.

☞ The Portsmouth, Saco and Portland Railroad held its annual meeting on Monday, at North Berwick. There was a great attendance. Nine cars full of members passed through this city.

The Directors chosen were:—Ichabod Goodwin, Portsmouth; Josiah Calef, Saco; Charles E. Burrett, Portland; John Howe, Brookline; James Hayward, Boston; Thos. West, Haverhill; Albert Thorndike, Beverly.

☞ The old North Bell, which has lately hung in a cracked condition to tell the hours, was taken down on Monday, broken up, and barreled, to be sent to Medway, Mass., where it is to be recast in a larger bell for the same church, by Mr. Holbrook.

TORNADO AT ELLISON, ILLINOIS.

The Chicago Press gives a long account of the destruction of property and loss of life in the village of Ellison.

The village was a farming community, and one of the oldest settlements of that section. The larger share of the structures, some sixty or seventy in number, that constituted the village, were ranged on a single straight street.

The tornado struck the village about half-past five o'clock, and during its continuance no rain fell. The houses were frame structures. There was a large tavern stand and three stores. The appearance of the dwellings and structures after the passage of the whirlwind, is described by one eye witness, "as if one should tear to pieces and scatter a lumber yard." Of roofs and walls, and the various structures there was seen in many instances scarcely a trace, as if a giant's hand had reduced and torn them to shreds and splinters. They lay scattered over the fields. Here a piece of broken furniture and there a shattered door, and beyond an undistinguishable mass of timbers and board, floor beams, ceiling and rafters. Even the bodies of some of the sufferers were torn to pieces.

An iron safe weighing nine hundred pounds was taken from Johnson's store and carried thirty feet.

Horses, cattle and hogs were taken up by the wind, carried in the air, and dashed to the earth, killed by the fall.

One cow was taken up, carried several rods, and killed by the fall. Her body lay at a distance from anything that could have inflicted wound or injury upon her.

A heavy cut stone door step, the dimensions of which are given to us as being some seven feet long by three in width, and several inches in thickness, was torn from its site and carried more than its length, or about twelve feet.

The trees were pulled up by the roots, twisted, turned about as a child would wantonly twist the tops of weeds and tear them from the ground. Trees a foot in diameter were thus made the sport of the tornado, and were dashed, crushed and broken, to the ground.

Of the village proper only three small cabins or shanties, which were to the southward of the line of desolating destruction, were spared, and they alone remain of the ill-fated village of Ellison.

Fourteen persons were killed almost instantly, and ten more it was supposed were mortally wounded. Of these latter, two died next day, three on Monday, making nineteen in all.—About five persons were very seriously and many more slightly injured.

FOUND DEAD.—A married woman named Emily Sands, a native of Newburyport, 35 years of age, who has not lived with her husband for some time past, was found dead in her room in Quincy court, North street Boston, Thursday morning. A physician gave his opinion that the death was the result of intemperance and destitution. Transcript.

It is said that the first person who wore hoops was Lady Saturn, one of the ladies-in-waiting upon the sun. High authority for fashion that.

Fortune is inconsistent. Enjoy her present favors, but forget not the important truth, that your superfluities, at least, are taken from the patrimony of the poor.

Ayer's Pills

Are particularly adapted to derangements of the digestive apparatus, and diseases arising from impurity of the blood. A large part of all the complaints that afflict mankind originates in one of these, and consequently these Pills are found to cure many various of disease.

Subjoined are the statements from some eminent physicians, of their effects in their practice.

AS A FAMILY PHYSIC.

From Dr. E. W. Cartwright, of New Orleans.

"YOUR PILLS are the prince of purges. Their excellent qualities surpass any cathartic we possess. They are mild, but vigorous, and have effected in cases of long standing, which mankind have given up as incurable, or which mankind have given up as incurable in the daily treatment of disease."

FOR JAUNDICE AND ALL LIVER COMPLAINTS.

From Dr. Theodore Bell, of New York City.

"Not only are your PILLS admirably adapted to their purpose as a cathartic, but I find their beneficial effects upon the liver very marked indeed. They have in my practice proved more effectual for the cure of bilious complaints than any one remedy I am acquainted with. I discovery rejoice that we have at length a purgative which is worthy the confidence of the profession and the people."

DYSPEPSIA — INDIGESTION.

From Dr. Henry S. Kane, of St. Louis.

"The PILLS you were kind enough to send me have been all used in my practice, and have satisfied me that they are truly an extraordinary medicine. So peculiarly are they adapted to the diseases of the human system, that they seem to work upon them alone. I have cured some cases of dyspepsia and indigestion with them, which had resisted the other remedies in common use. Indeed I have experimentally found them to be effectual in almost all the complaints for which you recommend them."

DYSENTERY — DIARRHŒA — RELAX.

From Dr. J. G. Grant, of Chicago.

"YOUR PILLS have had a long trial in my practice, and I hold them in as much esteem as any medicine I have ever found. This alterative effect upon the liver makes them an excellent remedy, when given in small doses, for bilious dysentery and diarrhœa. Their sugarcoating makes them very acceptable and convenient for the use of women and children."

INTERNAL OBSTRUCTION—WORMS—SUPPRESSION.

From Mrs. E. Sweet, the practice as a Physician and Midwife for twenty years.

"I find one or two large doses of your PILLS, taken at the proper time, are excellent promoters of the natural secretion which ought to be suppressed, and also very effectual to cleanse the stomach and expel worms. They are so much the best physic we have that I recommend no other to my patients."

COSTIVENESS — COSTIVENESS.

From Dr. J. P. Vanda, Montreal, Canada.

"Too much cannot be said of your PILLS for the cure of costiveness. If others of my profession have found them as efficacious as I have, they should be thankful to you for the benefit of the multitudes who suffer from that complaint, which although not entirely curable itself, is the prolific source of others, and one which yields only to the influence of a cathartic of the strength and efficacy of your PILLS, when used for years. PILLS taken the evening and cure the disease.

INFLUENZA OF THE BLOOD — SCROFULA — ERYSIPELAS — SALT RHEUM — TETTER — TUMORS — RHEUMATISM — GOUT — NEURALGIA.

From Dr. Sanford Smith, of Philadelphia.

"You were right, Doctor, in saying that your PILLS purify the blood. They do that. I have used them of late years in my practice, and agree with your statements of their efficacy. They effectually cleanse the system of all those impurities that stagnate in the blood, engendering disease. They stimulate the organs of digestion, and infuse vitality and vigor into the system.

"Such remedies as you prepare are a national benefit, and you deserve great credit for them."

FOR HEADACHE—SICK HEADACHE—FOUL STOMACH—PILES—DROPSY—PLETHORA—PARALYSIS—FITS—&c.

From Dr. Edward Bogel, Baltimore.

"DEAR DR. AYER: I cannot answer your relief complaints I have cured with your PILLS better than to say all that we ever found such a purgative medicine. I place great dependence on an efficient cathartic in my daily practice with disease, and believing as I do that your PILLS afford us the best we have, I of course value them highly."

☞ Most of the Pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill. Pure and careful conscientious that frequently follow its injurious use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Has long been manufactured by a practical chemist, and every course of it under Heaven's eye, with invariable accuracy and care. It is sealed and protected by law from counterfeits, and consequently can be relied on as genuine, without adulteration. It supplies the surest remedy the world has known for the relief and cure of consumptive complaints; for COUGHS, COLDS, HOARSENESS, ASTHMA, CROUP, WHOOPING COUGH, BRONCHITIS, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease. Given the same facts which are well and widely known, this medicine has gradually become the best reliance of the afflicted from the log cabin of the American peasant to the palaces of European kings. Throughout this entire country, in every state and city, and indeed almost every hamlet it contains, CHERRY PECTORAL is known as the best of all remedies for diseases of the throat and lungs. In many foreign countries it is extensively used by their most intelligent physicians. If there is any dependence on what man of every station certify it has done for them: if we can trust our own senses when we see the gigantic effects of the lungs yield to it; if we can depend on the assurance of intelligent physicians, whose business is to know; in short, if there is any reliance upon any thing, then is it irrefutably proven that this medicine does cure the diseases of the lungs, throat and breast, and all other remedies known to mankind. Nothing but its intrinsic virtues, and the unmistakable benefit conferred on thousands of sufferers, could originate and maintain the reputation it enjoys. While many inferior remedies have been thrust upon the community, have failed, and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and remarkable to be forgotten.

THE RESTORATIVE OF PROF. O. J. WOOD for restoring hair perfectly and permanently, has never yet failed in a single case after volumes might be given from all parts of the world and from the most intelligent to prove that it is a perfect Restorative; but read the circular and you cannot doubt; read also the following.

THE HAIR.—People have for centuries been afflicted with bald heads, and yet the only remedy, heretofore known, has been those abominable wigs. By a recent discovery of Professor Wood these articles are being fast dispensed with, but a great many persons still patronize them, because they have been so often imposed upon by Hair Tonics of different kinds. To all such persons we earnestly make the request that they will try once again, for in Wood's Restorative there is no such thing as fail. We know of a lady who was bald, who used the article a short time, and her head is covered completely with the finest and most beautiful curls imaginable. We know of numerous cases where hair was rapidly falling out, which it restored in greater perfection than it ever had been before.

It is also without doubt one of the best articles for keeping the hair in good condition, making it soft, pliable, removing dandruff, and has proved itself the greatest enemy to all the ills that hair is heir to.

It is the duty of every one to improve their personal appearance. Some may differ in regard to the ways of doing it; but every one will admit that a beautiful head of hair either in man or woman, is an object much to be desired, and there are no means that should be left untried to obtain such a consideration.—Women's Advocate, Philadelphia.

COSHOCTON, Ohio, Nov. 17, 1858.

O. J. Wood & Co.—Gents: As I have been engaged in selling your Hair Restorative the last season for one of your local agents (R. M. Hookinson,) and having experienced the beneficial effects of it myself, I would like to obtain an agency for the State of Ohio; some state in the west, should you wish to make such an arrangement, as I am convinced there is nothing equal to it in the United States, for restoring the hair. I have been engaged in the Drug business for several years, and have sold various preparations for the hair, but have found nothing that restores the secretive organs or invigorates the scalp so well as yours. I am convinced that your restorative is what you represent it to be, I would like to engage in the sale of it, for I am satisfied it must sell.

Yours truly, S. T. STOCKMAN.

WAYLAND, MASS., Feb. 5, 1857

PROF. O. J. WOOD & CO.—Gentlemen: I feel called upon to give you a few lines to inform you of the good effects of your Hair Restorative, I wish to state, that finding my hair growing thin, as well as gray, I was induced from what I read and heard of your wonderful properties, to try it, to promote its growth and change its color as it was in youth, both of which it has effected completely. In the operation I have used nearly 3 bottles.

Yours &c., JAMES FRANCIS.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify the results. Nothing connected with the same is ever done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send money for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the Drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets—Whole; halves, $5; quarters, $2 50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $70,000; every prize being redeemable, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published in the drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia.

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m18 1y

AS A SPRING MEDICINE

MYERS' EXTRACT ROCK ROSE is invaluable. It changes the viscid humors, opens the pores of the skin, promotes insensible perspiration, thereby purifying the blood and invigorating the system. A free use of this medicine, in the spring months, will not only cure all diseases caused by impurities of the blood, but will beget a healthy action and prepare the system to resist the attacks of fevers, derangement of the bowels, &c., so prevalent in the summer season.

A MADMAN AT SAN FRANCISCO.—The San Francisco papers record the destruction of the valuable church furniture, windows, &c., in a Catholic church there, by an insane Frenchman. His work of destruction was executed with a club and stones upon the rails, the windows, the altar, lamps, and decorations generally. On being discovered, he fled from the altar to the door, where he demolished one window inside and another outside. On being questioned why he had ruined the furniture of the church, he answered that he wanted to take revenge on Jesus Christ, because having come to California with money, he was now reduced to want and beggary.

SAD DEATH.—A correspondent of the Traveller at Plymouth, Mass., says that John Nickerson, Jr., of that place, died there in consequence of his intemperate habits, on Sunday last. His father had driven him from the house, and even refused him shelter in a shed. He then went to the House of Correction and begged admittance. He was taken in on Friday, and died as above stated. A coroner's jury returned a verdict of death from intemperate habits. He was between 35 and 40 years of age.

☞ The ship Mary Huyler, of the city of Baltimore, arrived at Havana lately with 415 coolies, having lost 85 on her passage from Macao. The American ship Wandering Jew, Capt. Carlton, arrived at Havana May 15, from Swatoa, with 259 Asiatics, having lost during the voyage 98.

☞ The late Anthony Gould of Albany, law bookseller, made a provision in his will by which the Bible Society, the American Board for Foreign Missions, and the Home Missionary Society, will together receive from $40,000 to $70,000.

FALLING OFF.—In the month of May this year the amount of revenue collected at the Boston Custom House was $315,175; last year for the same month it was 350,814—a falling off this year of $35,639—or more than ten per cent! The government expenses increase much faster than the income diminishes.

☞ John Salisbury, section master of the Western railroad at Palmer, had both arms cut off by the midnight freight train last Monday night, and is reported to have died of his injuries, Tuesday evening, after a surgical operation.

MANCHESTER POLICE COURT.—Before Justice Upton, May 3.—Noble Prime, two cases liquor selling, Piscataquog Hotel, bound over to the S. J. Court to be held in Sept. next, in the sum of $100 in each case.

Lafayette Goodnow, one case selling liquor, bound over to S. J. Court in the sum $200.—Mirror.

☞ Louis Napoleon means to leave Paris a magnificent monument of his power and government. He has already expended $50,000,000 in improvements, and contemplates an expenditure of $52,000,000 more.

FRESHET—EIGHT CHILDREN DROWNED.—Roscoe, Ill., June 4.—A culvert at this place was swept away last night, destroying the house of Rev. H. Ilsley, and drowning eight children. Considerable damage was caused to other houses, but we hear of no more lives having been lost.

THE RIGHT TO SEARCH OR VISIT.—The Journal of Commerce closes an article on this subject as follows:

"Strictly speaking, indeed, there is no such thing as a right of search or visit in the time of peace; it is a wrong, an injury, an insult, to every one except the culprit; as much as if the unfortunate victim of a pick pocket in a crowded thoroughfare should undertake to stop the great waves of travel and search every passenger. If he lay his hand upon the guilty one, it is well; but woe to him if he stops or arrests the innocent traveller! No nation has a right to set itself up as custos morum on the high seas, or to detail its cruisers as special policemen. The claim of visit as distinguished from search is a mere sham; for once go behind the flag, and there is no end to the enquiry; for visitation (unless an idle ceremony,) is followed by search, and search by seizure, and seizure by confiscation. In a word the whole doctrine and the only safe doctrine may be summed up in a singular sentence of Ortolan, the French jurist—'Every nation has the right to exercise at sea an exclusive policy over its own vessels.'"

Pro contra.—We commend the following remarks of the Baltimore Clipper to those of our neighbors who are in such haste to jump into the bramble bush of a quarrel with John Bull about his impertinence in meddling with our vessels; coming as these remarks do from a Southern paper, they are especially significant, though there is a good reason why Maryland does not want the slave trade revived:

"It strikes us that if the principle now contended for in the report of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations be admitted as correct, viz: that a vessel bearing the America flag cannot be boarded by a foreign vessel in order to ascertain whether she be in reality what she purports to be, American—we might as well cease all efforts to restrain the African slave trade, for it will continue to be carried on wherever it may be profitable, under the American flag. It is true the American flag should protect whatever it rightfully covers—but it should not be permitted to cover any illegal or improper trade or traffic. Foreign Governments have right to know whether the vessel which bears the American flag is fairly and justly entitled to the privilege; and how is that fact to be ascertained without boarding such vessel?

"We should ask for nothing which is not right, nor submit to any thing which is wrong. This was the measure of Gen. Jackson. Suppose our coast to be invested by a nest of pirates, who were constantly depredating our commerce—should we not take steps to punish them? We think so. But if the doctrine now advanced be correct, such pirates would only have to keep flying at their mast-head the flag of England, France, or other powers, and by our own principle, we should be prohibited from boarding such vessels to ascertain whether they were in reality what they pretended to be.

☞ The Spanish Governor of Cuba, the British Consul General, and the captain of the Styx, all condemn the Buzzard, that gallant bird which has dared to pick at the American Eagle.

CHANGES.—When the U. S. Senate of 1859 shall come into existence, nine months hence, it will not contain one Democratic member from New England, though it had six such Senators only six years before, with excellent prospects of the number being increased.

In the matter of Congressional Representatives, the change has been as remarkable as that which has happened with Senators. Of the 29 Representatives from New England, 15 were Democrats in the Congress of 1853-55. Now, there are but two Democratic Representatives from New England, and they owe their seats to the endless dissensions of the opposition in two of the Connecticut districts.

The popular vote of New England in 1852 showed a respectable Democratic plurality, Gen. Pierce having about 9000 votes more than Gen. Scott. Four of the States supported the Democratic candidate, and gave him 23 of the 41 electoral votes of New England. In 1855, the Democratic candidate did not receive one electoral vote in New England, and the Republican candidate was about 145,000 ahead of the candidate of the Democracy!—Traveller.

SHOCKING DEATH OF A PENNSYLVANIA CLERGYMAN.—The Montrose, Pa., Republican says:—The Rev. Joseph Barlow, a Presbyterian clergyman, of Franklin, this county, lost his life in a shocking manner on Saturday night last. The family were roused about midnight, and found the house was on fire. Approaching the kitchen, where the fire appeared to have originated, Mr. Barlow opened the door, when the flames burst upon him, and he painfully inhaled a portion of the flame, and he immediately sank down and instantly showed a sign of life afterwards. His wife and daughters, the only persons present, after attempting in vain to loosen the death grasp of his hand upon the door, at length, to save themselves, were compelled to leave him to be consumed where he lay. The house was destroyed with almost every article of property it contained. Mr. Barlow was an Englishma, about sixty years of age, and much respected.

Morning Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 9, 1858.

No War.—Strangers who read the war speeches now being made in Congress, would believe that this country is just upon the verge of a fierce and bloody war with England. Instead of that, the majority of the people know that this is mere gas. The President and his cabinet are anxious for something to happen to divert public attention. The cry of a war with England came opportunely, and his friends hastened to glorify themselves by showing the most intensified patriotism, and unequalled bravery on paper.

The administration counted on the opposition of the Republicans to their war measures, and had made their calculations for a considerable amount of available political capital to be made out of the outraged patriotism of the people. "These Republicans," they intended to say, "are only the old federalists revived—see how they stand with the enemy against their own country—the British sympathizers!" But the Republicans were not to be caught with that trick, and have taken on such an amount of belligerent patriotism that the democracy are quite overpowered and extinguished. Hale and Wilson, and even the conservative Seward were bold in urging that a fleet should be sent to the Gulf, big enough "to sink every British cruiser." The truth is the Republicans won't be beat at that game, this time. They know that if the Government intended to make a war against Great Britain, it was not in the power of the opposition to prevent it, and they also knew that if they intended only bluster and gasconade,—a mere feint of bravery, that the best way to expose its hollowness was to help it along, and not stand in the way. Opposition was what the Administration desired; failing to find any, their whole purpose failed after having let off a large quantity of spent-up wind.

Some of our readers may remember how John Quincy Adams took ground with Mr. Polk, on the Oregon boundary,—"54:40 or fight,"—and how Mr. P. backed out.

Now the administration has no design of going to war England, for it is not for the interest of the South that we should have a war with that nation.

And the Senate of the United States, which ten days ago commenced the war alarm so fiercely against Great Britain for her efforts to break up the Cuban slave trade, has already spent its force, and now as quiet and peaceable as a sucking dove.

There is not much chance of a war. No doubt the British naval officers in the Gulf have exceeded their instructions, in their zeal to suppress the slave trade with Cuba. There is no more doubt that the British government will disavow these acts, and make ample apology and reparation. And if we take the example set us by the Polk administration in the matter of the "fifty-four forty" business, as an earnest of what the President will do now, we should not be surprised to find that all this war flurry will result in conceding to Great Britain more ample opportunity to examine vessels suspected of being pirates or slavers and found bearing at their mast-head the American flag.

Washington Election.—The Mayor of Washington, D. C., before election on Monday, issued a proclamation assuring lawless gangs who may interfere with the election proceedings, that they will not escape condign punishment should they venture to commit outrages similar to those perpetrated on a similar occasion a year ago. He ordered all the taverns and restaurants and places where liquor is generally sold, to be shut up during the day.

Why? What would our fathers have said—what would we have thought only forty years ago, at the proposal to shut up a liquor shop on election day? We should have thought the man was crazy, who dared to suggest such a thing. What has made the change? Temperance discussion, agitation and effort. We have shown such places as groggeries to be useless and pernicious. Total abstinents by tens of thousands have shown by their conduct that they are never riotous—and hence, in the most drunken cities, when they really wish for order and safety, they say, Shut up the nuisances. And when Vice President Breckinridge comes back from his pleasant ride, and wishes to keep order in the Senate, what course does he pursue? Does he preach about it in a long talk? No: he orders the refectory (or drunkery) of the Senate to be closed! It is done, and he feels safe.

It is about as hopeless a task to get a rich woman to live a life of common sense, as it is to get a rich man into the kingdom of heaven.

TEMPERANCE IN MAINE.

On Monday, June 7th, the legal voters of Maine, went to the polls to vote on the single question, Will you have the "License Law of 1856," or the "Prohibitory Law of 1858?" Virtually, are you in favor of free rum or temperance? And Temperance "has it"—the new and stringent Prohibitory Law, framed by the last Legislature, with its Nuisance clause and all, being adopted by a large majority.

Probably the law has received nine-tenths of the votes cast, as indicated by the returns. Portland gave for prohibition 1257, for license 23. Twenty-one towns, mostly large places, return—for prohibition, 5985; for license, 637. In several of there towns not a single vote was cast for the license law. Those in favor of the license law refrained almost entirely from going to the polls.

Congress.—On Monday in the Senate, the Committee on Finance reported a bill making appropriations for carrying the transatlantic mail; Mr. Hunter introduced a bill requesting the departments to limit their estimates to $64,000,000. Bills were passed granting pensions to the widows of Generals Jones and Gaines. The Naval Appropriation bill was debated, and the provision allowing $100,000 for the pensacola dry dock was stricken out. Mr. Mallory reported an amendment authorizing the construction of ten new steam sloops of war. This proposition gave rise to a peppery debate, during which Mr. Toombs said the United States could whip the world. Mr. Seward concurred in this sentiment, and added "that the country was never in a better attitude for war than now." The bill, after the adoption and rejection of many amendments, was passed. Among the amendments lost, was one to float the Franklin.

In House, the friends of Hughes and Harris made explanations to show that the "gentlemen" need not fight a duel. In Committee of the Whole, the Senate miscellaneous appropriation bill was taken up—question on amendments, which were agreed to. An item of some $20,000 for certain claimants in Maine and Massachusetts, was agreed to. The Committee rose without acting on all amendments, and soon after adjourned.

☞ Washington city election took place on Monday. The precautions taken by the Mayor and the Marshal of the district, secured comparative order. A rioter named Purdy struck an officer with a stone; the officer drew his revolver and shot Purdy. The election resulted in the overthrow of the Know Nothing party. Col. James G. Berrett, Democrat, is chosen Mayor, and he carried with him into office the entire ticket composed of Democrats and anti-Americans.

☞ Died in Brunswick, Me., June 1st, Francis Huston (colored), supposed to have been more than one hundred years old. He enjoyed good health and the vigor of manhood till the last hour of his life. He had been at work in his field, and had just gone to his house for some seed, and was about stepping out at the door, when he suddenly fell to the floor and expired, Tuesday morning. He was a devoted Christian, and "to die is gain."

☞ We have received from Mr. C. C. Harvey a copy of Rev. Geo. E. Ellis's very able convention sermon on the "Reaction of a Revival upon Religion," published by Crosby, Nichols & Co.—and a copy of Rev. T. S. King's two sermons, by the same publishers.

☞ The New York Evening Post says "Geo. S. Hillard of Boston has devoted his classic pen to the work of abridging Col. Fremont's first two explorations.—The volume is announced by Childs & Peters."

The Revival in Boston.—According to calculations during the revival in our city the last six months, there have been about three hundred and fifty hopeful conversions among the Baptists, in fourteen churches, and about four hundred and fifty among the Methodists, with eight churches. The number in all the churches would probably be about one thousand. This is a smaller number than has generally been supposed.—Atlas.

☞ In Barre, (Mass.) Friday afternoon, a frightful report shook the foundations of the buildings, and gave the announcement that the Massachusetts Powder Works in that town, had exploded. William Bickford was cleaning a wheel with a copper hammer, in the usual mode, when a spark from a blow ignited the dust. The building and machinery were made a complete wreck. He was found in a state of entire nudity, and his body blackened and burned with powder. He died soon after, aged 23 years.

☞ In every community there is a class of chaps (they ought to be at the foot of the class, sure) who are never expected to pay a bill until dunned more times than the number of dollars due—and the creditor deems himself "lucky" to get his dues at all. Such men are a nuisance—and their tax on their fellows ought to be abated. It matters not what their position in society—they do more hurt than good. They are almost invariably liars as well as cheats—and have the respect neither of themselves or others. Of course we speak only of those chronic cases for which there is no excuse—for it will be found on examination that those who do not pay night be as well able to pay as those who do, take any community through. But they prefer being paupers, to exercising self-denial and exertion—for it lies on the public is not pauperism, what is it? If they are not capable of self-support — they would be less begrudged what little comfort they do enjoy, at the Almshouse, than in their own harassed homes.

Such a character, in reply to a dun the other day, sent us word that he "could not pay" our little bill, as it "takes all the money he can get to buy good dinners!" We will only say to him that if another presentation of the bill doesn't bring us the money, it will bring his name out in our columns—which, of course he couldn't complain of, as it may direct the charitably-disposed towards him.

We have met few such men in our experience, however—and can but pity while we condemn them. F.

Lager and the Ladies.—An exchange, in noticing the report current that the ladies of fashion in Washington had introduced lager bier into their houses as a beverage for visitors, says:

We don't believe there is any truth in the statement, but if there is we must be allowed to say that the ladies of Washington have a very queer taste and a very queer idea of gentility. Lager bier can be tolerated as a cheap beverage for those who have been educated to the drinking of it, and who like the operation of going to sleep and obfusticating their brains by slow coaches; but any effort to get it into genteel society will prove a bad joke for the father of the enterprise. New England rum, a little diluted, or rye gin, after it has been watered for the present market, would be quite as likely to "go down."

This ought to be true—but much lager is made and drunk, and some who call themselves ladies use it. It is nasty, rotten, putrescent stuff—and they "who are deceived thereby are not wise."

A Good Example.—Tilman Watson, Jr., of Edgefield, S. C., a member of a wealthy family, and not under the necessity of working for a living, has since his college graduation adopted a mechanical trade, and recently signalized the event by manufacturing a beautiful black walnut chair—editorial for the editor of the Edgefield Advertiser. If more collegians would throw away their false pride and betake themselves to some mechanical employment, instead of over-crowding the learned professions, themselves and the community would gain by the operation.

☞ We received yesterday a letter originally mailed at Buffalo, N. Y., May 26th, directed to the Weekly Chronicle, Portsmouth, Ohio,—and which was there remailed to Portsmouth, Virginia, and from thence to this city, with the direction, "Try New Hampshire—no such paper at this place."

☞ The New York Tribune says the quantity of Croton water daily distributed from the reservoirs of the city is estimated at 30,000,000 gallons, while the legitimate necessities do not exceed 13,000,000 gallons, the remaining 17,000,000 being literally wasted.

How to Conceal Grief.—"I was struck," says Madam Campan, "with the astonishing change misfortune had wrought upon Marie Antoinette's features! her whole head of hair had turned almost white during her transit from Varennes to Paris." Had she known of Heim Street's Hair Coloring, this indication of her deep sorrow would never have been known.

Valuable Real Estate FOR SALE.

THE following Real Estate will be sold, and a good and clear title guaranteed by warrantees from Mrs. and quitclaims from mortgagees and others having any legal interest in the same:—

The large and commodious mansion, known as THE HILL HOUSE, No. 18 Vaughan st., Portsmouth. Said house, within a few years, has been put in thorough repair, had new chimneys, been raised and underpinned (partially with granite), with granite steps in front. It contains a good cellar, basement kitchen, and, on the first floor, a large hall, two handsome front parlors, a large dining room, two kitchens and a scullery. The second floor comprises the upper hall and seven chambers. There also four attic chambers. The house is well supplied with water by aqueduct running to the kitchen and thence to dining-room and hall. Connected with said mansion are a STABLE and Wood house, nearly new; a commodious front yard, and a large garden containing a variety of choice fruit trees. In addition to the above, the favorableness of the location, being central, in the finest portion of the city, and on the main street leading to the depots, renders it a desirable purchase for a gentleman's residence, or to be kept as a first-class boarding house. The house is also well arranged for two families;

Also, for sale, the COTTAGE HOUSE (so called) near by, on Hill street; said house being nearly new and suitable for one or two families;

Also, for sale, all the HOUSES and LOTS on Hill and Bridge streets, now unsold, belonging to the estate of Samuel Hill, deceased;

Also, will be sold, a portion of the Hill FARM, in Newington; a tract of land known as the "Downing field" containing about 38 acres. Said field is from the best of the farm being excellent meadow and tillage land, and the situation most desirable. It extends from the main road to the Piscataqua river.

☞ To anyone about to purchase, this offers a rare inducement. For terms, &c., apply to

SPECIAL NOTICES.

PALPITATION OF THE HEART.
When not arising from organic disease, palpitations are due either to nervous excitement or to a general impoverishment of the blood. The PERUVIAN SYRUP, by restoring the vital fluid to its proper condition, calms nervous excitement, arrests palpitations, and invigorates the whole system.

MYERS' ROCK ROSE.
We have but very little faith in patent medicines generally, in consequence of the thousand and one quack nostrums which are retailed through the country, with no earthly use but to swindle the purchaser out of his money. Occasionally, however, a good medicine is advertised, and such we believe to be the article which heads this notice. We have had occasion to use several bottles of the "Rock Rose" for dyspepsia and indigestion, and its results have been highly beneficial. We advise others to try the Rock Rose, because we believe they will be benefitted by it.—[Plymouth Rock.

LOCAL.

PORTSMOUTH FORTS.

It is reported that a large sum of money has been appropriated for the purpose of re building Fort Constitution. Now I think it will be apparent to any engineer of ordinary skill or intelligence who may examine the mouth of this harbor, that the Fort in question does no stand in the best position to answer the purpose for which it was evidently built. With due respect for the judgment of the engineer who decided upon this site, I nevertheless hope to be permitted to suggest, without being charged with presumption, that the Fort stands entirely too far up the river and that a point can be found farther out from which greater execution can be done against an approaching fleet, and of consequence the city of Portsmouth more effectually defended.

In the present position of the Fort, it covers the main entrance to be sure, but west of Great Island there is, as we all know, another channel leading directly up to Portsmouth, in which, at high tide, there is sufficient water for steamers of light draft, or a class of vessels similar to the formidable new steam gun-boats of the British navy, to proceed up to within striking distance of the city. This passage is without any defense whatever. If the Fort stood where it should stand, both these passages would be effectually commanded, and a sudden dash upon Portsmouth be made an impossibility.

Since it has been considered necessary to expend more money for the defence of this place, I have taken the liberty of drawing attention to this subject, because I think that the work, if done at all, should be well done; and it seems to me that any extensive and expensive improvement at Fort Constitution, to the neglect of a more eligible and commanding point, is money, time and labor uselessly expended. RAVELIN.

FOURTH OF JULY.

It is proposed, by a number of the residents of Boston, who are natives of Portsmouth, N. H., to get up a celebration of the coming Fourth of July on their "own hook;" that is, charter a steamboat, fill it with Portsmouth boys, their wives and children, and steam it for Portsmouth harbor on that day, taking dinner on board or on one of the islands in the harbor. The idea is a good one and we hope will be carried out.—Boston Ledger.

That's right—come along. Only get down in good season, so as to enjoy the Floral Procession if we have one,—and form a procession of yourselves, if we don't. Come, Messrs. of the City Council, if you don't give us from $300 to $500 for a Celebration, besides the Band, the Portsmouth boys and girls abroad as well as those at home, will think you mean.

In consequence of the City rooms being occupied, the adjourned meeting of the citizens was held at the Mercantile Library Rooms Tuesday evening; and voted to meet again at the Mercantile Rooms, Friday evening next, at 8 o'clock.

THE EASTERN RAILROAD Corporation appear to be determined that no other corporation shall outdo them in catering the public convenience. Notwithstanding their furniture was equal to that of any New England road, they have recently added beautiful and commodious new cars for the better accomodation of travel, and have made other improvements. The bed of this road is equal to any in the state, and beyond this the route travers s a delightful section of country, skirting a sea coast lined with watering places, the attractions of which are not surpassed by any other locations. Their conductors and employees are gentlemen who know their positions, and fill those positions to the satisfaction of all.

And this road has something which no other road in this section has, though every one should have it—that is, a Guide Book of its route, one not merely pointing out the various localities, but one as full of information as a nut is full of meat giving—history, topography, discription, legend, and everything worth knowing—a perfect epitome of information, so full that all may gain correct knowledge of people and places, and yet so succinct as not to weary—got up by the liberality of the road, so that it is sold at a mere pittance.—Newburyport Herald.

☞ The U. S. sloops-of-war Constellation, at New York, and Saratoga, at Norfolk, and U. S. brig-of-war Dolphin, sailed from Boston—are bound to the Gulf of Mexico.

☞ We are glad to see all the papers are denouncing the use of check-reins on horses—especially in teaming. A man might as well put on a straigh jacket to work in; and to wear goggles himself, is as sensible as to put winkers on a horse.

Sick Head-ache, Costiveness, and all internal obstructions cured by the use of Myers' Extract of Rock Rose.

☞ The U. S. Senate on Tuesday voted to extend the session to the 14th.

LATER FROM KANSAS AND THE UTAH FORCES.—St. Louis, June 5.—A despatch from Leavenworth, dated June 3, says a tremendous storm visited the city on Wednesday morning, flooding the cellars and inundating a portion of the town, and doing much damage. The Missouri river was full to its banks and rising. Gen. Calhoun and his family arrived this morning.

Col. Andrews' column was at Fort Kearney on the 28th. An express from Fort Laramie, which arrived on the 1st inst., met Col. Monroe at Big Blue, and Colonel May at Clear Creek. An express left the fort yesterday for Camp Scott.

St. Louis, June 7.—The Democrat's Leavenworth correspondent furnishes the details of the Utah news, but they contain nothing additional, except that the Mormons, met by Mr. Gilbert going to the South, had returned, or were returning to Salt Lake City, and that Col. Hoffman's command had advanced only about forty miles from the 1st to the 14th of May, and would not reach Camp Scott before the 10th or 15th of June.

There is nothing relative to the reported cuting off of Capt. Marcy's train.

The mail reached here yesterday from Utah, April 16, and brings a confirmation of the entry, on April 5th, of Governor Cumming into Salt Lake City, but no news not already published.

NEW ORLEANS, June 7th.—On Saturday, the Mayor, having had his life guaranteed, proceeded to the St. Charles Hotel, and met the City Council, whereupon he was impeached, and H. M. Summers, President of the Board of Aldermen, elected in his place.

Col. Forno, Chife of Police, was dismissed, and Col. Jaques appointed in his place. The old police has, in consequence, been reorganized under Jaques.

A. T. Turner, and D. B. Muzzy, Reporters, were arrested this morning by the special police of the city as dangerous characters, but were liberated on parole. Turner was subsequently re-arrested.

It is rumored that the Sheriff has seized the ballot boxes, and should the report prove true, there can be no election to-day.

The streets are seemingly quiet, but no man's life is safe outside the different barricades.

An attack was made on the Vigilance Camp on Saturday night, and the Vigilance Committee had four men killed and twelve wounded by the accidental discharge of a cannon, during the confusion.

7 P. M.—The election has gone American. Girard Stith is elected by a small majority.

The Vigilants are still behind their barricades. Not half of them voted.

They say they will carry out their resolutions and free the city of all the ruffians now in it.

There is great rejoicing in Lafayette Square, among Stith's party. The city may be said to be in a perfect uproar.

ST. LOUIS, June 7.—A Leavenworth dispatch, dated the 5th inst., says the details of the affray at Lawrence, between Jim Lane and Mr. Jenkins, are received.—Both Gen. Lane and Mr. Jenkins were living on a claim, which both contested.—The former enclosed an acre of land, on which was a well, and which was used by both parties in common. Gen. Lane recently locked the well, and fenced it up, and forbade Mr. Jenkins access to it.—Mr. Jenkins declared he would have water at all hazards, when Gen. Lane threatened to shoot him if he made forcible entry on his premises.

On Thursday afternoon, Mr. Jenkins, accompanied by four of his friends well armed, cut down Gen. Lane's fence and proceeded towards the well, when Gen. Lane warned them not to advance, or he would shoot. Disregarding this threat, Mr. Jenkins, with his party, advanced, when Gen. Lane fired, killing Mr. Jenkins instantly. One of the Jenkins party immediately returned the fire, shooting Lane in the leg, inflicting a wound which confines him to his bed.

Gen. Lane had been arrested and was to undergo his examination to-day. Much excitement exists in consequence of the affair.

Mr. Jenkins was held in high estimation, and his death is deeply deplored.

A man named M. Wells is in custody at Lawrence, charged with participating in the outrage in Linn County.

And this road has something which no other road in this section has, though every one should have it—that is, a Guide Book of its route, one not merely pointing out the various localities, but one as full of information as a nut is full of meat giving—history, topography, discription, legend, and everything worth knowing—a perfect epitome of information, so full that all may gain correct knowledge of people and places, and yet so succinct as not to weary—got up by the liberality of the road, so that it is sold at a mere pittance.—Newburyport Herald.

☞ We endeavored to obtain a report of the nomination of the Legislative Caucus at Concord, Tuesday evening, for U. S. Senator; but the telegraph office liere "dried up" too early, in spite of our request. Mr. Hale will doubtless be reelected to-day.

A boy reading the verse, "This is the hair; come, let us kill him," read out, "this is the hair-comb,"—and the noise of the other boys drowned the remainder.

Wolfe's Celebrated Scheidam Aromatic
SCHNAPPS.
This medicinal beverage is manufactured by the proprietor, at Scheidam, Holland, expressly for medicinal use, by a process peculiar to his own Factory. It is the pure Tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, whose more vinous extract is distiled and rectified with its spirituous solvent, which thus becmes a concentrated tincture of exquisite flavor and aroma, altogether, transcendant in its cordial and medicinal properties to any alcoholic stimulant now made in the world. It is now prescribed by more than 5,000 physicians in the United States, in cases of Gravel, Gout, Dropsy, and Bladder and Kidney Complaints.
Put up in Quart and Pint Bottles, in cases of one dozen qts., and cases of two dozen pts., and for sale by all Druggists and Country Merchants.

SCHAGHTICOKE, LAKE, Essex Co., N.Y., February 1, 1856.
W. E. HAGAN, Troy, N. Y.—Dear Sir: Having used your Hair Coloring and Restorative, and having been highly pleased with it, I take pleasure in making the following statement: From the effects of a very severe fit of sickness when about eighteen years of age my hair commenced turning grey, and so continued to grow until it became perfectly white, being very harsh and coarse. Last Summer I had reached my fifty third year, when I was induced by a friend to purchase two bottles of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, prepared by you. I commenced using it according to directions, and in a few days was surprised to find that my hair from the roots outward was turning back to its original color. It so continued to grow until it was as truly brown and glossy as it was in my youthful days, and is now fully restored to its original color. M. L. BRAGG.
Essex Co. ss: Myla Seaman came before me and was duly sworn, and says that the above statement is true, this 8th day of Feb., 1856.
JOS. F. PATTEN, Justice of the Peace.
PITTSFORD, Vt., Aug. 1, 1857.
I hereby certify that my having become quite grey, I used Heimstreet's Hair Colorine, (prepared by W. E. Hagan, of Troy, N. Y.,) for four weeks, and my hair was in that time restored to its original color. I can fully recommend the article to be all it claims WM. KINGSLEY,
Pastor of the Baptist Church, Pittsford, Vt.
The above are but two of the many letters of recommendation which have been tendered to the proprietor of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring and Restoratives, which has been used by hundreds of people, and it never fails to restore the color and growth of hair. This singular effect is produced as when dyes are used; for it acts upon the natural secretions of color in combination with the roots, and thus effects the change. Beside, the color produced is not a counterfeit, but the natural shade of youth. It does not color the skin. Prepared and sold by W. E. HAGAN & Co., Troy, N.Y.

Ayer's Pills

Are particularly adapted to derangements of the digestive apparatus, and diseases arising from impurity of the blood. A large part of all the complaints that afflict mankind originate in one of these, and consequently these PILLS are found to cure many varieties of disease.

Subjoined are the statements from some eminent physicians, of their efficacy in their practice.

AS A FAMILY PHYSIC.

From Dr. E. W. Cartwright, of New Orleans.

"YOUR PILLS are the prince of purgatives. Their excellent qualities surpass any cathartic we possess. They are mild, but very certain and effectual in their action on the bowels, which makes them invaluable to us in the daily treatment of disease."

FOR JAUNDICE AND ALL LIVER COMPLAINTS.

From Dr. Theodore Bell, of New York City.

"Not only are your PILLS admirably adapted to their purpose as an aperient, but I find their beneficial effects upon the liver more decisively manifested by me, my practice proved more effectual for the cure of bilious complaints than any one remedy I can mention. I sincerely rejoice that we have such a powerful antagonist which is worthy the confidence of the profession and the people."

DYSPEPSIA — INDIGESTION.

From Dr. Henry J. Ream, of St. Louis.

"The PILLS you were kind enough to send me have been all used in my practice, and have excited in me that they are truly an extraordinary medicine. So peculiarly are they adapted to the diseases of the human system, that they seem to work upon them almost as a charm. I have cured some cases of dyspepsia and costiveness with them, which had resisted the other remedies we commonly use. Indeed I have experimentally found them to be efficacious in almost all the complaints for which you recommend them."

DYSENTERY — DIARRHŒA — RELAX.

From Dr. J. G. Green, of Chicago.

"YOUR PILLS have had a long trial in my practice, and I hold them in esteem as one of the best aperients I have ever found, combining with your cathartic quality the more efficient one of an excellent tonic, which, when given in small doses, for bilious dysentery and diarrhœa. Their sugar-coating makes them very portable and convenient for the use of women and children."

INTERNAL OBSTRUCTION—WORMS—SUPPRESSION.

From Dr. E. Stuart, the practitioner in Physician and Midwife in Boston.

"I find enough in a box of your PILLS, taken at the proper time, for to effect permanent of the natural secretion when they are partially suppressed, and also very effectual in expelling worms, and cured worms. They are so much the best pills we have that I recommend nothing to my patients."

CONSTIPATION — COSTIVENESS.

From Dr. J. P. Fenn, Montreal, Canada.

"Too much cannot be said of your PILLS for the cure of costiveness. If others of our fraternity have found them as efficacious as I have, they should join me in proclaiming it for the benefit of the unfortunate who suffer from that complaint, which is, I believe, the fertile source of much of the prevalence of others that are worse. I believe cutaneous to testimony in the PILLS, but your PILLS affect that organ and cure the disease."

INFLUENZA OF THE BLOOD — SCROFULA — ERYSIPELAS — SALT RHEUM — TETTER — TUMORS — RHEUMATISM — GOUT — NEURALGIA.

From Dr. Enskiel Bell, Philadelphia.

"YOUR PILLS, Dr. Ayer, in saying that your PILLS purify the blood, I think, are not a little extravagant. They cleanse it by their practice, and prove with your statements of their efficacy. They stimulate the extractives and carry off the impurities that stagnate in the blood, and thus purify it. They stimulate the organs of digestion, and infuse vitality and vigor into the system.

"Such testimonies as your prepare are a national benefit, and you are entitled to a national reward."

FOR HEADACHE—SICK HEADACHE—FOUL STOMACH—PILES—DROPSY—PLETHORA—PARALYSIS—FITS—&c.

From Dr. Edward Pool, Baltimore.

"DEAR DR. AYER: I cannot answer you other complaints I labored under, without giving your PILLS the credit of being one of the most powerful and efficacious medicines I have ever tried with a proprietary medicine. I place great dependence on an effectual cathartic in my daily contest with disease, and I find in your PILLS the cathartic afforded as the best we know, of course taking them highly."

☞ Most of the Pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skillful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the careful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. These contain no mercury or noxious substance whatever.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Has long been manufactured by a practical chemist, and every dose of it, made on his own eye, with invariable accuracy and care. It is sealed and protected by law from counterfeits, and consequently can be relied on as genuine without adulteration. It supplies the surest remedy the world has ever known for the cure of all pulmonary complaints; for Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Asthma, Catarrh, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease. As time makes these facts wider and better known, this medicine has been found to take hold of disease in every form, from the log cabin of the American peasant to the palaces of European kings. Throughout this entire country, in every state and city, and indeed almost every hamlet it contains, CHERRY PECTORAL is known as the best of all remedies for diseases of the throat and lungs. In many foreign countries it is extensively used by their most intelligent physicians. If there is any dependence on what men of every station certify it has done for them; if we can trust our own senses when we see the dangerous affections of the lungs yield to it; if we can depend on the assurance of intelligent physicians, whose business leads them to know the most, if there is any reliance upon any thing, then is it irrefutably proven that this medicine does cure the class of disease it is designed for, beyond any and all other remedies known to mankind. Nothing but its intrinsic virtues, and the unquestionable benefit conferred on thousands of sufferers, could originate and maintain the reputation it enjoys. While many inferior remedies have been palmed on the community, have failed, and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and remarkable to be forgotten.

THE RESTORATIVE OF PROF. O. J. WOOD for restoring hair perfectly and permanently, has never yet had a rival. Volume after volume might be given from all parts of the world and from the most intelligent people that it is a perfect Restorative; but read the circular and you cannot doubt; read also the following.

THE HAIR.—People have for centuries been afflicted with bald heads, and the only remedy, heretofore known, has been those abominable wigs. But a discovery of Professor Wood's these articles are being fast dispensed with, but a great many persons still patronize them, because they have been so often imposed upon by Hair Tonics of different kinds. To all such persons we earnestly make the request that they will try once again, for in Wood's Restorative there is no such thing as fail. We saw the locks of a lady who was bald, who used the article a short time, and her head is covered completely with the tiniest and most beautiful curls imaginable. We know of numerous cases where hair was rapidly falling out, which it restored in greater perfection than it ever had been before.

It is also without doubt one of the best articles for keeping the hair in good condition, making it soft and glossy, removing dandruff, and has proved itself the greatest enemy to all the ills that hair is heir to.

It is the duty of every one to improve their personal appearance though some may differ in regard to the ways of doing it; but every one will admit that a beautiful head of hair, either in man or woman, is an object much to be desired, and there are no means that should be left untried to obtain such a consideration.—Woman's Advocate, Philadelphia.

COCHECTON, Ohio, Nov. 17, 1856.

O. J. Wood & Co.—Gents: As I have been engaged in selling your Hair Restorative the last season for one of your local agents (R. M. Hackjason,) and having experienced the beneficial effects upon myself, I would like to obtain an agency for the State of Ohio or some state in the west, should you wish to make such an arrangement. As I am convinced there is nothing equal to it in the United States, for restoring the hair. I have been engaged in the Drug business for several years, and have sold various preparations for the hair, but have found nothing that produces the secretive organs or invigorates the scalp as well as yours, being convinced that your restorative is what you represent it to be, I would like to engage in the sale of it, for I am satisfied it must sell.

Yours truly, S. T. STOCKMAN.

WAYLAND, MASS., Feb. 5, 1857.

PROF. O. J. WOOD & CO.—Gents: Having restored the good effects of your Hair Restorative, I wish to state, that during my help growing thin, and as well as gray, I was induced from what I read and heard, to try the article prepared by you, to promote its growth and change its color; and was in youth, but without which it has effected completely. In the operation I have used nearly 3 bottles.

Yours &c., JAMES FRENCH.

Use Philbrick's Celebrated Fire-Kindlings.

THESE Kindlings are the best of anything that has ever been used for wood or charcoal fires. They are CHEAP, a Box containing 144 squares, 1 square being sufficient to kindle a fire, burning from 8 to 10 minutes with a free blaze, therefore kindling nearly 6 fires for 1 cent, and are not affected by age or climate. They are safe, being composed of a substance not liable to spontaneous combustion; thereby dispensing with use of shavings and paper, thus removing a great risk of the house, if there is any reliance upon any thing, then is it irrefutably proven that this medicine does cure the class of disease it is designed for, beyond any and all other remedies known to mankind. Nothing but its intrinsic virtues, and the unquestionable benefit conferred on thousands of sufferers, could originate and maintain the reputation it enjoys. While many inferior remedies have been palmed on the community, have failed, and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and remarkable to be forgotten.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings and certify whether everything conducted with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, and have given parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to order tickets in these lotteries, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten will draw a prize. Tickets are $5; halves, $2; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $70,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

AS A SPRING MEDICINE

MYERS' EXTRACT ROCK ROSE is invaluable. It changes the vicid humors, opens the pores of the skin, promotes insensible perspiration, thereby purifying the blood and invigorating the system. A free use of this medicine, in the spring months, will not only cure all diseases caused by impurities of the blood, but will beget a healthy action and prepare the system to resist the attacks of fevers, derangement of the bowels, &c., so prevalent in the summer season.

THE TURKS AT A FIRE.

Twas not long at Constantinople before I came in for what is of very frequent occurrence there—namely, a fire. Indeed, I believe that, as a storm is said to be always raging in some part of the sea, so a conflagration, larger or smaller, is always raging in some part of the narrow wooden streets of Stamboul.

The people have few public amusements, and this is considered one of the best, if I may judge by the demeanor of the crowds, whose singular bearing was to me more interesting than the spectacle I witnessed in common with them. At first I knew not what it meant. I had observed that vast multitudes were moving with what, for a Turk, is haste, toward the court of one of their mosques, and stationing themselves, as soon as they had reached it, on the steps, balustrades, and every spot whence a view was commanded.

Joining their company, I discovered the cause of the assembly in a whole street from which clouds of smoke were rising, and from which it was every moment expected that the flames would burst. Nothing could exceed the business-like alacrity of those who struggled for a place in the galleries, or the placid enjoyment of those who had attained one. In expectation of the event, piles of carpets, pillows and cushions had been already brought from the neighboring houses, and placed wherever room could be found.

On those comfortable seats the multitude had established themselves—the men alone part, sedately smoking; the women in another, now looking on, and now playing with their children. In a moment, refreshments of all sorts were provided;—sweetmeats, confectionery, and sherbet, by a number of rival purveyors, who advanced with undaunted alacrity, amid the smoke and falling sparks, plainly considering the chance of destruction a sort of "benefit," got up for their especial behoof, and unceremoniously elbowing to one side the person, who rushed, with pails of water on their heads, to the rescue of the burning houses.

In a few minutes more, the flames burst out with a loud crash, mounting high into the heavens, and flinging an exciting and favorable heat into the faces of the crowds, who, without ever removing their pipes, (except to drink,) gazed with silent and impassioned interest on a scene which, to them, was no more a matter of surprise than a street preacher would be in Edinburgh, a "Punziane" at Rome, or Punchinello at Naples. Among the calm crowd of spectators were the proprietors of the burning houses, smoking like their neighbors, and well assured that their loss had been determined by Allah long before the prophet was born.—De Vere Sketches.

PITCHING IN.—The greatest of all nuisances, to a respectable editor, are those small-minded gentry who believe that the mission of a Journal is not to disseminate news, and aid buyers and sellers by advertisements, but to be perpetually "pitching in" to this or that individual. Such characters are generally very loud and talkative specimens of the genus irritable, prone to hint that they could carry on a journal with all its difficult details much better than anybody else in the country; that they would "stir up things," and that their firm belief is, that all a paper needs is "pepper" to make it excellent.—We can imagine as we write, that we even now hear the familiar accents: "Now I just want you to write an article and give and so fits;" for men of this description are generally gifted with a degree of assurance which respects no duty or dignity, and suffers the possessor to believe that his miserable fancies will actually receive consideration. But yet we can say with truth, that we never met with one of those advocates for indiscriminate "pepper" and abuse, who would not writhe with agony at the faintest allusions to himself in type which tell short of flattery, or who was not in fact a coward.

Men who put faith in abuse as a necessary element in journalism, who take no interest in articles which are not in some way personal, and who relish no "fun" but what is cute, are invariably vulgar and mean, just in proportion to the degree in which such taste prevails with them. It is melancholy, however, to see the number of them in every community, and the degree to which they often succeed in inspiring writers of the press with their own spirit.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

WHERE WILL IT END? For many years we have been shipping stone to England, to be there converted into cups and saucers, and into plates from which to eat our own buckwheat cakes. The system is now however, as we believe, likely to be extended—arrangements being on foot for the exportation of iron ore, to be smelted by means of English coal, and then returned to us in the form of pigs. Progressing thus backward, as we do, may we not hope to live to see the day when our wheat shall be required to cross the ocean, to be returned to us in the form of flour? Seeing how much has been done under the tariff of 1846, there is scarcely any hope in that direction that can be deemed impossible to be accomplished by the aid of financiers as skillful as Secretary Cobb.—Philadelphia N. American.

THURSDAY, JUNE 10, 1858.

BURLEIGH AND SMITH.—Under the name of Burleigh, somebody writes letters from New York to the Boston Journal. One of our New York correspondents informs us that Burleigh is the Rev. Matthew Hale Smith, Esq.,—which we suppose to be the case. Burleigh writes as follows in his letter of June 4:

Speaking of the military, I will say that we shall probably have a novel celebration here on the Fourth of July. As you know, the National Birthday comes on the Sabbath, and several gentlemen of the General's staff propose to have a national service on Sunday night. The Rev. Mr. Smith of the Sixth Avenue Reformed Dutch Church has been invited to preach to the military of New York on that night, and he has agreed to do so. The object of the service, as I understand it, is to show the value and importance of the military as a peace corps, by which alone the arm of the magistrate is enabled to bear the sword not in vain—that the three great elements that brought out our independence, erected and supported our national fabric, are the Ministry, the Magistracy, and the Military—or the Preacher, the Ruler and the Soldier; and that without these three elements we could not exist as a nation; that the military, like the magistrate and the minister, are a divine appointment in government.

Peter Cooper, with a liberality that is characteristic of the man, has placed his Institute, with its immense hall, at the disposal of the gentlemen who have the matter in charge; and one of the leading musical associations of New York, under the lead of one of our most distinguished musical men, have consented to provide the music for the occasion. All the New York Division will be invited to attend, and all who choose can avail themselves of the offer. A part of the audience chamber will be held in special reserve for the military, and the rest will be open to all who may wish to attend. The New York Division embraces about seven thousand men, and the Field and Staff about six hundred. Of course the military will appear in citizens' dress, without music or parade.

Now, when the reader comes to know that "the Rev. Mr. Smith of the Sixth avenue Reformed Dutch church," and "Burleigh" and the Rev. Matthew Hale Smith, Esq., are all one and the same person—he will see that "some things can be done as well as others," and that Matthew is better fitted to New York than Boston.

☞ A correspondent of the New York Times, writing on board the United States ship Dale now at the Cape de Verde, gives a very discouraging account of the cruise of that vessel on the coast of the Africa. Fever and starvation, it seems, were among the evils to which officers and crew were forced to submit. The first Lieutenant died, and at one time there were eighty cases of fever on board. The Dale is one of the ships sent to Africa to "suppress the Slave Trade." Government selects for this distant voyage some of the slowest sailers in the Navy. On the way out they generally have to stop at Madeira to take in water and provisions. By the time they get to the Coast of Africa, their water and provisions are nearly out, and it is time to go back to Madeira again. If they do not, they run the risk of starvation, like the Dale. Our steam Frigates would be in no such danger, and would, besides, be able to accomplish something against the Slave Trade, if they chose.

AN IMPORTANT LEGAL DECISION.—Bro. Campbell, of the Union Democrat, Manchester, N. H., has gone to law, and come out right side up. Mr. C. brought an action to recover upon a policy of insurance for loss of property in Patten's Building, in that city, Feb. 5, 1856. Defence—Fraud in concealing in the application that there was a steam-engine in the building. Plaintiff replied that the application was drawn up by the Company's agent and the suppression was theirs and not his. It was held that where the application is drawn up by the Company's agent, and he does not put interrogatories, it cannot be decreed a suppression of facts, and that if the application is unintentionally defective the insured should not suffer. Judgment was given in favor of Mr. Campbell.

Justice and law happened to go together, this time. An insurance policy ought to be held to cover all loss by fire in the premises insured—without a thousand miserable lawyer-like quibbles. All good companies and sensible agents are willing to do this.

☞ "A prohibitionist" at South Berwick writes us, that at the late voting in Maine, to choose between the license of '56, and the prohibitory law of '58,—many Republicans were kept from the polls by the fear of destroying their party; and many temperance Democrats, by a belief that voting would be useless—as the new law was to be put in force, whether the people said yea or nay—which was the false assertion of the free rum presses. He states that the law will be enforced to the letter in South Berwick. The vote there was all one side—148 for the new law.

NEW HAMPSHIRE LEGISLATURE.

On Tuesday, June 8, in the Senate, Mr. Webster introduced a bill to incorporate the 'Portsmouth Seamen's Friend Society.' Read twice and referred to the Com. upon incorporations.

In the House, Mr. March, of Portsmouth, gave notice of a Bill in relation to hawkers and peddlers.

Mr. Conn of Portsmouth offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, that the Committee on the Judiciary be instructed to inquire into the expediency of amending the act for the suppression of intemperance, so as to excuse the Selectmen of any town from appointing liquor agents therein, whenever such town shall have passed a resolution to that effect.

Mr. Raynes, of Portsmouth, gave notice of a bill to facilitate the extension of telegraphic lines within the State.

Mr. Conn gave notice of a bill to amend the city charter of Portsmouth so as to provide for the election of city officers in November instead of March.

Mr. Raynes of Portsmouth moved that the House adjourn. The motion was lost by ayes 2, noes 2—the Speaker giving the casting voice against adjourning. [Some members now commenced chatting with each other, while others scratched their heads, their beards, &c., and others again read the newspapers. Things were getting so stupid that a wide-awake member—a democrat of the first water—wrote an impromptu sonnet to his lady's eyebrow, which was read and ordered to be printed at the expense of the reporters.]

Mr. C. March of Portsmouth, having previously refreshed himself with a glass of ice-water, renewed the motion to adjourn, although no business had intervened since the previous motion; and the House did so adjourn. Mr. Raynes should mark this flagrant act of favoritism on the part of the Chair, and seize the earliest opportunity to give him a Roley-poley for his Bolivar.—Patriot.

THE NEW HAMPSHIRE SENATOR.

The Republican Caucus at Concord, Tuesday evening, to nominate U. S. Senator, was fully attended. The Senators voted, 7 to 2, not to enter the Caucus. Mr. Pray of Dover moved to proceed to nominate a candidate for U. S. Senator. Clement March of Portsmouth, offered resolutions in favor of rotation. A motion to lay Pray's motion on table, in order to consider the resolutions, was lost by a large majority. The balloting then proceeded with the following result:

Whole number of votes	194
Necessary to a choice	98
John P. Hale had	127
T. M. Edwards	30
Amos Tuck	26
Anthony Colby	7
G. W. Nesmith	4
William Haile	1

So John P. Haile was re-nominated—and on Wednesday was re-elected to the position which he has filled in a manner to perfectly satisfy those who sent him there, —to win the admiration of the world, and the respect of his bitterest opponents. Long may he wave!

The vote in the House was for Hale 185, John S. Wells 111, Scattering 7.

☞ The Traveller, in announcing that Hon. John P. Hale has been nominated for re-election to the U. S. Senate, by a large majority, says, "This is well. If the North is ever to have influence commensurate with the South, she must, like the South, keep her strong men in the foreground, and also keep them long enough in Congress, to acquire the knowledge and influence which only the skill and experience of veterans can achieve."

☞ "The Republican Party in Peril," is the title of a very long article in the Concord Statesman of Wednesday, the drift of which is, that the old Whig division of the Republican party is ostracized in the distribution of offices. Well, Young America and Young Democracy are rather apt to have their way. In the course of the article, it says:

"There is an unwritten chapter regarding the successful intrigue of a few men to thwart, for selfish purposes, the public sentiment which unmistakably pointed to Mr. Goodwin as the successor of Gov. Metcalf."

We thought that was mean enough—but keep cool, Brother McFarland—"all's well that ends well."

UTAH.—A Mormon, named Williams, living near Leavenworth, had received a letter, dated Salt Lake City, May 8th, which represented everything quiet in the Valley. Gov. Cummings was in the city at that date, and the people had abandoned all idea of fighting, and gone to work on their farms.

The Independence correspondent of the Republican, writing June 4th, says that the Salt Lake Mail of April 18th had arrived bringing news that an express had reached Camp Scott from Gov. Cumming, stating that he had been well received at Salt Lake City—that Brigham Young was willing to transfer all authority, and had enjoined his followers to recognize Cumming as their future Governor, and aid him in the discharge of their duties.

WHITE MOUNTAIN GUIDE BOOK.—Mr. Edson C. Eastman, of Concord, N. H., has just published a volume of about 150 pages with the above title, which is the most complete and reliable "Guide" extant, to the Alpine region of New England. It is not only a guide to the mountains, but contains accurate information for those who wish to make a tour through the whole mountain district. The descriptive portions of the work were mainly contributed by the Rev. T. S. King, of Boston, Mr. Daniel Goodwin, of New Hampshire, and the Rev. Augustus Woodbury, formerly of Lowell—gentlemen amply qualified for the service, whose names will guarantee the high character of the book. The information respecting the different routes to the mountains from Boston and New York, is full and accurate, and the impartial reader will at once perceive that the writers are not special advocates of any one railroad line, or in the interest of any landlord.

Persons who have visited the mountains will derive much pleasure from the perusal of the descriptions of familiar scenes with which the work abounds, while its attractive pages will make it a pleasant and instructive companion to tourist. The work will be regarded as the standard authority in all matters that pertain to the White Mountains, and many editions will be called for. If the sale is commensurate with the value of the "Guide."

PETERSON'S MAGAZINE.—The July number of this popular periodical is received. Mrs. Ann S. Stephens, we see, begins an Original Novelet, entitled "KING PHILIP'S DAUGHTER." Hereafter, Mrs. S. will write exclusively for "Peterson's Magazine," her own having been merged into it, and her fine corps of contributors transferred to it also. A new volume begins July. Terms, $200 per annum; Eight copies for $10,00. Address Chas. J. Peterson, 306 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia.

EVERETT AND CRITTENDEN.—A New York hatter advertises that the "Everett hat" is distinguished for its entire novelty of design and elegance of style; while the peculiar qualities of the "Crittenden hat," consist in the harmony of its ample proportions, with the quiet colors used in its manufacture.

Head, 14 1-2 Market Street, has 'em both—and all other styles.

☞ It is stated that the remains of Col. Ethan Allen, which cannot be found at Burlington, Vt., were removed by his daughter, a nun in a Canada convent, to Montreal, some years since, and the circumstance had been almost entirely forgotten among the few who were aware of it.

☞ A new fishing schooner, "Prarie Flower," of 107 tons, from Salem for Boston, in ballast, Tuesday afternoon, was thrown on her beam-ends and filled with water—drowning at least six of the forty or fifty passengers on board. The cause of the accident is stated to be, that when order was given to shorten sail for a squall, the halliards were not properly coiled, and consequently when let go, became foul.

☞ There is another row on the Erie Railroad. The Erie is bound to lay a branch track across the New York Central—and the N. Y. Central is determined it sha'n't be done. Of course the Erie mustn't be stopped thus.

☞ The Boston Courier, Wednesday, publishes an interesting letter from noble old Baron Von Humboldt, of Berlin, now eighty-nine years old — written to Mr. Ticknor.

☞ A clerk named Wilson, robbed the the store of Josiah Gooding, in Washington st., Boston, of $1500 worth of watches, &c., and left a letter telling his employer that the store was robbed and he carried off. He sprinkled blood on the floor, for a pretence of a fight.

☞ A lady in Manchester has worked in worsted, a picture of Franklin in his "sanctum," so finely that many mistake it for an oil painting. It is 27 1-2 by 55 inches.

☞ At Concord the Grand Chapter of Free Masons of New Hampshire elected T. T. Abbott of Manchester Grand High Priest, and Moses Paul of Dover Grand Master.

Joy to the Admirers of

A FINE HEAD OF

RICH GLOSSY HAIR.

Talk of beauty, it cannot exist without a fine head of hair, then read the following, and if you and your friends circular around each bottle, and no one can doubt.

PROF. WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.—We call the attention of all, old and young, to this wonderful preparation, which turns back to its original color, gray hair—covers the head of the bald with a luxuriant growth—removes the dandruff, itching, and all cutaneous eruptions—causes a continual flow of the natural fluids—and hence, if used as a regular dressing for the hair will preserve its color, and keep it from falling to extreme old age, in all its natural beauty. We call then upon the bald, the gray, or diseased in scalp, to use it; and surely the young will not, as they value the flowing locks, or the witching curl, ever be without it. Its praise is upon the tongue of thousands.

The Agent for Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative in New Haven received the following letter in regard to the Restorative, a few weeks since:

DEEP RIVER, CONN., July 23, 1856.

Mr. Leavenworth—Sir: I have been troubled with dandruff or scurf on my head for more than a year, and began to come out quite bald in patches together. I saw in a New Haven paper about "Wood's Hair Restorative" as a cure. I called at your store on the 1st of April last, and purchased one bottle to try it, and I found to my satisfaction it was the thing; it removed the scurf and new hair began to grow. It is now two or three inches in length where it was all off. I have great faith in it. I wish you to send me two bottles more by Mr. Post, the bearer of this. I don't think any of the kind is used in this place, you may have a market for many bottles after it is known here. Yours with res., ELIJAH PRATT.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9, 18 6.

PROF. WOOD—DEAR SIR: Your Hair Restorative is proving itself beneficial to me. The front, and almost half the part of my head is almost free from hair—in fact BALD. I have used but two half pint bottles of your Restorative, and now the tip of my head is well studded with a promising crop of young hair, and the front is also receiving its benefit. I have tried other preparations without any benefit whatever. I think from my own personal recommendation, I can induce many others to try it. Yours respectfully, &c.,

D. R. THOMAS, M. D., No. 464 Vine street.

VINCENNES, IN., June 22, 1853

PROF. O. J. WOOD: Are you are about to manufacture and vend your recently discovered Hair Restorative, I will state, for the information of my concern, that I have used it and known others to use it—that, I have, for several years, been in the habit of using other Hair Restoratives, and that I find yours vastly superior to any other I know. It entirely cleanses the head of dandruff, and with one month's proper use will restore any person's hair to the original youthful color and texture, giving it a glossy, soft and glossy appearance—and all this, without discoloring the hands that apply it, or the dress on which it drops. I would, therefore, recommend its use to every one desirous of having a fine color and texture to hair.

Respectfully yours, WILSON KING.

Valuable Real Estate FOR SALE.

THE following Real Estate will be sold, and a good and clear title guaranteed by warrantees from heirs and quitclaims from mortgagees and all others having any legal interest in the same:

The large and commodious mansion, known as THE HILL HOUSE, No. 18 Vaughan st., Portsmouth. Said house, within a few years, has been put in thorough repair, had new chimney, been raised and underpinned (partially with granite), with granite steps in front. It contains a good cellar, basement kitchen, and, on the first floor, a large hall, two handsome front parlors, a large dining room, two kitchens and a scullery. The second floor comprises the upper hall and seven chambers. There also four attic chambers. The house is well supplied with water by aqueduct running to the kitchen and thence to dining-room and hall. Connected with said mansion are a STABLE and WOOD house, nearly new; a commodious front yard, and a large garden containing a variety of choice fruit trees. In addition to the above, the favorableness of the location, being central, in the business portion of the city, and on the main street leading to the depots, renders it a desirable purchase for a gentleman's residence, or to be kept as a first-class boarding house. The house is also well arranged for two families;

Also, for sale, the COTTAGE HOUSE (so called) near by, on Hill street; said house being nearly new and suitable for one or two families;

Also, for sale, all the HOUSE and LOTS on Hill and Bridge streets, now unroll, belonging to the estate of Samuel Hill, deceased;

Also, will be sold, a portion of the Hill FARM, in Newington; a tract of land known as the "Downing field" containing about 35 acres. Said field is from the best of the farm being excellent meadow and tillage land, and the situation most desirable. It tends from the main road to the Piscataqua river

EDWARD L. HILL, or to
S. H. GOODALL.

MYERS' ROCK ROSE.

We have but very little faith in patent medicines generally, in consequence of the thousand and one quack nostrums which are retailed through the country, with no earthly use but to swindle the purchaser out of his money. Occasionally, however, a good medicine is advertised, and such we believe to be the article which heads this notice. We have had occasion to use several bottles of the "Rock Rose" for dyspepsia and indigestion, and its results have been highly beneficial. We advise others to try the Rock Rose, because we believe they will be benefitted by it.—[Plymouth Rock.

LOCAL.

ABOUT TOWN.— Messrs. Editors ;— In your item of Saturday referring to the Auburn Street Cemetery, you made a great omission in neglecting to censure a parcel of loafers who congregate around its entrance, laying on the ground, sitting on the wall, smoking, swearing, and squelching tobacco juice—to the infinite annoyance of ladies who wish to visit the spot, and giving one a pretty good idea of the lazzaroni of Italy who bask in the sunshine of their old grave yards.

I notice frequently in the papers, statements to the effect that lager-bier drinkers guzzle from thirty to one hundred glasses a day with no ill effect. The least that I have ever known it to sell for was three cents per glass, making their expenses for this charming drink from one dollar to three dollars per day! This too from men who are for the most part laborers, men who get up "strikes," men who rant about "grinding the face of the poor," men who cry "hard times," men whose bloated cheeks present a strange contrast to the pinched faces of their wives and children. Such a beverage should be banished, for economy's sake — it don't kill quick enough.

Why don't you tell the people how hot it is? Had all known that the thermometer stood at 102° on Tuesday, (as it actually did,) there would have been a general stampede for the beach. But perhaps you think "When ignorance is bliss, 'tis folly to be wise."

I am glad to see the improvements made by Mr. Ball around Frenchman's Lane,—the only spot around here that I really covet, and one endeared to almost every Portsmouth boy who has attained near a score of years, by recollections of the beautiful walnut grove thereon.

Quite a village is springing up on the north side of the North Mill Pond. I suppose 'ere long we shall be petitioned for a bridge across the pond at Hale's Point.

I think your friend of the Gazette must be near-sighted or blind, for within a week from the day on which he stated that he had not seen half-a-dozen persons the worse for liquor during a sojourn of nearly as many months in this city, I saw (in broad daylight, within twenty rods of the North Church,) three persons dead drunk. However, "None so blind as those who won't see."

We hear there is a petition in circulation, to open State street to Cass street.—This ought to be done—and then open Madison street to Islington. These streets that end nowhere, are a bother. ST.

The Patriot and Mr. Greenleaf are terribly exercised at the election of T. J. Whittan, of Portsmouth, as Commissary General, whom they term an unnaturalized foreigner. If this be the case, they better not give the fact publicity among their retainers, the foreigners, lest they, seeing a chance for immediate promotion, through the Republican party, desert the sinking ship of the Slave Democracy, en masse.—Statesman.

☞ On Wednesday morning we stated that we were unable to receive a telegraphic dispatch from Concord via Boston, Tuesday evening, owing to the early closing of the office in this city. We have since learned that the lady operator was absent from town—and the office in charge of a boy. It is but justice to state that we have previously found all operators here ready to render any accommodation in their power.

THE FRIGATE FRANKLIN.—Hon. John P. Hale has exerted himself to the utmost in favor of an appropriation to fit out this vessel with steam machinery, but the measure was defeated on Monday in the U. S. Senate.

BRINGING AN OBSTINATE JUROR TO HIS SENSES.—The Santa Cruz Sentinel gives the following account of a method adopted recently in its town to overcome the objections of an obstinate juror:

"Persuasions and starvation are common law methods of producing the above result; but a novel method was lately tried in this town. By some means a fellow juror, was placed upon the jury, who dissented from the verdict agreed to by the other eleven. They came to a joint conclusion of guilty without delay, but the stranger pertinaciously held out against them. After an hour of argument, with no avail, it was at last proposed that the jury should return a verdict of 'guilty by eleven jurymen, who believed the other one to be a confederate of the prisoner, and as great a rascal.' This ended it; stranger saw twenty vigilance committees in his mind's eye, and in five minutes the jury unanimously returned a verdict of guilty."

MARRIED.

FROM NEW ORLEANS.

VIGILANCE COMMITTEE DISBANDED.

New Orleans, June 8.—Gerard Stith, the American candidate for Mayor, is elected by a majority of 290 votes. Many of the other candidates on the American ticket were defeated. The city is quiet.

The Vigilants have broken up their camp and disbanded; but they are not disorganized. They say they will h reafter be ready to carry out their principles at any moment.

The Municipal authorities are engaged in arresting all who are implicated in the Vigilant movement. Writs were also issued for the arrest of the leaders on charge of high treason.

8 P. M.—The city is now quiet. During the day there were some few cases of rowdyism. The Mayor has stopped further arrests, and discharged all the arrested.

CONGRESS.—In the Senate, Tuesday, a resolution was passed to extend the session of Congress to the 14th inst. A message was received from the President, covering the correspondence between the Peruvian Minister and Secretary Cass, in regard to the seizure of the American vessels Georgiana and Lizzie Thompson, while engaged in taking in guano at the Chincha Islands. Mr. Bigler introduced a bill repealing the Atlantic Telegraph act of 1857, which embraced an appropriation of $70,000. The army appropriation bill underwent a long debate, and it was amended in several inportant particulars. Mr. Davis moved to amend, so as to appropriate $1,280,000 to be expended in fortifying Portland, Fort Ridgley, New York, Baltimore, Richmond, Charlestown, &c., which was carried. After the passage and rejection of other amendments, the bill was adopted, 24 to 12. The bill covers about $17,000,000. During the debate on the army bill, Mr. Davis and Benjamin indulged in an unworthy war of words.

In Committee of the Whole, House of Representatives, the Miscellanous Appropriation Bill was taken up, and the amendment to allow Gales & Seaton $340,000 for printing the American State Papers, gave rise to some discussion, but it was concurred in. In the House, the appropriations for the New Orleans Custom House ($350,000) and the Charleston Custom House ($300,000) were stricken out. The members of the Committee on the "Willett's Point" purchase, being unable to agree on a report, were permitted to present their personal views. Senator Davis had challenged Senator Benjamin.

CONTRABAND LIQUOR.—The Lowell News says:

Hitherto the railway has brought from Boston to this city the amount of between 200 and 300 barrels of intoxicating liquors daily! This may seem an incredible quantity, but it is strictly true. On the 1st inst., the road and the expr ss commenced to reject every article known to be of the kind unless properly sealed. During the two days and a fraction that have elapsed, they have rejected nearly one thousand casks or other vessels containing spirits. This morning, however, some hundred or two kegs and barrels came over the road; the heads we all newly shaved and scraped so that no old marks were visible, and on each was written Vinegar. A confab was held in Boston between the officials of the Agency and of the railway; the former insisted that the casks should be rejected, but the latter decided that as they knew nothing of the contents, they had no sufficient grounds for a "reason to believe" that the liquid within was contraband.

Rather a poor dodge, that.—but is there anything too mean or false for the traffic in destruction and misery?

LATER FROM EUROPE.—The steamer Kangaroo, from Liverpool May 26, arrived at New York, on Tuesday.

The project for a line of steamers between Galway, Ireland, and America, has been revived.

Parliament was not in session.

The Telegraph Fleet would leave Plymouth on an experimental trip about the 29th ult., and return to that port instead of Queenstown. It is proposed to lay a cable from Placentia Bay, Newfoundland, direct to Portland, Me., in the completion of the present enterprise.

The Provision Market has slightly fallen.

☞ Frederick S. Porter, eldest son of Judge Porter of Portland, was shot dead in the revolutionary movement at New Orleans.

Ayer's Pills

Are particularly adapted to derangements of the digestive apparatus, and diseases arising from impurity of the blood. A large part of all the complaints that afflict mankind originate in one of these, and consequently these PILLS are found to cure many varieties of disease.

Subjoined are the statements from some eminent physicians, of their effects in their practice.

AS A FAMILY PHYSIC.

From Dr. E. W. Cartwright, of New Orleans.

"Your PILLS are the prince of purges. Their excellent qualities surpass any cathartic we possess. They are mild, but very certain and effectual in their action on the bowels, which makes them invaluable to us in the daily treatment of disease."

FOR JAUNDICE AND ALL LIVER COMPLAINTS.

From Dr. Theodore Bell, of New York City.

"Not only are your PILLS admirably adapted to their purpose as an aperient, but I find their beneficial effects upon the liver to be indeed wonderful. There is no practice proved more effectual for the cure of bilious complaints than any one remedy I can mention. I sincerely rejoice that we have at last a purgative which is worthy the confidence of the profession and the people."

DYSPEPSIA — INDIGESTION.

From Dr. Henry J. Knox, of St. Louis.

"The PILLS you were kind enough to send me have been all used in my practice, and have minded me that they are truly an extraordinary medicine. So peculiarly are they adapted to the diseases of the human system, that they seem to work upon them alone. I have cured some cases of dyspepsia with them, in connection with others, which had resisted the other remedies we commonly use. Indeed I have experimentally found them to be effectual in almost all the complaints for which you recommend them."

DYSENTERY — DIARRHŒA — RELAX.

From Dr. J. G. Green, of Chicago.

"Your PILLS have had a long trial in my practice, and I hold them in esteem as one of the best aperients I have ever found. Where a cathartic is needed, I find it makes them an excellent remedy, when given in small doses, for bilious dysentery and diarrhœa. Their sugar-coating makes them very acceptable and convenient for the use of women and children."

INTERNAL OBSTRUCTION—WORMS—SUPPRESSION.

From Mr. R. Stuart, who practises as a Physician and Midwife in Boston.

"I find one or two large doses of your PILLS, taken at the proper time, are excellent promotives of the natural secretion when wholly or partially suppressed, and also very effectual to cleanse the stomach and expel worms. They are so much the best physic we have that I recommend no other to my patients."

CONSTIPATION — COSTIVENESS.

From Dr. J. P. Pamplin, Montreal, Canada.

"Too much cannot be said of your PILLS for the cure of costiveness. All of whom I have found them as efficacious as I have, they should join me in proclaiming it for the benefit of the multitudes who suffer from that complaint, which, although bad enough in itself, is the progenitor of others that are worse. I believe costiveness to originate in the liver, but your PILLS affect that organ and cure the disease."

INFLUENCE OF THE BLOOD — SCROFULA — ERYSIPELAS — SALT RHEUM — TETTER — TUMORS — RHEUMATISM — GOUT — NEURALGIA.

From Dr. Enskiel Bell, Philadelphia.

"You were right, Doctor, in saying that your PILLS purify the blood. My friends know it. I have used them for years in my practice, and agree with your statements of their efficacy. They stimulate the excretories, and carry off the impurities that stagnate in the blood, engendering disease. They eliminate the impurities of digestion, and infuse vitality and vigor into the system.

"Such remedies as you prepare are a national benefit, and you deserve public aid and patronage."

FOR HEADACHE—SICK HEADACHE—FOUL STOMACH—FILES—DROPSY—PLETHORA—PARALYSIS—FITS—&c.

From Dr. Edward Boyd, Baltimore.

"DEAR DR. AYER: I cannot answer you what complaints I have cured with your PILLS better than by saying all that we ever heard with a purgative medicine. I place great dependence on an effectual cathartic in my daily contest with disease, and believing as I do that your PILLS afford us the best we have, I of course value them highly."

☞ Most of the Pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Has long been manufactured by a practical chemist, and every ounce of it under his own eye, with invariable accuracy and care. It is sealed and protected by law from counterfeits, and consequently can be relied on as genuine, without adulteration. It supplies the surest remedy the world has ever known for the cure of all pulmonary complaints; for COUGHS, COLDS, HOARSENESS, ASTHMA, CROUP, WHOOPING COUGH, BRONCHITIS, INFLUENZA CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease. As time makes these facts wider and better known, this medicine gradually supersedes all other remedies of the afflicted, from the log cabin of the American peasant to the palaces of European kings. Throughout this entire country, in every state and city, and indeed almost every hamlet in consolidated Germany Pectoral is known as the best of all remedies for diseases of the throat and lungs. In many foreign countries it is extensively used by their most intelligent physicians. If there is any dependence on what men of every station certify it has done for them; if we can trust our own senses when we see the dangerous affections of the lungs yield to it; if we can depend on the assurance of intelligent physicians, whose business it is to know, in short, if there is any reliance upon any thing, then is it irrefutably proven that this medicine does cure the class of diseases it is designed for, beyond any and all other remedies known to mankind. Nothing but its intrinsic virtues, and the unmistakable benefit conferred on thousands of sufferers, could originate and maintain the reputation it enjoys. While many inferior remedies have been thrust upon the community, have failed, and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and remarkable to be forgotten.

LIGHT vs. DARKNESS.

Brownson, in his Quarterly Roman Catholic Review, says:

"The Press, honestly conducted, under a proper sense of responsibility, by men who are above the petty ambitions and petty jealousies of little men; by men who are up to the level of their position, and equal-free from a tendency to a false liberalism from a slavish servility to routine; by men of generous culture, enlarged views, who understand their age and their religion—offers a medium for that sort of education and instruction of the people I contend for, far superior to any hitherto possessed by the Catholic world. Through it faithful may be taught the philosophy of their religion, learn its place and office in this world, its rights in relation to the various speculations and tendencies of the age—learn also true Catholic politics, and be stimulated and encouraged to the defence of Catholic interests. It cannot and ought not to supersede any of the old established means and methods of instruction, for they have been instituted by our Lord himself, but it may be ancillary to them, as philosophy is ancillary to theology.

To this the Pilot replies:

With all our respect for the Press, we have not the absolute veneration for it which is so common in this country and in England, and which seems to find a place even in the hearts of some of our Catholic writers. We are not disposed to believe that the art of printing is an eighth sacrament; and we hope that we shall always be kept free from any inclination towards typolatry. We know how much easier it is to infect than to purify, to pull down than to build up, to make people doubt than to make them believe—and therefore we wonder not at the deification, among infidels and heretics, of a power by which they are enabled to propagate their errors, but which, while the human heart remains so much more susceptible to evil than to good impressions, as it is at present, cannot be made of equal value in the support of truth. * * * We have always considered the means used to instruct the multitude in their religion for fourteen centuries before Guttenberg and Faust printed their Latin Bible, as superior to all other instrumentalities, inasmuch as they were of divine origin; and we hope that we shall never yield to any temptations to magnify the inventions of man to such an extent that they shall seem to possess a share in the omnipotence of God.

THE UNIVERSALISTS ON SLAVERY AND INTEMPERANCE.—The Massachusetts Universalist State Convention, in session this week at Quincy, Mass., took strong grounds on the duties of that denomination on the moral questions of the day. In they strictly adhere to the resolutions they adopted, they will take the first rank among the religious sects in reformatory action. Their resolutions on slavery and temperance were as follows:—

Whereas, the spirit and principle of universalism are in direct and eternal conflict with chattel slavery, therefore—

Resolved, That we, as Universalists, feel called upon at all suitable times and places to denounce it as a sin per se, to show its incompatibility with the doctrine of the fatherhood of God and brotherhood of man, and to do what we can to unmask its atrocious wickedness.

Resolved, That in view of the constant aggressions of the slave power in this country, we hereby renew our testimony against the gigantic iniquity involved therein, and pledge ourselves once more to the battle now waging in behalf of human rights.

Resolved, That we rejoice in the increasing sympathy manifested in behalf of the great Temperance movement, and in the continued helps furnished by many Legislatures, and pledge ourselves manfully to the warfare against intemperance by all the weapons that may be committed to our hands.

On the slavery resolutions there was not a dissenting voice; and on temperance the intention was unanimous.

RELIGION.—Some men think that religion is a mere ecstatic experience, like a tune nicely played upon some faculty; living only while it is being performed, and then resting in silence. And, indeed, many men carry their religion as a church carries its bell—high up in a belfry, to ring out on great days, to strike for funerals or to chime for weddings. All the rest of the year it hangs high above reach—voiceless, mute, dead. But religion is not the spasm of any one feeling but the mood and harmony of the whole of them. It is the whole soul marching heavenward to the music of joy and love, with well-ranked notions, ever one of them beating time and keeping tune.—H. W. Beecher.

HAS REMOVED HIS OFFICE TO WEBSTER BANK BUILDING,
13 EXCHANGE STREET, BOSTON.
PATENTS secured in the United States, and in all other patent granting countries. Specifications and drawings prepared. Persons residing at a distance may obtain all necessary information, and have their business transacted, by writing to the undersigned, without the trouble and expense of a visit to Washington. He begs leave to refer those unacquainted with him to the following testimonials:—
From Hon. Chas. Mason, Commissioner of Patents.

Morning Chronicle.

FRIDAY, JUNE 11, 1858.

CHRONICLE CORRESPONDENCE.

RAYMOND, June 10.

The Rockingham Conference of Congregational and Presbyterian Churches, held their annual meeting here, yesterday and the day before. It is a very pleasant place, and as the weather on Tuesday was fine, the representation from abroad, composing the conference proper, was very good; and there was a pleasant intermixture of visiting brethren and sisters, making together a good assembly.

In the public services, throughout, there was good singing, and very good playing on a small organ, evidently handled by a workman who needed not to be ashamed.

On Tuesday, Rev. Mr. Colby of Hampton preached the opening sermon; Rev. Mr. Herrick of Candia was chosen moderator, and Rev. Mr. Fifield, of South Newmarket, scribe. About twenty-five ministers were present, including three or four of other denominations, with delegates from most of the churches. The accounts of the churches, given in the afternoon, were generally favorable to the interests of religion, temperance, and general improvement. The evening was occupied with a prayer meeting.

On Wednesday the day was less pleasant, and closed with rain. There was in the early morning, at 5 o'clock, a prayer and conference meeting,—and in the forenoon several objects of interest and benevolence were presented,—among them, Temperance, House and Foreign Missions, the welfare of Seamen, Ministerial Education, and the Bible and Tract Societies.

In the afternoon, the summary narrative of religion was read by Rev. Mr. Whiting of Portsmouth, and a sermon by Rev. Mr. Condit of Deerfield. The administration of the Lord's Supper closed public services. All evangelical christians were invited to partake, and a large number accepted the invitation.

It is understood that Rev. Mr. Bradford, of the congregational church here, declines the call given him to go to Salmon Falls, and remains here. The old meeting-house of the town of Raymond is undergoing alterations, and is to be finished in two stories, as a Town Hall below, and a noble school-room above. A new chapel or lecture room is begun, for the congregational church.

Among the pleasant sights here, I observe two or three aged men, who have been regularly to meeting three-quarters of a century or so. One of these men, 87 years of age, is a mechanic, and a good one, even now. I saw and handled some work, viz. a good wagon, which he has made since last winter, and which is now about ready for the painter.

EXETERIANA.

EXETER, June 10.

Dear Chronicle:—While that wholesouled old covey, Pickwick, was enduring voluntary exile in the depths of the Fleet prison, he was comforted by the assurance of an experienced resident that habit would soon so accustom him to prison life that he would like nothing better. An affecting story was told of an old man who was allowed for many years beyond his time to remain there. He used to cross the street every evening to a public house, there to spend a pleasant hour, always returning before the gates closed. One night, it was said, he unluckily came too late to gain entrance, and sitting down he cried like a child until the keeper was moved to unbar the door and give him admittance. He was never on the tardy list after that fearful night. Besides the second nature of custom, one would suppose that the superior accommodations furnished by High Sheriff Brown at the new jail would make it hard for any one to leave even when obliged. Yet so discontented is poor human nature that one of the inmates made his exit vi et armis last week. As particulars have already been published, we will not mention them here. The young man, whose name is Willey, will probably be caught in season for trial at the next term of the Supreme Judicial Court.

A most flagrant piece of carelessness was displayed here, one day last week, which came very near proving a serious matter. A young man, engaged in the exciting field sport of shooting frogs, discharged his pistol in such a manner that the ball passed through a window in the house of Commodore Long, on Court street. A person had moved away from the window but a few minutes previous, thus preventing a dangerous casualty. The careless perpetrator of the affair was greatly frightened, and in the exuberance of his fear and repentance, he magnanimously offered, as an expiation, to pay for the glass destroyed.

Elder Burnham, in his lecture recently delivered here, expressed himself decidedly in opposition to the modern doctrine of Spiritualism, and defended his opinions with a great deal of energy and eloquence. Three gentlemen in town, who we suppose are believers in Spiritualism, invite the public to a hearing in reply, on Sunday evening next. The meeting will probably be fully attended.

The hard-fisted burgomasters of this staid old town, in their zeal to take care of the pence, let the pound take care of itself—a trust which that institution sorely neglected by falling into a state of woful dilapidation. However, thanks to our efficient officers of this year, a new structure has been erected on the old site, a terror to straggling cattle and an ornament to the town!

The young men of Exeter have just formed a religious union, entitled the Young Men's Christian Association. Its plan of operations will be like similar institutions elsewhere, one of which we believe you once had in Portsmouth. The meetings on the adoption of the constitution, &c., have been quite animated. They intend forming a library and opening a reading room. To judge from the appearance of some of our street loafers it would seem that the old plan of "preaching the gospel to the heathen without going out of town" is by no means impossible in this community.

In accordance with the usual custom, the afternoon services at Mr. Cole's (Unitarian) will commence at four o'clock on Sunday next. This plan is generally adopted through the summer months. The morning union prayer meetings have been discontinued. Six individuals were baptized by Rev. Mr. Peck of the Water st. Baptist church last Sabbath.

We can boast of a fine place for excursion parties, called the "Picnic Grounds," and situated on the Squamscot, in a shady grove, about a mile from the village. Since our last, the first picnic of the season has come off with brilliant success. We wish our Sunday schools would adopt the plan so common in other places, of holding annual picnics, occasions which are always pleasant to teachers and pupils.

Yours, F. G.

CONGRESS.—In the Senate, on Wednesday, Mr. Bayard asked that the Judiciary Committee be discharged from the further consideration of certain telegraphic memorials of Amos Kendall and others. Messrs. Davis of Mississippi and Benjamin of Louisiana made personal explanations. The Indian Appropriation Bill was passed. A report declaring certain charges preferred against Senator Rice of Minnesota unfounded, was accepted. The Ocean Mail Steamer Appropriation Bill give rise to a long debate. It was amended in sundry important particulars and passed—23 to 21. The Senate soon after adjourned.

The House concurred in the resolution to prolong the session to Monday next. The Senate amendment to the Naval appropriation bill, ordering the construction of five screw sloops of war, was amended by providing for ten sloops instead of five. The bill was further amended by providing for four additional steamers for service in the northwestern lakes. After some further amendments to the bill, the House went into Committee of the Whole, to consider the Senate's 49 amendments to the army bill. The appropriation of $1,285,000 for fortifications was stricken out, and the House soon after adjourned.

The House Committee on Foreign Affairs have now matured a bill, which proposes to confer the war-power on the President in the event of the refusal of Great Britain to disavow the acts of the cruisers in the Gulf. This is Mr. Sickle's bill, and is supposed to be an Administration measure.

BRUTAL ASSAULT ON A REPORTER.—At Cincinnati on Wednesday morning, Daniel Levi, a converted Jew, who is engaged in the sale of lottery tickets, attacked Mr. Zeilinsky, a Pole, the reporter for the Republican, with a slung shot, striking him several times upon the head, felling him to the ground. Mr. Zeilinsky was taken up insensible, and at last accounts it was thought death would ensue. The attack was made in consequence of an article in the Republican, which the reporter admitted he wrote, reflecting upon the operations of an individual, not named, in the lottery business, and which Levi believed to refer to himself. Levi was arrested.

☞ A correspondent of the Green Mountain Freeman suggests that if the good people of Burlington will dig to the depth of twelve feet they will find where Ethan Allen's remains once were. He was buried, by request, in a standing position; and the top of his coffin six feet under ground.

MURDER BY A WIFE.—The Providence Journal says that Mr. John Harper, who resided on Valley street, Providence, was killed by his wife Thursday morning about eight o'clock. She has been an intemperate woman, and her husband has sometimes been provoked to drink by her example and bad treatment. The case was a singular one. The cause of his death was a stone which his wife threw at him, hitting him behind the right ear, and with so little violence as to make scarcely a discoloration of the skin; he walked several yards afterwards and fell dead. A post mortem examination was held by Drs. Collins and Rivers, who found that his death was produced by a rupture of a blood vessel within the cranium, causing an effusion of blood in the brain.

MISREPRESENTATION.—Speaking of the vote in Maine, on license or prohibition, the Concord Daily Patriot says:—A large majority of them voted for the new law.

Uncle Toby replies, this is true.

Pat.—Which compels every city, town and place in the State to open a grog shop.

Uncle T.—This is a mitigated falsehood.

Pat.—And at the same time authorizes a mob to tear down the dwelling-house of any man who keeps liquor and gives it to his friends!

Uncle T.—This is unmitigated. The law contains no such provisions, gives no such authority. The statement is utterly untrue.

☞ A serious conflagration, says the Montreal Commercial Advertiser of Thursday, is raging in the woods upon the line of the Richmond and Quebec Railway.—The woods are on fire for miles, and the buildings of the settlers were in great danger during the high wind of Monday. The Durham station house was on fire, but it was got under. The damage to the timbered lands will be very great.

☞ At Dumfries, Va., a few days since, Charles Merchant, son of Wm. C. Merchant, Esq., while visiting his cousin, dressed himself in a hooped skirt, and, while amusing himself with the girls, the skirt caught fire, and before it could be put out the little fellow was so severely burned that he died in a few hours.

☞ At Henry Ward Beecher's Church in Brooklyn, N. Y., last Sunday, the sacrament was administered to 2000 persons. In the forenoon it was announced that 185 persons had joined the church, 160 on profession of faith, and 25 by letter.

☞ In the Court of Common Pleas, at Newburyport, eight liquor cases were brought,—of which six were sentenced to fines and imprisonment. The Herald says a vast majority in that State, as in Maine, are in the favor of the prohibitory law.

☞ Geo. Rush, postmaster at Etna, Pa., has been arrested for purloining letters containing money. In his possession were found $149, part of which had been identified as certain registered letters which had been abstacted from the mail, and which were also found in his possession.

Self-Ventilating Refrigerator,

FOR Preserving Meats, Fish, Fruits, Vegetables, etc., which received the highest Premium, the Silver Medal, at the New York State Fair, and the highest Premiums, Medals, and Diplomas, at the numerous Fairs where presented.

Advantages of the Winship Refrigerator.

1. A perfectly uniform temperature, so that every part of the refrigator can be used at once.
2. A constant change of air is secured in the provision chamber without any unnecessary waste of ice, or loss of air already cooled.
3. A downward current of cold air prevents the provision chamber from being filled with warm air on opening the door, as is the case with refrigerators of other patterns.
4. The cold air performs the double office of cooling the chamber and purifying it from offensive odors, and also of protecting it from the warm external air.
5. The great convenience of the ice chamber, access being to it without disturbing the provision chamber.
6. The form of the provision chamber, every portion of it being used with equal convenience.
7. Articles of a strong and unpleasant odor can be placed in the provision chamber, together with the most delicate substances, without any possibility of communicating their flavors one with another. For sale by

Joy to the Admirers of
A FINE HEAD OF
RICH GLOSSY HAIR.

Talk of beauty, it cannot exist without a fine head of hair, then read the following, and if you ask more, see circular around each bottle, and no one can doubt.

PROF. WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.—We call the attention of all, old and young, to this wonderful preparation, which turns back to its original color, gray hair—covers the head of the bald with a luxuriant growth—removes the dandruff, itching, and all cutaneous eruptions—causes a continual flow of the natural fluids;—and hence, if used as a regular dressing for the hair will preserve its color, and keep it from falling to extreme old age, in all its natural beauty. We call then upon the bald, the gray, or diseased in scalp, to use it; and everything young will doubtless vivacious looks, or the witching curl, ever be without it. Its praise is upon the tongue of thousands.

The Agent for Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative in New Haven, received the following letter in regard to the Restorative, a few weeks since:

DEEP RIVER, CONN., July 23, 1856.

MR. Leavenworth—Dear Sir: I have been troubled with dandruff or scurf on my head for more than a year, my hair began to come out, scurf and hair together. I saw in a New Haven paper about "Wood's Hair Restorative" as a cure. I called at your store on the 1st of April last, and purchased one bottle to try it, and I found to my satisfaction it was the thing; it removed the scurf, and new hair began to grow, it is now two or three inches in length where it was all off. I have great faith in it. I wish you to send me two bottles more by Mr. Post, the bearer of this. I don't know as any of the kind is used in this place, you may have a market for many bottles after it is known here. Yours with res., ROYS PEARS.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9, 1856.

PROF. WOOD—Dear Sir: Your Hair Restorative is proving itself beneficial to me. The front, and also the back part of my head almost lost its covering—in fact bald. I have used but two half pint bottles of your Restorative, and now the tip of my head is well studded with a promising crop of young hair, and the front is also receiving its benefit. I have tried other preparations without any benefit whatever. I think from my own personal recommendation, I can induce many others to try it. Yours respectfully,

D. R. IRELAND, M. D., No. 434 Vine street.

VICENNES, IA., June 22, 1858.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: As you are about to manufacture and vend your recently discovered Hair Restorative, I will state, for whomsoever it may concern, that I have used it and known others to use it—that, I have, for several years, been in the habit of using other Hair Restoratives, and that I find yours vastly superior to any other I know. It entirely cleanses the head of dandruff, and with one month's proper use will restore any person's hair to the original youthful color and texture, giving it a healthy, soft and glossy appearance; and all this, without discoloring the hands that apply it, or the dress on which it drops. I would, therefore, recommend its use to every one desirous of having a fine color and texture to hair.

Respectfully yours, WILSON KING.

PALPITATION OF THE HEART.

When not arising from organic disease, palpitations are due either to nervous excitement or to a general impoverishment of the blood. The PERUVIAN SYRUP, by restoring the vital fluid to its proper condition, calms nervous excitement, arrests palpitations, and invigorates the whole system.

MYERS' ROCK ROSE.

We have but very little faith in patent medicines generally, in consequence of the thousand and one quack nostrums which are retailed through the country, with no earthly use but to swindle the purchaser out of his money. Occasionally, however, a good medicine is advertised, and such we believe to be the article which heads this notice. We have had occasion to use several bottles of the "Rock Rose" for dyspepsia and indigestion, and its results have been highly beneficial. We advise others to try the Rock Rose, because we believe they will be benefitted by it.—[Plymouth Rock.

LOCAL.

CITY COUNCIL.—In the Board of Aldermen, on Thursday evening, the question of celebrating the birth-day of our national independence in a proper and patriotic manner, came up for consideration. A resolution was presented, appropriating $300 for that purpose, provided $200 could be raised by subscription. Alderman Webster offered an amendment, which was adopted, that the sum paid by the city should not exceed $300. An amendment was also made to increase the sum appropriated to $500, which was rejected. The original resolution, as amended by Alderman Webster, was then passed—the vote standing 5 to 2.

FOURTH OF JULY.

As the appropriation of $300 for the celebration of our National Birth-day has passed the City Council, a meeting of the citizens is called THIS EVENING, at eight o'clock, to hear reports of committees and to make all necessary arrangements for the celebration—at the Mercantile Rooms.

☞ Uncle Toby protests against the action of some school Committees, who, he learns, have cut down the Vacation in some of the Schools, from six weeks to four weeks per annum. He had some hand, a dozen years ago or thereabouts, in enlarging the vacations, which was done for good reasons, viz. that neither Teacher nor Scholar can be shut up to study or teach continuously, without breaking down in body or mind.

Every person who knows anything about such matters, knows that in the best academies, colleges, and great schools in the world, they have frequent and long vacations, even where full grown men are the students. How much more should there be a resting time, a play time, for youth of both sexes at a period of life when growth is going on, and when, if health be broken down, the whole future of the life must be that of an invalid!

Uncle T. is at a loss to imagine what good can come of this retrograde step. It saves no money, it will improve no school and no scholar. But it may kill some of the most studious and constant children; and it may dishearten some of the most faithful teachers who are not very robust. We hope not, however;—for the intelligent, professional, and studious men of the place ought to unite in a remonstrance against the diminution of the Vacations,—and to pray rather for their extension to three months in the year.

☞ The residents at the West End were regaled with some fine music on Wednesday evening by the Cornet Band—who were thus pleasantly paying a parting compliment to a young lady who has for some time occupied a prominent place in one of our best church choirs, to which a member of the Band also belongs. Those who enjoyed this treat are impatient for those evening out-door concerts to commence again.

SENSIBLE.—The Mirror, alluding to the furnishing of members of the Legislature with the three Concord Dailies at the public expense, says that they forgot that there were two permanent dailies at Manchester, from the reading of which they might derive quite as much profit.—American.

Yes, and there's one down here in Clamshell Corner. Serve all alike. We printers out of Concord should "derive quite as much profit," at any rate, as our brothers at the Capitol, from State patronage.

WINSHIP'S PATENT REFRIGERATOR.—This article is almost a necessity to well-ordered housekeeping. It is constructed on purely scientific principles. Two boxes, one within the other, comprise the apparatus. The ice is placed upon bars extending across the top of the inside box. A draught of air is let in from the outside, which becomes chilled by the ice, and descends between the bars through the encased space used for depositing the substances which it is desired to keep cool. The cooler air forces the warm air out of the chamber, and it escapes through the surrounding atmosphere by means of a register in the outside frame. Thus a continual current is maintained in the interior of the refrigerator, producing a constant and complete ventilation. The reader will perceive at once by the brief account we have given of its manner of working, how well adapted Winship's invention is to secure the end sought by it. Refrigerators made upon this plan can be obtained in any number at G. N. Carleton's extensive House Furnishing Establishment, Daniel Street.

☞ Philbrick's Fire Kindlings, advertised by Mr. Carleton on our fourth page, is a capital article—safe, clean, cheap, and efficient. Try a box—only a quarter.

☞ Both branches of Congress have agreed to adjourn next Monday.

MARRIED.

SANDY HOOK, June 10, 8 A. M.—Steamship Asia, from Liverpool, May 29, has just arrived off this point. Her dates are three days later than those received by the Kangaroo.

The returns of the British exports for the month of April show a falling off of over half a million, compared with the same month last year.

The recipient of the Victoria Medal of the Geographical Society is Alexander Dallas Bache, not Professor Packe, as previously stated.

Rudio, the confederate of Orsini, had been sent to Cayenne.

Letters from Algiers announce that in consequence of the appointment of Prince Napoleon as Governor General of that Colony, the entire body of the high military administration propose to return to France with Marshal Raudon.

THE NEW ORLEANS DISTURBANCES have come to rather an inglorious end, if we can rely upon the latest news from that city. The self-constituted committee have been signally rebuked at the polls, as the voters have repudiated their candidates and sustained the political organization against which the movement was directed.

NEW ORLEANS, 9th.—Everything is quiet here at present.

☞ Washington dispatches show that Lord Napier has heard from the commander of the British West India squadron.—The whole Styx and Buzzard difficulties are to be explained away—all the killed, wounded and missing will be brought to life and paid for, and the world will jog on as if nothing had happened.

The Mormon war also seems likely to come to an end. Gov. Cumming has not been expelled from Salt Lake City, but is there, and has sent documents from there which have reached the President.

☞ The Spiritual Age, of this week, contains a particular account of Prof. J. L. Otis, principal of a Normal School at Marlow, in this State, who is alleged to have been converted into a Spiritualist, and also into a trance speaking medium at the same time.—This wonderful change, seems from the account, to have been wrought directly by the direct agency of the Spirits, or of a spirit,—as Prof. O. had been to no circle and seen no spiritual performances. He has spoken in several places, particularly in Claremont, to large audiences,—and now offers his services as trance speaker. The whole story is strange.

Ayer's Pills

Are particularly adapted to derangements of the digestive apparatus, and diseases arising from impurity of the blood. A large part of all the complaints that afflict mankind originate in one of these, and consequently nearly these Pills are found to cure many varieties of disease.

Subjoined are the testimonials from some eminent physicians, of their effects in their practice.

AS A FAMILY PHYSIC.

From Dr. E. W. Cartwright, of New Orleans.

"Your PILLS are the prince of purges. Their excellent qualities surpass any cathartic we possess. They are mild, but very certain and effectual in their action on the bowels, which renders them invaluable to us in the daily treatment of disease."

FOR JAUNDICE AND ALL LIVER COMPLAINTS.

From Dr. Theodore Bell, of New York City.

"Not only are your PILLS admirably adapted to their purpose, but they are, I think, the most beneficial effects upon the Liver very marked indeed. They have in my practice proved more effectual for the cure of bilious complaints than any other medicine. I shall freely chose PILLS when occasion shall require a cathartic. I discovery relief that we have at length a cathartic which is worthy the confidence of the profession and the people."

DYSPEPSIA — INDIGESTION.

From Dr. Henry S. Hunt, of St. Louis.

"The PILLS you sent me I used enough to send me have been all used in my practice, and have satisfied me that they are truly an extraordinary medicine. Its peculiarity are they adapted to the diseases of the human system, that they seem to work upon those diseases. I have cured some cases of dyspepsia and indigestion with them, which had resisted the other remedies we commonly use. Instead I have experimentally found them to be effectual in almost all the complaints for which you recommend them."

DYSENTERY — DIARRHŒA — RELAX.

From Dr. J. G. Green, of Chicago.

"Your PILLS have had a long trial in my practice, and I hold them in the highest estimation. Dysentery is never found. Their alterative effect upon the liver makes them an excellent remedy, when given in small doses, for bilious dysentery and diarrhœa. Their superior quality makes them very acceptable and convenient for the use of women and children."

INTERNAL OBSTRUCTION—WORMS—SUPPRESSION.

From Mr. R. Stuart, who speaks of a Physician and Nobody knows.

"I find one or two large doses of your PILLS, taken at the proper time, are excellent promoters of the natural secretion when wholly or partially suppressed, and also very effectual in expelling worms and expel worms. They are so much the best physic we have then, I recommend no other to my patients."

CONSTIPATION — COSTIVENESS.

From Dr. J. P. Foster, Montreal, Canada.

"You much remind by add of your PILLS for the cure of costiveness. If others of our respectable have found them as efficacious as I have, they should join me in publishing it for the benefit of the public. I know of no cathartic that complaint which, although bad enough in itself, is the parent of others that are worse. I believe sufferers to relegate in the liver, but your PILLS affect that organ and cure the disease."

INFLUENZA OF THE BLOOD — SCROFULA — ERYSIPELAS — SALT RHEUM — TETTER — TUMORS — RHEUMATISM — GOUT — NEURALGIA.

From Dr. Kneisler, Philadelphia.

"Your PILLS are doing a great deal of good in this city. They do that. I have used them of late years in my practice, and agree with your statements of their efficacy. They stimulate the system, and carry off the morbid matter which is the cause of the disease, whatever disease. They stimulate the organs of digestion, and infuse vitality and vigor into the system.

"Such medicine as you prepare are a national benefit, and you deserve great credit for them."

FOR HEADACHE—SICK HEADACHE—FOUL STOMACH—FLUTTER—DROPSY—PLETHORA—PARALYSIS—FITS—&c.

From Dr. Edward Reed, Baltimore.

"DEAR DR.: I cannot answer you what complaints I have cured with your PILLS better than to say all that are ever treat with a purgative medicine. I place great dependence on your PILLS, and I do not feel comfort with them, and believing as I do that your PILLS afford us the best we have, I of course value them highly."

☞ Most of the Pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a pulverized form. Mercury is not contained that Ayer's Pills follow the directions now. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Has long been manufactured by a practical chemist, and every once of it is under his eye, so that with certainty is sure pure and cure. It is sealed and protected by law from counterfeits, and consequently can be relied on as genuine, without adulteration. It supplies the surest remedy the world has ever known for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease. In the towns where our agents are well known, this medicine has gradually become the best pulmonary remedy in use. Throughout the country, in every state and city, and indeed almost every hamlet it contains, CHERRY PECTORAL is known as the best of all remedies for diseases of the throat and lungs. In many foreign countries it is extensively used by their most intelligent physicians. If there is any dependence on what men of every station certify it has done for them; if we can trust our own senses when we see the dangerous affections of the lungs yield to it, and we can depend on the authority of hundreds of our most eminent physicians, whose business is to know, in short, if there is any reliance upon any thing, then is it irrefutably proven that this medicine does cure the class of diseases it is designed for, beyond any and all other remedies known to mankind. Nothing but its intrinsic virtues, and the unmistakable benefit conferred on thousands of sufferers, could originate and maintain the reputation it enjoys. Many of our best friends have been thrust upon the community, have failed, and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too astonishing and immediate to be forgotten.

Use Philbrick's Celebrated Fire-Kindlings.

THESE Kindlings are the best of anything that has ever been used for wood or charcoal fires. They are Cassia, a Box containing 144 squares, 1 square being sufficient to kindle a fire, burning from 8 to 10 minutes with a free blaze, therefore kindling nearly 6 fires for 1 cent, and are not affected by age or climate. They are safe, being composed of a substance not liable to spontaneous combustion; thereby dispensing with use of shavings and paper, thus removing a great risk of fire from building, and are MANDIER, CHEAPER and CLEANER.

DIRECTIONS.—One of the small squares lighted and placed on the bottom of the stove or grate is sufficient to kindle a wood or charcoal fire.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Messrs. Sawyer & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything conducted with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being conducted with the same care as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for Tickets in Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Sawyer & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $1 each, or six for $5. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $700; every prize drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Dispatch. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m18 1y

A free use of this medicine, in the spring months, will not only cure all diseases caused by impurities of the blood, but will repel the attacks of fevers, derangement of the bowels, &c., so prevalent in the summer season.

MR. WHITTEMORE, of the Boston Trumpet in noticing Mr. Ellis' sermon, says:

Although there is not everything in Mr. Ellis' discourse which we should have been happy to have found there, we recommend it for general perusal. It will furnish a deep theme of thought to those who have hitherto taken grounds against revivals.—It is as certain as that the light of day shines upon us, that there is such a thing as pure religion, pure truth; and it is equally certain that there are at times increased attention to these things and increased enjoyment of them. This, this is a revival of religion. Instead of Universalists discouraging such revivals, they ought to do all they can to promote them. Never while we live, shall our hand write any paragraph again, condemning indiscriminately all revivals of religion. We have done wrong heretofore. We have condemned all revivals. We ought to have discriminated. God has brought us to see our duty better. We hope he has humbled us, and made our spirit more conformable to the spirit of the Lord Jesus Christ.

CHARLES LAMB'S WARNING.—Charles Lamb tells his sad experience as a warning to young men, in the following language:

"The waters have gone over me. But out of the black depth, could I be heard, I would cry out to all those who have but a foot in the perilous flood. Could the youth to whom the flavor of his first wine is delicious as the opening scenes of life, or the entering of some newly discovered paradise, look into my desolation and be made to understand what a dreary thing it is when a man shall feel himself going down to a precipice with open eyes and a native will—to see his destruction and see no power to stop it, and yet feeling all the way emanating from himself; to see all godliness emptied out of him, and not able to forget a time when it was otherwise; to bear about the piteous spectacle of his own ruin; could he see my wasted eye, feverish with last night's drinking and feverishly looking for tonight's repetition of the folly; could he but feel the body of death out of which I cry hourly, with feebler out-cry, to be delivered—it were enough to make him dash the sparkling beverage to the earth in all the pride of its mantling temptation.

BISHOP OF TEXAS.—The Editor of the Episcopal Banner, published in Gardiner, Me., on hearing of the election of Mr. Weston, wrote as follows:—

"Rev. Sullivan H. Weston, assistant minister of Trinity Church, New York, has been elected Bishop of Texas. Bishop Weston is a native of Bremen, in this state. He was for some time a resident of this city, where he was known as a zealous advocate of Universalism. Have later associations and influences, and the ambition to become a Bishop, been too much for consistency as Whatever in the "great revolution," or is he yet a believer in it?" Bishop Weston was to our knowledge a Universalist for many years, and one of the closest and most subtle reasoners on that question that we ever saw; but the Episcopal Banner must know that the Episcopal Church does not require a belief in endless misery.—Newburyport Herald.

Perhaps the Banner may not know it.—Religious sects generally know too little of each other.

BEVERLY.—Rev. Mr. Foster, of the first Baptist church, in Beverly, on Sunday P. M., baptized 29 persons—13 males and 16 females, 12 of whom were heads of families. The youngest of the number was a little over 16 years of age, and the oldest about 60. Two were retired sea captains, 40 years of age and upwards. The ceremony was performed at the foot of Bartlett street, and occupied the time of the ordinary afternoon service. It was witnessed by an immense concourse of spectators, who occupied every window and elevated position commanding a view of the scene, and whose orderly and respectful deportment was appropriate to the solemnity of the services.

The parties went down to the water in groups, arranged by some peculiar tie of attachment. The first group immersed consisted of six young men; the second of four husbands whose wives were already members of the church; the third was a husband and wife and their only daughter; the fourth of a husband and wife with a wife's mother; the fifth of a brother and sister; the sixth, of three persons, contained two wives and two sisters; the seventh of two married ladies; and the eighth and last, of six young ladies.—Salem Gazette.

One result of the religious revival going on in this county is said to have been apparent in some of the converts—before, at 'hard cases'—who were called before the Grand Jury to testify in liquor cases. The former cases these same witnes es had been afflicted with what is a very common infirmity in liquor cases, a bad memory. Whether this bad memory sprung from love of bad rum, or was an effect of 'rot gut,' the physicians have not determined, but with conversion and the leaving of their sins their memory has been wonderfully strengthened, much to the horror and consternation of liquor sellers.—Newburyport Her.

END OF THE UTAH "WAR."

Migration of Brigham Young and his Followers.

WASHINGTON, Thursday, June 10.

Official information has been received from Gov. Cumming of his arrival at Salt Lake City, and favorable reception there. Brigham Young formally delivered to him all authority, and counselled the people to obedience. There was not the slightest demonstration of hostility. Brigham and the prominent Mormons were to have left Salt Lake on Tuesday last. The various Mormon settlements were broken up, and the inhabitants were moving south, for or in the direction of Sonora. The scene is represented as being most distressing and mournful, as the men, women and children, poorly clad, and illy provided for, uncomplainingly took their departure from the Territory.

In the HOUSE, to-day, a message was received from the President, enclosing a copy of a dispatch from Gov. Cumming, dated May 2d, received at the State Department yesterday. From this, the President says, there is reason to believe that our difficulties with Utah have terminated, and the laws restored.

He congratulates Congress on this auspicious event, expresses the opinion that there will be no occasion to make the appropriation for the three Regiments of Volunteers recently authorized for the purpose of quelling the disturbances in Utah, and for the protection of the emigrant trains and supplies, and says that Texas can be defended by the regular troops now within her limits.

The President is the more gratified because the events in Utah will afford some relief to the Treasury, and not require a loan and additional taxation of the people. In a letter to Secretary Cass, Gov. Cumming says he left the camp on the 5th of April, en route to Salt Lake City, accompanied by Col. Kane as his guide, and two servants.

In passing through the settlements he was greeted with such respectful attentions as were due to the representative of the executive of the United States. Young afforded him every facility. His course in this respect, Gov. Cumming fancied, met with the approval of the majority of the Salt Lake community. The Territorial seat, with other property, was tendered Gov. Cumming, by Wm. H. Hooper, late acting Secretary of the Territory.

At every point Gov. Cumming was recognized as the Governor of Utah, and received with military salute. There were illuminations in his honor. Having heard numerous complaints, Gov. Cumming caused a public notice to be posted, signifying his readiness to relieve those who deemed themselves aggrieved by being illegally restrained of their liberty, and assuring protection to all persons.

He kept his office open at all hours of the day and night, and registered 56 men, 33 women and 71 children desirous of his protection, and evincing a disposition of proceeding to the United States. Gov. Cumming says his visit to the Tabernacle will never be forgotten. There were between 3000 and 4000 persons assembled for the purpose of public worship, and there was a most profound silence when he appeared. Brigham Young introduced him by name as Governor of Utah, and he (Cumming) addressed them for half an hour, telling them to uphold the Constitution and the laws; that he would expect their obedience to all lawful authority; at the same time assuring them of his determination to administer equal and exact justice, etc. He was listened to respectfully.

He invited responses to his speech, and several spoke, referring in excited tones to the murder of Joseph Smith, to the services rendered by the Mormon battalion in the Mexican war, and recapitulating long chapters of their wrongs. The tumult fearfully increased as they progressed, but an appeal from Young restored calmness. Several afterwards expressed regret for their behavior.—Governor Cumming proceeded to describe the exodus of the Mormons. He thinks they are going to Sonora. Young, Kimball, and most of the influential men had left their commodious houses to swell the ranks of the emigrants. He says that some of the Mormons are yet in arms, and speaks of the mischief they are capable of rendering as guerrillas.

Gov. Cumming concluded by stating that he shall leave for the South by the 3d of May, and will restrain all proceedings of the troops for the present, until he shall have instructions from the President.

The document was ordered to be printed and the House adjourned.

MORE WASTEFULNESS.—The new Custom House at Portsmouth, N. H., is one of the corrupt jobs which are getting quite too common. Already $138,000 have been appropriated for it, and it will cost $200,000 at least when completed. The entire custom receipts at Portsmouth will never half pay the interest on this amount; a small room for $50 annual rent would have afforded ample accommodations for the drowsy officers to do nothing and draw their salaries in. Last year the whole value of goods paying duty entered at Portsmouth was only $4267. Making a very liberal estimate, say ten per cent. duty, the revenue from that source would be less than $425. To collect this petty sum, not only a $200,000 building is to be provided, but twenty-one stalwart Buchanaers are kept as an expense to the public of between $8500 and $9000. —Lowell Citizen.

Only $116,300 have been appropriated to build the new Custom House, which is also to contain the Post Office and U. S. Court Rooms, for neither of which has any suitable building been previously provided by government.

The revenue annually collected at the Custom House here, is more than twenty times the amount stated!

Since the opening of the Portsmouth Custom House, there has been expended by the U. S. Government, only $6000 for the purchase and repairs of the public buildings, while the revenue collected from customs alone has exceeded $6,000,000.—Gaz.

A SUGGESTION.—There has recently been a large and unexpected emigration into this city of well dressed but badly behaved persons. That class of population which contributes very little to the industry, and nothing at all to the good morals of the place where they find encouragement, has increased from some cause or other, certainly beyond the necessities, if not beyond the desires of the citizens. The promenade ground of these individuals should be less public than Congress street.—Perhaps a scattering of the nightly gatherings of rowdy young men near Congress Block, would lesson the attractions which induce them to choose that beat. At any rate, it would pay to try it. —Gazette.

Ladies of fashion in Belgravia and its vicinage, it is said, in order to produce the effect of moonlight in their boudoirs, have large blue goblets, in which a night wick is kept burning. These also serve as night-lamps in the sleeping-rooms, and sick chambers.

Morning Chronicle.

SATURDAY, JUNE 12, 1858.

☞ The Boston Journal's Lawrence (Kansas) Correspondent gives some particulars of the death of Mr. Jenkins, who was killed by "Jim Lane," in an affray about their claims and fences. It seems Jenkins came to the attack, armed, and with companions armed also. These men were arrested, as well as Lane. Jenkins was a free State man and held a commission under Lane.

A few men talked very loud about lynching Lane on the spot, and the notorious Sheriff Jones of Lecompton, who happened to be present, seconded the suggestions. Sheriff Walker quietly remarked to him: "Now Jones, if I were you, I would be careful and not do anything to excite these people. If any hanging should be done, they would be quite as likely to begin on you, as not!" Jones looked around upon the ominous glances cast upon him from all directions, and immediately started for the hotel, and took the stage for home!

Jenkins leaves a widow and four children. He was an impetuous man, but much respected.

Lane is badly wounded, and his wounds become more painful and serious. Linn County, and some other localities, in Kansas, are far from being quiet.

☞ Some of the Southern papers say that the overflow of the Mississippi, instead of causing sickness, by clearing the ponds and bayous of stagnant water and accumulations of vegetable matter, is regarded as promising a summer of unusual health.—The waters are now receding rapidly, but it is feared that a great many plantations will not be dry in time for a crop this season. Live stock was completely destroyed on many plantations. There are still accounts of great freshets at the West. The Ohio and Mississippi railroad was covered with water for ten miles, last week, and passengers were transported in boats.—Nearly all the railroads in Illinois were much cut to pieces, and there were no regular trains.

☞ It is reported that a body of one thousand two hundred Welsh Baptists are on their way from New York, to settle upon a large body of land near Knoxville, Tennessee, purchased for them by agents previously sent over. Several entire churches came, and three of their pastors.—These preachers are educated men, and able to preach in English as well as Welsh, but most of the colony speak and read only Welsh.

QUERY AS TO THE FACT.—The landlord of the Hotel de Russe in Frankfort on the Maine, found an increase in the consumption of his farinaceous dishes, puddings, &c., during the sessions of a temperance convention. His solution was, as his guests were teetotallers that they made up for the omission of wine by an increased consumption of pudding. May it not have been that they did not eat the usual quantities of bread, and so had an unsatisfied appetite beyond ordinary? That huge roll rolls itself into many vacant places and stops many crevices.—Boston Journal.

We thought it was a fact, well ascertained twenty-five years ago, that a water drinker, as a general thing, ate more bread, pudding, &c., than a cider drinker. We suppose wine and cider to be somewhat alike in this respect. It may be well here to remark that water, as a table drink, was almost unknown in this part of the country 45 or 50 years ago—but cider was on the table everywhere and always. Cider, meat, fish and potatoes, with Indian, or rye and Indian bread, were the staples of living—while the amount of flour used was very small.

☞ George D. Prentice, the gifted and witty editor of the Louisville Journal, has enrolled himself as a member of the Sons of Temperance. He joined them on the night of the 27th ult., and made, it is said, some very touching remarks on his past life, and his prospects for the future.

☞ "Sailor Dan" and James Dolan escaped from Sing Sing State Prison on Sunday night, under circumstances that threw not a little suspicion on some of the keepers who had them in charge. "Sailor Dan" was one of the murderers of Teresa Spitzlen, in New York, and when brought to trial pleaded guilty of manslaughter, and was sentenced to ten years' imprisonment.

☞ The London correspondent of the N. Y. Herald says that the Derby government have sent out orders to the West India fleet to stop all visits to American vessels. It also says that not only will ample and noble apology be made for them but every officer concerned in them will be punished.

CONGRESS.—In the Senate, on Thursday, the Indian deficiency appropriation bill was passed.

The post-office appropriation bill was then taken up. An amendment, offered by Mr. Johnson of Ark., to increase the rate of postage under three thousand miles to five cents, was adopted by vote of 19 to 15. An amendment was also adopted, abolishing the franking privilege of members of Congress after the 4th of March next. An amendment abolishing the franking privilege of the President and heads of departments, was lost. Several other amendments were adopted, among which was one providing that the printing of postage stamps, &c., be given to the lowest bidder, also one for the payment to the Collins Steamship Company of $147,730 for balance withheld by the post-office department, also one repealing the present mode of advertising letters in the newspaper of the largest circulation and giving the advertisement to the lowest bidder. The bill was then passed by a vote of 30 against 14.

The bill making appropriations for the collection of the revenue was then taken up. An amendment was adopted, which reduces the expenses half a million dollars.

In the House, a joint resolution was adopted, authorizing the Postmaster-General to have the mail taken from St. Joseph, Mo., to Placerville, Cal., in 30 instead of 38 days.

The House then went into committee on the Senate's amendments to the army bill.

The further consideration of the case of Judge Watrous was postponed to the second Thursday in December.

The supplemental Indian appropriation bill was returned from the Senate with amendments, and considered. The House then took a recess till evening.

On reassembling, the ocean mail appropriation bill was considered, and all of the Senate's amendments except one were rejected.

A message was received from the President transmitting despatches from Governor Cumming dated May 2d. The documents were ordered to be printed.

SUFFRAGE IN CONNECTICUT.—The Connecticut House of Representatives has passed a proposed amendment to the Stat Constitution by a vote of 112 to 94, providing that negroes may vote. They refused the same privilege to women by a vote of 127 to 82. This amendment, however, must pass both Houses next year by two-thirds of each House, and then be adopted by a majority of the popular vote, or it cannot become a part of the Constitution.

☞ Mr. Crawford, who was a Buchanan elector in Pennsylvania, and now resides at Fort Scott, Kansas, has just arrived at Washington. He confirms the account of the massacre of free State men at Trading Post, and ascribes the recent outrages in that vicinity to the instigation of the proslavery officials. Crawford himself procured the dismission of Clark, the murderer, from the office of land register at Fort Scott, but the administration immediately made him a purser in the navy.

"HE DIED AS THE FOOL DIETH."—An inquest was held in New Orleans on the 28th ultimo, in view of the body of James Dowling, aged forty years, who, it appears from the evidence, died from the effects of drink. He had made a bet with a companion that he would drink sixteen glasses of liquor in a given space of time—to take the drinks in rapid succession. He took sixteen glasses of gin, won the bet, went and laid down and died.

A GENERAL ELOPEMENT.—A correspondent of the Richmond Dispatch, writing from Marshall county, Miss., says quite an excitement prevailed at Holly Springs, caused by the elopement on the night of the 26th ult. of three young men of that place with as many young ladies, all students of the Female College. The faculty of the college telegraphed in several directions to have the runaways stopped, but they got safe to Somerville, Tenn., where they were all married.

☞ The annual meeting of the New Hampshire Universalist Missionary Society will be holden at Nashua, on Tuesday evening, June 15. The New-Hampshire State Convention of Universalists will hold its next annual session with the Universalist Society in Nashua, on Wednesday and Thursday, the 16th and 17th of June.—The Council will meet in the Church for organization on Wednesday at 9 o'clock.

☞ The man shot from the British vessel is generally supposed to have been a man got up especially for the occasion. The story cannot be traced farther than to the interior of Georgia, where it is supposed to have originated, or rather where it was sent from Washington for return and dissemination.

Joy to the Admirers of

A FINE HEAD OF

RICH GLOSSY HAIR.

Talk of beauty, it cannot exist without a fine head of hair, then read the following, and if you ask more, see circular around each bottle, and no one can doubt.

PROF. WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.—We call the attention of all, old and young, to this wonderful preparation, which turns back to its original color, gray hair—covers the head of the bald with a luxuriant growth—removes the dandruff itching, and all cutaneous eruptions—causes a continual flow of the natural fluids;—and hence, it used as a regular dressing for the hair will preserve its color, and keep it from falling to extreme old age, in all its natural beauty. We call then upon the bald, the gray, or diseased in scalp, to use it; and surely the young will not, as they value the flowing locks, or the witching curl, be long without it. Its praise is upon the tongue of thousands.

The Agent for Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative in New Haven received the following letter in regard to the Restorative, a few weeks since:

DEEP RIVER, CONN., July 23, 1856.

Mr. Leavenworth—Sir: I have been troubled with dandruff or scurf on my head for more than a year, my hair breaking off and coming out by the roots together. I saw in a New Haven paper about "Wood's Hair Restorative" as a cure. I called at your store on the 1st of April, and purchased one bottle to try it, and I found to my satisfaction it was the thing; it removed the scurf and new hair began to grow, it is now two or three inches in length where it was all off. I have great faith in it. I wish you to send me two bottles more by Mr. Post, the bearer of this. I don't know as any of the last one used, will be gone, but you may have a market for many bottles after it is known here. Yours with respect, RUFUS PRATT.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9, 1856.

PROF. WOOD—Dear Sir: Your Hair Restorative is proving itself beneficial to me. The front, and also the back part of my head is now covered, instead of being—in fact BALD. I have used but two half pint bottles of your Restorative, and now the tip of my head is well studded with a promising crop of young hair, and the front is also receiving the benefit. I have tried other preparations without any benefit whatever. I think from my own personal recommendation, I can induce many others to try it. Yours respectfully,

D. R. THOMAS, M. D., No. 464 Vine street.

VINCENNES, IA., June 22, 1853

PROF. O. J. WOOD: As you are about to manufacture and vend your recently discovered Hair Restorative, I will state, for whomsoever it may concern, that I have used it and known others to use it—that, I have, for several years, been in the habit of using other Hair Restoratives, and that I find yours vastly superior to any other I know. It entirely cleanses the head of dandruff, and with one month's proper use will restore any person's hair to the original youthful color and texture; giving it a healthy, soft and glossy appearance; and all this, without discoloring the hands that apply it, or the dress on which it drops. I would, therefore, recommend its use to every one desirous of having a fine color and texture to hair.

Respectfully yours, WILSON KING.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

CONSUMPTION OF THE BLOOD, OR ANÆMIA.

In this common and dangerous disease, the blood loses its vitality, ceases to nourish the system, and to stimulate the organs to healthy activity. The Protoxide of Iron, in the PERUVIAN SYRUP, supplies the deficient element, and the blood receives new life, with a consequent restoration of the bodily vigor, the return of appetite, and the hue of health.

MYERS' ROCK ROSE.

We have but very little faith in patent medicines generally, in consequence of the thousand and one quack nostrums which are retailed through the country, with no earthly use but to swindle the purchaser out of his money. Occasionally, however, a good medicine is advertised and such we believe to be the article which heads this notice. We have had occasion to use several bottles of the "Rock Rose" for dyspepsia and indigestion, and its results have been highly beneficial. We advise others to try the Rock Rose, because we believe they will be benefited by it.—[Plymouth Rock.

The Gerrish House,

KITTERY POINT, ME., NEAR PORTSMOUTH.

HAS been newly furnished, and supplied with all the convenience of a summer resort, and is now open for visitors. The house is pleasantly situated near the mouth of the Piscataqua, in view of the United States Navy Yard, Fort McClary, Fort Constitution, Gerrish's Island, Whale's Back and the Isles of Shoals, and within ten minutes walk of the mansions of Hon. William Pepperell and the Sparhawks. The scenery around here at this season is unsurpassed in beauty, while the heavy fogs which hang around many watering places are seldom known.

This house presents a pleasant and quiet resort for the invalid, for the weary, for the pleasure-seeking—and the proprietor will do all in his power to make his guests comfortable and happy. Horses and carriages always at hand. Good and safe boats for fishing and sailing, and a fine beach for bathing. Coaches leave every day for Portsmouth, connecting with trains to and from Boston and Portland every morning and afternoon.

NEW HAMPSHIRE LEGISLATURE.

We learn from Concord, that the Committee on Election, reported to the House on Friday, that Mr. Rand of Ward 1 in Portsmouth, was not entitled to his seat, which report was accepted.

Messrs. Editors:—Allow me through your columns which are ever open to the contributions of suffering subscribers, to call the attention of the city authorities to the shocking condition of Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H., from one end to the other; it is a perfect manure heap—muddy, dirty, nasty, and most outrageously disagreeable, particularly for the principal business street of a city usually so cleanly kept.;—a street occupied mostly by the dry goods trade, and frequented daily by the ladies more than any other. For some time past it has been impossible for Crinoline to cross at any spot without careful navigation, and then nice gaiter boots and the filth of a barn-yard, struggle for the mastery, and the latter usually comes out best. Do Mr. Mayor, or somebody clean this street. PEDESTRIAN.

☞ An Irish woman, who said she had a child only four weeks old, and who was terribly drunk, was committed to the lock-up on Friday, toward sundown, where she kept up a crazy drunken yell that made the neighborhood for a long time.

☞ On Sunday morning at half past 8, the Union Prayer Meeting will be at the Methodist Church, for one hour. On Monday morning and through the week, at the Vestry in Fleet street, commencing a quarter to 8, and closing a quarter to 9.

☞ There will be a Sabbath School Concert at the Universalist Church, on Sunday evening, June 13th. Addresses may be expected from the Pastor and others. Singing by the Sabbath School.

☞ There will be a Sabbath School Concert in the North Church, on Sunday evening at 7 1-2 o'clock.

☞ The Rockingham Weekly Chronicle, containing a summary of the news of the week, this day published, and for sale at the Chronicle Counting Room; price 3 cts. each, $1 per year, in advance.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Mrs. Abby Patten, widow of the late Joseph Patten, of Portsmouth, N. H., went from Portsmouth on Wednesday, to spend the day with the family of Mr. Thomas Patten in Newburyport, when in good health and spirits, in the afternoon, she started for the Eastern depot with her daughter to return home. On the way she was attacked with heart complaint, and was returned to Mr. Patten's house, where she died, aged 59 years, in less than three-quarters of an hour.—She had her senses as long as she could speak. A native of Portsmouth, highly respected in all the walks of life, she has been suddenly snatched away, leaving a large circle of relatives and friends to mourn her departure.—Herald.

HEALTH AND SOUND SLEEP.—Mr. Tolman, inventor of the Self-Ventilating Spring Bed, will be at Room No. 2, City Hotel, until Monday evening, June 14th, for the purpose of exhibiting this new, curious and desirable Bed to the citizens of Portsmouth. Ladies and gentlemen are invited to call and examine it, any time during the day and evening.

PATENTS.—The following patents have been issued to New Hampshire men from the U. S. Patent office, bearing date from June 1st, 1858:

Marcus L. Hurton, of Claremont, for improvement in Cooking Stoves. John Tyler, of West Lebanon, for improvement in Water Wheels. C. H. Weston of Nashua, for improved Spoke Shave.

☞ The strange case of the man in Norwich who dug up his wife's body and took from the mouth a gold plate and set of false teeth, has resulted in the arrest of the man, Mr. Harlan Hyde, on the charge of violating a grave yard. He has been bound over for trial before the Superior Court—bonds $1000.

If the case is fairly given in the papers, no jury will be likely to agree against him. He is evidently a stupid man.

☞ The vote in Maine on the Liquor Law, on Monday, was some 35,000 for prohibition to 1000 for license, and half the latter were cast in the city of Bangor.

☞ Some of the spunky ladies of Lewiston, Me., offered to convey voters for prohibition to the polls, on Monday last, in wheelbarrows, if they could get there by no other means!

The city of New York alone sells three times as many "pure, imported brandies," and four times as many "pure imported wines," annually, as all the wine and brandy-producing countries export.—Somebody, it is clear, drinks a spurious article.

KENNEBUNK, June 10.—An incendiary fire was discovered in Main street, in this village, at about 2 o'clock this morning, which has entirely consumed seven buildings, stores and shops. The sufferers are S. L. Bragdon, stove and tinware dealer, insured for 1100; building owned by Currier & Sefferds, loss $800, insured for $450 in South Berwick Company; Samuel Clarak, hardware dealer. Geo. & Thomas Littlefield, Joiners. Benaiah Littlefield, joiner, owned buildings, stores, stock, &c., insured for $1000. Charles L. Dresser, variety store, in building last named, had a full stock, and it is said to have no insurance.—Houston, painter. Two of the buildings belonged to Col. Wm. L. Thompson, and three to Capt. Wm. Lord, Jr., no insurance on the latter. Mousam and York Halls were included in the loss. A building owned by Col. Thompson and occupied Edwin C. Frost, was sayed, though the goods of Mr. Frost were badly damaged.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—Official information has been received from Governor Cumming of his arrival at Salt Lake City, and favorable reception there. Brigham Young formally delivered to him all authority, and counselled the people to obedience. There was not the slightest demonstration of hostility. Brigham and the prominent Mormons were to have left Salt Lake on Thursday last.

The various Mormon settlements were broken up, and the inhabitants were moving south, for, or in the direction of Sonora. The scene is represented as being most distressing and mournful, as the men, women and children, poorly clad and illy provided for, uncomplainingly took their departure from the Territory.

EFFECT OF THE MESSAGE IN THE HOUSE.—Washington, June 10.—The President's brief message, announcing the events in Utah, came rather unexpectedly on the House to-day. Its reading was several times interrupted by laughter. When the Clerk concluded, expressions rose from various parts of the hall:

"So the Mormon war is ended;" "Millions are saved to the treasury," "I'm glad of it," &c., &c. The indefatigable Chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means wanted to go into Committee of the Whole, but the House had glory enough for one day, and joyfully adjourned.

ANOTHER BRITISH OUTRAGE.—The brig Crimea, Capt. Hichborn, from Remedios 25th ult., arrived at Boston yesterday afteroon. On the 26th ult., the land still in sight, the British war-steamer Buzzard boro down upon her, and when within hailing distance fired a blank cartridge, where upon the brig hove to and hoisted her colors. A boat from the steamer boarded her, with an officer, who asked where she was from and bound, and also examined her papers. No one on board the brig was frightened, nor was there any sensation.

We are not informed whether the British officer wore dirty or clean clothes; whether his beard was long or short, or even whether he had a beard; or whether he looked fiercely or otherwise. Certain it is, however, that the brig has arrived in safety, and that her captain and crew cannot furnish us with materials for an exciting war article.—Traveller.

ESSEX CO., MASS.—The Newburyport Herald says:

In the case of Pillsbury & Perley, of Newburyport, as common sellers, the jury returned a verdict of guilty. This case goes to the Supreme Court on exceptions.

John Dowdell, of Salem, as a common seller. Verdict guilty. Wm. D. Northend, Esq., for defendant.

Patrick Brickley, of Salem, common seller of lager beer, verdict guilty.

James A. Odell, of Salem, common seller, case not finished.

Mrs. Goldschmidt (Jenny Lind) recently gave birth to twine—one of each sex.—Here we have another edition in two volumes of "Goldsmith's Animated Nature."

A REMEDY THAT CURES.—When suffering from any disease of the throat or lungs, rest assured that speedy relief may be obtained by using Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. Its success in such cases is unparalleled. O.

COMPLIMENTARY.—The Troy Times speaking of Messrs. W. E. Hagan & Co., says "Careful and competent Apothecaries, everything from them may be relied upon, and anything bearing their name may be purchased with confidence and safety." They are the manufacturers of HEIMSTREET'S HAIR COLORING, advertised in another column.

Flour.

CHOICE Brands ST. LOUIS FLOUR, 50 Bbls. Choice St. Louis Flour, extra brands, put up expressly for Family Use, For sale at m31 No. 12 Market street.

STAVERS' Flour and Grocery Store,

The following remedies are offered to the public as the best, most perfect, which medical science can afford. AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS have been prepared with the utmost skill which the profession of this age possesses, and their effects show they have virtues which surpass any combination of medicines hitherto known. Other preparations do more or less good; but this cures such dangerous complaints, so quickly and so surely, as to prove an efficacy and a power to uproot disease beyond any thing which men have known before. By removing the obstructions of the internal organs and stimulating them into healthy action, they renovate the fountains of life and vigor—health courses anew through the body, and the sick man is well again. They are adapted to disease, and disease only, for when taken by one in health they produce but little effect. This is the perfection of medicine. It is antagonistic to disease, and no more. Tender children may take them with impunity. If they are sick they will cure them, if they are well they will do them no harm.

Give them to some patient who has been prostrated with bilious complaint: see his bent-up, tottering form shoot upwards with strength again; see his long-lost appetite return; see his sallow countenance blossom into health. Give them to some sufferer whose foul blood has burst out in scrofula till his skin is covered with sores; who stands, or sits, or lies in anguish. He has been drenched inside and out with every potion which ingenuity could suggest. Give him these PILLS, and mark the effect; see the scabs fall from his body; see the new, fair skin that has grown under them; see the late leper that is clean. Give them to him whose angry humors have planted rheumatism in his joints and bones; move him, and he screeches with pain; he too has been soaked through every muscle of his body with liniments and salves; give him these PILLS to purify his blood; they may not cure him, for, alas! there are cases which no mortal power can reach; but mark, he walks with ease, he lives, and now he walks alone; they have cured him. Give them to the lean, sour, haggard dyspeptic, whose gnawing stomach has long ago eaten every smile from his face and every muscle from his body. See his appetite return, and with it his health; see the new man. See her that was radiant with health and loveliness blasted and too early withering away; want of exercise or mental anguish, or some lurking disease, has deranged the internal organs of digestion, assimilation or secretion, till they do their office ill. Her blood is vitiated, her health is gone. Give her these PILLS to stimulate the vital principle into renewed vigor, to cast out the obstructions, and infuse a new vitality into the blood. Now look again—the rose blossom on her cheek, and where lately sorrow sat joy hearts from every feature. See the sweet infant wasted with worms. Its wan, sickly features tell you without disguise, and painfully distinct, that they are eating its life away. Its pinched-up nose and ears, and restless sleepings, tell the disturbed truth in language which every mother knows. Give it the PILLS in large doses to sweep these vile parasites from the body. Now turn again and see the ruddy bloom of childhood. Is it nothing to do these things? Nay, are they not the marvels of this age? And yet they are done around you every day

Have you the less serious symptoms of these distempers, they are the easier cured. Jaundice, Costiveness, Headache, Sickness, Heartburn, Foul Stomach, Nausea, Pain in the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, King's Evil, Neuralgia, Gout, and kindred complaints all arise from the derangements which these PILLS rapidly cure. Take them perseveringly, and under the counsel of a good Physician if you can; if not, take them judiciously by such advice as we give, and the diseases which are so numerous diseases they cure, which afflict so many millions of the human race, are cast out like the devils of old—they must burrow in the brutes and in the sea. Price 25 cents per box—5 boxes for $1.

Through a period of more than twenty years every nation of civilized men, AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has been found to afford more relief and to cure more cases of pulmonary disease than any other remedy known to mankind. Cases of apparently settled consumption have been cured by it, and thousands of sufferers who were deemed beyond the reach of human aid have been restored to their friends and usefulness, to sound health and the enjoyments of life, by this all-powerful antidote to disease of the lungs and throat. Here a cold had settled on the lungs. The fly, hacking cough, the glassy eye, and the pale, thin features of him who was lately lusty and strong, whisper to all but him CONSUMPTION. He tries every thing; but the disease is gnawing at his vitals, and shows its fatal symptoms more and more over all his frame. He is taking the CHERRY PECTORAL now; it has stopped his cough and made his breathing easy; his sleep is sound at night; his appetite returns, and with it his strength. The dart which pierced his side is broken, the scarlet spots upon his blood can be found which has not some living trophy to cast its shadow forth the virtues which have won for the CHERRY PECTORAL an imperishable renown. But its usefulness does not end here. Nay, it accomplishes more by prevention than cure. The countless colds and coughs which it cures are the seed which would have ripened into a dreadful harvest of incurable diseases. Influenza, Croup, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Pleurisy, Whooping Cough, and all irritations of the throat and lungs are easily cured by the CHERRY PECTORAL if taken in time. Every family should have it by them, and they will find it an invaluable protection from the insidious prowler which carries off one of the purest sheep from many a flock, the darling lamb from many a home.

Authenticated evidence of these facts, with directions for the treatment of each complaint, may be found in Ayer's American Almanac, of which we publish three millions, and scatter them broadcast over the earth, in order that the sick every where may have before them the means of cure. Druggists and dealers in medicine generally have them for distribution gratis, and also for sale these remedies, prepared by DR. J. C. AYER, Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass.

Valuable Real Estate FOR SALE.

THE following Real Estate will be sold, and a good and clear title guaranteed by warrantees from heirs, and quitclaims from mortgagees and all others having any legal interest in the same:—

The large and commodious mansion, known as THE HILL HOUSE, No. 18 Vaughan st., Portsmouth. Said house, within a few years, has been put in thorough repair, had new chimneys, been raised and underpinned (partially with granite), with granite steps in front. It contains a good cellar, basement kitchen, and, on the first floor, a large hall, two handsome parlors, a large dining room, two kitchens and a scullery. The second floor comprises the upper hall and seven chambers. There also four attic chambers. The house is well supplied with water by aqueduct running to the kitchen and thence to dining-room and hall. Connected with said mansion are a STABLE and Wood house, nearly new; a commodious front yard, and a large garden containing a variety of choice fruit trees. In addition to the above, the favorableness of the location, being central, in the business portion of the city, and on the main street leading to the depots, renders it a desirable purchase for a gentleman's family, or to be kept as a first class boarding house. The house is also well arranged for two families;

Also, for sale, the COTTAGE HOUSE (so called) near by, on Hill street; said house being nearly new and suitable for one or two families;

Also, will be sold, a portion of the Hill FARM, in New Castle, a tract well known as the "Downing field" containing about 35 acres. Said field is from the best of the farm being excellent meadow and tillage land, and the situation most desirable. It extends from the main road to the Piscataqua river.

THE CUBAN SLAVE TRADE.

Well and truly does the Philadephia North American say:—

It seems to be true, that, in connivance of the Cuban authorities this trade was in great vigor in 1857, and enjoyed a degree of activity scarcely less than it had in its palmiest days; that the coast of Cuba swarms with slavers, mainly American built vessels, and fraudulently using the American flag; and that many of the extremists in the Southern States are earnestly advocating the revival of the traffic in our Southern ports.

The slave trade is a hideous form of piracy, and its prosecutors would capture a rich merchant ship as quickly, if they dared, as they would ship a barracoon of negroes in Guinea. The declaration of this government, half a century ago, was not a mawkish sentimentality, and not a thing from which we may return to the piratical times of half a century earlier. We have a duty to discharge wholly independent of England, and one from which no real or asserted insolence by British officers can excuse us. What has our squadron of eighty guns done for twenty years past in this suppression? How many of the hundreds of cargoes landed in the West Indies has it captured, or even seen? What force do we employ to-day, in detecting the innumerable transformations of American vessels, built for regular commerce, and for a time engaged in legitimate West India trade, into slavers—one half of which the British capture and condemn, but the other half arrive safely with the negroes, making profits amply sufficient to repay every loss?

The country has an ample measure of spirit to resist British aggressions, but it has a conscience and a dignity in regard to this trade wholly independent of the British. This gigantic piracy is not a thing of which our hands are quite washed as yet. When the part of New York ceases to fit out slave ships, and when our African squadron has a capture or two to report, we may make a beginning in the case. But now the Senate may better look well to the assumed facts reported by outraged Spanish officials, who fear a cessation of rich subsidies, and by outraged New Yorkers, who have seen their ships likely to be questioned in the very ports of Cuba, where, heretofore, the business has had a latitude and indulgence which even the New Orleans Delta might envy. The slave trade is in the full tide of successful operation, and powerful interests are pushing for its practical increase, until it shall have entire immunity in the mare clausum which they might hope to make of the West Indian seas.

Two literary ladies were lately witnesses in a trial. One of them upon hearing the usual questions asked, "What is your name? how old are you?" turned to her companion, and said, "I do not like to tell my age; not that I have any objection to its being known, but I don't want it published in all the newspapers."—"Well," said the witty Mrs. S., "I will tell you how you can avoid it. You have heard the objections to all hearsay evidence; tell them you don't remember when you were born, and all you know is by hearsay." The ruse took, and the question was not pressed.

☞ Carl Formes has signed an agreement with Strakosch to sing forty concerts in the principal cities of the West during the next six weeks, receiving therefor $10,000. He is engaged in Boston for the fall and winter opera season.

There are at present stirring times in Minnesota, between the Sioux and Chippewas. A fierce war of extermination is going on between them.

FUGITIVE SLAVES.—During the last three weeks more than twenty runaways have passed through this city on the way to Canada. One of the latest passengers was a Kentuckian, who was so white in feature as well as color that he travelled thro' Kentucky and crossed the river unsuspected. When he presented himself to the Underground agents of this city, they thought him a runaway, but a white man; and would have continued to regard him as an impostor, had not one of his former fellow bondsmen recognized him.

Another of the late fugitives came from Memphis. He secreted himself upon a steamer, and arrived in this city in five days afterwards, without seeing any one. His only sustenance was one biscuit, and such drops of water as the paddles, in their revolution, threw to his hiding place.—Cincinnati Gazette.

☞ The reader may remember that the House of Representatives at Washington removed their doorkeeper a few weeks ago, for dishonest practices. A day or two ago, fishing in our copy drawer, we fished up the following scrap, which was cut from some paper six months ago. No man will wonder, we think, that such a man proved dishonest:

The Doorkeeper of the House is a Virginian, and all his appointments are understood to have been dictated by his special patron, Hon. C. J. Faulkner.

The subordinate offices in the gift of the Doorkeeper, exclusive of pages, numbered thirteen in the last Congress. Mr. Faulkner has managed to raise the number to fifteen, of which he has assigned eleven to Virginia, eight of them to his own district.

One of the men removed was a soldier in Kay's regiment at Buena Vista, where he lost one hand, and all of the other but two stumps of fingers. Mr. Faulkner gave his place to an Irishman, who, however, refused to take it, upon seeing the mutilated hero. Mr. Faulkner then gave his place to a Virginian. No qualm of conscience stood between the Virginian and a salary.

ELOPEMENT LAST WEEK.—Oren L. Bassett, who has resided in Bristol several years, and was employed in the manufactory of the Bristol Fire Arm Company, eloped with the wife of a very respectable citizen of the town. Bassett deserted an affectionate and amiable wife and four children, who are in Taunton, Mass., boarding with his brother, and the woman deserted an indulgent and devoted husband and two young and interesting children. She is very respectably connected in Bristol, and both of them were members of good standing of the Baptist church, he particularly being a very active and useful member.

DISTRESS AMONG THE CLERGY IN ENGLAND. Rev. W. G. Jervis, secretary to the clerical fund, tells an awful story about the distress of the working clergy of England. Our hundred of these poor fellows, known to Mr. Jervis, in one year applied for any sort of relief—money, clothes, or food.—The Bishop of Sodor and Man states that the poverty of his clergy is so great that fresh meat is a luxury to them; and another bishop lately stated that he knew many clergymen in his diocese who, together with their wives and families, seldom tasted meat. The Rev. G. Radcliffe, recently sentenced to ten years' penal servitude for forgery, had a wretched 'living.'

INTERESTING FACTS.—In 1832 when the population of the United States was 13,766,332 there were 9,537 ministers, or one to every 1,437 inhabitants, and 1,342,361 communicants, or leaving out those under 16 years of age, one in every seven and a half. In 1843 with a population of 18,860,822, there were 17,073 ministers, or one in every 1,098, and 2,544,764 communicants, or one in every five. In 1854 with a population of 25,953,000 there were 23,427 ministers, or one to every 1,020, and 3,337,322 communicants, or one to every five and a half.

BUTTER.—Great amounts of butter are still being shipped to San Francisco.—Most of the cargoes are sent from New York. The price of good butter, which was 50 cents a pound in San Francisco last, has become by this time greatly reduced, and shippers will hardly make it pay, if the business is to continue to be carried on so extensively. The production of butter suitable for shipping, is nearly over weeks in advance of last season.

RETURNED CALIFORNIANS.—Mr. Noah Merrill, of this village, and Mr. Charles H. Baker of Norridgewock, who have been absent in California during the past three years, returned home in the last steamer. We have conversed with both these gentlemen, and their advice to all is to stay at home in preference to seeking a fortune in California. They represent the times as being exceeding hard, and mining a very doubtful and uncertain business.—Stowhegan Clarion.

☞ The Watertown (Wisconsin) Democrat says that nice potatoes are selling in that city by the farmers at eight cents a bushel, and the sweetest butter at ten cents a pound.

Morning Chronicle.

MONDAY, JUNE 14, 1858.

THE MORMON WAR.—Our anticipations, says the Traveller, in regard to this war, from the very outset, have been fully realized. The Mormons are a very poor people, and incapable of carrying on a war.—Five hundred troops would have sufficed to bring them to terms as well as five thousand. The supply train was cut off only because there were only seven men with it, and they were unarmed. Had there been twenty armed men on guard it would never have been molested.

The Mormons are and always have been, great at bragging when danger is at a distance; but they are a poor, miserable, deluded and ignorant people, under the control of a few licentious scoundrels, whose next move will be to petition for money from the U. S. Treasury, to pay them for abandoning the property of their wretched followers.

INFLUENCE OF THE IMAGINATION.—Mr. Paget, late Professor of Anatomy and Surgery in the Royal College of Surgeons of England, relates the following example of of the influence of the mind: "Mr. Lawrence removed, several years ago, a fatty tumor from a woman's shoulder, and, when all was healed, she took it into her head that it was a cancer and would return accordingly. When by accident I saw her some months afterwards, in the workhouse she had a large and painful tumor in her breast, which, I believe, could have been removed, but its nature was obscure, and her general health not good. Again, some months afterwards, she became my patient at the Finsbury Dispensary. Her health was much improved, but the hard lump in her breast still existed, as large as an egg, and just like a portion of indurated mammary gland. Having heard all the account of it, and how her mind constantly dwelt in fear of cancer, I made bold to assure her by all that was certain, that the cancer, as she supposed it, would go away, and it did become very much smaller without any help from medicine. As it came under the influence of fear, so it very nearly disappeared under that of confidence. But I lost sight of her before the removal of the tumor was complete."

☞ Mr. Layard, the well known traveller, scholar, and statesman, has lately returned from a visit to India. In public addresses, he has been accusing the English government of cruelty and injustice to the natives, and has vindicated the Sepoys from the charges of savage violence which have been preferred against them. In his journey, he went to Lucknow, Cawnpore, and Delhi, and received assurances, on the best authority, that the terrible reports of the mutilations were unfounded. He condemns, in the most unqualified terms, the proclamation of Canning, by which the estates of Oude are confiscated, and beseeches the English to remember that "the possession of India by injustice and oppression would be more disgraceful to them as a nation, than the losing of India by making its people enlightened, free, civilized, and happy."

☞ Concord, N. H., has the largest coach factory in the United States. It is that of J. S. & E. A. Abbott. The entire premises cover about four acres of ground. The number of men employed is about two hundred. Every description of carriages is made, the annual value of which is $300,000. Mexico, South America, California and Australia are large purchasers. One hundred mail wagons are now being built for the Pacific Mail Company, to be placed on the route between Memphis and San Francisco.

Gerard Stith, the new Mayor of New Orleans, went to that city from Washington a journeyman printer, and was for a number of years employed upon the Picayune. He is a native of Virginia, and claims kindred with some of the first families of the Old Dominion. In Washington, among his friends and acquaintance, he was much more distinguished for his fine figure, commanding presence, exuberant spirits and good fellowship, than for those moral and intellectual qualities ever deemed indispensable for success in the leader of an excited and tumultuous populace.—Providence Jour.

☞ Mr. Pike, M. C. from this district, will accept our thanks for a copy of the "Southern Platform, or Manual of Southern Sentiment on the Subject of Slavery, by Daniel R. Goodloe." This book consists of authentic extracts from Washington, Jefferson, Madison, and other revolutionary characters,—and from legislative and other public proceedings of an early date.

☞ A son of Elisha Wheeler of Southbury, N. H., about 15 years of age, was kicked by a horse on Sunday, and so severely injured that he died on Tuesday.

OHIO.—The German journeyman tailors of Cincinnati, held a meeting a few evenings ago, and resolved to demand an increase of wages of from 25 to 50 per cent. The Cincinnati Commercial says:

"About thirty-five hundred journeymen tailors are employed by wholesale manufacturers in the city, and their average wages are about fifty cents per diem. Some do not receive over thirty-five cents per diem, while few if any receive above sixty cents. They are required to work ten hours a day. Those who are able to own sewing machines and who employ from three to half a dozen girls to assist them, make fair per diem by working from sixteen to twenty hours out of the twenty-four.—The prices paid are about as follows:

For common cassimere and doeskin pants, which are sold at from $2 to $5 per pair, the manufacturer pays the journeyman 15 to 25 cents per pair for making. It requires a full day to make a pair.

For an ordinary cloth coat, usually sold by the manufacturer at from $10 to $15, the journeyman is paid 35 a 62 1-2 cts. for making. It requires a full day to make it.

For a good quilted coat $1.25 is paid for making. A year ago the price was double the present amount. It requires fully three day's fast stitching to make such.

For making an ordinary cloth, silk, satin, velvet, or other vest, the tailor is paid from 15 to 50 cents, and it is a day's work.

Tailors say they know that pants have been made, within a week, for 15 cents per pair.

THE SUSPECTED SLAVER.—The telegraph reports the seizure of the yacht Wanderer and the schooner Charter Oak, in Long Island Sound: the former on suspicion of being a slaver, and the latter as being an accomplice. The Wanderer is of two hundred and forty tons burden. She had been for several days cruising about the Sound, and, together with the Charter Oak, had excited the suspicions of the Surveyor of Port Jefferson. The New York Evening Post has the following in relation to the two vessels:

The Wanderer is a handsome, new vessel, built for Colonel Johnston but now owned by Captain Currie, of South Carolina, who acted as the second of Mr. Rhind in his recent difficulty with Commander Boutwell. She has a crew of eighteen men—rather a large number for her size—among whom are several Portugese sailors, and her owners complain of the molestation to which he and his friends, who were simply embarked on a pleasure trip, have been subjected. The vessel does not seem to have been altered from her ordinary appearance as a yacht.

The Charter Oak has been used as a lighter, or for the transportation of heavy freight. She was loaded heavily with provisions, said to be intended for the Wanderer. She had no manifest, clearance, list of cargo, or papers of any kind. She is commanded by Capt. Brown, who declares his ignorance of the object of the Wanderer's voyage, and says she was under orders to sail for New York and load the Wanderer there.

NEW YORK, June 12.—The yacht Wanderer shows a clean record, and will be released to-day.

Chauncey Shaffer, the prominent lawyer and politician, attempted yesterday to shoot Justice Steers, while the latter was attending to his duties in the Supreme Court. Mr. Shaffer is one of the recent revival converts, and is supposed to be insane.

REMORSE RESUSCITATION OF A DEAD BODY. A number of the superstitious and credulous citizens of Charlestown were thrown into a violent state of excitement, yesterday, by the report that the body of the late Eben B. Jones (whose untimely fate by taking chloroform while on a fishing excursion has been reported by us) had shown unmistakable signs of returning life by rising up in his coffin. Crowds of foolish men and women visited the burying ground, where they were informed that there was not the slightest foundation for the many absurd rumors afloat. The truth of the matter is, that on the Monday following the funeral of Mr. Jones, the tomb where the body lay was visited by some of the relatives of the deceased who thought that they discovered symptoms of life in it. The corpse was therefore taken from the tomb to the hearse-house, where it was carefully examined by several physicians who unanimously pronounced the body dead beyond the possibility of a hope.—The body was interred yesterday, the relatives being fully satisfied that life was extinct.—Boston Herald.

MAN STOPPED BY A HIGHWAYMAN.—Concord, June 11.—A man named John Nealy, of Meredith, was to-day stopped on the highway, about 4 miles above Laconia village, by an Irishman named John Hudson, who demanded his money. Upon Nealy's refusal, he dealt him a blow with a club between his eyes. Nealy, however, made his escape, and the Irishman was arrested.

Oh! if men would only quit their jargon about the undefinable abstractions of theological speculation; and their contentions about the impositions of sectarian authorities; and their jostlings in pursuit of personal and partizan interests; and could be persuaded to attend only to the supreme and indisputable facts of nature and revelation—seeking the enjoyment and promotion of a free, full, present, and everlasting salvation, the attainment for the proper character and destiny of every man, and of all men—what a glorious change would be witnessed in every department of society! Every man a Christian, and all Christians one! Surely, that would be a happy world on earth. Surely, the earth itself, surprised into instant renovation, would rival the beauty, as well as the bliss, of heaven.—Stockton.

CONGRESS.

FRIDAY, June 11.

SENATE.—Committess of Conference were appointed on the four Appropriation Bills, to amendments of which the House had disagreed.

The Indiana election cases were considered.

HOUSE.—Mr. Harris of Illinois moved to take up the Maryland contested election of White against Harris. Negatived—87 against 97.

The House took a recess till 6 o'clock.

Messrs. Quitman, Keitt, and Davis of Ind., opposed present action, owing to the pressure of the public business, and there being only two days remaining of the session. The last named gentleman mentioned that not five men had read the testimony.

Mr. Burnett (of Ky.) remarked that as members were now salaried they might remain and dispose of the business.

There is a probability of there being a late session to-night.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—Senator Wilson Challenged.—Senator Gwin has challenged Senator Wilson, growing out of their colloquy last night, in debate. On a former occasion, (in the Brooks affair) it will be recollected that Mr. Wilson said he would not fight a duel, but would protect himself, if attacked. This is his position now. Senators Seward and Wade are endeavoring to effect an adjustment.

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT.—Washington, June 12.—(Special dispatch to the Traveller.)—The President will send a message to-day, demanding three days to consider the Appropriation Bills, speaking of the necessity to revise them, and prolonging the session. He declares if Congress adjourns Monday, he will call an extra session.

FROM CALIFORNIA.

TWO WEEKS LATER.

NEW YORK, June 12.—Steamship Star of the West has arrived, bringing California dates to the 20th ult., the mails, and $1,440,000 in gold, and brings 400 passengers.

The markets are quiet and generally unchanged, except for American liquors, spirits of turpentine and hard coal, which articles had materially declined.

The mining and agricultural reports were very satisfactory.

Advices from San Bemardina state that the Mormons had evacuated Salt Lake City, and proceeded to Southern Utah.

The San Francisco Fire Department is in a state of disorganization.

The colored population were taking active measure to remove to Vancouver's Island, pioneers having returned with highly favorable accounts.

4 DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., June 11.—The Canadian Screw steamship Nova Scotian, from Liverpool, June 5, for Quebec, arrived at the Straits of Belle Isle, at 5, A. M., yesterday, 10th, and finding the passage blocked with ice, after endeavoring for ten hours to effect a passage through, was obliged to take the Southern route.

The Nova Scotian has 294 passengers.

In the House of Lords on the 31st, the order of the day was the consideration of the Commons' reason for disagreeing to the House of Lords' amendment to the Oaths bill. The question to insist on the Lords' amendment, after a discussion, was put, and carried without a division.

LIVERPOOL COTTON MARKET.—June 1.—The Cotton Market continues quiet, and prices nominally unchanged. Sales 3600 bales, including 1000 bales for export.

LIVERPOOL BREADSTUFFS MARKET, June 2.—The Corn trade is generally dull.—Wheat—The last quotations are hardly maintained. Flour—The rates of last Tuesday are maintained. The weather has been favorable for agriculture.

For the Chronicle.

SONG OF THE WANDERERS.

BY ANNIE.

We're going home, and soon shall be 'Neath the sheltering boughs of the old elm tree,
That dear old tree, whose ample shade
Made cool the spot where in youth we played,
And whose towering branches, to our eye,
In childhood's fancy, swept the sky.
We're going home!

We're going home! 'tis many a day
Since our manhood's footsteps passed that way,
Since we gazed with love on the quiet town,
With its quaint old houses, dark and brown;
And the ancient church, beneath whose dome
We were wont to worship, when at home.
We're going home!

We're going home! and, as of yore,
Our feet will seek the pebbly shore;
Once more we shall speed our light canoe
O'er the rippling waters, darkly blue!
We shall plunge once more beneath the wave,
Where in boyhood's hour, we loved to lave.
We're going home!

We're going home! ah! shall we meet
With those who made our boyhood sweet;
The kind old sire, with gentle eye—
The mother who smiled when we were nigh—
The gentle sister, so pure and fair;
How sad to know, we shall not meet there—
They have all gone HOME!

We're going too, and soon shall roam
With those friends beloved, in that fairer home,
In that brighter world of peace above,
Where the golden hours are winged with love;
And the heart's pure ties that here were riven,
Shall be joined anew in the HOME OF HEAVEN.
We're going home!

Somebody says there are two kinds of family jars—in one you put your sweetmeats, and in the other you put—your foot.

Joy to the Admirers of
A FINE HEAD OF
RICH GLOSSY HAIR.

Talk of beauty, it cannot exist without a fine head of hair, then read the following, and if you ask more, see circular around each bottle, and no one can doubt.

PROF. WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.—We call the attention of all, old and young, to this wonderful preparation, which turns back to its original color, gray hair—covers the head of the bald with a luxuriant growth—removes the dandruff itching, and all cutaneous eruptions—causes a continual flow of the natural fluids—and hence, it used as a regular dressing for the hair will preserve its color, and keep it from falling to extreme old age, in all its natural beauty. We can then upon this hair, be it gray, or diseased in scalp, to use it; and surely the young will not, as they value the flowing locks, or the witching curl, ever be without it. Its praise is upon the tongue of thousands.

The Agent for Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative in New Haven received the following letter in regard to the Restorative, a few weeks since:

DEEP RIVER, CONN., July 28, 1856.

Mr. Lounsworth—Sir: I have been troubled with dandruff or scurf on my head for more than a year, my hair began to come out quite fast and hair together. I saw in a New Haven paper about "Wood's Hair Restorative" as a cure. I called at your store on the 1st of April last, and purchased one bottle to try it, and before I got to my satisfaction it was the thing; it removed the scurf and new hair began to grow. It is now two or three inches in length where it was off. I have great faith in it. I wish you to send me two bottles more by Mr. Post, the bearer of this. I don't know as any of the kind is used in this place, you may have a market for them. Bottles after it is known here. Yours truly, RUFUS PRATT

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9, 18 6.

PROF. WOOD—DEAR SIR: Your Hair Restorative is proving itself beyond doubt to me. The front and along the back part of my head almost lost the curling—in fact none, I had used but two half pint bottles of your Restorative, and now the tip of my head is well studded with a promising crop of young hair, and the front is also receiving its original color and texture, giving it a healthy, soft and glossy appearance; and all this without discoloring the hands that apply it, or the dress on which it drops. I would, therefore, recommend its use to every one desirous of having a fine color and texture to hair.

Respectfully yours, WILSON KING.

N. H. LEGISLATURE.

FRIDAY, June 11.

HOUSE.—The Portsmouth Contested Elections.—Mr. Elu, from the Committee on Elections, reported on the remonstrance of Horton D. Walker and others, a resolution unseating William Rand, (democrat,) member from Ward One, Portsmouth.—

The report says:— "That at the annual election held in Ward One, in Portsmouth, on the 9th day of March, 1858, the evidence shows six hundred and forty-seven persons to have voted, while but 629 ballots are recorded as cast for Representatives. The committee are unanimously of the opinion that a proper and reasonable time was not allowed by the selectmen for the correction of the check-list, and it is in evidence that persons who went to have their right to vote considered, had no opportunity to do so; and others who had evidence to present against the right of persons to have their names remain upon the check-list, were unable to obtain a hearing.

The evidence shows that two men at least were wrongfully excluded from the check-list by the select men, who would have voted against the sitting member, and one man voted for him without a legal right. Two ballots found by the selectmen in sorting votes, under such circumstances as to render it probable they were given by one person, were cast out by the moderator and not counted, both of which were against the sitting member; and William Rand having but a bare majority of the ballots recorded and declared as given in on the day of the annual election for Representative, the committee report the following resolution:

Resolved, That William Rand, Representative from Ward 1 in the city of Portsmouth, is not entitled to a seat in this House.

The yeas and nays were taken on the resolution and it was adopted, 165 to 94.

From the above taken from the Patriot and a sketch of the report in the Democrat it appears:

1. That 18 more persons voted than there were votes declared.

2. That proper and reasonable time was not allowed by the Selectmen for the correction of the check list.

3. That the names of legal voters were kept off the check list by the Selectmen.

4. That there were names of persons on the check list whose right to vote was disputed, and the persons who disputed their rights had no opportunity to be heard.

5. That the Moderator threw away two votes which he found in the ballot box.

It is to be hoped that this unanimous condemnation of the conduct of Selectmen in Ward 1, by the Committee on Elections, composed of four gentlemen of their own party, will render their successors more careful than their predecessors, to give all parties their rights.

Though the throwing out of two votes by the Moderator, after he had once placed them in the ballot-box and suffered them to remain with others, was illegal, yet we never heard it intimated that it was an intentional wrong. A little reflection will satisfy any one that it would be a dangerous precedent to establish.

The distribution of the votes, a few minutes after the declaration, and the using the same mark to check the names on both days of election, seemed to embarrass the investigation. But we believe that few persons doubt that there were about twenty votes cast which were not declared.

Wolfe's Celebrated Scheidam Aromatic
SCHNAPPS.
This medicinal beverage is manufactured by the proprietor, at Scheidam, Holland, expressly for medicinal use, by a process peculiar to his own Factory. It is the pure Tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, whose more vinous extract is distilled and rectified with its spirituous solvent, which thus becomes a concentrated tincture of exquisite flavor and aroma, altogether, transcendant in its cordial and medicinal properties to any alcoholic stimulant now made in the world. It is now prescribed by more than 5,000 physicians in the United States, in cases of Gravel, Gout, Dropsy, and Bladder and Kidney Complaints.
Put up in Quart and Pint Bottles, in cases of one dozen qts., and cases of two dozen pts., and for sale by all Druggists and Country Merchants.

YES, YOU MAY
USE or recommend HEIMSTREET'S INIMITABLE HAIR COLORING, and find it to be all its proprietors claim for it. Do you doubt it?
READ! READ!! READ!!!
SCHOOCK LAKE, Essex Co., N.Y., February 6, 1858.
W. E. HAGAN, Troy, N. Y.—Dear Sir: Having used your Hair Coloring and Restorative, and having been much pleased with it, I take pleasure in making the following statement: From the effects of a very severe fit of sickness when about eighteen years of age my hair commenced turning grey, and so continued to grow until it became perfectly white, being very harsh and coarse. Last Summer I had reached my forty-third year, when I was induced by a friend to purchase two bottles of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, prepared by you. I commenced using it according to directions, and in a few days was surprised to find that my hair from the roots outward was turning back to its original color. It so continued to grow until it was as truly brown and glossy as it was in my youthful days, and is now fully restored to its original color. MYLA SEAMAN.
Essex Co. ss: Myla Seaman came before me and was duly sworn, and says that the above statement is true, this 6th day of Feb., 1858.
JOH. F. PAYTEN, Justice of the Peace.
PITTSFORD, Vt., Aug. 1, 1857.
I hereby certify that my hair has become quite grey, I used Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, (prepared by W. E. Hagan, of Troy, N. Y.,) for four weeks, and my hair was in that time restored to its original color. I can fully recommend the article to be all it claims. WM. KIRKBRIDE,
Pastor of the Baptist Church, Pittsford, Vt.
The above are but two of the many letters of recommendation which have been tendered to the proprietor of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring and Restorative. It has been used by hundreds of people, and it never fails to restore the color and growth of hair. This singular effect is produced as when dyes are used; for it acts upon the natural secretions of coloring matter at the roots, and thus effects the change. Beside, the color produced is not a counterfeit, but the natural shade of youth. It does not color the skin. Prepared and sold by W. E. HAGAN & Co., Troy, N.Y.

STAVERS' Flour and Grocery Store,

The following remedies are offered to the public as the best, most perfect, which medical science can afford. AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS have been prepared with the utmost skill which the medical profession of this age possesses, and their effects show they have virtues which surpass any combination of medicines hitherto known. Other preparations do more or less good; but this cures such dangerous complaints, so quick and so surely, as to prove an efficacy and a power in disease beyond any thing which men have known before. By removing the obstructions of the internal organs and stimulating them into healthy action, they renovate the fountains of life and vigor,—health courses anew through the body, and the sick man is well again. They are adapted to disease, and disease only, for when taken by one in health they produce but little effect. This is the perfection of medicine. It is antagonistic to disease, and no more. Tender children may take them with impunity. If they are sick they will cure them, if they are well they will do them no harm.

Give them to some patient who has been prostrated with bilious complaint: see his bent-up, tottering form straighten with strength again; see his long-lost appetite return, the sallow complexion and features blossom into health. Give them to some sufferer whose foul blood has burst out in scrofula till his skin is covered with sores; who stands, or sits, or lies in anguish. He has been drenched inside and out with every potion which human ingenuity could suggest. Give him these PILLS, and mark the effect; see the scabs fall from his body; see the new, fair skin that has grown under them; see the late leper that is clean. Give them to him whose angry humors have planted rheumatism in his joints and bones; mark him, and he screams with pain; he too has been soaked through every muscle of his body with liniments and salves; give him these PILLS to purify his blood; they may not cure him, for, alas! there are cases which no mortal power can reach; he is marked with crutches now, and now he walks alone; they have cured him. Give them to the lean, sour, haggard dyspeptic, whose gnawing stomach has long ago eaten every smile from his face and every muscle from his body. See his appetite return, and with it his health; see the new man. See her that was radiant with health and loveliness blasted and too early withering away; want of exercise or mental anguish, or some lurking disease, has deranged the internal organs of digestion, assimilation or secretion, till they do their office ill. Her blood is vitiated, her health is gone. Give her these PILLS to stimulate the vital principle into renewed vigor, to cast out the obstructions, and infuse a new vitality into the blood. Now look again—the roses blossom on her cheek, and where lately sorrow sat joy bursts from every feature. See the sweet infant wasted with worms. Its wan, sickly features tell you without disguise, and painfully distinct, that they are eating its life away. Its pinched-up nose and ears, and restless sleepings, tell the dreadful truth in language which every mother knows. Give it the PILLS in large doses to sweep these vile parasites from the body. Now turn again and see the ruddy bloom of childhood. Is it nothing to do these things? Nay, are they not the marvel of this age? And yet they are done around you every day.

Have you the less serious symptoms of these distempers, they are the easier cured. Jaundice, Costiveness, Headache, Sideache, Heartburn, Foul Stomach, Nausea, Pain in the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, King's Evil, Neuralgia, Gout, and kindred complaints all arise from the derangements which these PILLS rapidly cure. Take them perseveringly, and under the counsel of a good Physician if you can; if not, take them judiciously by such advice as we give you, and the diseases of dangerous diseases they cure, which afflict so many millions of the human race, are cast out like the devils of old—they must burrow in the brutes and in the sea. Price 25 cents per box—5 boxes for $1.

Through trial of many years and through every nation of civilized man, AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has been found to afford more relief and to cure more cases of pulmonary disease than any other remedy known to mankind. Cases of apparently settled consumption have been cured by it, and thousands of sufferers who were deemed beyond the reach of human aid have been restored to their friends and usefulness, to sound health and the enjoyments of life, by this all-powerful antidote to diseases of the lungs and throat. Here a cold had settled on the lungs. Soon the dry hacking cough, glassy eye, and the pale, thin features of him who was lately lusty and strong, whisper to all but him CONSUMPTION. He tries every thing; but the disease is gnawing at his vitals, and shows its fatal symptoms more and more over all his frame. He is taking the CHERRY PECTORAL now; it has stopped his cough and made his breathing easy; his sleep is sound at night; his appetite returns, and with it his strength. The dart which pierced his side is broken. Scarcely a neighborhood can be found which has not some living trophy like this to shadow forth the virtues which have won for the CHERRY PECTORAL an imperishable renown. But its usefulness does not end here. Nay, it accomplishes more by prevention than cure. The countless colds and coughs which it cures are the seed which would have ripened into a dreadful harvest of incurable diseases. Influenza, Croup, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Pleurisy, Whooping Cough, and all irritations of the throat and lungs are easily cured by the CHERRY PECTORAL, if taken in season. Every family should have it by them, and they will find it an invaluable protection from the insidious prowler which carries off the parent sheep from many a flock, the darling lamb from many a house.

A authenticated evidence of these facts, with directions for the treatment of each complaint, may be found in Ayer's American Almanac, of which we publish three millions, and scatter them broadcast over the earth, in order that the sick every where may have before them the information to combine. Druggists and dealers in medicine generally have them for distribution gratis, and also for sale these remedies, prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER, Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public their opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by a vote of the Legislature of that State. Lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the receipt of orders. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no complicating system to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $70,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

FOR Preserving Meats, Fish, Fruits, Vegetables, etc., which received the highest Premium, the Silver Medal, at the New York State Fair, and the highest Premium s, Medals, and Diplomas, at the numerous Fairs where presented.

Advantages of the Winship Refrigerator.

1. A perfectly uniform temperature, so that every part of the refrigator can be used at once.

2. A constant change of air is secured in the provision chamber without any unnecessary waste of ice, or loss of air already cooled.

3. A downward current of cold air prevents the provisions in the chamber from being filled with warm air on opening the door, as is the case with refrigerators of other patterns.

4. The cold air performs the double office of cooling the chamber and purifying it from offensive odors, and also of protecting it from the warm external air.

5. The great convenience of the ice chamber, access being to it without disturbing the provision chamber.

6. The form of the provision chamber, every portion of it being used with equal convenience.

7. Articles of a strong and unpleasant odor can be placed in the provision chamber, together with the most delicate substances, without any possibility of communicating their flavors one with another. For sale by

LIFE A BLESSING.

Part of a Poem Read at the Swedenborgian Anniversary

All things are glad that they were born,
And happy that they live;
Sweet praises each awakening morn
To God on high they seem to give.
Throughout the happy day,
They strive to wake, in every way,
The echoes of the joyful lay,
Life is a blessing.

May not we the task perform,
Spite of darkness, spite of storm,
Which the Lord of Life has given
That our path may lead to heaven?
Thus it is, and thus alone,
That the joyful truth is shown,
Life is a blessing:

Join we the chorus then,
Life is a blessing,
Life in forest, field and fen—
On the deep, and in the glen—
In the happy homes of men,
Life is a blessing.

Young and old, and weak and strong,
Into life are closely pressing,
Singing as they pass along,
Life is a blessing.
Birds that throng upon the lea,
Full of love and sweet caressing,
Catch the glorious symphony—
Life is a blessing.
Trees that rise above the lawn,
Nature tastefully is dressing,
Softly sing from dawn to dawn—
Life is a blessing.
Creatures of the watery main
Joy and gladness are confessing,
Adding to the sweet refrain—
Life is a blessing.
Playing sweetly in the bushes,
Speechless melody expressing,
Sighs the breeze and never hushes—
Life is a blessing.
Catch the strain and pass the song,
On the hearts of men impressing,
Be it short, or be it long—
Life is a blessing.
Life is a blessing, then,
Life is a blessing;
Life in forest, field and fen,
On the deep and in the glen,
In the happy homes of men—
Life is a blessing.

More than this; in heaven above,
Where the rule of life is love,
Where the angels have their home,
Whither death can never come,
Life is a blessing.
Ere the darksome curtain fall,
Which is trembling over all,
Shutting from our mortal sight
All that shines in earthly light,
May we prove the saying right—
Life is a blessing.

How to Form-Know the Weather.—One of the weather prophets, who has been a long and seemingly scientific observer of the weather, and who does not hold to the old adage, that "all signs fail in a dry time," has lately communicated the following to an agricultural paper:

When you wish to know what the weather is to be, go out and select the smallest cloud you see; keep your eye upon it, and if it decreases and disappears, it shows a state of the air which will be sure to be followed by fine weather; but if it increases in size, take your great coat with you, if you are going from home, for foul weather will not be far off. The reason is this: when the air is becoming charged with electricity, you will see every cloud attracting all lesser ones toward it, until it gathers into a shower; and, on the contrary, when the fluid is passing off or diffusing itself, then a large cloud will be seen breaking to pieces and dissolving.

Life.—The mere lapse of years is not life. To eat, drink and sleep; to be exposed to darkness and light; to pace around in the mill of habits and turn the mill of wealth; to make reason our bookkeeper and thought an implement of trade: this is not life. In all this but a poor fraction of the consciousness of humanity is awakened; and the sanctities still slumber which make it worth while to be. Knowledge, truth, love, beauty, goodness, faith, alone can give vitality to the mechanism of existance; the laugh of mirth which vibrates through the heart, the tear which freshens the dry wastes within, the music that brings childhood back, the prayer that calls the future near, the death that startles us with mystery, the hardship which forces us to struggle, the anxiety that ends in being.—Chalmers.

A New York Irishman, who had succeded, a la Mormon, in securing two wives, each of whom was subsequently blessed with several "childer," becoming tired of his numerous responsibilities, and of managing two wives, couxed his wives out to walk upon the wharves, and while their attention was directed to another quarter, stepped on board a steamer just pushing off, and as the plank was drawn in, waved his hand in adieu, and exclaimed, "Let you be good to aich other!"

School Discipline.—In Coleridge's time the discipline at Christ's Hospital was ultra Spartan; all domestic ties were to be put aside. "Boy," Coleridge remembered Bowyer saying to him once, when he was crying, the first day on his return after his holidays, "boy, the school is your father; boy, the school is your mother; boy, the school is your brother; the school is your sister; the school is your first cousin, your second cousin, and all the rest of your relations. Let's have no more crying."

Morning Chronicle.

TUESDAY, JUNE 15, 1858.

THE POWER.—The whole power of a slave state centers in the aristocracy that own, breed, sell, or steal the negroes—the few capitalists; while the free, non-slave-holding people, if black, are absolutely nothing in government, and if white, are very near nothing. By the census of 1850, out of a white population in Virginia of 894,600 persons, the meagre number of 1,374 "planters" go to make up the slave-holding oligarchy proper of the whole State.

We give the number in Virginia because that may be about the average in the States. In some it may be relatively very much less, and in others the proportion of slave-holders may be greater. Probably less than one in a hundred of the entire population of the United States are at all interested in the ownership of slave property—certainly less than one in four or five hundred, to any reasonable extent.

How humiliating is the consideration, says the (Newburyport Herald,) that the destinies of our country have so long been controlled by such a contemptible proportion as this, throughout the whole extent.

☞ The medal ordered by the survivors of the yellow fever on the U. S. steam frigate Susquehannah, to be presented to Dr. Rose, of the British Navy, as a testimonial of their gratitude for his courageous and humane services in attending the sick, on board the Susquehannah, is of solid gold, and weighs five ounces. It is about two inches in diameter, and the border is curiously formed into the semblance of a rope. On one side is a beautiful representation of the Susquehannah, and on the other an appropriate inscription.

REPARTITION.—The Evansville (Indiana) Journal gives further particulars of the once eminent English physician, Dr. Holmes, who died a miserable death, a few weeks since, in the hut of a poor negress in Indiana. It is another of the frequent cases of retributive justice. This man's extravagant habits had embarrassed him so much that his wife gave him £2000 of her private property, and he was desirous of obtaining £4000 more from the same source. On this being refused him, he became angry, and made threats which were afterwards remembered.

A short time only had elapsed, when Mrs. Holmes, being afflicted with a sick headache, her husband left her a phial of medicine. She did not like its taste, and sent it to an apothecary for examination. He at once pronounced it to be poison, when in great alarm she fled for protection to her mother. She was ill for several weeks, and when able to go out, went to the bank to draw some money. To her surprise, she learned that the Doctor had been there with a lady who personated herself, and had drawn the whole amount.

A SWILL MILK DODGE.—A New York swill milk milk manufacturer, having lost nearly all his customers in consequence of the recent developments about swill milk, hit upon a shrewd plan to get them back again. His cows were turned out to pasture a short distance from the city, and after a few days he made a grand show of inviting his customers to go out and see his cows luxuriating in clover, and to learn what pure unadulterated milk they could soon secure by continuing their patronage. The best of refreshments were furnished to the party, and a more satisfied company never returned from a feast. Orders for milk flowed in; the cows next day were all returned to the distillery, and the milk business is now going on prosperously and profitably, as usual.

AN EXTENSIVE FAMILY.—At Keyport, N. J., the other day, a well-dressed female, with a child in her arms, who was walking behind a loaded wagon, asked the driver to allow her baby to ride. He consented, and she placed it carefully in the wagon. He drove on, supposing the woman was following, but after going a short distance he looked around and discovered the lady making rapid strides toward the steamboat landing. He started in pursuit, but when he reached the landing the boat was off—so was the woman. The next time he takes a child in his wagon, he will probably invite the mother to ride also.

TYRANNY BAFFLED.—The foreign journals state the censors of the press at Paris seized a number of the London Times because it contained an article on Count Migeon's election, but by oversight passed the London Sun published on the evening of the same day, which had copied the article in full.

COWS.—The Nantucket Enquirer tells of a cow there, that gave in six days, last week, 144 quarts of milk, or 24 quarts a day. The Worcester Spy thereupon cites one now at the House of Correction in that city, that regularly gives 30 quarts a day. The latter is like the auriferous quartz we read of; she won't stay long in prison—they'll soon have to bail her out.

WM. S. LINCOLN, Esq., of Worcester, has a cow of the Alderney breed, from whose milk he is making eighteen pounds of butter per week. The milk of the same cow yielded an equal amount during the best of the season last year. The cow is one of those imported years ago by the State Agricultural Society, and was purchased by Mr. L. at the auction sale of the Society's Alderney stock in the fall of 1856, at a low figure, it being supposed that she was considerably past her prime.

SWILL-MILK IN CHICAGO.—The Chicago Democrat says the Chicago people are mostly fed on swill-milk, from cows kept at the distilleries, and proposes to abate the nuisance. It also makes the following extraordinary statement:

There are several persons in our city who supply families with milk, that have not a cow in the world. They manufacture milk from chalk and drugs.

☞ The Cleveland (Ohio) Plaindealer says that Mrs. Cunningham Burdell has purchased a farm in Carroll county, about four miles from Carrolton, and about seventy miles from that city. She bought the farm from the heirs of the late Dr. Samuel Sears, paying $5000 down for it, and we understand that she will take immediate possession.

ELIZABETH BOWLEGS AND HER INTENDED. An item of gossip has lately been going the rounds of the press to the effect that Billy Bowlegs's daughter is soon to be married to a young New Yorker, whom she met during her recent visit at New Orleans. As many interested persons are doubtless anxious to know who the lucky individual is, it may be a relief to them to know that the gentleman alluded to is no less a person than the New Orleans correspondent of Harper's Weekly, though the facts of the case differ materially from the current report.

It appears (from the gentleman's own statement) that he has been busily engaged in obtaining the history of the Seminole chief, together with photographic likenesses of sundry members of his family, and sketches of their adventures in the Crescent City, for publication in Harper—all of which he successfully accomplished. Of course his intercourse with the Bowlegs family was necessarily somewhat intimate. But let the gentleman explain. He says:

My object was attained, but in the mean while my zealous devotion to his Majesty of the Everglades had exposed me to no little misapprehension on the part of my friends. This is a censorious world, very loth to believe in disinterested attachments of any sort. A plausible motive for my proceedings was easily suggested.

Billy, as I have said, is no beggarly German Prince, without money to support his hereditary dignity. He has, moreover, a marriageable daughter, whom, it was currently reported, he was anxious to be stow upon some "white brother," with a comfortable dowry of ten thousand dollars in hard cash, besides "expectations" for the future. It was reported that I was to be the happy man. I was overwhelmed with congratulations, pronounced a lucky fellow, and forced to "stand" cocktails and juleps without number.

It is due to all parties that the matter should be properly represented. It is true, then, that King Billy did me the honor to propose an alliance between myself and his eldest daughter. "Betsey" he said, 'good squaw—never married—you have her—come with me—I make you great chief—next after me." I was forced to decline this flattering offer for private reasons, which I am not at liberty to explain at present. Suffice it to say that they were perfectly satisfactory to His Majesty, who was graciously pleased to present me, in token of his perfect consideration, with his own royal autograph, a fac-simile of which I send you.

LONGEVITY EXTRAORDINARY.—Two rare examples of longevity are recorded in the Naples journals, which state that there are now living in Sanarica a brother and sister, the former of whom, named Vito, was born in November, 1738; and the latter in November, 1741—thus counting between them 237 years. Vito employs himself in travelling over the mountains, cutting heath for making brooms, and during the summer walks from ten to twelve miles every day with his load. The sister also takes long walks every day.

☞ Rev. J. I. T. Coolidge, of Boston, has resigned his pastoral charge of a Unitarian Church, because he has become a Trinitarian. His society have accepted his resignation, which takes effect July 1. He was highly esteemed by his flock, and now carries with him their esteem and respect,—which is as it should be.

CONGRESS.

In the Senate, on Friday, the Indiana contested election case was taken up, and after a long debate, postponed to Saturday, when the consideration was resumed and the report of the committee, which is that Messrs. Bright and Fitch are entitled to their seats, was finally adopted.

In the House, on Friday, the Maryland contested election case was, after debate, postponed to the second Monday in December.

The Senate's amendments to the post-office appropriation bill being considered, the House refused to concur in the amendments increasing the rate of postage, and abolishing the franking privilege, and agreed to the amendment giving the post-office printing to the lowest bidder.

In the Senate, on Saturday, the House amendment to the naval appropriation bill, for the construction of ten sloops-of-war instead of five, was disagreed to, and a new committee of conference appointed.

The Indian deficiency bill was passed, also several private bills.

The Senate then went into an executive session, and afterwards adjourned till evening.

On reassembling, the report of the conference committee on the ocean mail appropriation bill was adopted, and the bill was passed

The bills granting pensions to the widows of Generals Gaines and Jones, were passed,

Bill providing for the carrying of the mail from St. Joseph's, Mo. to Placerville, Cal., was passed.

The report of the conference committee on the bill making appropriations for the collection of the revenue, was adopted and the bill passed.

The conference committee on the post-office appropriation bill reported they were unable to agree. The subject was postponed.

The loan bill came from the House amended by increasing the amount to $20,000,000, and the bill was passed as amended.

After an ineffectual attempt to extend the session, the Senate adjourned shortly after midnight, to Monday at 11 o'clock, which makes it necessary that there should be an extension.

In the House, on Saturday, a message was received from the President, in which he states that thirty-seven millions of dollars will probably be required for the first two quarters of the next fiscal year, and recommends Congress to provide the means before adjourning. It was laid on the table and ordered to be printed.

The loan bill was taken up and debated by Mr. Burlingame and others, and amended by inserting $20,000,000 instead of $15,000,000. The light-house appropriation bill was discussed, but we have no account of the debate.

A resolution was reported and passed, after debate, to print five thousand extra copies of the Coast Survey report.

The House concurred in the report of the conference committee on the ocean mail bill, and shortly after midnight adjourned.

FROM WASHINGTON.—New York, June 14. Gen. W. M. Burgess, of R. I., is urged by New England Democrats as special Minister to Paraguay. Among the appointments sent to the Senate on Saturday are Joseph R. Chandler, Minister to Naples; E. T. Fair, of Ala., Minister to Belgium; and B. C. Yancey, of Ga., Minister to the Argentine Republic.

The Naval Bill, as it passed both Houses, provides for seven sloops-of-war, and a small war steamer for China seas.

☞ A letter from South Florida says that a strange and fatal disease has broken out among the deer in that section, which are found dead in every direction. They appear to die, in most instances, suddenly—full fleshed and fat. Some appear to linger with the disease, and are found to have sore or rotten mouth and tongue.—The cattle are also similarly affected, but not so fatally. What is still more strange, the buzzards and carrion crows have also disappeared.

☞ In England, three copies of each newspaper printed, signed by the publisher, must be regularly transmitted to the Stamp Office, which pays full price for them. After the expiration of a year, one complete file of every journal is transmitted to the British Museum, when they are bound in volumes, and preserved for reference.

DEATH FROM INTEMPERANCE.—A woman named Ellen Prenable, died in Cambridge on Wednesday morning, through the effects of intoxication, to which she was addicted. Within an hour on Tuesday night she drank a pint of gin, went out of the house in which she took it, and fell down and died.

☞ Mr. Ira Bryant of Worcester has a hen which up to the 1st of April has laid twenty-four eggs, and since that time to Tuesday, inclusive, has laid an egg every day; making seventy-nine eggs in as many successive days, and one hundred and three eggs since about the first of March.

BAGGAGE CAR BURNT.—On Friday morning, as the New York steamboat train on the Norwich road was about two miles from, and approaching Worcester, one of the baggage crates was found to be on fire, and before the flames could be extinguished the crate and most of the baggage was destroyed. The amount of the loss cannot yet be known.

A GOOD LAY.—A careful calculation sustains the declaration that the eggs laid in Ohio every year would pay the interest on its public debt.

MORE SUGGESTIONS.

We were very much pleased with the "suggestions" in the last Gazette, on scattering the rowdies that assemble near Congress Block. And we would add another, viz. that by the City Charter our Municipal Authorities have the power, not only to scatter the rowdies, but to break up the dens in which they congregate, viz, the groggeries, gaming holes and other houses of vice, which afford them a shelter, and which, in turn, they mainly support.

Had not the honest efforts made to abate these nuisances been ridiculed and opposed in some newspapers, howled down by the rowdies, and voted down by a besotted and befooled populace, the "large and unexpected emigration into this city" of certain vile persons, would not have taken place. It is, and ought to be, offensive to have such persons promenade Congress street. But is it less offensive to decent families who occupy less genteel streets, to have such promenaders there?

And again, if the loafers and their companions whom they attract, are a nuisance on Congress street,—as they surely are,—then, how very desirable it must be, to break up the tippling and gambling dens on "that beat," which so attract the loafers.

In truth, there is no one form of vice, which does not aid and abet some other form of evil doing. And we only say what every policeman knows to be true, when we assert that total abstinents and temperance fanatics are not numbered among loafers,—and that nine-tenths of all police offences are the direct fruit of the groggery.

NAVAL.

The United States Ship Portsmouth arrived at this Naval Station on Sunday, June 13, after a passage of seventy-nine days from Java, four of which were spent at the Island of St. Helena.

The Portsmouth has been absent from the United States twenty-five months; has sailed nearly fifty thousand miles, and visited all the ports in China, opened to us by treaty stipulations; besides Siam, Japan, Singapore and Batavia.

There have been fourteen deaths on board during the cruise—five of these were killed in the attack on the Canton Barrier Forts, and the remaining nine died, mostly from disease peculiar to the climate.

The following is a list of the officers attached to the Portsmouth:—

Commander—Andrew H. Foote.
Lieutenants — William H. Macomb, H. K. Davenport, Edward Simpson, P. G. Watmough, G. E. Belknap, F. E. Shepperd.

Lieutenant Colville Terrett and Mr. Geo. W. Reed, late Member of the China Legation.

☞ Last Sabbath being near the fortieth Anniversary of the establishment of the Unitarian Sunday School in this city, the exercises at the Chapel, in the afternoon, were especially appropriate to the occasion. A statistical and historical Address was read by Mr. J. F. Shores, Jr., Superintendent,—full of interest to all past and present members of the School, and to the large audience generally. A Portrait of the late Rev. Dr. Parker, with Mr. A. Haven and John W. Foster on either hand, was hung on the wall back of the desk; and beautiful boquets adorned the altar.

☞ The Sunday School Concerts, which were proposed to be held in the North and Universalist Churches, on last Sunday evening, were both postponed in consequence of rainy weather. That at the North Church is to be held next Sunday evening, —and that at the Universalist Church on the Sunday evening after the next.

☞ Theodore Parker and Anson Burlingame, of Boston, are to deliver orations; and Albert Laighton of this city, and Hamilton J. Damis of Ann Arbor, Michigan, to deliver Poems—at next Bowdoin Commencement, August 3d. Dodworth's Band furnishes the music. All his fellow citizens, as well as a host of literary and personal friends abroad, will rejoice that this deservedly high compliment has been bestowed on our talented and worthy young townsman, "the Poet of New Hampshire" and of a much wider reach of country than that.

☞ F. W. Stuben, of Long Hill, Conn., has some rye 7 feet 10 inches high. "Comin' through that rye" wouldn't be so easy!

DEATH OF A YOUNG MERCHANT.—We are called upon to record, (says the Boston Transcript,) the death of a most enterprising and esteemed young merchant of Boston. Mr. Thomas H. Hickey, of the firm of Hickey & Brothers, died on Saturday evening at the age of thirty-four years. The deceased was a native of Portsmouth, N. H., but had resided in Boston, since 1845. He enjoyed the respect and confidence of a wide circle of friends, who will bear witness to the purity of his life and the estimable qualities of his character. Every worthy cause found in him a friend, and few men of his years have done more good according to their abilities than Mr. Hickey. For many months it had been evident that his health was failing, and consumption had seized him for a victim. His graceful manners, amiability and uprightness won many friends who will long cherish his memory.

The following remedies are offered to the public as the best, most perfect, which medical science can afford. AYER'S PILLS have long since been prepared with the utmost skill which the medical profession of this age possesses, and their effects show they have virtues which surpass any combination of medicines hitherto known. Other preparations do more or less good; but this cures such dangerous complaints in a way so quick and so surely, as to prove an efficacy and a power to uproot disease beyond any thing which men have known before. By removing the obstructions of the internal organs and stimulating them into healthy action, they renovate the fountains of life and vigor,—health courses anew through the body, and the sick man is well again. They are adapted to disease, and disease only, for when taken by one in health they produce but little effect. This is the perfection of medicine. It is antagonistic to disease, and no more. Tender children may take them with impunity. If they are sick they will cure them, if they are well they will do them no harm.

Give them to some patient who has been prostrated with bilious complaint: see his bent-up, tottering form straighten with strength and vigor; see his long-lost appetite return; see his clammy features blossom into health. Give them to some sufferer whose foul blood has burst out in scrofula till his skin is covered with sores; who stands, or sits, or lies in anguish. He has been down to the brink and sat with every potion which ingenuity could suggest. Give him these PILLS, and mark the effect; see the scabs fall from his body; see the new, fair skin that has grown under them; see the late leper that is cleansed. Give them to him whose angry humors have planted rheumatism in his joints and bones; move him, and he screeches with pain; he too has been soaked through every muscle of his body with liniments and salves; give him these PILLS to purify his blood; they may not cure him, for, alas! there are cases which are beyond the power can reach; but mark, he walks with crutches now, and now he walks alone; they have cured him. Give them to the lean, sour, haggard dyspeptic, whose gnawing stomach has long ago eaten every smile from his face and every muscle from his body. See his appetite return, and with it his health; see the new man. See her that was radiant with health and loveliness blasted and too early withering away; want of exercise or mental anguish, or some lurking disease, has deranged the internal organs of digestion, assimilation or secretion, till they do their office ill. Her blood is vitiated, her health is gone. Give her these PILLS to stimulate the vital principle into renewed vigor, to cast out the obstructions, and infuse a new vitality into the blood. Now look again—the roses blossom on her cheek, and where lately sorrow sat joy bursts from every feature. See the sweet infant wasted with worms. Its wan, sickly features tell you without disguise, and painfully distinct, that they are eating its life away; its pinched-up nostrils, its ears, its restless sleepings, tell the dreadful truth in languages which every mother knows. Give it the PILLS in large doses to sweep these vile parasites from the body. Now turn again and see the ruddy bloom of childhood. Is it nothing to do these things? Nay, are they not the marvel of this age? And yet they are done around you every day.

Have you the less serious symptoms of these distempers, they are the easier cured. Jaundice, Costiveness, Headache, Sickness, Heartburn, Foul Stomach, Nausea, Pain in the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, King's Evil, Neuralgia, Gout, and kindred complaints all arise from the derangements which these PILLS rapidly cure. Take them perseveringly, and under the counsel of a good Physician if you can; if not, take them judiciously by such advice as we give you, and the distressing, dangerous diseases they cure, which afflict so many millions of the human race, are cast out like the devils of old—they must burrow in the brutes and in the sea. Price 25 cents per box—5 boxes for $1.

Through a trial of many years and through every nation of civilized men, AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has been found to afford more relief and to cure more cases of pulmonary disease than any other remedy known to mankind. Cases of apparently settled Consumption have been cured by it, and thousands of sufferers who were deemed beyond the reach of human aid have been restored to their friends and usefulness, to sound health and the enjoyments of life, by this all-powerful antidote to disease and death. Hence which it has been settled on the lungs. The dry, hacking cough, the glassy eye, and the pale, thin features of him who was lately lusty and strong, whisper to all but him CONSUMPTION. He tries every thing; but the disease is gnawing at his vitals, and shows its fatal symptoms more and more over all his frame. He is taking the CHERRY PECTORAL now; it has stopped his cough and made his breathing easy; his sleep is sound at night; his appetite returns, and with it his strength. The dart which pierced his side is broken. Scarcely any neighborhood can be found which has not some living trophy like this to shadow forth the virtues which have won for the CHERRY PECTORAL an imperishable renown. But its usefulness does not end here. May, it accomplishes such a prevention than a cure. The countless colds and coughs which it cures are the seed which would have ripened into a dreadful harvest of incurable diseases. Influenza, Croup, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Pleurisy, Whooping Cough, and all irritations of the throat and lungs are easily cured by the CHERRY PECTORAL if taken in season. Every family should have it by them, and they will find it an invaluable protection from the insidious prowler which carries off the parent sheep from many a flock, the darling lamb from many a home.

Authenticated evidence of these facts, with directions for the treatment of each complaint, may be found in Ayer's American Almanac, of which we publish three millions, and scatter them broadcast over the earth, in order that the sick everywhere may have before them the information it contains. Druggists and dealers in medicine generally have them for distribution gratis, and also for sale these remedies, prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER, Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that where a person has a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State, a lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme the ticket drawing ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number to each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes range from $50 to $6,000; every prize being drawn, and result drawing forwarded to all purchasers

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount to each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Mercury, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to SAM'L SWAN & Co., Atlanta, Georgia.

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m13 1y

A PROCLAMATION
TO THE LADIES.

WHEREAS, it appears that the days of right, honor, and integrity are fast fading away, and WHEREAS, the unscrupulous and ignorant are daily taking advantage of the credulous and learned, BE IT KNOWN THEREFORE, to all, whether MAIDS, WIVES, OR WIDOWS, that Dr. CHESESMAN'S FEMALE PILLS are since certain parties are in the habit of imposing on female disorganization; they ALONE correcting all painful menstruation, assuaging palpitations of the heart, disorder of the side, and wants of health and happiness to whole sex; more especially to the MARRIED PORTION, as they are certain to bring on the monthly period with regularity.—AND WHEREAS, these PILLS are purely vegetable and entirely free from mineral's, therefore perfectly harmless in their operations and wholly unlike other nostrums of the day, that deceive the public, purporting to effect the objects already detailed. THEREFORE, BE IT KNOWN, that NOTHING but the said PILLS of Dr. CHESESMAN will accomplish the desired effect, when numerous others have been experienced under the regime of OTHER PILLS; and the Ladies will cause this Proclamation to spread amongst them, to their mutual mutually benefit—always promising that said Proclamation in one case must be considered NULL and VOID; that is to say the PILLS were not to be taken when any female is in an INTERESTING SITUATION, otherwise a MISCARRIAGE will be the inevitable result.

Explicit directions, to be carefully read, accompany each box. Price $1. Sent by mail on enclosing $1 to Dr. CORNELIUS L. CHESESMAN, Box No. 4,581, Post Office, New York City. Sold by Druggists in every town in the United States.

WEST POINT.—The correspondent of the New York Post gives the following description of a mock bombardment enacted at West Point on Tuesday evening:—

"At half-past eight o'clock we were attracted to the ground again by a delicious air from Trovatore, played by the band—one of the finest, by the way, in the country. While all cars and hearts were engrossed with the music, bang went a mortar, speeding a shell through the air at the rate of a mile a second more or less, and describing a fiery parabola along the horison, as it flew, until it fell upon the works of Fort Clinton, which was the imaginary citidel of a band of British Outragers.—Five mortars were in battery manned by cadets, and every few minutes the utter darkness was penetrated by volleys of these fiery missiles. Presently a fire ball was discharged so as to fall a little short of the fort, and by its light reveal the condition of our enemy, and his works. These balls, though not larger than a good-sized base ball, burned for twenty minutes or more, so brightly as to make all the line of attack distinctly visible, and illuminate the whole plain.

The discoveries which the light enabled besiegers to make, seemed to awaken them to new activity. Volleys of grenades were fired to clear the walls where imaginary red coats were trying to repair imaginary breaches in their works; the shells five at a time, falling like Satan's devils, 'with hideous ruin and combustion' down among the outragers. Our fight was very much like the one fought with the same enemy in Congress the other day. There was no shooting back; we had it all our own way, and consequently achieved a complete and speedy victory.

General Duyce, of the famous New York seventh regiment, was here, a very careful observer of the various drills and manœuvres of the day. He was so much impressed with the new Shanghai drill, as it is called—the double quick—that he has determined to introduce it into the militia service, and New Yorkers must not be surprised to see him coming down Broadway some of these fine days with his company on a full trot."

WINSHIP'S PATENT
Self-Ventilating Refrigerator,

FOR Preserving Meats, Fish, Fruits, Vegetables, etc., which received the highest Premium, the Silver Medal, at the New York State Fair, and the highest Premiums, Medals, and Diplomas, at the numerous Fairs where presented.

Advantages of the Winship Refrigerator.

1. A perfectly uniform temperature, so that every part of the refrigator can be used at once.
2. A constant change of air is secured in the provision chamber without any unnecessary waste of ice, or loss of air already cooled.
3. A downward current of cold air prevents the provision chamber from being filled with warm air on opening the door, as is the case with refrigerators of other patterns.
4. The cold air performs the double office of cooling the provision chamber and purifying it from offensive odors, and also of protecting it from the warm external air.
5. The great convenience of the ice chamber, access being to it without disturbing the provision chamber.
6. The form of the provision chamber, every portion of it being used with equal convenience.
7. Articles of a strong and unpleasant odor can be placed in the provision chamber, together with the most delicate substances, without any possibility of communicating their flavors one with another. For sale by

"BEAUTIFUL HANDS."

As a young friend was standing with us noting the pedestrians on the side-walk, very stylish and elegant girl passed us. What beautiful hands Miss —— has!" exclaimed our friend.

"What makes them beautiful?"

"Why, they are small, white, soft and exquisitely shaped. The fingers taper so most delicately, and there is a rose-blush on the finger nails that no artist could imitate."

"Is that all that constitutes the beauty of the hand? Is not something more to be included in your catalogue of beauty which we have not enumerated, to make the hand desirable?"

"What more would you have?"

"Are they charitable hands? Have they relieved the poor? Have they ever carried the necessities of life to the widow and orphan? Has their soft touch ever soothed the irritation of sickness, and calmed the agonies of pain? Do the poor bless those rosy-tipped fingers, as their wants are supplied by them?

"Are they useful hands? Have they been taught that the world is not a playground, or a theater of display, or a mere lounging place? Do those delicate hands share labor? Are they ever employed about the domestic duties of life—the homely, ordinary employments of the household? Or does the owner leave all that to her mother, while she nourishes her delicate hands in idleness?

"Are they modest hands? Will they adorn their charities or their duties without vanity? Or do they pander to the pride of their owner by their delicacy and beauty? Does she think more of their display than of the improvement of her intellect and character? Had she rather be called the 'girl with beautiful hands' than receive any other praise for excellency of conduct or character.

"Are they humble hands; Will their owner extend them to grasp the hard hand of that old schoolfellow, who sat at the same desk with her, and on the same recitation bench, but who now must earn her living by her labor? Or will they remain crossed, in their exclusiveness, in her aristocratic muff, as she sweeps by her former companion?

"Are they religious hands? Are they ever clasped in prayer or elevated in praise? Does she remember the God who has made her to differ from so many of her sex, and consecrate her mind, her heart, her hands to his service? Does she try to imitate her Saviour by going about doing good? Or are her hands too delicate, too beautiful to be employed in good works?

"These are qualities that make the hand beautiful one in my estimation. There is an amaranthine loveliness in such hands superior to the tapering slenderness of the fingers, or the roseate hue of the nails."

Pish, pish, you treat this subject too seriously. Besides, you forget the valuable particular to a young man like me. Will it cheerfully give me that hand to keep?—Sanford Courant.

WAGGERY.—Some time ago, on the Sabbath day we wended our way to one of our churches, and instead of a sermon heard an address upon some missionary or other benevolent subject. After the address was concluded, two brethren were sent around with the basket for contributions, Parson L——, who was one of the basket bearers, taking the side upon which we sat. Immediately in our front and upon the next seat negligently reclined our friend Bill H——, a gentleman of infinite humor and full of dry jokes. Parson L—— extended the basket and Bill slowly shook his head.

"Come, William, give us something," said the Parson.

"Can't do it," replied Bill.

"Why not? Is not the cause a good one?"

"Yes; but I am not able to give anything."

"Poh! poh! I know better, you must give a better reason than that."

"Well, I owe too much money—I must be just before I am generous, you know."

"But, William, you owe God a larger debt than you owe any one else."

"That's true, parson, but then he ain't a pushing me like the balance of my creditors."

The parson's face got into a rather curious condition as he passed on.

AN IMPERTINENT ENGINEER.—On Friday the engineer of a fast train was arrested by the authorities of a "one horse town," in Dauphin Co., Pa., for running through the borough at a greater speed than is allowed by their ordinances. Having neglected, however, to give publicity to these ordinances, they could not impose any fine; and their discomfiture was aggravated by the malicious excuse of the engineer, that—"he didn't know that there was a town there!"

Mr. Felix Belly, who has eaten his way into the good graces of Nicaragua, is said to be an agent of a French company which wants to get control of the Transit route. The French have an eye to the construction of a grand canal. Has the Belly been deputed to open the proceeding by lavish expenditures upon the alimentary canal?*

*To the Stupid Reader: Elementary is the other side of this double-meaning joke.

Morning Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 18, 1858.

CONCORD, June 14, 1858.

Messrs. Editors;—Fearing soon to lose totally the art of writing, I will endeavor to preserve it, though in a small degree, by sending you a few lines from this city, the seat of the assembled wisdom of our State.

First among the improvements of a few years stands the Lunatic Asylum, on Prospect Hill,—a building which, through the chicanery of part of the committee and the mobility or complicity of the member from Portsmouth, was built here instead of in Portsmouth, as, according to conditions fulfilled, it should have been. The grounds around this building are beginning to assume a finished aspect, and the fine pond at its back adds much to the beauty of the whole.

Next is the new Court House, on Main street, built at an expense of about $40,000,—a fine building outwardly but poorly arranged in the interior, situated in a fine lot with its immediate surroundings quite barren, the whole inclosed by a cheap wooden fence,—the large outlay for the building having induced a feeling of poverty.

Last week, at a meeting of the Rockingham County Convention, an appropriation of $8000 was asked, to erect a new Court House in Portsmouth. It was referred to a committee, and will probably be granted, no opposition having been made.

The Universalist Church, on School st., also deserves attention as being the only fine looking church, outside, of which Concord can boast. It is covered with mastic of a light shade, has latticed windows, and is surmounted by two towers in place of the flag-staff which crowns so many churches. Speaking of churches, I was much pleased with the singing at the Unitarian Church yesterday (You needn't think I put that in to show that I went to church); and speaking of mastic, a number of new stores have been erected and others are in course of erection, adjoining the new Phenix Hotel, uniform in height with that edifice, and which are to be mastic-ated (that's an original use of an old word) in the same manner, thus forming a most beautiful block.

The trees here flourish finely, particularly the elms. The sidewalks are very fine—for some things; just at present are best fitted for raising ducks, but when dry weather comes they will afford rare opportunities for the young Concordians to erect sand houses.

Among the improvements that "are to be" is a new bridge, to take the place of Concord bridge, just below the city, which until the 21st of May was a toll-bridge, but is now free, and which we are told is the only site here where a bridge has withstood all freshets. The new bridge is contracted for by Mr. Childs, and will cost between $4000 to $5000.

Since the difficulty, a few days ago, wherein two opticians exerted themselves to damage each other's optics, fights have germinated rapidly in Concord. Last evening, just before 7 o'clock, quite an excitement was caused at the lower part by an Irishman who had been fighting, and who resisted stoutly, but finally was overpowered and placed in durance vile. The officer used a stick over the head of the offender in a manner which would not be tolerated in Portsmouth, where the unlucky "charlie" would be imprisoned and fined for the insult to the "better citizen."

Rev. C. W. Flanders delivered a free lecture to "Young Men" before a crowded house, last evening, the services being held in the Baptist Church. It was intended to turn the gas on with all force when the lecturer came in, but a wrong turn of the wrench, left the audience in total darkness.

In the House of Representatives, on Friday afternoon, Mr. Conn of Portsmouth introduced a notice of a "Bill to facilitate the construction of a carriage railway to the top of Mt. Washington, and other mountains in the State." The fact was, no member was allowed to go out for fear of losing a quorum;—Mr. Conn desired to go, he gave his notice to the doorkeeper to hand to the Speaker, and as he performed that service, Mr. C. stepped out. Following his example as I see an opening, I will leave you. IOR.

☞ There is a tame rat on board the City of Memphis, says the Appeal, which stands up on his hind feet when ordered, licks his masters hand, and kisses him climbs up over him, holds a stick in his fore paw, and stands up like a soldier;—comes when called, goes away when told to do so, and enters his box or cage as an obedient child would at the request of its parents.

CONGRESS adjourned on Monday, after passing the appropriation bills—[expenses for the year to be about $80,000,000.]

The President issued a proclamation for the Senate to meet on Tuesday noon, saying that an extraordinary occasion has occurred, rendering it necessary and proper that they should convene, to receive and act on such communications as have been, or may be, made to them, on the part of the Executive.

The postage is not raised, franking is not abolished.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—General Scott received dispatches from Utah to-day indicating a renewal of hostilities. The details are unknown.

A change in the Cabinet is rumored.—Mr. Cobb's incompetency is said to be the cause. His under estimate for the fiscal year is causing great dissatisfaction. Trav.

FROM WASHINGTON.—The correspondent of the New York Tribune telegraphs:—

"Nearly two hundred nominations are yet before the Senate. The appointments of Messrs. Schell and Saunders, of New York, and of Mr. Mandeville, of California, and various appointments in Illinois, and Michigan, will be severely overhauled. Mr. Slidell is decided against Collector Schell, as he is a candidate for the Presidency, and is working with other wires.

Many diplomatic charges are to be reserved till after the adjournment. All resignations are held over for that purpose."

STEAMBOAT EXPLOSION.

A dispatch from Memphis, Tennessee, June 13, says:

The steamer Pennsylvania exploded her boilers on Sunday morning at 6 o'clock, at Ship Island, some seventy miles below this city, and was burned to the water's edge.

There were three hundred and fifty passengers on board, and it is believed that one hundred of them are killed or missing.

The steamboats Diana, Imperial, and Kate Frisbee took all they could find in the water, on shore.

The boat was owned in Pittsburg, Pa.

The Pennsylvania, at the time of the explosion, was on her way from New Orleans to St. Louis. She was owned by Capt. Kleinfeiter, Geo. Black & Co., and the two engineers.

We do not see any New Hampshire or Maine names on the list of saved or lost.

DISASTROUS FLOOD.

At Cairo, Illinois, there has been a terrible flood, destroying houses, bridges, railroad tracks, &c.

Despatches from Cairo state that on Saturday afternoon, a crevasse opened on the Mississippi side of the town through which the water poured at a frightful rate, filling up the whole space between the Levees, and it is now running over the embankment on the Ohin side about a thousand feet.

The Illinois Central Railroad is washed away on the South Wing.

A part of the new Hotel fell in on Sunday, and the balance is expected to fall during the night.

Nearly all of the houses are tumbling down, drifting away or sinking. Scarcely a building in the city is expected to withstand the flood. The water is two and a half feet deep in the second story of the Taylor House, and is still rising rapidly.

Mound City is also in danger of being overflown. The water at this point still continues to rise, and all the upper streams are pouring out floods.

REV. FATHER SAWYER.—This venerable clergyman, now one hundred and three years old, sent the following note to the Penobscot County Congregational Conference, at their session at Holden, on Tuesday last, by Rev. Mr. Maltby:

Give my most cordial respects and love to all the brethren present, and say to them that my health is perfectly good, but the infirmities of age are very strong upon me.

Here the old man rested his head upon his hand, and after a short pause added:

Say to them that my view of the prophecies as given in Daniel, the Romans, and the Revelation, have been a little in advance of theirs, perhaps, but the events now taking place in the churches satisfy me that my views are correct; and that we are having a foretaste of the good time which is to come.

OPERATIVE STRIKE AT LOWELL.—The Lowell Courier says that a large number of the operatives of the Lawrence mills are on a strike, and are threatening violence to those who continue work. The difficulty arose from some changes, whereby the spinners are required to do the additional work of doffing. About 100 marched out in a body, and others followed their example. In consideration of these threats, Marshall Clemence has detached an extra police force for the neighborhood of the strikers.

☞ The Mr. Shaffer who tried to shoot Judge Steers, in a New York Court, appears to have been crazy with a fortnight's tooth-ache, and chloroform. He took the latter against the opinion of the dentist, who told him he could not bear it.

☞ The Great Leviathan steamer, it seems, is not coming to Portland before Spring. The City Fathers of Portland, sent out to England to ask when she is coming. Her owners answer, by their Secretary,—

I beg to inform you that the Directors of this Company have reason to hope, that, at as early a period in the ensuing year as the season will admit of, the Leviathan steamer will visit your port.

From the circular issued by the proprietors, we learn that at their meeting, held in April, 1858, it was voted "that the sum of £220,000 should be raised to equip the ship for sea," and that the Directors "in conjunction with the shareholders' committee of co-operation have earnestly considered the best means of obtaining for the subscribers of such sum a liberal return for their capital." After mature deliberation, they have arrived at the conclusion "the most speedy and profitable return can be obtained, by placing the vessel on the line between England and the United States." They say the average speed of the ship is estimated at 16 knots per hour; at that rate she will accomplish her passage between Holybead or Liverpool and Portland, State of Maine, in seven days.

☞ An Englishman named Gibson, residing in Clintonville, Essex County, N. Y., murdered his wife on the 3d inst., probably while under the influence of liquor, as they had been to a dance house of low repute the night previous, and returned home intoxicated. The woman was found lying dead upon the bed in a mangled condition, and the walls and floor of the room adjoining covered with blood. The weapon used is supposed to be a flat iron. Gibson accused his wife of infidelity.

☞ There is an elm tree in Sheffield Village, Mass., the trunk of which is thirty-three feet in circumference, and its branches spread over an area of one hundred and fifteen feet in diameter, or twenty-three rods in circumference. It is said to be the most shapely and handsome elm in Western Massachusetts, if not in all New England; is perfectly sound, healthy and vigorous, so far as can be discovered, and its pleasant shade is the scene of numerous pic-nics and festivals.

HOW BEER SOMETIMES "WORKS."—The proprietor of Pfaff's larger beer brewery in Roxbury gave his men a free tap at the barrels on Sunday. The consequence was, the men got drunk, fought like tigers and were arrested. Charles and Peter Bleiler, Wm. Dubernell and Jacob Koelweather were fined from $6 to $12 each for their fun.

☞ Justus Knowlton, who was mail agent on the Albany and Boston route from 1850 to June 25, 1851, has just recovered $5500 damages of the Western road for injuries received in an accident near the State line on the said 25th of June, which incapacitated him from further service. He sued for $30,000, and the case occupied the whole of last week in the Circuit Court at Troy, N. Y.

☞ The Boston Courier thinks it strange that so few people in this country read Pamphlets, compared with Europeans—when the presumption is, that a writer who thus takes the trouble to bring his views to the public notice, may have something to say worthy of the public attention.

SPONTANEOUS COMBUSTION?—On Wednesday, in Gloucester, smoke was discovered issuing from a pile of Pictou coal. Water was thrown upon it, and nothing more thought of till the next morning, when, seeing smoke still issuing from the pile, the top coal was raked off, and a mass of fire was discovered near the bottom.

MCNULTY GIVES UP.—Caleb McNulty, confined in the New Hampshire State Prison, for burglary in Dover, has been given upon the requisition of the Governor of Massachusetts, to be tried in that State for the murder of officer Hodsdon, in Boston last winter.

☞ A destructive fire occurred in Boston on Saturday night at midnight, and reaching onward till Sunday morning, in the midst of a great rain storm. The fire began at No. 57 Milk street, and raged among the lofty stores there, till about $250,000 of property was destroyed.—They needed the steam fire engine.

TO BARBERS.—We would call the attention of our Barbers to the following, which we clip from the Troy Times. "We can say of those whose signatures are appended to this, that they ought to know its effects, if any one could."

TROY, March 18, 1858.

We, the undersigned, are using HEMMSTREET & Co's Hair Coloring upon the heads of many of our customers, with good effect. It invariably restores the color when gray, and leaves the hair in a good healthy condition.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

CONSUMPTION OF THE BLOOD, OR ANEMIA.

In this common and dangerous disease, the blood loses its vitality, ceases to nourish the system, and to stimulate the organs to healthy activity. The Protoxide of Iron, in the PERUVIAN SYRUP, supplies the deficient element, and the blood receives a new life, with a consequent restoration of the bodily vigor, the return of appetite, and the hue of health.

LOCAL.

FOURTH OF JULY.

A meeting of the Committee of Arrangements to make preparations for the Celebration of the Fourth of July, was held at the Common Council Room, Monday evening. Wm. H. Sise, Esq., presiding. Mr. E. P. Nowell was chosen Sec'y of the Committee of Arrangements; E. N. Mathes, Esq., was elected Treasurer; and C. C. Jackson, Esq., was appointed Chief Marshal of the day.

The Committees adjourned to this evening, at 8 o'clock, at the City Rooms, at which time the several Committees will furnish estimates of the expenses on account of the Celebration.

The Committees on the Fourth of July Celebration, are hereby requested to meet at the City Rooms this (Wednesday) evening at 8 o'clock.

Per Order. Edward P. Nowell,
Sec'ry Com. of Arrangements.

To the Chronicle:—It the five propositions, in regard to the contested election case, set down in your Monday's issue, are true, were proved before the Committee on Elections, and considered by them, how does it appear that Mr. Jenness, whose seat was contested alike with Mr. Rand's, and was before the committee at the same time and on the same evidence, still retains his seat, though he had but three more votes than were necessary for a choice?

Is not the decision in favor of Mr. Jenness retaining his seat, a "unanimous condemnation of the conduct of the" remonstrants "in Ward 1, by the Committee on Elections, composed of" six "gentlemen of their own party?"

Will you cite your authorities to show that the rejection of the two ballots by the moderator was illegal? Q.

Uncle Toby will just give his opinion that both the gentlemen should have been sent home. If the state of parties had been the reverse of what it is, that is, if the House had had a Democratic majority, and the two members in question had been Republicans, they would have been sent home in a summary manner.

He can't say exactly how it happened that Mr. Jenness kept his seat, except that by the new blunder of using the check list twice, the old blunder of losing 18 or 20 votes was covered up—and that the Republican majority on the committee, being a little too much softened in favor of a wealthy man, they were afraid to do him ample justice.

However decisively the remonstrants may have been condemned, or whatever ingenious quibbles may be raised, the missing votes have not been accounted for, and cannot be!

☞ Sch. Moses Waring, Crowell, of and from New York, for Portsmouth, N. H., with a cargo of corn and flour, on Thursday night last, while lying-to 15 miles N.W. of Gay head, in a heavy S.W. wind, and thick weather, carried away foremast and maintopmast. She drifted until daylight, when they discovered the Hen and Chickens' Ledge, and anchored, until they could get a dispatch for steamtug Spray, which went to her assistance, and towed her to New Bedford 12th inst.

☞ The last remaining elm, of the old Wentworth trees, in Daniel street, near the High School House, is dead, and must come down, as the limbs are dangerous.—The row of trees to which this old one belonged, were instrumental in stopping the fire of 1813 from further progress to the North.

Damages by the Storm.—Baltimore, June 13.—The damage done by the storm and flood on Saturday was very severe.—Not less than twenty turnpike bridges, on the Falls and in their vicinity were swept away, with fencing, etc. A horse and wagon were swept into the flood; two negro women were drowned, and a white man who was engaged in fishing timber from the stream was drowned. Many stores were flooded, and considerable damage sustained thereby.

☞ New York, Pennsylvania and Virginia are flooded with water on all their streams, and much damage is done to the crops.

☞ A vain attempt has been made to prove an English clergyman insane, because among other similar eccentricities, he was in the habit of playing cards with his domestics, and sanctifying the game by reading a chapter of the Bible between the deals.

New York, June 15.—The Times Washington correspondent says Gen. Scott is in the receipt of dispatches from Gen. Johnston, dated Camp Scott, and five days later than those from Gov. Cumming. Gen. Johnston arrives at conclusions directly opposite to those of Gov. Cumming, touching the intentions of the Mormons, who, he says, are now arming and fortifying at every point. The administration is now fearful that Gov. Cumming has been deceived. Private accounts from Salt Lake represent him as almost a prisoner, and the Mormon leaders as exercising full sway over the minds of the people.

There was but little opposition in the Senate to Collector Schell's confirmation, the vote standing 37 yeas to 7 nays. There was some debate over Sanders, the New York Navy Agent, but he was confirmed, 33 to 9. Schell was opposed by the Treasury influence, and Sanders by Southern members.

Rumor is strong and positive that Gov. Floyd is to leave the Cabinet, and it is also equally positive that Cobb will have to resign.

It is understood that the President will remove Calhoun, the present Surveyor of Kansas

Arrival of the Europa.—Halifax, June 15.—Steamship Europa, from Liverpool, 5th inst., arrived here shortly after noon to-day, en route for Boston.

Vote in Maine.—The returns from 150 towns show the following result. For the Prohibitory Act of 1858, 17,561; for the License Act of 1856, 2670.

☞ On Saturday night, amid all the storm, Charlotte Cushman and others went from Boston to Providence, played to a $700 house, and got home to Boston at 1:40 Sunday morning.

☞ There was much complaint made last week of the heat in Washington. The Georgia and Louisiana members say they never experienced such a heat at home.

☞ The swill-milk excitement has reached St. Louis, where some developments have been made, not inferior to those which startled the propriety of New York.

The following remedies are offered to the public as the best, most perfect, which medical science can afford. AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS have been prepared with the utmost skill which the medical profession of this age possesses, and their effects show they have virtues which surpass any combination of medicines hitherto known. Other preparations do more or less good; but this cures such dangerous complaints, so quick and easily, as to prove an efficacy and a power to uproot disease beyond any thing which man have known before. By removing the obstructions of the internal organs and stimulating them into healthy action, they renovate the fountains of life and vigor, health courses anew through the body, and the sick man is well again. They are adapted to disease, and disease only, for when taken by one in health they produce but little effect. This is the perfection of medicine. It is antagonistic to disease, and no more. Tender children may take them with safety and impunity. If they are sick they will cure them, if they are well they will do them no harm.

Give them to some patient who has been prostrated with bilious complaint: see his bent-up, tottering form straightened with strength; see his long-lost appetite return; see his clammy features blossom into health. Give them to some sufferer whose foul blood has burst out in scrofula till his skin is covered with sores; who stands, or sits, or lies in anguish. He has been drenched inside and out with potion after potion which ingenuity could suggest. Give him these PILLS, and mark the effect; see the scabs fall from his body; see the new, fair skin that has grown under them; see the late leper that is clean. Give them to him whose angry humors have planted rheumatism in his joints and bones; move him, and he screeches with pain; he too has been soaked through every muscle of his body with liniments and salves; give him these PILLS to purify his blood; they may not cure him, for, alas! there are certain limits beyond which art can reach; but mark, he walks with crutches now, and now he walks alone; they have cured him. Give them to the lean, sour, haggard dyspeptic, whose gnawing stomach has long ago eaten every smile from his face and every muscle from his body. See his appetite return, and with it his health; see the new man. See her that was radiant with health and loveliness blasted and too early withering away; want of exercise or mental anguish, or some lurking disease, has deranged the internal organs of digestion, assimilation, or secretion, till they do their office ill. Her blood is vitiated, her health is gone. Give her these PILLS to stimulate the vital principle into renewed vigor, to cast out the obstructions, and infuse a new vitality into the blood. Now look again—the roses blossom on her cheeks, and where lately sorrow sat joy bursts from every feature. See the sweet infant wasted with worms. Its wan, sickly features tell you without disguise, and painfully distinct, that they are eating its life away. Its pinched-up nose and its restless sighing, tell in the dreadful truth in language which every mother knows. Give it the PILLS in large doses to sweep these vile parasites from the body. Now turn again and see the ruddy bloom of childhood. Is it nothing to do these things? Nay, are they not the marvel of this age? And yet they are done around you every day.

Have you the less serious symptoms of these distempers, they are the easier cured. Jaundice, Costiveness, Headache, Sickness, Heartburn, Foul Stomach, Nausea, Pain in the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, King's Evil, Neuralgia, Gout, and kindred complaints all arise from the derangements which these PILLS rapidly cure. Take them perseveringly, and under the counsel of a good Physician, if you can; if not, take them boldly; by such advice as you give you, and the distressing, dangerous diseases they cure, which afflict so many millions of the human race, are cast out like the devils of old—they must barrow in the brutes and in the sea. Price 25 cents per box—3 boxes for $1.

Through a trial of many years and through every nation of civilized men, AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has been found to afford more relief and to cure more cases of pulmonary disease than any other remedy known to mankind. Cases of apparently settled consumption have been cured by it, and thousands of sufferers whowere deemed beyond the reach of human aid have been restored to their friends and usefulness, to sound health and the enjoyments of life, by this all-powerful antidote to diseases of the lungs and throat. Here a cold had settled on the lungs. The dry, hacking cough, the glassy eye, and the pale, thin features of him who was lately lusty and strong, whisper to all but him CONSUMPTION. He tries every thing; but the disease is gnawing at his vitals, and shows its fatal symptoms more and more over all his frame. He is taking the CHERRY PECTORAL now; it has stopped his cough and made his breathing easy; his sleep is sound at night; his appetite returns, and with it his strength. The dart which pierced his side is broken. Scarcely any neighbourhood can be found which has not some living trophy like this to shadow forth the virtues which have won for the CHERRY PECTORAL an imperishable renown. But its usefulness does not end here. Nay, it accomplishes more by preventing than cure. The countless colds and coughs which it cures are the seed which would have ripened into a dreadful harvest of incurable diseases. Influenza, Croup, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Pleurisy, Whooping Cough, and all irritations of the throat and lungs are speedily cured by the CHERRY PECTORAL if taken in season. Every family should have it by them, and they will find it an invaluable protection from the insidious prowler which carries of the parent sheep from many a flock, the darling lamb from many a home.

Authenticated evidence of these facts, with directions for the treatment of each complaint, may be found in Ayer's American Almanac, of which we publish three millions, and scatter them broadcast over the earth, in order that the sick everywhere may know before them the information it contains. Druggists and dealers in medicine generally have them for distribution gratis, and also for sale these remedies, prepared by DR. J. C. AYER, Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass.

They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A PROCLAMATION

TO THE LADIES.

WHEREAS, it appears that the days of right, honor and integrity are fast passing away, and WHEREAS, the unscrupulous and ignorant are daily taking advantage of the profound and learned. BEIT KNOWN THEREFORE, to all, whether male or female, that DR. CHESESMAN'S FEMALE PILLS are ALONE the certain panacea for the the troubles incident to female disorganization; they alone removing all painful menstruation, causing palpitations of the heart, disturbed sleep, pain in the side, and causing health and happiness to whole sex; giving ability to the barren women, as they are certain to bring on the monthly period with regularity.—AND WHEREAS, these PILLS are purely vegetable and entirely free from mineral, therefore perfectly harmless in their operations and wholly unlike other medicines thrust upon the public, purporting to effect the objects already detailed. Therefore be it known and proclaimed that the said PILLS of DR. CHESESMAN will accomplish the desired object, when DISAPPOINTMENT has been experienced under the regime of OTHER PILLS; and the Ladies will cause this Proclamation to spread amongst them, to their own everlasting benefit—always promising that said Proclamation in one case must be considered as a sacred vow; that is to say the PILLS MUST NOT be taken when any female is in an INTERESTING SITUATION, otherwise a MISCARRIAGE will be the inevitable result.

Explicit directions, to be carefully read, accompany each box. Price $1. Sent by mail on enclosing $1 to Dr. Chesesman I. Cressman, Box No. 4,231, Post Office, New York City. Sold by Druggists in every town in the United States.

THE PRINTER.—Whoever are disposed to throw a reproach or slur upon the printer, let them read the following from the Peoria (Ill.) Journal, in which we find a tribute to "the art preservative of arts:"

"He is only a printer. Such was the sneering remark of a leader in a circle of aristocracy—the codfish quality. Who was the Earl of Stanhope? He was only a printer. What is Prince Frederick William, just married to the Princess Royal of England? He too is only a printer. Who was William Caxton, one of the fathers of literature?—He was only a printer. What was G. P. Morris, N. P. Willis, James Gales, Charles Richardson, James Harper, Horace Greeley, Bayard Taylor, Charles Dickens, Thiers, Douglas Jerrold, George D. Prentice, and Senators Dix, Cameron, and Niles? They too were printers. What was Benjamin Franklin? He also was a printer. And last, though not least, what is James Buchanan, who occupies the most enviable position on earth? Only a printer! Every one cannot be a printer—brains are necessary."

KING AND CHAPIN.—In the eloquent speech of the Rev. T. Starr King, at the Universalist Festival in Faneuil Hall week before last, in response to a sentiment in honor of "The Absent," he thus referred to Dr. Chapin of New York:

But what can be fitly said by any single speaker, when we come to another name that is in all your minds? What can be said, that is competent, of E. H. Chapin,—God bless him! Call upon the band to respond with all its instruments—it should do proper honor to him. Nay, sir, some great organ should be awakened to answer to his name. Let a master draw the diapason, and open the pedal, of the great leviathan of music, and he cannot let loose such a thrilling surge of passion as has swept this hall when Chapin has poured from his breast, stormy denunciations of injustice, and fervid prophecies of future good;—and then let him draw the sweetest flute-stop, and he cannot pour out melody so pleading, so pathetic, as the Holy Spirit breathes through the tender, sunny and melting tones in which Chapin portrays and illustrates the infinite love.

SENATOR DOUGLAS.—A report is current in Illinois that Senator Douglas will be a candidate this fall for the House, probably in place of Col. Harris, whose health, though improved, is still very precarious. Mr. Douglas possibly remembers that Henry Clay, after having been twice sent for fragments of terms to the Senate, was elected to the House, and, on the first day of his membership of that body, was chosen its Speaker. The next House will be absolutely obliged to recast the revenue policy of the government, and to do something toward the much needed retrenchment of expenditures, whereof so much has been said and so little effected. The Senate is so constituted that an able, energetic capable statesman, who aspires to be not negatively but positively useful to the country, must naturally prefer a seat in the House. These considerations give plausibility to the report respecting Mr. Douglas which reaches us from Illinois.—Should he be a candidate for the House from Col. Harris's or any other Democratic district, the opposition to him is not likely to be formidable, whether the postmasters shall be finally instructed to support or oppose him.—New York Tribune.

☞ The Memphis Ledger says:—"With the subsidence of the waters on the Arkansas shore, mosquitos are becoming so thick that the sun sets fifteen minutes too soon—its rays being obscured by the swarming insects, as they were by clouds of arrows at the battle of Pharsalia."

BURLEIGH ON BEECHER.—Burleigh, the New York letter writer for the Boston Journal, is said to be Rev. Matthew Hale Smith. With this key to the correspondence, the reader will know how to take the following item, under date of June 10.

While the Church of Rev. H. W. Beecher has become quite noted for the large numbers who have attended on his ministrations, he is becoming as noted for his removal of the ancient landmarks. He belongs to the Congregational Church, and the design of the men who founded his church, and the others in this city and vicinity, was to retain the form of faith of the Puritan Fathers. But the Congregationalism of New York is independent. Mr. Beecher shocked the lovers of the old ordinances by the denial that baptism was the door to the church. He affirms that, like the Lord's Supper, it may be renewed each month. Last Monday was his communion day. He gave an unusual invitation to the Lord's table. He called on all present to unite in the ordinance whether they were professors or not. Church membership he did not regard as a requisite to the supper. Such views indicate great independence. They are views not new. They have been the avowed opinions of the Universalist and Unitarian denominations for fifty years. They will give fame to Mr. Beecher, only because he is a professedly Orthodox man. They will fill his house, but will do little toward extending his sect or his denomination in this region. New Yorkers are not very strict in many things, but those who profess any faith at all, or feel that some religion is necessary, embrace a rigid one, and do not smile on latitudinarianism.

BAD.—Two papers, one probably copying from the other, have published Longfellow's beautiful Poem, "Resignation" with the omission of the word dead in the second line, making the ridiculous rendering:—

'There is no flock however watched and tended,
But one lamb is there."

DISGRACEFUL.—The Lowell Courier states that the company of Boston firemen which visited that city on Tuesday and Wednesday, together with a portion of the Lowell department, behaved in a manner that was highly disgraceful, having got drunk, then into a fight, and afterwards, as a natural consequence, into the watch-house and Police Court.

EASTWARD.—The Aroostook, Maine, Pioneer says that immigrants are arriving there every day from all parts of the State, and some from Massachusetts. As a general rule they find the region quite as good as they expected. Quite a number have arrived by way of the Aroostook road.

BRIBING WITNESSES.—At the Cancemi murder trial in New York on Friday, one of the witnesses named Sowth, a rag-picker, testified that not only Cancemi's counsel, Mr. Blakeman, and his brother, but one of the jurors in the case had offered him $2500, $2800 and $3000 to stay away from the trial.

A professor was one day walking near the college, when he heard one of his students chopping wood and swearing. He stepped up, and asked for the axe, and quietly chopped the stick of wood up.—"You see the wood may be cut without swearing," he said, handing the axe back to the lad. He deeply felt the reproof, and never gave occasion for another like it. From that time he left off the vulgar and wicked habit.

☞ Three men were stabbed in North street, Boston, on Monday night, about midnight, one of them dangerously. The Traveller says one of them, Morton, appears to have been somewhat in liquor at the time, and Carroll considerably intoxicated.

PETTICOATS BY THE CORD.—A country dealer, seeing an advertisement of "corded skirts," stopped in and said he "would take what they had corded up." A better way would be to sell them by the acre—the "superficial contents" alone being required.

☞ A Carrolton (Mo.) paper states that the troops designed for Utah, ascending the Missouri river, are deserting every chance they get. Fifty out of three hundred on one steamer recently deserted. The cause is said to be a general order forbidding payment to the troops until they arrive at Fort Laramie.

THE CROPS.—With but few exceptions, the accounts from the West and South agree in representing the prospect for abundant crops of wheat, corn, potatoes, &c., as exceedingly encouraging.

AS A SPRING MEDICINE
MYERS' EXTRACT ROCK ROSE is invaluable. It changes the viscid humors, opens the pores of the skin, promotes insensible perspiration, thereby purifying the blood and invigorating the system. A free use of this medicine, in the spring months, will not only cure all diseases caused by impurity of the blood, but will beget a healthy action and prepare the system to resist the attacks of fevers, derangement of the bowels, &c, so prevalent in the summer season.

Morning Chronicle.

THURSDAY, JUNE 17, 1858.

EUROPEAN NEWS.—The steamer Europa, from Liverpool, June 5th, arrived at Halifax, bringing three days later news. In the House of Commons, the bill abolishing property qualifications of members of Parliament, and the Atlantic Telegraph Company's bill, were passed on the 3d. Inquiries were made of the government upon several subjects, and particularly as to the position of the China difficulties. What little was known upon the subject the government considered it "inconvenient" to communicate.

In answer to a question as to the correspondence with the United States upon the subject of the slave trade, Mr. Seymour Fitzgerald said that if the grave charges against British officers proved true, the occurrence would be viewed with the deepest regret by the government, and immediate explanations would be given. Orders had been sent out to exercise the greatest caution and forbearance towards vessels bearing the American flag.

In addition, Mr. Fitzgerald said Her Majesty's government had signified to the government of the United States that they were ready to adopt such measures as the latter might suggest, to meet the difficulty, that slavers almost invariably hoisted the American flag.

The London Times, commenting on the outrages, advocates an abandonment of the slave trade squadron, as an unprofitable waste of men and money; and makes the possibility of a war with America in attempting to "compel her to a virtue she has not," an argument for giving up the ineffectual crusade. The Daily News discredits the stories of 'outrages,' and wants to hear the other side. The same paper has an article on Russian and American politics as regards emancipation. The Post and Star think that England should recede from its untenable position.

The Atlantic telegraph has been successfully experimented with in deep water, and the expedition was to sail for mid ocean June 10. Extensive riots were going on in Bellast.

Napoleon III. has withdrawn the circulars relating to the conversion of hospital lands. The Paris correspondent of the Times communicates the particulars of an important treaty said to have been concluded between the Presidents of Nicaragua and Costa Rica and M. Felix Belly, in behalf of Millaud & Co., Paris. This treaty, or contract, requires an inter-oceanic canal, by the river San Juan and Lake Nicaragua, to be begun in two years and to be finished in six; in the meantime to be under the protection of French war steamers; the cost to be $50,000,000 to $75,000,000; and the company to have a concession for ninety-nine years. Appended to it is an appeal from the Presidents of Nicaragua and Costa Rica to European powers for protection against fillibusters "known to be under the patronage of the United States." A rumor that Pelissier had been recalled for being civil to the Duke d'Aumale is not credited.

There is nothing new from India. At Liverpool cotton had declined and breadstuffs were dull. The money market was unchanged.

THE CROPS.—Accounts from the South of Europe relative to the grain crops are not very satisfactory; the yield will, it is believed, be but moderate in Lombard, Romagna and the Kingdom of Naples.

It is generally considered that in the Provinces of Algiers, Oran and Constantina, the harvest will be satisfactory.

The London Times Turin correspondent says that accounts from the Provinces and the South of France respecting the silk crop are unfavorable, and the disease is again showing itself, where it existed last year. Prices are slightly lower, with few sellers.

☞ The decision of the Postmaster-General, impelled by the Mayor of New York, to seize and confiscate letters in the mails addressed to bogus firms, is working serious damage to the trade in lottery tickets, gift enterprises, obscene books, &c. The Cleveland Herald says:—

"The Postmaster-General has, at the request of our Mayor, given directions to the Postmaster of this city to detain all letters sent to the assumed and fictitious address of the bogus lottery dealers in this city, and to transmit all such letters to the Dead Letter Office. If the Postmaster obeys his instructions, the business of Murray & Co., Astor & Co., Worth & Co., Calvert & Co., and Morriss & Co., so long and so extensively carried on in Cleveland, will be broken up. Similar directions have been given to the Postmaster of the city of New York, and he has acted accordingly.

☞ Four brothers, Paynes, near London, recently walked 24 miles, in four hours;—each walking about 6 miles—in an hour; and could have done 26, although in the rain and mud.

☞ The War Fever at Washington is gone. It turns out to have been a humbug all round. Commander Rogers, of our own navy, states in a letter, some things that "Outrage" makers, all of them, would do well to remember.

U. S. STEAMER WATER WITCH,
KEY WEST, June 3, 1858

SIR—I arrived here safely to-day for coal—all well on board. I leave to-morrow for Havana, where I shall find H. B. M. steamer Devastation, which has brought instructions from Admiral Seymour to the cruisers upon the coast of Cuba.

H. B. M. steam gunboat Jasper, commanded by Lieut. Wm. H. Pym, came into this harbor this morning, in search of the Styx, to deliver despatches from the Admiral. Lieut. P. stated to me that his instructions were printed, and were dated, he believed, 1849; that they were, at all events, the instructions he had acted upon on the coast of Africa nine years ago.—He said he believed, or rather was sure, no new instructions had been received from the British government for the guidance of the vessels on the coast of Cuba.

He said the Creole was a slaver, and that soon after her capture, colors and papers both disappeared, the captain declaring that he was not entitled to American papers or colors. He said that in another case, where he had sent his quatermaster with a spy-glass to ask permission to ascend the mast of the outermost vessel in the harbor of Matanzas, in order to see whether the Styx was in sight, the captain said laughingly, afterwards, that he had hoaxed a newspaper writer into the belief that he had been boarded by British filibusters. He asserted that he was sure, upon examination, he would be found to have done no wrong to the American flag. He admitted that in certain cases he had fired near vessels to make them show their colors, and asked me if he had been guilty of wrong in so doing. To this I said that I had no official opinion, but that I thought not. However the law may be in this case, it is held as far as I know, the usage of the service—itself a law—for men-of-war to show their flags to one another; and it is the general opinion of naval men that merchant vessels, upon neglect or refusal, may be compelled to do it without trenching upon their rights. Lieut. Pym seemed surprised at the light in which the acts of the British cruisers are regarded by the United States.

I have the honor to be, your obedient servant, JOHN ROGERS,
Commander, U. S. N.

Hon. ISAAC TOUCEY, Sec. of the Navy.

☞ The good people of Wilton, Ct., got into a row at a town meeting last week, on the question "shall hogs run at large in the streets?" They divided themselves into "anti-hogs" and "hogs," indulged in loud and belligerent speeches, and finally several persons executed a horizontal movement by coming in contact with the fists of others. The meeting broke up—to resume the consideration of the bristly subject hereafter.

☞ In the Court of Common Pleas, Newburyport, Tuesday, June 15th, John Dowdell of Salem, for one violation of the liquor law, sentenced to pay a fine of $10 and costs, and be confined at hard labor in the House of Correction at Ipswich for 20 days, to be extended 30 days additional if the fine and costs are not paid.

Charles Whiting and Alonzo Dresser, both of Haverhill, for larceny, were severally sentenced to confinement at hard labor in the House of Correction at Lawrence for the term of one year.

The following persons were defaulted: Francis White, Catherine Barns, Lot Peach, Fanny Hamlin—all liquor cases.

Patrick Brickley of Salem, common seller of intoxicating liquors. Verdict guilty.

THE INUNDATION OF CAIRO.—Centralia, Ill., June 14th.—Reports from Cairo are of a most alarming character. The water still is rising, and is now running over the Ohio levee in several places.

Mr. Ashley, Chief Engineer of the Illinois, gives the opinion that one foot more rise will sweep Cairo entirely away.

Mound City is under water. The depot grounds in the highest part of the town are covered to the depth of 4 or 5 inches.

Passengers are conveyed a quarter of a mile from Mound City in boats to the cars.

CENTRALIA, ILL., June 15.—About sixty of the sufferers of the Pennsylvania disaster came here from Cairo to-day. They are principally bound to St. Louis, and many, being in a destitute condition, were passed free over the Illinois Central Railroad. A passenger estimates the number on board at 450, and thinks 250 were lost.

☞ Fifty cents a head are paid by the authorities in N. York for unmuzzled dogs. But the proclamation also says, "no dogs received from boys." So when a boy catches a dog he gets a man to present it at the pound and get the fifty cents. Quite a large class of these "middle men" have "grown up in the trade," to divide the profits with the boys who steal the dogs.

☞ Of the 82 Fire Insurance Companies now organized in New York, over 43 of their stocks are now selling from 5 to 87 per cent above par. Most of them pay their stockholders from 10 to 30 per cent annual dividends; and the stock of nearly all of the other 39 companies will command from 90 to 100 cents.

THE SEVENTEENTH OF JUNE, the anniversary of the Battle of Bunker Hill, is here, almost before we thought of it. So cold, and wet, and dark, with mittens and india rubbers, gutta percha coats and umbrellas all in fashion, really we had well nigh forgotten spring had come, let alone summer. But the patriots of '76 must not be forgotten—nor should we forget to-day that, while the Americans on that day were driven from the hill and defeated, yet in their defeat the oppressor read his own doom of disappointment. Such a people might be defeated, but not subjugated.—Their deliverance was a question of time, but the time was sure to come. So there must be a period to all oppressions, an end to all evils. "I will overturn, and overturn, and overturn, till he whose right it is shall reign."

AWFUL MURDER IN MICHIGAN.—The Detroit papers gives an account of a murder in the town of Mill River Point, Macomb county, Michigan. It was that of a sister by two brothers, who all three lived together. The two brothers appeared at the house of a neighbor, three or four miles distant, at about midnight, naked, except with bands of straw around their waists, saying they had killed their sister. The neighbors repaired in the morning to the house, having during the night kept the brothers under guard, and in a wagon in the road near the house, found the dead body of the young girl, terribly mutilated. In the house was a man who had nearly lost his life in defending the girl. Religious frenzy is said to have been the cause of the fearful tragedy.

☞ Barnum, who was recently released from the Connecticut State Prison, had never seen a railroad, having been incarcerated 25 years. There are various individuals in different parts of the country, says the New London Star, who wish they had never seen one.

☞ Quarrels are the order of the day. The rival candidates for Governor in North Carolina, Ellis and McRae, who are stumping the State together, had a fight at Newbern in which McRae gave Ellis the lie, and Ellis struck him. They were separated by officious friends.

☞ Samuel Weston of New Preston, a farmer, committed suicide in Woodville, a few days since, by hanging himself with a halter. He had been laboring under great depression of spirits for a year, and had previously attempted to take his life.

☞ It does not appear that a school girl in Boston, who drank burning fluid, meant to commit suicide, but rather to make herself a little sick, to avoid school, where she had been punished,—but probably with no great severity.

AFFAIRS IN UTAH.—Washington June 15. Contrary to the advices sent from here to some of the press, the War Department has received no later dates from Utah than those from Gov. Cumming. The view of some officers of the army as expressed in letters, is that he went into Salt Lake city too hastily; that he has been deceived, and that the Mormon friendship is not to be relied upon. It will be recollected that the army was sent to Utah as a posse comitatus, subject to the orders of Gov. Cumming, and is not to move without his direction. There are no new developments by the last arrival. The army will move as recently directed, branching off at such intermediate localities as require protection.

☞ J. H. Moody, a member of the typographical profession, in San Francisco, May 6th, performed the herculean feat of pulling two fourteen pound weights suspended over pullies in the chest box, five thousand seven hundred and twenty-seven times, without intermission or rest. Printers, it will be seen, can do some things as well as others.

☞ The President seems to be puzzled with the contradictory accounts from Utah. The accounts from England, received at Washington are pacific.

Wife Wanted.

THE subscriber, of prepossessing appearance, added to a reputation already established for the enviable position he enjoys, is desirous of forming an alliance with some young lady who has been properly cared for, with a view to matrimony. Having a beautiful competency, money would be unasked for. One who can render the fireside cheerful and happy would be the writer's choice. Address,

Winship's Patent Upright
Self-Ventilating Refrigerator.

IT is now conceded by physicians that provisions are rendered very unwholesome by being confined in a Refrigerator in which the air is not constantly and effectually changed, and the health of many families has suffered in consequence. The musty and sour smell common to most ice chests is a sure indication of this poisonous and offensive tendency.

This Refrigerator is the only one ever offered that is perfectly ventilated, and in so scientific yet simple a manner that Prof. Silliman has introduced a description of it in his new work on Natural Philosophy as the best construction ever practically tested of perfect ventilation.

The temperature is always uniform.
The air never becomes stagnant.
There is no waste of ice.
The warm air cannot enter upon opening the doors. Access to the ice is had without disturbing the provision chamber.

Articles of different flavors cannot impregnate each other. Milk, delicate fruits, and meats, can be preserved much longer than in any other Refrigerator.

All who value health and pure food are advised to give this article a trial. The cost is about the same as the ice chests, and they are made with panelled sides and top, and tastefully grained.

OUR SUMMER RAMBLES.

A few months in imagination—a year in reality—has passed since we joked with a friend, and chatted with a lady, at a crowded fashionable resort. Time on its noiseless wings has swept past, leaving autumn, winter and spring, each in its turn, full of sports and pleasures—until again old Sol puts on his sultry suit, and sets us all in anticipation of a day, a week, or a month's pleasant visit to the sea-side, the lakes, the quiet country farm house, or a dash on old ocean's wave.

As a people, we Yankees are beginning to open our eyes and take a right view of things, particularly as regards out-door sports and recreations. A few years since, any one was thought imprudent and a spendthrift who did not dig and delve, drive and scramble, pore over old rusty ledgers, and office papers on Dr. and Cr., from one year's end to the other—hardly allowing time to take a fair look at a green field, and almost forgetting that the grand old ocean rolls its billows almost at our very door. A few years since one might live a dozen miles from the sea-side and hardly imagine that within one hours' ride lay open to his view the grandest of all earth's beauties. In these days of progress, things get straightened out somewhat; and old-fashioned notions are not of much account, particularly to young America.—Miss Flora McFlimsey and her cousin Frank have entirely different ideas than their Pa and Ma had at their time of life; and old Gunny Bags has to open the purse-strings and let the dear girl and her lucky cousin see the world, and have something to wear.

As soon as the leafy month of June yearly comes round on its mission of love and beauty, our thoughts start at the anticipation of a summer ramble; and, as we always argued, nowhere can the beauties of sea or country life be enjoyed to a larger extent than within a circuit of twenty miles of good old Portsmouth. We do not wish to be thought egotistical or old-fashioned on this point, but are willing to leave it to all fair and candid travellers who have within a few years past enjoyed the invigorating atmosphere of sea and hill-side, and the quiet, homelike feeling of many hotels and private boarding houses scattered throughout this section of the country.—We venture to assert that no one who has ever spent a summer vacation at either the "Atlantic" or "Ocean" at Rye Beach, at either of the popular houses at Bour's Head, our jovial old friend Laighton's at Appledore, amid the green trees at the Kittery Point House, or out a chicken pie and stood upon the cliffs at Cape Neddock—but will bear us out in this assertion. And for those who prefer a quiet city residence with a beautiful drive to sea-side each day, where can be found anything to be compared to the "Rockingham?"

And there are also, up and down our sea-coast, and scattered amid our beautiful farming villages, many private, quiet, country farm houses; where one can enjoy to his heart's content all the pleasures and beauties of country life, amid the summer flowers and waving grain, in the deep shades of woods and beside the still waters of little lakes and gurgling rivulets. So to all those among us who each year (and who does not?) wish a day or week of summer recreation, we say, live somewhere in this vicinity—if you wish to invigorate your weary frame, bowed down by the cares and perplexities of business, or torn by sickness and care—stop a moment before you go out among strangers and suffer all the trials of immense summer fashionable watering places, amid the din and bustle of throngs of knaves and jackanapes; take a look around you, and amid all the beauties of this section of the country, select from among them something to suit your taste and purse; and the word of an old fellow for it, in the end you will be in better health, in better spirits, and return to the pounds, shillings and pence with a heartfelt gratitude that your lot has been cast in such pleasant places, before almost unknown to you.

Our river and harbor are unsurpassed for a sail, either up or down, at this season of the year. Who that has ever enjoyed a cunner-fry on the rocks "below," with the fresh sea-breeze playing around him, did not wish to leave the counter and turn his attention to the finny tribe; and then to take down the ladies, and let the sea-breeze fan their pale cheeks and drive away all traces of pent-up chambers and unhealthy city airs and fashions? Let's have some good old-fashioned sailing parties this season, and drive off the blues and bring on the roses, and make all feel that it is not all of life to sew and fret and scribble and study and mope round, like galvanized mummies, for ever and ever.

CAPUT.

☞ The funeral of Mr. Thos. H. Hickey was largely attended on Wednesday, at the Universalist Church in this city. The Scripture selections were read by Rev. Mr. Patterson,—and the address was delivered by Rev. T. Starr King of Boston, who was a schoolfellow and playmate of the deceased in former years, and his pastor in those more mature. This address was fraternal, affectionate and touching. It was followed by an appropriate prayer, and the services were closed by the Hymn "Go to the grave in all thy glorious prime." We intend to give a portion of the address to-morrow.

☞ Messrs. Adams & Curtis, who advertise their business in this day's paper, are successors to Mr. Tetherly, who carried on Soap and Candle Making at that one stand in Washington street, for forty years. If they can succeed him in honesty, integrity and faithfulness, they will not only command success but deserve it.

PAY YOUR DEBTS.— At the commencement of the present year, notice was given by many of our traders, that in future they should present their bills for settlement on the 1st of January and the 1st of July. As July is near at hand, we would call the attention of the public to this matter, so that they may be ready when the clerks step in with a smile and a bow, and a "if perfectly convenient, sir."

And at the same time we would recommend to all our traders to adopt this plan. It will when in operation be found to be equally beneficial to traders and to customers, by placing in the hands of the traders the necessary funds with which to purchase at better advantage than if they bought on time; and the cheaper they can buy, the cheaper they can sell.

We would say then to the one class, "get your bills ready during this month and present them early in July," and to the other class, "be ready to pay the bills when presented, or better still, call at the stores and settle." *

☞ The Temperance Mutual Improvement Society are to have a Tea Party at Academy Hall on Saturday evening next.

☞ In our Legislature, on Tuesday, a bill was reported, designed to do away with what is called the "Grab Law," by which a creditor can attach the property of his debtor to secure his own debt, and the other creditors get nothing. This bill provided that if one man attaches the property of a debtor, the other creditors can come in and share the property, and still the man be held to pay his debts. It was amended so as to provide for the discharge of the debtor from all further liability on debts then due, but was rejected on its passage to a third reading.

[We ought to have a good bankrupt law.]

Some new bills about railroad corporations, unclaimed baggage, &c., were reported, read twice, and referred.

GALLANTRY.—In Stamford, Ct., on Sunday, during church service, a shower of rain fell, and a young man by the name of Henry M—— offered to a young lady (Miss H.), who wore thin-soled shoes, the loan of his boots, to go home in. She politely declined, but through the influence of other gentlemen present she finally accepted the offer. A young man, who writes the account to the Stamford Advocate, says he attempted to pull on the boots for her, but had to desist till her gaiters were removed, then the boots went on nicely, and the young lady went home with dry feet; while the gallant youth to whom she owed her good fortune, plodded home barefoot in the rain, attracting the interest of the people in the street. Puss in boots!

☞ The oldest child of Col. John H. George, of Concord, an unusually bright, intelligent and interesting little girl, about eight years of age—was attacked with scarlet fever on Tuesday forenoon of last week, and died on Wednesday night.

We never knew a man disposed to scorn the humble, who was not himself a fair object of scorn to humblest.

Wolfe's Celebrated Scheidam Aromatic SCHNAPPS.

This medicinal beverage is manufactured by the proprietor, at Scheidam, Holland, expressly for medicinal use, by a process peculiar to his own Factory. It is the pure Tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, whose more vinous extract is distilled and rectified with its spirituous solvent, which thus becomes a concentrated tincture of exquisite flavor and aroma, altogether, transcendant in its medicinal and medicinal properties to any alcoholic stimulant now made in the world. It is now prescribed by more than 5,000 physicians in the United States, in cases of Gravel, Gout, Dropsy, and Bladder and Kidney Complaints.

Put up in Quart and Pint Bottles. In cases of one dozen qts., and cases of two dozen pts., and for sale by all Druggists and Country Merchants.

YES, YOU MAY
USE or recommend HEIMSTREET'S IMITABLE HAIR COLORING, and find it to be all its proprietors claim for it. Do you doubt it?

READ! READ!! READ!!!

SCHROON LAKE, Essex Co., N.Y., February 6, 1858.
W. E. HAGAN, Troy, N. Y.—Dear Sir: Having used your Hair Coloring and Restorative, and having been much pleased with it, I take pleasure in making the following statement: From the effects of a very severe fit of sickness when about eighteen years of age my hair commenced turning grey, and so continued to grow until it became perfectly white, being very harsh and coarse. Last Summer I had reached my fifty-third year, when I was induced by a friend to purchase two bottles of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, prepared by you. I commenced using it according to directions, and in a few days was surprised to find that my hair from the roots outward was turning back to its original color. It so continued to grow until it was as truly brown and glossy as it was in my youthful days, and is now fully restored to its original color. MYLA SHAMAN.

Esquire Myla Seaman appeared before me and was duly sworn, and says that the above statement is true, this 6th day of Feb., 1858.
JOEL F. PATTEN, Justice of the Peace.

PITTSFORD, Vt., Aug. 1, 1857.
I hereby certify that my having become quite grey, I used Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, (prepared by W. E. Hagan, of Troy, N. Y.,) for four weeks, and my hair was in that time restored to its original color. I can fully recommend the article to be all it claims. WM. KNAPP,
Pastor of the Baptist Church, Pittsford, Vt.

The above are but two of the many letters of recommendation which have been tendered to the proprietor of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring and Restorative; it has been used by hundreds of people, and it never fails to restore the color and growth of hair. This singular effect is produced as when dyes are used; for it acts upon the natural secretions of coloring matter at the roots, and thus effects the change. Beside, the color produced is not a counterfeit, but the natural shade of your hair. It does not color the skin. Prepared and sold by W. E. HAGAN & Co., Troy, N.Y.

Joy to the Admirers of
A FINE HEAD OF
RICH GLOSSY HAIR.

Talk of beauty, it cannot exist without a fine head of hair, then read the following, and if you ask more, see circular around each bottle, and no one can doubt.

PROF. WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.—We call the attention of all, old and young, to this wonderful preparation, which turns back its original color, gray hair—covers the head of the bald with a luxuriant growth—removes the dandruff, itching, and all cutaneous eruptions—causes a continual flow of the natural fluids;—and hence, it used as a regular dressing for the hair will preserve its color, and keep it from falling to extreme old age, in all its natural beauty. We call them upon the bald, the gray, or diseased in scalp, to use it; and surely the young will not, as they value the flowing locks, or the witching curl, ever be without it. Its praise is upon the tongue of thousands.

The Agent for Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative in New Haven, received the following letter in regard to the Restorative, a few weeks since:

DEAR SIRS, COMB., July 28, 1856.

Mr. Leavenworth—Sir: I have been troubled with dandruff or scurf on my head for more than a year, my hair began to come out, scurf and hair together. I saw in a New Haven paper about "Wood's Hair Restorative" as a cure. I called at your store on the 1st of April last, and purchased one bottle to try it, and I found to my satisfaction it was the thing; it removed the scurf and new hair began to grow, it is now two or three inches in length where it was all off. I have great faith in it. Please to send me two bottles more by Mr. Post, the bearer of this. I would know as any of the kind is used in this place, you may have a market for many bottles after it is known here. Yours with rlsp., RUFUS PRATT.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9, 1856.

PROF. WOOD—Dear Sir: Your Hair Restorative is proving itself beneficial to me. The front, and also the back part of my head almost lost its covering—but now it has used but two half pint bottles of your Restorative, and now the tip of my head is well studded with a promising crop of young hair, and the front is also receiving its benefit. I have tried other preparations without any benefit whatever. I think from my own personal recommendation, I can induce many others to try it. Yours respectfully,
D. R. THOMAS, M. D., No. 406 Vine street.

VINCENNES, IA., June 22, 1855.

PROF. O. J. WOOD—As you are about to manufacture and vend your recently discovered Hair Restorative, I will state, for whomsoever it may concern, that I have used it and known others to use it—that, I have, for several years, been in the habit of using other Hair Restoratives, and that I find yours vastly superior to any other I know. It entirely cleansed the head of dandruff, and with one month's proper use will restore any man's hair to the original youthful color and texture, giving it a healthy, soft and glossy appearance; and all this, without discoloring the hands that apply it, or the dress on which it drops. I would, therefore, recommend its use to every one desirous of having the original color and texture to hair.

Respectfully yours,
WILSON KING.

The following remedies are offered to the public as the best, most perfect, which medical science can afford. AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS have been prepared with the utmost skill which the medical profession of this age possesses, and their effects show they have virtues which surpass any combination of medicines hitherto known. Other preparations do more or less good; but this cures such dangerous complaints, so quick and so surely, as to prove an efficacy and a power to uproot disease beyond any thing which men have known before. By removing the obstructions of the internal organs and stimulating them into healthy action, they renovate the fountains of life and vigor,—health courses anew through the body, and the sick man is well again. They are adapted to disease, and disease only, for when taken by one in health they produce but little effect. This is the perfection of medicine. It is antagonistic to disease, and no more. Tender children may take them with impunity. If they are sick they will cure them, if they are well they will do them no harm.

Give them to some patient who has been prostrated with bilious complaint: see his bent-up, totting form straighten with strength again; see his long-lost appetite return; see his clammy features blossom into health. Give them to some sufferer whose foul blood has burst out in scrofula till his skin is covered with sores; who stands, or sits, or lies in anguish. He has been drenched inside and out with every potion which ingenuity could suggest. Give him these PILLS, and mark the effect; see the scabs fall from his body; see the new, fair skin that has grown under them; see the late leper that is clean. Give them to him whose angry humor has planted rheumatism in his joints and bones; move him, and he screeches with pain; he too has been soaked through every muscle of his body with liniments and salves; give him these PILLS to purify his blood; they may not cure him, for, alas! there are cases which no mortal power can reach beyond. He walks with crutches now, and now he walks alone; they have cured him. Give them to the lean, sour, haggard dyspeptic, whose gnawing stomach has long ago eaten every smile from his face and every muscle from his body. See his appetite return, and with it his health; see the new man. See her that was radiant with health and loveliness blasted and too early withering away; want of exercise or mental anguish, or some lurking disease, has deranged the internal organs of digestion, assimilation or secretion, till they do their office ill. Her blood is vitiated, her health is gone. Give her these PILLS to stimulate the vital principle into renewed vigor, to cast out the obstructions, and infuse a new vitality into the blood. Now look again—the roses blossom on her cheek, and where lately sorrow sat joy beams from every feature. See the sweet infant wasted with worms. Its wan, sickly features tell you without disguise, and painfully distinct, that they are eating its life away. Its pinched-up nose and ears, and restless sleeping, tell the doctor, who has seen many of such every mother knows. Give it the PILLS in large doses to sweep these vile parasites from the body. Now turn again and see the ruddy bloom of childhood. Is it nothing to do these things? Nay, are they not cheap and starved at this age? And yet they are done around you every day.

Have you the less serious symptoms of these distempers, they are the easier cured. Jaundice, Costiveness, Headache, Sideache, Heartburn, Foul Stomach, Nausea, Pain in the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, King's Evil, Neuralgia, Gout, and kindred complaints all arise from the derangements which these PILLS rapidly cure. Take them perseveringly, and under the counsel of a good Physician if you can; if not, take them judiciously by such advice as we give you, and the distressing, dangerous diseases they cure, which afflict so many millions of the human race, are cast out like the devils of old—they must burrow in the brutes and in the sea. Price 25 cents per box—5 boxes for $1.

Through a trial of many years and through every nation of civilized men, AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has been found to afford more relief and to cure more cases of pulmonary disease than any other remedy known to mankind. Cases of apparently settled consumption have been cured by it, and thousands of sufferers who were deemed beyond the reach of human aid have been restored to their friends and usefulness, to sound health and the enjoyments of life, by this all-powerful antidote to diseases of the lungs and throat. Here a cold had settled on the lungs. The dry, hacking cough, the glassy eye, and the pale, thin features of him who was lately lusty and strong, whisper to all but him CONSUMPTION. He tries every thing; but the disease is gnawing at his vitals, and shows its fatal symptoms more and more over all his frame. He is taking the CHERRY PECTORAL now; it has stopped his cough and made his breathing easy; his sleep is sound at night; his appetite returns, and with it his strength. The dart which pierced his side is broken. Scarcely any neighborhood can be found which has not some living trophy like this to shadow forth the virtues which have won for the CHERRY PECTORAL an imperishable renown. But its usefulness does not end here. Nay, it accomplishes more by preventing than cure. Its countless colds and coughs which it cures are the seed which would have ripened into a dreadful harvest of incurable diseases. Influenza, Croup, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Pleurisy, Whooping Cough, and all invitations of the throat and lungs are easily cured by the CHERRY PECTORAL if taken in season. Every family should have it by them, and they will find it an invaluable protection from the insidious prowler which carries off the parent sheep from many a flock, the darling lamb from many a home.

Authenticated evidence of these facts, with directions for the treatment of each complaint, may be found in Ayer's American Almanac, of which we publish three millions, and scatter them broadcast over the earth, in order that the sick every where may know before them the information it contains. Druggists and dealers in medicine generally have them for distribution gratis, and also for sale these remedies, prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER, Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that a prize drawing has a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the number of tickets in every lottery must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $20,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount of each prize, will be printed to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Union, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia.

Fees paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m181y

A PROCLAMATION

TO THE LADIES.

WHEREAS, it appears that the days of right, honor, and integrity are fast fading away, and WHEREAS, the unscrupulous and ignorant are daily taking advantage of the profound and deserved SELF DENIAL THEREFORE, to all, whether MAIDS, WIVES, or WIDOWS, that DR. CHEESEMAN'S FEMALE PILLS are ALONE the certain panacea for the troublesome and dangerous disorganization; they ALONE correcting all painful menstruation, assuaging palpitations of the heart, disturbed sleep, pain in the side, and causing health and happiness to whole sexes; more especially to the MARRIED PORTION, as they are certain to bring on the monthly period with regularity.—AND WHEREAS, the PILLS are purely vegetable and entirely free from mineral's, therefore perfectly harmless in their operations and wholly unlike other medicines thrust upon the public, purporting to effect the objects already detailed. THEREFORE, BE IT KNOWN, that NOTHING but the said PILLS of DR. CHEESEMAN will accomplish the desired object, which many females have been experienced under the regime of OTHER PILLS; and the Ladies will cause this Proclamation to spread amongst them, to their own everlasting benefit—always promptly inquiring if this Proclamation in one case must be considered NULL and VOID; that is to say the PILLS MUST not be taken when any female is in an INTERESTING SITUATION, otherwise a MISCARRIAGE will be the inevitable result.

Explicit directions, to be carefully read, accompany each box. Price $1. Sent by mail on enclosing $1 to DR. CORNELIUS L. CHEESEMAN, Box No. 4,531, Post Office, New York City. Sold by Druggists in every town in the United States.

Given under my hand and seal.

ENGLISH GRAMMAR.

The Comic Grammar says:

But remember, though box
In the plural makes boxes,
The plural of ox
Should be oxen not oxes.,

To which an exchange paper adds:

And remember, though fleece
In the plural is fleeces,
That the plural of goose
Aren't gooses nor geese.

We may also be permitted to add:

And remember, though house
In the plural is houses,
The plural of mouse
Should be mice, and not mouses.

—Philadelphia Gaz.

All of which goes to prove
That Grammar a farce is;
For where is the plural
Of rum and molasses?

New York Gazette.

The plural—Gazette—
Of rum, don't us trouble;
Take one glass too much
And you're sure to see double.

Brooklyn Daily Advertiser.

A pair of blue eyes—
Just to vary the strain—
Says the plural of kiss
Is—"do it again!"

Howard County Sentinel.

Much of the Grammar taught, a farce is;
Wise men will shun rum and molasses;
But for Down Easters, 'tis no "strain"
To kiss blue eyes—e'en though they feign
Would have you think it crossed their grain,
And every buss were not "a-gain."

—Portsmouth Chronicle.

A SPUNKY WOMAN.—The wife of a well known citizen of Malden, displayed the courage of a Roman matron on Friday evening last, and vindicated both the law as laid down by Judge Shaw, and woman's rights, in a manner worthy of Old Put or General Jackson. Taking a revolver in one hand and a shillaly in the other, she marched into a liquor shop where her husband was wont to spend his leisure moments, frequently coming thence to greet his patient, loving spouse with a hiccough and "been to the club, my-hie-dear," and proceeded at once to the demolition of decanters, casks, demijohns and tumblers.—The brace of "Colts" and determined manner of the intruder held the astonished proprietor and his friends at bay until the work of destruction was completed, and the heroine departed covered with the glory of her victory. Not a whole bottle was left which she could lay her hands upon. Atlas

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—A young unmarried man named Matthew S. Mills, fell from the high beams of his barn in Dunbarton, Saturday afternoon, upon the wheel of a wagon standing in the barn floor beneath, and broke his thigh in two places, besides receiving other serious injuries about the head. He was alone at the time of the accident, and is supposed to have laid some time insensible before his mother, feeling alarmed at hearing nothing from him, went to the barn and found him in the pitiable condition described. He remained nearly insensible on Monday morning, and his recovery is considered doubtful.—Patriot.

A BURGLAR CAUGHT IN A RAT TRAP.—A fishing schooner was lying at the wharf in Gloucester on Saturday, smoking out rats. Some time during Saturday night, a burglar broke into the vessel. On Sunday morning, he was found nearly exhausted, lying on the cabin floor with all his plunder near him. He was immediately taken on deck and medical aid called, after which he was carried to the Almshouse.—Traveller

THE ABILITY OF MEN.—The Springfield Republican is responsible for the following statement:—

In one of our country towns lived till recently a bachelor in the noon of life, whose honors principally arose from the cultivation of a small ancestral estate and the vocation of pedagogue. Last April his fellow townsmen, conscious of his ability elected him both selectman and school committee. At the last term of court in this city, he was drawn as juror, and during court week his name appeared in our list of marriages. We call this driving business, and simply mention it to illustrate man's capability.

GOD SYMBOLIZED.—A man has a right to picture God according to his need, whatever it may be. This being shut up by ecclesiasticism to a narrow way of coming to God, has stifled many a soul. The whole round of symbols has been employed to represent God to us, the loftiest as well as the lowest things. The bird that fans the sun, and the bird that hides from it under the leaf, are alike taken to symbolize Jehovah.

A man has a right to go to God by any way which is true to him. If you can think it out, that is your privilege. If you can feel it out, that is your privilege, the thing is certain; the child has a right to nestle in his father's bosom, whether he climbs there upon his knee or by the chair from behind; any way, so that it is his father. Whatever you have seen God by, mark it, and go and sit in that window again.—Henry Ward Beecher.

THE DOG TAX OF MASSACHUSETTS.—We see it stated that in the town of Leicester, Worcester county, a tax of $180 is assessed upon dogs. The average tax of each town of the Commonwealth, under the new law is probably in the neighborhood of $150, making a total of taxation under this head of $50,000.

A dog tax in New Hampshire, of $1 a head, would be a good thing.

☞ The statistics of trade show, that only a small proportion of those engaged in it make an independent fortune, and more than half of them die with insolvent estates. Still it is not to be denied that trade or speculation affords almost the only chances for becoming rich. The farmer of moderate possessions cannot grow rich by agriculture. But it would be idle to say for this reason that farming is unprofitable.—Trav.

☞ The Paris (Ky.) Flag of the 9th inst., says: "Mr. Redman's negro man Daniel, convicted of the murder of Mr. Curran's negro man George, was to have been hung near this place on Saturday next, has been reprieved. He will be sold out of the State."

☞ Col. Colman, the former stage-agent, celebrated last week, at Newburyport, the fiftieth anniversary of his marriage, when he and his wife were congratulated on their golden wedding by Rev. Dr. Withington and a large company.

☞ The action of the American Tract Society, at its May anniversary, gives much satisfaction to the branch society in South Carolina, which on the first of June unanimously adopted a report and resolutions of approval.

☞ It is now denied that Nena Sahib is accomplished, or that he speaks French or English even tolerably. He has a steward, however, whom he sent to England and France, and who is supposed to have put him up to the revolt by incorrect representations of British impotence.

☞ In Illinois, the Buchanan convention has read Douglas out of the Democratic party. In New Hampshire, Mr. Burke and his friends might read out the State Committee.

☞ New wheat has been sold in Athens, Tenn., for 65 cents per bushel. "Old wheat will hardly command any price."

☞ It is said that the corn and cotton crops of Georgia never looked more flourishing at this season than now.

☞ The New Jersey strawberry crop is likely to be very abundant this year, and the peach crop is promising.

☞ In Boston, on Monday, Wm. H. Pilgston, the clergyman, for larceny of a watch, was sentenced for six months to the common jail.

☞ Miss Maria Mitchell, of Nantucket, the distinguished astronomer, returned home on Saturday last, from Europe, where she has been travelling about a year.

☞ Whole caravans of travellers are said to be leaving Russia, intending to pass the summer in France and Germany.

MYERS' EXTRACT ROCK ROSE is invaluable. It changes the viscid humors, opens the pores of the skin, promotes insensible perspiration, thereby purifying the blood and invigorating the system. A free use of this medicine, in the spring months, will not only cure all diseases caused by impurities of the blood, but will beget a healthy action and prepare the system to resist the attacks of fevers, derangement of the bowels, &c, so prevalent in the summer season.

The following remedies are offered to the public as the best, most perfect, to which medical science can afford. AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS have been prepared with the utmost skill which the medical profession of this age possesses, and their effects show they have virtues which surpass any combination of medicines hitherto known. Other preparations do more or less good; but this cures much dangerous complaints, so quick and so surely, as to prove an efficacy and a power to uproot disease beyond any thing which men have known before. By removing the obstructions of the internal organs and stimulating them into healthy action, they renovate the fountains of life and vigor,—health courses anew through the body, and the sick man is well again. They are adapted to disease, and disease only, for when taken by one in health they produce but little effect. This is the perfection of medicine. It is antagonistic to disease, and to nothing else. Tender children may take them with impunity. If they are sick they will cure them, if they are well they will do them no harm.

Give them to some patient who has been prostrated with bilious complaint: see the hues of health, tottering form straighten with strength again; see his long-lost appetite return; see his clammy features blossoms into health. Give them to some sufferer whose foul blood has burst out in scrofula till his skin is covered with sores; who stands, or sits, or lies in anguish. He has been drenched inside and out with every potion which ingenuity could suggest. Give him these PILLS, and mark the effect; see the scabs fall from his body; see the new, fair skin that has grown under them; see the late leper that is clean. Give them to him whose angry humors have planted rheumatism in his joints and bones; move him, and he screeches with pain; he too has been soaked through every muscle of his body with linitments and salves; give him these PILLS to purify his blood; they may not cure him, for, alas! there are cases which no human power can reach; but mark, he walks with crutches now, and now he walks alone; they have cured him. Give them to the lean, sour, haggard dyspeptic, whose gnawing stomach has long ago eaten every smile from his face, and every joy from his body. See his appetite return, and with it his health; see the new man. See her that was radiant with health and loveliness blasted and too early withering away; want of exercise or mental anguish, or some lurking disease, has dwarfed the internal organs of digestion, assimilation or secretion, till they do their office ill. Her blood is vitiated, her health is gone. Give her these PILLS to stimulate the vital principle into renewed vigor, to cast out the obstructions, and infuse a new vitality into the blood. Now look again—the roses bloom on her cheek, and where lately sorrow sat joy bursts from every feature. See the sweet infant wasted with worms. Its wan, sickly features tell you without disguise, and painfully distinct, that they are eating its life away. Its pinched-up nose, its sore mouth, and restless sleepings, tell the dreadful truth in language which every mother knows. Give it the PILLS in large doses to sweep these vile parasites from the body. Now turn again and see the ruddy bloom of childhood. Is it worth your care to save such? Why, are they not the marvel of this age? And yet they are done around you every day

Have you the less serious symptoms of these distempers, they are the easier cured. Jaundice, Costiveness, Heartburn, Sidesche, Heartburn, Foul Stomach, Nausea, Pain in the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, King's Evil, Neuralgia, Gout, and kindred complaints all arise from the derangements which these PILLS rapidly cure. Take them perseveringly, and under the counsel of a good Physician if you can; if not, take them judiciously by such advice as we give you, and the distressing, dangerous diseases they cure, which afflict so many millions of the human race, are cast out like the devils of old—they must burrow in the brutes and in the sea. Price three cents per box—5 boxes for $1.

Through a trial of many years and through every nation of civilized men, AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has been found to afford more relief and to cure more cases of pulmonary disease than any other remedy known to mankind. Cases of apparently settled consumption have been cured by it, and thousands of sufferers who were deemed beyond the reach of human aid have been restored to their friends and usefulness, to sound health and the enjoyments of life, by this all-powerful antidote to diseases of the lungs and throat. Hence it has settled on the lungs. The dry, hacking cough, the glassy eye, and the pale, thin features of him who was lately lusty and strong, whisper to all but him CONSUMPTION. He tries every thing; but the disease is gnawing at his vitals, and shows its fatal symptoms more and more over all his frame. He is taking the CHERRY PECTORAL now; it has stopped his cough and made his breathing easy; his sleep is sound at night; his appetite returns, and with it his flesh. The wasting fever which pierced his side is broken. Scarcely any neighborhood can be found which has not some living trophy like this to shadow forth the virtues which have won for the CHERRY PECTORAL an imperishable renown. But its sphere is not with cure alone. Ayer's accomplishes more by prevention than cure. The countless colds and coughs which it cures are the seed which would have ripened into a dreadful harvest of incurable diseases. Influenza, Croup, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Pleurisy, Whooping Cough, and all irritation of the throat and lungs are easily cured by the CHERRY PECTORAL if taken in season. Every family should have it by them, and they will find it an invaluable protection from the insidious prowler which derives off the purest sheep from many a flock, the darling lamb. Give many a home.

Authenticated evidence of these facts, with directions for the treatment of each complaint, may be found in Ayer's American Almanac, of which we publish three millions, and scatter them broadcast over the earth, in order that the sick everywhere may have before them the information it contains. Druggists and dealers in medicine generally have them for distribution gratis, and also for sale these remedies, prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER, Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all prizes have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, and orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number to each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $100 to $50,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the Boston Brick Manufacturing Co. lottery, is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Savannah Georgian, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & CO., Augusta, Georgia.

Prizes paid in full, in lawful money, without any deduction, or percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m18 1y

A PROCLAMATION
TO THE LADIES.

WHEREAS, it appears that the days of right, honor, and integrity are fast fading away, and WHEREAS, the unscrupulous and ignorant are daily taking advantage of the credulity of the learned. BE IT KNOWN THEREFORE, to all, whether MAIDS, WIVES, OR WIDOWS, that DR. CHESEMAN'S FEMALE PILLS are about the certain panacea for all the troubles incident to our sex, such as labor, ganization; they ALONE correcting all painful menstruation, assuaging palpitations of the heart, disturbed sleep, pain in the side, and securing health and happiness to whole sex; more especially to the MARRIED PORTION, as they are certain to bring on the monthly period with regularity.—AND WHEREAS, these PILLS are purely vegetable and entirely free from mineral's, therefore perfectly harmless in their operations and wholly unlike other female pills offered upon the public, purporting to effect the objects already detailed. THEREFORE, BE IT KNOWN, that NOTHING but the said PILLS of Dr. CHESEMAN will accomplish the desired object, which many females have been experienced under the regime of OTHER PILLS; and the Ladies will cause this Proclamation to spread amongst them, to their now overjoying benefit—always promising that said Proclamation in one case must be considered NULL AND VOID; that is to say the PILLS MUST NOT be taken when any female is in an INTERESTING SITUATION, otherwise a MISCARRIAGE will be the inevitable result.

Explicit directions, to be carefully read, accompany each box. Price $1. Sent by mail on enclosing $1 to Dr. CORNELIUS L. CHESEMAN, Box No. 4531, Post Office, New York City. Sold by Druggists in every town in the United States.

Given under my hand and seal.

LOANS AND DEBTS.—In Congress, as per the Atlas, on the day before the adjournment took place, Mr. Buchanan came rapping at the door of the House for another loan, and praying Congress not to go away without giving him power to borrow fifteen millions of dollars, for unless this power was given and the loan negotiated, his administration would be on short commons before December, and there would not be a stiver in the Treasury. This is the third loan of the session. First was an issue of Treasury notes to the amount of twenty millions; the second was an absolute loan of fifteen millions, and the third is merely ditto to number two. The entire amount of debt incurred during the last six months, which the people will have to pay, is exactly fifty millions of dollars—a very respectable sum, and not to be picked up in the street every day.

The Telegraph yesterday morning announced that the entire appropriations made during the session will in the aggregate amount to upwards of eighty millions of dollars. Think of that, tax payers, by an economical administration, with an "economical" majority in each house of Congress.

The following is a correct copy of the resolutions passed by the Senate:—

Resolved (as the judgment of the Senate,) That American vessels on the high seas, in time of peace, bearing the American flag, remain under the jurisdiction of the country to which they belong, and therefore any visitation, molestation, or detention of such vessels by forces, or by the exhibition of force, on the part of a foreign Power, is in derogation of the sovereignty of the United States.

Resolved, That the recent and repeated violations of this immunity, committed by vessels-of-war belonging to the navy of Great Britain, in the Gulf of Mexico, and the adjacent seas, by firing into, interrupting, and otherwise forcibly detaining them in their voyage, requires, in the judgment of the Senate, such unequivocal and final disposition of the subject, by the governments of Great Britain and the United States, touching the right involved, as shall preclude hereafter the occurrence of such aggressions.

Resolved, That the Senate fully approves the action of the Executive in sending a naval force into the infested seas, with orders "to protect all vessels of the United States on the high seas from search or detention by the vessels-of-war of any other nation." And it is the opinion of the Senate, that, if it become necessary, such additional legislation should be supplied in aid of the Executive Power as will make such protection effectual.

President Buchanan was suffering on Wednesday from severe indisposition, the nature of which we do not learn.

EXAGGERATED REPORTS OF OUTRAGES—Washington June 16.—The Charleston Courier's Key West correspondent says, that Pym asserts that the reports of outrages on American vessels are much exaggerated, and in many instances false.—The seizure of the Cortez was the grossest exaggeration. The captain of that vessel, when overhauled, threw his flag into the sea, and declared himself a Spaniard. The contraband articles found on board proved her a slaver, and she was accordingly sold as such.

FIRE AT SANBORNTON BRIDGE.—On Monday afternoon a fire broke out in the picker room of the woolen factory owned by Jeremiah Tilton Esq., by which the mill was nearly destroyed. It was a new brick building, and with the machinery and stock destroyed was worth $9000, which is covered by insurance. Thirty hands are thrown out of employ. Six thousand dollars worth of stock was saved.

☞ Mr. Mason, of Somerset, Conn., says that a rat called at his henroop after Chicken for dinner, when, coming within reach of the maternal old bird, she took the rat by the neck, dragged him into the coop and killed him.

A JUSTICE of Peace, seeing a parson on a very stately horse, said he, "you don't follow the example of your great Master, who was humbly content to ride upon an ass." "Why, really, sir," replied the parson, "so many asses have been made bishops, that an honest clergyman can scarcely find one to ride."

"Do you think you are fit to die?" asked a mother of her neglected child. "I don't know," said the little girl, taking off her dirty dress with her dirty fingers, and inspecting it. "I guess so, if I aren't too dirty!"

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837,)
No. 76 State st, opp. Kilby st, Boston.
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Research made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability or utility of inventions, which are not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove this MORE SUCCESSFUL, THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved to inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
From the present Commissioner.
AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,

FIRE IN BOSTON.—The Boston Traveller of last evening says:—

The fire in Ann street, which we mentioned in our last edition, was the most extensive one that has occurred in the city for many months. It was discovered in the upper part of the building, and had made considerable headway before it was discovered. The building was occupied by Mr. Ezra Ames, as a sash and door manufactory, and was owned by Mr. Ezra Ames, Mr. Thomas Ames, and Mr. Thomas Ames, Jr. The building was valued at $8000, and was insured for $4000. The loss on the building will be about $4000. The loss on the stock will be about $2000, and was insured for $1

From the Portsmouth Journal.

McNULTY GIVEN UP.—Caleb McNulty, confined in N. H. State Prison, for burglary in Dover, has been given up on the requisition of the Governor of Massachusetts, to be tried in that State for the murder of officer Hodsdon, in Boston, last winter, and on Tuesday he was conveyed from Concord to Boston. There is no State law which allows the Executive of New Hampshire to make such transfer of a criminal who is undergoing the penalty for a crime committed in our own State. The transfer was made under the law of the United States regulating the transfer of fugitives from one State to another. If McNulty is not found guilty of the offence with which he is charged in Massachusetts he will go free. He cannot be brought back to our State prison to serve out his unexpired three years term. He, however, was much opposed to being removed to Massachusetts before his term here expired, as the extension of time, giving an opportunity for witnesses to die, &c., he coolly calculated to be in his own favor.

SHADE TREES.—The bill introduced by Mr. Brown, which will probably pass our Legislature, gives the city liberty to appropriate annually a sum not exceeding 25 cents to each rateable poll, for the purpose of setting out trees, under direction of the Mayor.

CITY COUNCIL.

On Thursday evening, June 17th, the Board of Aldermen amended the appropriation bill as it came from the Common Council, by restoring the several appropriations to the sums recommended by the committee on Finance. [The other board had taken off $1000 from the appropriation for schools, and also reduced several other items, amounting in all to a reduction of $2600.]

The Common Council non-concurred in the amendments.

The Aldermen adhered, and asked a committee of conference.

The committee on the petition for widening Vaughan street, from Mr. Gray's residence, reported adversely.

A committee reported that $650 would be the appropriation for repairing the Court House.—Accepted.

The City Marshal was directed to close the Bowling Alley on Hanover Street.

Fifth of July.—Voted, that a gun for each State be fired in the morning and at evening—and at noon a gun for each of the original States.

CITY ORDINANCE. No. 61.
An Ordinance relating to FIRE POLICE.

Be it ordained by the City Council of the City of Portsmouth:

SEC. 1. The Mayor and Chief Engineer of the Fire Department are hereby authorized to accept the services of a voluntary company of Fire Police, to be subject to the regulations in this ordinance prescribed, provided such company shall be fully organized with proper and competent officers, and with a badge to distinguish the members when on duty, to the acceptance of the Mayor and Chief Engineer; and provided the service of such company shall always be rendered free of all charge to the city.

SEC. 2. Said company shall repair to the place of every fire, and report to the Chief Engineer; and, under his direction, shall attend diligently to the preservation of the public peace, the removal and protection from loss and destruction of property, and the prevention of thefts; and are authorized and required to execute all orders communicated to them through their officers from the Chief Engineer.

SEC. 3. Said company shall not in any way interfere with the duties of the regular Police.

Passed May 20, 1858.

JOHN BENNETT, City Clerk.

The N. Y. Commercial Advertiser says that "the session of Congress just concluded presents scarcely any topic deserving special remark. Its action has been feeble and negative. All its force was apparently expended upon the fruitless attempt to force the Lecompton Constitution for Kansas through its two Houses, with a result which must have proved anything but satisfactory to those who managed it. The appropriations which have been made, however, will probably be the subject of much comment, when their magnitude becomes known. It is probable that from sixty millions to seventy millions of dollars of debt have been imposed upon the country by the appropriations made during the first session of the thirty-fifth Congress. Should this prove to be the case, we may look for a little more sobriety in this respect at the next session."

The English Minister at Washington has received despatches from the British Admiral of the W. I. Squadron, disavowing the recent acts of visitation, and declaring that the guilty officers would be held to a strict account. The secret of the recent increased zeal of British cruisers, may be accounted for, in part at least, by their late seizure on the north side of Matanzas, of the largest and richest prize ever captured in the slave trade,—a full rigged and fast sailing ship of 650 tons, with equipment, provisions, and 2250 ounces of gold—some $30,000 to $40,000; the hope of finding like prizes may have stimulated the W. I. Squadron to this vexatious search. From the much that has been said of coolie emigration and the apprentice system, they probably have inferred that all our Gulf commerce is engaged in the traffic. The most successful case of "boarding" lately reported, is from an American ship, bound for Australia, by a British transport. At a mark of respect, the American dipped her ensign; this brought a boat with a number of officers from the transport, who were regaled on board—and, on leaving, were honored by the band with "Yankee Doodle" and "God save the Queen." At night, anxious to prolong the civilities, signal rockets were sent up and blue lights burned by each. Such "visits" will never involve the countries in war.

SATURDAY, JUNE 19, 1858.

LETTER FROM KENSINGTON.

KENSINGTON, June 8th.

Messrs. Editors:—Dr. Young says, "We take no note of time but from its loss." He did not receive the Weekly Chronicle with unvarying punctuality, or live where winter steps a piece into summer. Is the good Dr. a favorite of yours? "I love an author who converges the rays of thought until they turn in a focus," says the gifted Channing. Probably a point of his own intellectual greatness arose from this fact. I wonder preachers of the present day do not study Young to learn to condense. How many thoughts and arguments he crowds into a few lines? I confess to being weary of a sermon of an hour's length, half or two-thirds taken up with propositions and illustrations that require ten minutes, leaving no time for the application of the subject or the enforcement of the duties growing out of it. And then the irreverent hurrying of the closing prayers. If it were not for the example, I should rather stay at home and read Johnny Bunyan and the Comprehensive Commentary.

Some preachers, too, seem to talk to the Supreme Ruler of the universe as if they were his privy councillors; and others as if he were a school-boy acquaintance. All such should be requested to preach from that text in Solomon which enjoins it upon mortals to "remember that God is in heaven and they upon earth," and commands them not to be rash in uttering anything before him. Fenelon, Catholic as he was, said he "loved divines who preached to save men's souls, and not to show themselves." I wonder what he would say to the whiskers and moustaches, watch-chains and finger-rings, of the present day? If it is true that "great objects make great minds," we need not expect much, and then we shan't be disappointed.

When the sentiment that "a man is rich or poor, according to what he is," obtains in society, and is acted upon, the millenium will have come. Do you suppose Ward Beecher really dares to act upon it? Horace Greely told the "upper ten" of New York that he should choose his own society. Will Mr. Beecher do so? I never shall forget the look of queer surprise which spread itself over the audience of a village church, when the minister waited upon a plain, coarsely-dressed man to his pew. If I had possessed the pencil of Hogarth, I would have immortalized the scene.

Biddyism is a long story, and a serious as well as comic one. A friend was reckoning the expense of one for a year. Wages $78, board $50, extra fuel, soap, flour, oil, &c., &c., wasted or given away,—$40 more; making the total expense $168. Yet this is better, bad as it is, than to see a mother of a family broken down with care and hard work, as multitudes are. If there was more honor among employers, about getting each other's help away, it would be easier for such as must depend on hired persons to do their work. Too much liberty is allowed and too little interest taken in the Irish population for their good, as well as for the interest of their employers. The account of the operations at Lowell is the experience of families, only on a larger scale. A lady hooked her Biddy's dress for her, and found her skirt turned up, and a quantity of sugar in it, making a good-sized bustle. Of course she "niver took the worth of a penny out of the house before, indade she did not, but her sister was sick, and not a bit of work could her man git."

VERITAS.

FROM EUROPE.—The U. S. mail steamship Vanderbilt, from Southampton 9th inst., arrived off Cape Race on Wednesday morning, and was boarded by the news yacht of the associated press, which arrived at St. John's Thursday.

Later telegraphic advices had been received from India and China. Despatches from the Emperor at Pekin direct the foreign plenipotentiaries to return to Canton.

The political intelligence from Great Britain is of no striking importance.

The insurrection in Candia was spreading. It was rumored that the French minister at Madras had been recalled.

The news from Europe by this steamer was received by the news yacht off Cape Race in six days and ten hours from the time the steamer left Southampton, being more than two days earlier than European news has ever before been received on this side of the Atlantic.

N. H. LEGISLATURE.

WEDNESDAY, June 16.

Dunbarton Election Case.—Mr. Flanders of Nashua, of Committee on Elections, presented the following report.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, June Session, 1858.

The Standing Committee on Elections, to whom was referred the remonstrance of David Tenney and one hundred and twenty others, legal voters of Dunbarton, against the right of Nathaniel H. Wheeler to a seat in this House as Representative from said town, and that Henry L. Burnham was duly elected and entitled to a seat as Representative from said town, as also the petition of David Story, and one hundred and thirty-four others, that said Wheeler may be permitted to retain his seat in this House, have considered the same, and find as follows, to wit: That the check-list of said town contains the names of 272 persons; that the names of 260 of said persons were checked upon said list, as having voted in said Dunbarton on the 9th day of March last. Of these 272 names 12 are not checked and the persons answering to them were not present and did not vote at said meeting. Of the 260 whose names are checked, 130 swear that they gave their votes for Henry L. Burnham, and their testimony is not contradicted. The records of the meeting state the whole number of votes to have been 260, one of which was given for Charles Kimball, 125 for Henry L. Burnham, and 135 for Nathaniel H. Wheeler; but the sorting and counting was managed in such a manner that the officers of said meeting cannot sustain each other in any particular as to the correctness thereof.

That the petition above referred to contains the names of all the persons who voted for Mr. Wheeler at said meeting, except the name of Lucien Holmes, who has gone to sea, and this is made up by the name of Dudley Follansbee who did not vote for Mr. Wheeler. Of those 135 six are on said check-list, but not checked, and did not vote, leaving only 129 who voted for Mr. Wheeler.

We further find that Benajmin Gross, Anson C. Coult, and George A. Badger were, at the time of said meeting, citizens of Dunbarton and legally entitled to vote there; but that the selectmen refused to put their names on the check-list. That they each presented to the moderator a vote for Henry L. Burnham for Representative at the proper time and in a proper manner, but their votes were rejected and not counted.

We also find that Joshua Cilley, having a house upon the line of Weare and Dunbarton and mostly in Weare, who by voting in Weare in 1856 and 1857 had chosen that to be his dwelling place, voted in Dunbarton on the 9th of March last for Representative. His name is not among the 130 who swear they voted for Mr. Burnham.

Your Committee have therefore instructed me to report the following resolutions.

J. M. FLANDERS, for Com.

Resolved, That Nathaniel H. Wheeler is not entitled to a seat in this House as Representative from Dunbarton, he having received only a minority of the legal votes cast in said town for Representative at the Annual Election in March last.

Resolved, That Henry L. Burnham, having received a majority of all the legal votes cast for Representative at the Annual Election in Dunbarton on the 9th day of March last, is entitled to a seat in this House as Representative.

A debate ensued, in the course of which Mr. Harriman of Warner made a glowing speech, in which, as per Patriot's report,

You have, said Mr. H., the might to do this wrong, but you have not the right. But he asked no quarter—if mad counsels prevail, let the consequences fall upon your own heads, for the time will surely arrive when the people will rise, and grind to powder the "cabals, cliques and party scullions" that now hold sway in the State.

In the Independent Democrat's report, we read, of Mr. Harriman,—

He said the Democratic party asked no quarter. A day of reckoning was at hand, the people were aroused, and would grind the Republican party to powder, and no bright resurrection from the tomb would await it.

At the close of the debate a motion was made to report, which was negatived—yeas 104; nays 111.

The question recurring on the motion to adopt the resolutions of the majority of the committee, unseating Nathaniel H. Wheeler and giving his seat to Henry L. Burnham, they were adopted by a yea and nay vote, as follows:—yeas, 171; nays, 103.

THURSDAY, June 17.

Mr. Raynes, of Portsmouth, gave notice of a joint resolution directing the Secretary of State to forward to the officers of the Mercantile Library Association of Portsmouth, and the Portsmouth Athenæum, a copy of the laws of this State.

Bill in amendment of the act providing for the building and for keeping in repair of a bridge between Stratham and Newmarket. Passed.

Bill to authorize the city of Portsmouth to set out shade trees, &c. Passed.

Joint resolutions in favor of B. W. Sanborn and George Franklin Dennett. In their third reading.

Mr. Fiske, of Keene, from the Committee to fix a time for the final adjournment of the Legislature, reported a resolution fixing upon Friday, the 25th inst., as the day of adjournment. Adopted.

TOBACCO.—A triple memento mori-dust for the nose, ashes for the mouth, poison for the stomach.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

CONSUMPTION OF THE BLOOD, OR ANÆMIA.
In this common and dangerous disease, the blood loses its vitality, ceases to nourish the system, and to stimulate the organs to healthy activity. The Protoxide of Iron, in the PERUVIAN SYRUP, supplies the deficient element, and the blood receives new life, with a consequent restoration of the bodily vigor, the return of appetite, and the hue of health.

Winship's Patent Upright
Sweeping Refrigerator.

IT is now conceded by physicians that provisions are rendered very unwholesome by being confined in a Refrigerator in which the air is not constantly and effectually changed, and the health of many families has suffered in consequence. The musty and sour smell common to most ice chests is a sure indication of this poisonous and offensive tendency.
This Refrigerator is the only one ever offered that is perfect in ventilation, and in so scientific yet simple a manner that Prof. Silliman has introduced a description of it in his new work on Natural Philosophy as the best illustration ever practically tested of perfect ventilation.
The temperature is always uniform.
The air never becomes stagnant.
There is no waste of ice.
The warm air cannot enter upon opening the doors. Access to the ice is had without disturbing the provision chamber.
Articles of different flavors cannot impregnate each other. Milk, delicate fruits, and meats, can be preserved much longer than in any other Refrigerator.
All who value health and pure food are advised to give this article a trial. The cost is about the same as the ice chests, and they are made with panelled sides and top, and tastefully grained.

STREET GRADINGS.

Messrs. Editors:—I beg leave to call attention to the praiseworthy endeavors of our Street Commissioner in removing the dirt from our streets. It has hitherto been customary to allow everything to remain, and, when any part of a street got too high, to heap up the rest to match it. By this continual hauling in of gravel, from time to time, to fill up places where the water stood, instead of removing the accumulations which dammed it up and made it stand, the sidewalks in various parts of the city have been flooded and obliged to be raised, much to the inconvenience of real estate owners, obliging them to stop up or reduce cellar windows, rendering their houses lower, their windows more liable to be looked into, the tops of the fences less high, etc.; all without the slightest compensation, to say nothing of the expense thereby caused to city and individuals—all to keep the streets from rising over the sidewalks!

In some newly settled towns, after stores and houses are built, it is decided to raise whole streets in order to get the water off, and the buildings (as in San Francisco and Chicago) have to be raised by hydraulic power, at great expense. Such cases are justifiable, but our town was fortunately built on gentle slopes where the waters get into ponds and rivers, at once, if unobstructed by accumulations of matter that ought to be removed.

The origin of this constant hauling in of gravel is that country roads are necessarily repaired in this manner. If they gradually rise no harm is done—indeed it is as well and sometimes better that they should rise. But with streets bordered by sidewalks the case is far different. In most European countries the unpaved highways are scraped after every heavy rain storm, it being found that the dirt is more manageable when wet; and no gravel is hauled in till the grade of the street actually requires it.

To sum up the whole matter, however perfect the grade of improved streets may be, every heavy storm must deposit a large quantity of wash (or alluvium) at the lower points, and unless this is removed, successive deposits of this kind gradually form a dam behind which water stands, and mudholes form. Which is the cheaper, to fill up the whole street, or to remove the dam? This dam (or alluvium) is said to be of use to farmers and gardeners, who would gladly remove it at trifling cost to the city, thereby saving the carting and spreading of gravel and the gradual exhaustion of the gravel pits.

COMMON SENSE.

POLICE COURT.

FRIDAY, June 18.

Before Justice Odell.—John Goodrich was charged with placing and leaving, on the 1st day of June, a certain carriage called a Truck, in Market street, contrary to the city ordinance. This case was continued to the last Monday in June.

[The action was brought to test the validity of the city ordinance creating a truck stand in a street, in front of stores—and the witnesses for the defence are owners and occupants of stores in Bow street, to which place the city council had ordered the truck stand to be removed. The owner of property there consider it a nuisance, and have threatened to prosecute the truckmen if they removed thither.]

Hoyt for the city—W. H. Y. Hackett for the defence.

Charles H. Preston, a minor, was accused of stealing from Joseph H. Clark of this city, a large number of gold rings, watch keys, brooches, and other jewelry and fancy articles, on the 17th of June. Plea not guilty. Held to bail in $800, with two sureties. Mittimus issued.

☞ At an adjourned meeting of the Universalist Society in this city on Thursday evening, the Committee of Ways and Means having made a favorable report, it was resolved to make the proposed repairs and remodeling of their church, so as to increase the number and improve the comfort of the pews. The expense is to be about $3000.—The house was built in 1807, and dedicated Jan. 1808.—The pews on the lower floor have remained without change.—Those in the gallery have been built within a few years.

☞ An old friend may be seen in a new place. Reuben Randall, the old fisherman, it will be seen has re-opened the North End Fish Market,—where he hopes to find a piece of money in every fish's mouth, if it is there;—or if it is not there, at least to get a piece from every man before he puts the fish in his mouth. The latter alternative is the more probable, for tho' he may not be able to work miracles, he can hold on to the fish with one hand till he gets the money in the other.

VALUABLE INTELLIGENCE.—The N. H. Gazette of June 19 tells us:—

The ale manufactured by M. Fisher & Co. of this city, is one of the most healthy and agreeable drinks that can be found.—We have a half barrel of it on tap, and speak whereof we know.

The same paper, in the same column, speaking of Gov. Haile's visit to the Navy Yard, with other gentlemen, says:—

They returned to the city, via the Piscataqua Bridge, highly delighted with their visit.

There must be some "Invigorating Beverage" in that paragraph.

☞ The union prayer meetings in this city are still attended each morning,—and on the two fair mornings of this week by good numbers.

The meeting this morning is at the Chapel in Fleet street.

On Sunday morning it is to be in the Middle street Church, at half-past 8.

On Monday and through the week at the Fleet st. Chapel, at quarter to 8.

☞ The Middle Street Sabbath School Concert will be held in the Chapel on Sabbath evening next at half past seven.

☞ The New Orleans Burlesque Opera Troupe have given two concerts here, excellent of their kind—and announce the last for this (Saturday) evening. All lovers of such music and such fun, should hear them—for they are hard to beat.

☞ The Rockingham Weekly Chronicle, containing a summary of the news of the week, this day published, and for sale at the Chronicle Counting Room; price 3 cts. each. $1 per year, in advance.

OXYGENATED BITTERS.—Each successive day brings new evidence of its efficacy, until its present position is the enviable one of being far in advance of all preparations ever offered for the cure of Dyspepsia and Asthma. A.

"A Prophet is not without honor, save in his own country," is often quoted derisively with reference to various articles in our advertising columns. That one of them does not come under that head may be seen from the following. HEIMSTREET'S HAIR COLORING has a most extensive sale. Boxes of it are sent to Maine, the Cape of Good Hope, to California, Oregon and all the Western and Southern States, many gross each year being sent to Texas. In our city Hagan & Co. have retailed six dozen in a week, and their average retail sales of it are from three to five dozen a week. That is sufficient to show the estimation in which it is held at home.—[Troy Times.

Myers' Extract of Rock Rose is highly spoken of by all who have used it. Try it.

Ship Midnight, Hatch, at Calcutta April 29th, was leaky when she arrived, but as she has discharged the leak has abated; hence, it is inferred, that it must have been above her copper.

FROM UTAH.—St. Louis, June 17.—A despatch from St. Joseph dated the 15th inst., per U. S. express to Boonville, says the Salt Lake mail was seventeen days and a half on the way, bringing Camp Scott dates to May 29. At the last accounts Capt. Marcy was on the Cherokee trail two hundred miles from Fort Bridger.—Col. Hoffman had reached Big Sandy Creek, seventy-five miles from Fort Bridger. The Mormons were all leaving the valley and going to a place named Puverst, forty miles from the city, where it is said they intend fortifying themselves against further molestation.

Gen. Johnston would leave for Salt Lake City as soon as provisions reached him, independent of the arrival of Capt. Marcy.

WASHINGTON June 17.—Among the postmasters confirmed by the Senate, are the following:—Charles Nutter at Saco, Me.; Wm. M. Ladd at Claremont, N. H.

Augustus Jenkins was confirmed as Collector at Portsmouth, N. H.

The Secretary of the Navy will this week take up the subject of the construction of the eight vessels of war recently authorized, that they may be put under way as soon as practicable. Members of Congress from the districts in which there are Navy Yards, are earnestly pressing their claims.

The President's health being somewhat improved, he is attending to business. At noon to-day he gave an audience to the members of Congress on the eve of leaving the city.

SCHOLAR.—A diver for pearls, who generally loses his breath before he gathers much treasure.

Wolfe's Celebrated Scheidam Aromatic
SCHNAPPS.

This medicinal beverage is manufactured by the proprietor, at Scheidam, Holland, expressly for medicinal use, by a process peculiar to his own Factory. It is the pure Tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, whose more vinous extract is distilled and rectified with its spirituous solvent, which thus becomes a concentrated tincture of exquisite flavor and aroma, altogether, transcendant in its cordial and medicinal properties to any alcoholic stimulant now made in the world. It is now prescribed by more than 5,000 physicians in the United States, in cases of Gravel, Gout, Dropsy, and Bladder and Kidney Complaints.

Put up in Quart and Pint Bottles, in cases of one dozen qts., and cases of two dozen pts., and for sale by all Druggists and Country Merchants.

YES, YOU MAY
USE or recommend HEIMSTREET'S INIMITABLE HAIR COLORING, and find it to be all its proprietors claim for it. Do you doubt it?
READ! READ!! READ!!!
SCHODOR LAKE, Essex Co., N.Y., }
June 3, 1856. }
W. E. HAGAN, Troy, N. Y.—Dear Sir: Having used your Hair Coloring and Restorative, and having much pleased with it, I take pleasure in making the following statement. From the effects of a very severe fit of sickness when about eighteen years of age my hair commenced turning grey, and so continued to grow until it became perfectly white, being very harsh and coarse. Last Summer I had reached my fifty-third year, when I was induced by a friend to purchase two bottles of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, prepared by you. I commenced using it according to directions, and in a few days was surprised to find that my hair from the roots outwards was turning back to its original color. It so continued to grow until it was as truly brown and glossy as it was in youthful days, and is now fully restored to its original color. MYLE SEAMAN.
Essex Co. ss: Myle Seaman came before me and was duly sworn, and says that the above statement is true, this 8th day of Feb., 1856.
JOEL F. PATTEN, Justice of the Peace.

PITTSFORD, Vt., Aug. 1, 1857.
I hereby certify that my having become quite grey, I used Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, (prepared by W. E. Hagan, of Troy, N. Y.,) for four weeks, and my hair was in that time restored to its original color. I can fully recommend the article to be all it claims. WM. KINGSLEY,
Pastor of the Baptist Church, Pittsford, Vt.

The above are but two of the many letters of recommendation which have been tendered to the proprietor of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring and Restorative. It has been used by hundreds of people, and it never fails to restore the color and growth of hair. This singular effect is produced as when dyes are used; for it acts upon the natural secretions of coloring matter at the roots, and thus effects the change. Beside, the color produced is not a counterfeit, but the natural shade of youth. It does not color the skin. Prepared and sold by W. E. HAGAN & Co., Troy, N. Y.

Joy to the Admirers of
A FINE HEAD OF
RICH GLOSSY HAIR.
Talk of beauty, it cannot exist without a fine head of hair, then read the following, and if you ask more, see circular around each bottle, and no one can doubt.
PROF. WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.—We call the attention of all, old and young, to this wonderful preparation, which turns back to its original color, gray hair—covers the head of the bald with a luxuriant growth—removes the dandruff, itching, and all cutaneous eruptions—causes a continual flow of the natural fluids;—and hence, if used according to directions, for the hair will preserve its color, and keep it from falling to extreme old age, in all its natural beauty. We call then upon the bald, the gray, or diseased in scalp, to use it; and surely the young will be as they value the flowing locks, or the witching curl, ever be without it. Its praise is upon the tongue of thousands.
The Agent for Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative in New Haven, received the following letter in regard to the Restorative, a few weeks since:
DEAD RIVER, CONN., July 23, 1856.
Mr. Leavenworth—Sir: I have been troubled with dandruff or scurf on my head for more than a year, my hair began to come out, scurf and hair together, I saw in a New York paper, about "Wood's Hair Restorative" as a cure. I called at your store on the 1st of April last, and purchased one bottle to try it, and I found to my satisfaction it was the thing; it removed the scurf and new hair began to grow, it is now two or three inches in length where it was all off. I have great faith in it. I wish you to send me six bottles more by Mr. Post, the bearer of this. I don't know as any of the kind is used in this place, you may have a market for any bottles after it is known here. Yours with respect, Alfred Tyler.
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9, 1856.
PROF. WOOD—Dear Sir: Your Hair Restorative is proving itself beneficial to me. The frost, and also the back part of my head almost lost its covering—in fact BALD. I have used but two half pint bottles of your Restorative, and now the top of my head is well studded with a promising crop of young hair, and the front is also receiving its benefit. I have tried other preparations without any benefit whatever. I think from my own personal recommendation, I can induce many others to try it. Yours respectfully,
D. R. THOMAS, M. D., No. 464 Vine street.
VINCENNES, IA., June 22, 1858.
PROF. O. J. WOOD: As you are about to manufacture and vend your recently discovered Hair Restorative, I will state, for whomsoever it may concern, that I have used it and known others to use it—that, I have, for several years, been in the habit of using other Hair Restoratives, and that I find yours vastly superior to any other I know. It entirely cleanses the head of dandruff, and with one month's proper use will restore any person's hair to the original youthful color and texture, giving it a healthy, soft and glossy appearance, and all this, without discoloring the hands that apply it, or the dress on which it drops. I would, therefore, recommend its use to every one desirous of having a fine color and texture to hair.
Respectfully yours, WILSON KING.

The following remedies are offered to the public as the best, most perfect, which medical science can afford. AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS have been prepared with the utmost care that the combined skill of the profession of this age possesses, and their effects show they have virtues which surpass any combination of medicines hitherto known. Other preparations do more or less good; but this cures such dangerous maladies, so quick and so surely, as to prove an efficacy and a power to cure disease beyond any thing which men have known before. By removing the obstructions of the internal organs and stimulating them into healthy action, they renovate the fountains of life and vigor,—health courses anew through the body, and the sick man is well again. They are adapted to disease, and disease only, for when taken by one in health they produce but little effect. This is the perfection of medicine. It is antagonistic to disease, and no more. Tender children may take them with impunity. If they are sick they will cure them, if they are well they will do them no harm.

Give them to some patient who has been prostrated with bilious complaint: see his bent-up, tottering form straighten with strength again; see his long-lost appetite return; see the yellow features blossom into health. Give them to some sufferer whose foul blood has burst out in scrofula till his skin is covered with sores; who stands, or sits, or lies in anguish. He has been drenched inside and out with every potent remedy which man could suggest. Give him these PILLS, and mark the effect; see the scabs fall from his body; see the new, fair skin that has grown under them; see the late leper that is clean. Give them to him whose angry humors have planted rheumatism in his joints and bones; move him, and he screeches with pain; he too has been soaked through every muscle of his body with liniments and salves; give him these PILLS to purify his blood; they may not cure him, for, alas! there are cases which no mortal power can reach; that mark, he has walked with crutches now, and now he walks alone; they have cured him. Give them to the lean, sour, haggard dyspeptic, whose gnawing stomach has long ago eaten every smile from his face and every muscle from his body. See his appetite return, and with it his health; see the new man. See her that was pale and faint with health and loveliness blasted and too early withering away; want of exercise or mental anguish, or some lurking disease, has deranged the internal organs of digestion, assimilation or secretion, till they do their office ill. Her blood is vitiated, her health is gone. Give her these PILLS to stimulate the vital principle into renewed vigor, to cast out the obstructions, and infuse a new vitality into the blood. Now look again—the roses blossom on her cheek, and where lately sorrow sat joy bursts from every feature. See the sweet infant wasted with worms. Its wan, sickly features tell you without disguise, and painfully distinct, that they are eating its life away. Its pinched-up nose and ears, and restless sleepings, tell the dreadful tale in language which every mother knows. Give it the PILLS in large doses to sweep these vile parasites from the body. Now turn again and see the ruddy bloom of childhood. Is it nothing to do these things? Nay, are they not the marvel of this age? And yet they are done every day by AYER'S PILLS.

Have you the less serious symptoms of these distempers, they are the easier cured. Jaundice, Costiveness, Headache, Sideache, Heartburn, Foul Stomach, Nausea, Pain in the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, Dizzy Fell, Neuralgia, Gout, and kindred complaints all arise from the derangements which these PILLS rapidly cure. Take them perseveringly, and under the counsel of a good Physician if you can; if not, take them judiciously by such advice as we give you, and the distressing, dangerous diseases they cure, which afflict so many millions of the human race, are cast out like the devils of old—they must burrow in the brutes and in the sea. Price 25 cents per box—5 boxes for $1.

Through a trial of many years and through every nation of civilized men, AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS have been found to afford more relief and to cure more cases of pulmonary disease than any other remedy known to mankind. Cases of apparently settled consumption have been cured by it, and thousands who were deemed beyond the reach of human aid have been restored to their friends and usefulness, to sound health and the enjoyments of life, by this all-powerful antidote to diseases of the lungs and throat. Here a cold had settled on the lungs. The dry, hacking cough, the glassy eye, and the pale, thin face, gave him who was lately lusty and strong, whisper to all but him CONSUMPTION. He tries every thing; but the disease is gnawing at his vitals, and shows its fatal symptoms more and more over all his frame. He is taking the CATHARTIC PECTORAL now; it has stopped his cough and made his breathing easy; his sleep is sound at night; his appetite returns, and with it his strength. The dart which pierced his side is broken. Scarcely any neighborhood can be found which has not some AYER PILL trophy like this to shadow forth the virtues which have won for the CHERRY PECTORAL an imperishable renown. But its usefulness does not end here. Nay, it accomplishes more by prevention than cure. The countless colds and coughs which it cures are the seed which inevitably would ripen into a dreadful harvest of incurable diseases. Influenza, Croup, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Pleurisy, Whooping Cough, and all irritations of the throat and lungs are easily cured by the CHERRY PECTORAL if taken in season. Every family should have it by them, and they will find it an invaluable protection from the insidious prowler which carries off the parent sheep from many a flock, the darling lamb from many a home.

Authenticated evidence of these facts, with directions for the treatment of every complaint, may be found in Ayer's American Almanac, of which we publish three millions, and scatter them broadcast over the earth, in order that the sick every where may have before them the information it contains. Druggists and dealers in these medicines generally have them for distribution gratis, and also for sale these remedies, prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER, Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings and everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to order prizes in the Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize; whole tickets $1; halves, 55; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and we so simplify that matter that we do not number them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. A PROCLAMATION

TO THE LADIES.

WHEREAS, it appears that the days of right, honor, and fair dealing are almost gone by, and WHEREAS, the unscrupulous and ignorant are daily taking advantage of the profound and learned. BE IT KNOWN THEREFORE, to all, whether sane, or insane, WITH THE DR. CHESEMAN'S FEMALE PILLS are alone the certain panacea for the troubles incident to female disorganization, such as irregular, painful and scanty menstruation, causing palpitations of the heart, disturbed sleep, pain in the side, and causing health and happiness to whole sex; more especially to the married women, they are particular to bring on the monthly period with regularity.—AND WHEREAS, these PILLS are purely vegetable and perfectly harmless in their operations and wholly unlike other medicines thrust upon the public, purporting to effect the objects already detailed: THEREFORE, BE IT KNOWN, that none but the said PILLS of DR. CHESEMAN will accomplish the desired object, when DISAPPOINTMENT has been experienced under PRETENDED OR THE REAL PILLS; and the Ladies will cause this Proclamation to spread amongst them, to their own everlasting benefit—always remembering that said Proclamation is one considerable of truth, and that you may think that is to say LE PILLS MUST NOT be taken when any female is in an INTERESTING SITUATION, otherwise a MISCARRIAGE will be the inevitable result.

Explicit directions, to be carefully read, accompany each box. Price $1. Sent by mail on enclosing $1 to the Proprietor, Dr. Cheseman, No. 4,581, Post Office, New York City. Sold by Druggists in every town in the United States.

Valuable Real Estate FOR SALE.

THE following Real Estate will be guaranteed by warrantees from heirs and quitclaims from mortgagees and all others having any legal interest in the same:—

The large and commodious mansion, known as THE HILL HOUSE, No. 18 Vaughan st., Portsmouth. Said house, within a few years, has been put in thorough repair, had new chimney, been raised and underpinned (partially with granite), with granite steps in front. It contains a good cellar, basement kitchen, and, on the first floor, a large hall, two handsome front parlors, a large dining room, and a kitchen; on the second floor, the second floor comprises the upper hall and seven chambers. ANOTHER JOHN DEAN AFFAIR.—According to the following from a Dublin letter, the Irish lads who remain at home are quite as smart as those who come to New York and marry rich men's daughters:

"The family of a much respected dignitary, high in the church, and long resident in the neighborhood of Nottinghill, has been thrown into deep distress through the elopement of the youngest daughter with an inferior domestic. The misery occasioned to many amiable individuals by this sad and indiscreet event, is somewhat mitigated by the receipt of a marriage certificate, which was forwarded to Dr. B——, by the bold and ambitious Lothario on Wednesday last. The bride is only recently of age, but entitled to a fortune of £20,000, bequeathed to her by her grandmother, the whole of which is now the property of a husband, whose duty, one little week ago, was to open the doors and let down the steps of that carriage he can now conjointly occupy with his former mistress."

DESTROYED BY A LADY.—Last Friday afternoon, three gentlemen who move in the first circles, and who are among the wealthy people of the neighborhoods in which they reside, were enjoying themselves over a social glass in a liquor shop or saloon in Edgeworth Mass., when they were not only "surprised," but completely dumbfounded by the sudden and unexpected entrance of the wife of one of the party.—The lady was armed with a pistol and heavy club, and immediately, in an authoritative and determined manner, cautioned each one present not to molest or interfere with her in any of her movements; and in less time than is occupied in writing the story, she used her club with so much skill as to demolish all the "implements of the traffic," and set nearly all the liquors running to waste. This work accomplished, the lady quietly returned to her residence.—Boston Journal.

HUNGER DEMONSTRATION IN BUFFALO.—On Monday nearly a thousand laboring men marched to the City Hall in Buffalo, and Mayor Lockwood addressed them. He said the wants of the unemployed would receive the attention of the authorities, and he had no doubt they would all soon find work. This seemed to satisfy the crowd, which then dispersed, with three cheers for the Mayor.

The Canadian 100th Regiment, from which, by the way, there have been many desertions, has received orders to hold itself in readiness to proceed to England by the Canadian mail steamships, and it is understood that a portion of the right wing will leave in the Indian on the 19th instant.

The French Gazette Medicale states that by an accident charcoal has been discovered to be a cure for burns. By laying a piece of cold charcoal upon the burn the pain subsides immediately. By leaving the charcoal on one hour the wound is healed, as has been demonstrated on several occasions. The remedy is cheap and simple, and certainly deserves a trial.

A popular author says—"I have no propensity to envy any one; least of all the rich and great; but if I were disposed to this weakness, the subject of my envy would be a healthy young man, in full possession of his health and faculties, going forth in a morning to work for his wife and children, or bringing them home his wages at night."

LETTER FROM KENSINGTON.

Mr. Pease's romance has quite a pleasant ending. I wonder if the gentlemanly son goes into first society, as the Virginians say. Some twenty years ago a chambermaid in Boston jumped from a window to a shed, to escape from a villainous boarder who entered the room and locked the door after him, putting the key in his pocket. She was taken up and carried to the alms-house, and he went into first society and married into it, for ought I know to the contrary. The widow who kept the house requested him to leave, but she was poor, had little children to support, and did not dare to complain of him.—There were no reporters then, with argus eyes, or it would have been made public immediately. I had it from a good missionary who often visited her. Her name was Mary A. Taylor; his I will withhold, as it is too late to bring him to justice, and he may have friends whose feelings would be wounded needlessly. Probably it is such respectable people that the liquor-dealers of Boston wish to have in their association. "All honorable men," as Shakspeare has it. If they will please to tell us how many thousands a person must be worth, how fine their broadcloth, how costly their gold chains and finger rings must be, perhaps New Hampshire can send them a few honorary members at least.

It seems rum, and not slavery, sold the grave of Washington. Well, they are pretty much of a muchness, as a sailor once expressed it. If he had been worthy of the name of Washington, he would have given it to the nation to be cared for till "time should be no longer." Why not get up a petition praying him to change his name to John Snooks?

I am glad to see you are so well pleased with the Superintendent of your new Custom House. I hope that he will show the world that a poor man can become rich, without being vain or dissipated, and that a Democrat can work for Uncle Sam and be honest. We need such examples just now very much.

Have you seen the cotton and commercial "view" of the Tract Society's action, in the New York Journal of Commerce? They have quite a eulogy on Mr. Adams, who can see a "sunny" side to slavery. I wonder what gave to his optics such wonderful powers of discernment? It surely could not be charity, if his treatment of Mr. Fairfield is a specimen of the man.—From that I judged he would make a good Spanish inquisition. How his people would ever receive the sacramental cup at his hands, after such a manifestation as he then made to the "outside barbarians," was more than I could tell; and I do not think I am alone in my opinion, either. I should like to hear him preach from the words "Remember them that are in bonds, as bound with them." Don't you think it would be edifying?

I am glad the widow of Capt. Herndon is likely to get something from government. Every one whose friends were lost in that unseaworthy vessel, ought to present their claims to government, and have them can celled at once. I hope you will urge it until it is done. Such a bare-faced piece of imposition should not be suffered to pass. It was well known that she could not get a passenger if the name of the ship was shown, and so they changed it. Any officer in the Navy, one would have supposed, would have examined and escaped her.—But danger makes men daring; and then so much is left on trust or taken for granted or is nobody's business, that it is hard to tell where the blame lies; but one thing is certain, each individual loser has a claim on government, and I sincerely hope they will unite and get it. Probably most are poor, and it would be an act of humanity in editors to call attention to it. I doubt not you will be ready to do so; please ask your brethren of the press to do the same, and may the blessing of many ready to perish be upon you. VERITAS.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, opp. Kilby st, Boston.
AFTER extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remmitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for personal services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
From the present Commissioner.
AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the laws and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,

AS A SPRING MEDICINE
MYERS' EXTRACT ROCK ROSE is invaluable. It changes the viscid humors, opens the pores of the skin, promotes insensible perspiration, thereby purifying the blood and invigorating the system. A free use of this medicine, in the spring months, will not only cure all diseases caused by impurities of the blood, but will beget a healthy action and prepare the system to resist the attacks of fevers, derangement of the bowels, &c, so prevalent in the summer season.

Morning Chronicle.

TUESDAY, JUNE 22, 1858.

Country Correspondence.

THE OLD ACADEMIES.

Away in the south-westerly part of our county is a rural township so quiet and so far from most of the lower towns that many almost forget that it is in the county. It is Windham. The population in 1850 was 312, being 70 less than 30 years before.—There is but one church, and that is Presbyterian. Methodists and Unitarians have at times had some preaching. Rev. B. R. Hoyt, long a preacher in the Methodist denomination, now lives in this town. In politics the voters are Republican by a large majority, but last March they voted for Representative a number of times, but did not effect a choice. The civil affairs of the State will go on this year well without one from that town. Next year probably they will be heard.

In 1776 the second Minister was settled. This was Rev. Simon Williams. Then there was not an academy in the State.—Soon Mr. W. opened a private academy, and continued it many years, and fitted a good number of young men for college.

The first Academy in our State that was chartered, was Phillips at Exeter, in 1781. This has flourished ever since, a period of 77 years.

The next that was established was at New Ipswich, in 1789. That now is under the charge of E. T. Quimby, A. M., a native of Danville. He had seven assistants the last term.

In 1790 the third Academy was incorporated. This was at Atkinson. This town is in the south part of the county, next to Haverhill, Mass. Of this Academy, for a time after 1820, Rev. JacobCummings was preceptor. Mr. C. was also preceptor at Hampton, and for ten years, ending in 1834, pastor of the Congregational Church in Stratham. He now resides in Exeter.

But in noticing Atkinson Academy we delight to make honorable mention of John Vose, A. M., long the preceptor. He graduated at Dartmouth College in 1795, and then took charge of this Institution, and continued 21 years. Many fitted for college under his instruction, among them Francis Brown, afterwards President of Dartmouth College.

Mr. Vose, after instructing in this Academy 21 years, in 1820 took charge of Pembroke, and continued till 1831, when he retired to Atkinson to spend the evening of life. He died in 1840, aged 73.

At Pembroke we knew him well as a teacher. He taught us, among other sciences, Astronomy, and we feel grateful for his instruction. He delighted to soar among the stars, and was then preparing a "System of Astronomy," which was published in 1827. He was Senator in the Legislature in 1816, and Representative from Pembroke in 1823. While Representative he spoke on the subject of temperance, and favored a law prohibiting the sale of strong drink. His knowledge was varied and extensive. In 1813 he gave the address before the Rockingham Agricultural Society, held in what is now Derry.—This address was afterwards published.

Success to our academies and our literary men. Success to everything good, including, of course, good newspapers. J. F.

Raymond, 1858.

SCIEN. MAG. IN LONDON.—Mr. Charles Dickens has published a card in consequence of the scandal touching his alleged intimacy with the actress, Amy Sedgwick. The tattler, had it that he gave the actress a bracelet; that she lost it; that the finder sent it to the jeweler who made it; that the jeweler sent it to Mr. Dickens's house; that Mrs. Dickens saw it and said "Charles I wish you would not be so open in these matters;" that he slept that night at a hotel, and has never been home since; that six of the seven children side with the father—the eldest son only going with the mother.

To all this Mr. Dickens says—"I most solemnly declare, then—and this I do both in my own name and in my wife's—that all the lately whispered rumors touching the trouble at which I have glanced are abominably false, and that whosoever repeats one of them after this denial will lie as wilfully and as foully as it is possible for any false witness to lie before Heaven and earth."

☞ W. H. Clemow, of a surveying party in the wilds back of Toronto, was lost on the 3d of May, and wandered about for twenty-four days, when the Indians picked him up and took care of him. He was in a lamentable condition, ragged, haggard and nearly insane, and had subsisted solely on the tea berry, having no means of getting the game that surrounded him.

TRAGEDY ON THE COAST OF AFRICA.—By the Vanderbilt we have the following particulars of a terrible tragedy on the coast of Africa, an account of which was given by the English war steamer Ethiope, Commander Croft, which arrived at Plymouth, England, on the 1st inst.:—"In consequence of information received in Monrovia, Commander Croft left in the Ethiope, on the 14th of April, and on the 15th fell in with the French ship Celia Regina, 420 tons, in the possession of a large number of negroes, who were not able to manage her. After a parley, the second officer of the Ethiope, with part of the crew, went on board, when about 259 of the negroes swam to the shore, where nearly the whole were murdered by the captain of the French ship and natives. It appears that the Celia Regina, which is completely fitted for the slave trade, had been cruising for a month near Cape Palmas, and, under pretence of taking them to a better place, had secured 500 negroes, who were immediately placed between decks, many of them in irons.—When Capt. Simon was on shore at Manna, on the coast of Liberia, and part of the crew in a boat alongside, the negroes procured firearms, and shot all but the doctor and two of the seamen, whom they retained to steer the ship. Capt. Simon came within gunshot several times afterwards, but was not allowed to come on board.—The Celia Regina was towed into Monrovia, where she was left in the possession of the Purser of the Ethiope."

A LONG VOYAGE.—The Newburyport Herald says:—"The old residents of Ward One were not a little surprised on Thursday last, by the advent in their midst of Mr. Peter Fudge, after an absence of forty-six years. It was supposed that he had long been an inmate of the spiritual spheres. In 1812 Mr. Fudge sailed from Newburyport, in a ship belonging to the late Moses Brown, since which time no tidings were had of him until his return. His wife was married twice after his departure, and some years since took her flight through death's vaulted chambers.—Three score and ten years have rolled over the head of the returned wanderer; and now, as the eye dims, and the heart gets old and slow, the lithe limbs stiffen and the sun-burnt locks become thin, the recollection of his birthplace and his boyish sports, all tend to inspire him with a desire to see once more the home of his childhood, ere he falls into that dreamless state that knows no waking."

☞ The brig Leontine, of Salem, Capt. S. Greenlow, from Philadelphia with a cargo of coal, was run into and sunk on Friday night, 10 miles from Highland Light, by U. S. storeship Release, bound for Medina. The captain and crew only had time to jump on board the Release before the brig went down, and lost everything. The barque received no other damage than the loss of the jib-boom. She lay to till morning, and landed the crew of the brig at Nauset Light, where they were kindly cared for by the people.

THE LAW—AND THE PROFITS.—The Newburyport Herald learns that the Georgetown land war, between a gentleman and half a score of his neighbors, which has raged for seven years, and out of which nearly fifty suits have arisen, costing the parties or the commonwealth ten times the value the land—has at last been settled at court by the parties themselves.

☞ Dr. Stone, of the Congregational Journal, says that inquiries have been made of him within a few days by gentlemen from two destitute places, for ministers who have a mind to work for the Lord's poor, and a capacity to live on $300!

HARD ON TOBACCO.—The last North Indiana Conference of the Methodist Church agreed to the following resolution:

Resolved, That no person be admitted as a member of this Conference, who is in the habit of using tobacco in the common way, without an agreement to discontinue the practice.

DIVIDENDS.—The following railroads have declared their dividends for the past six months:

Bos. & Maine, 3 per cent.,	payable	July 1.
Bos. & Prov., 3	"	"	"
Bos. & Wor., 3	"	"	"
Fitchburg 3	"	"	"

Wor. & Nashua, $2 per share		"	July 12.

☞ On Saturday last, in Eliot, we understand that a young woman committed suicide, by taking arsenic—being induced to the act by disappointed love.

☞ Federhen & Co., Boston, have sent us the Atlantic Monthly for July, rich in its devotion to Literature, Art, and Politics,—able in each and all.

LATEST FROM UTAH.—Private authentic advices accompanying Gen. Johnston's despatches from Utah, state that the submission of the Mormons is sullen and unsatisfactory, and notwithstanding all their professions they still hold actual military possession of all the passes.

Washington June 20.—Col. Kane has arrived here, with despatches from Gov Cumming, whom he left at Camp Scott, May 16. They were delivered to the President. Their purport has not officially transpired, but it is ascertained that many of the accounts with which the public mind has been pre-occupied are erroneous and calculated to deceive the country in respect to Utah matters generally. To this fact may be attributed the uncourteous refusal of Col. Kane to communicate with the press. It is understood that Col. Kane denies the truth of the telegraphic announcement from Boonsville, intimating that the army would move on the arrival of the Peace Commissioners, when in fact, Gov. Cumming has requested it to remain where it is until orders shall be received from Washington. Contrary to the reports widely circulated, Col. Kane does not admit that there has been any such want of harmony between Gov. Cumming and Gen. Johnston as would jeopardize the public interests. He speaks in eulogistic terms of Gen. Johnston, and the high state of discipline in which the latter maintains his forces, and of the praiseworthy spirit manifested by the army during the winter.

The friends of the Administration are much pleased with the manner in which he is understood to allude to the conduct of Gov. Cumming, saying that he is deserving of the gratitude of the country. There was great hope in Utah, as elsewhere, that the war was at an end. A peace party had been formed, and was sufficiently strong in time to arrest the march of the Mormon forces against our own, last spring. It was the impression in Utah that Brigham Young, who openly espoused the cause of the United States, would in this respect be able to maintain his position. There was at one time strong opposition to him before emigration was resolved upon, but ever since this feeling of hostility has been subsiding.

FROM HAVANA.—New York, June 20.—steamer Black Warrior, from Havana June 15th, arrived last night.

The coal depot opposite Havana was on fire, and already damaged to to the amount of $100,000. Yellow fever of the most virulent nature was prevailing to an alarming extent. The weather was wet and extremely warm

Steamers Fulton and Water Witch had touched at Cardenas, and resumed their course after the Styx and Buzzard.

The American shipmasters at Havana had called a meeting for the purpose of making arrangements to put their vessels in fitting condition to resist the English cruisers.

It was reported at Havana that a slaver with 900 Africans had been captured on the South side of the Island.

FROM ST. DOMINGO.—New York, June 21.—By an arrival at this port we have news from Port au Platte to the 2d inst.—Up to the time no decisive action had taken place between the troops of Santana and those of Baez. Santana, however, was before St. Domingo city with 7000 men, and only awaited the co-operation of his fleet to make an assault upon the town. Both parties have procured and armed some dozen vessels each, and it was thought probable that the quarrels of the opposing parties might be finally settled by a naval battle of the two squadrons.

THREE DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.—St. Johns, N. F., 21st.—The steamyacht Victoria, Capt. Sluyter, boarded the Royal Mail Steamship Persia, off Cape Race, yesterday, and arrived here this forenoon.

The Atlantic Telegraph fleet took its final departure under sail, from Plymouth, on Thursday, the 20th inst.

Liverpool cotton market dull. Breadstuffs without change.

London money market easy.

THE BRITISH OUTRAGES.—The Tribune correspondent says despatches from England were laid before the Cabinet, Friday. They do not in any substantial form correspond to the expectations of the Administration, or the opinions authorized by Lord Napier's assurance. While they disclaim authority for any offensive acts on the part of the cruisers in the Gulf, and are prepared to make any reparation to that extent, they insist upon the purpose of suppressing the slave trade by determined and effective means. A disposition to exercise the right of visitation in the most acceptable manner is avowed, and to that end Lord Malmsbury expresses his willingness and desire to receive any suggestions from the American government. The unexpected tone of these despatches has made a great impression upon the Cabinet.

A CARD TO THE LADIES.

DR. DUPONCO'S

French Periodical Golden Pills,

FOR FEMALES;

Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity of the Menses.

THESE Pills are nothing new, but have been used by the Doctor for many years, both in France and America, with unparalled success in every case; and he is urged by many thousand ladies who have used them to make the Pills public, for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the proprietor does not take responsibility after the above admonition, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to health; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box.

Price $1. Sold in Portsmouth by JOSEPH H. THACHER, in Dover by Chas. A. Tufts, in Exeter by C. A. Merrill, and in Newmarket by J. A. Prendergast. They will supply dealers at the Proprietor's prices, and also send the Pills to the Ladies (confidentially) by mail to any part of the city or country, on receipt of $1 through the Post Office.

LOCAL.

☞ On Sunday afternoon, at the close of the afternoon service, Rev. Messrs. Medbery, Holmes and Whiting of this city, and two ministers who happened to be here from other places, with a large choir, visited the U. S. ship Portsmouth which lies at the Navy Yard, by the invitation of the commander, who sent his boats for their conveyance.

On board the ship they were courteously received, and a religious service was conducted, of prayer, singing hymns, and appropriate addresses, exhortations, &c.—It was a pleasant call for the visiting party, and we doubt not to the officers and crew of the ship.

☞ On Monday, the U. S. ship Portsmouth was delivered over, in due form, to the Boatswain of the Navy Yard, on which occasion most hearty cheering was given by the crew, for the ship herself, for the Captain and officers, for Uncle Sam, &c. The ship thus goes out of commission, and the sailors come ashore in swarms. They are to be paid on Wednesday:—the land sharks are busy round them now, and will be more so then. Some of the seamen are on their guard against these scoundrels. Some we fear are not. Never could the value of total abstinence from all intoxicating drinks be more plainly seen. In that, in men, and in boarding houses for men, is perfect safety from all such dangers.

But the drinker of any, even the lightest beers or slops in the shops, is liable to drugging—and the victims will be drugged to sleep, and when they wake their money will be gone to swell the purse of the robbers.

TEMPERANCE TEA PARTY.—On Saturday evening, June 19, the Temperance Mutual Improvement Society held their first Tea Party, on the plan so often pursued in Great Britain. The place of their assembly was Academy Hall, which was quite filled with the members of the society, their wives, children, and others.

A better-behaved or happier company we have rarely seen, if ever. There was, in the first place, a substantial and elegant repast, the tea and the usual accompaniments; then there was music by a band of five or six instruments, all played by members; then, singing of glees, odes and ballads, declamation of speeches, reading of poems, &c., also by members in every instance.

The decorum, in the midst of so much that was festive and sportive, by the English and Scottish boys, might serve as a good model for many a party of native Yankees. The prospects of the society for doing good, and of the members for an agreeable social bond of improvement and progress, are most encouraging. There are about 40 active members and about 130 on their peculiar pledge.

☞ A temperance lecture will be delivered in the Academy Hall on Wednesday evening, before the Mutual Improvement Society, by Rev. Lyman Whiting, commencing at a 1-4 before 8 o'clock.

☞ We had a fine shower here, of a few minutes duration, on Sunday night. The rain was accompanied by heavy thunder and vivid lightning. A fine elm was struck, on the premises of T. M. Ball, Esq. and very near his house, which also bears some traces of the subtle but powerful fluid. His house is properly furnished with lightning conductors, over which it passed, almost harmless, to the earth.

☞ The New Orleans Opera Troupe sing at the Temple again, this evening,—and as many as have heard them need not be told that they sing finely. Those who have not, are informed that they are the best Ethiopian singers we have had for a long time.

ROCKINGHAM COUNTY.

At the recent Conference of Congregational and Presbyterian Churches in Rockingham County, held at Raymond June 8 and 9, the condensed Narrative of the State of Religion was drawn up by a committee, of which Rev. Lyman Whiting was chairman, adopted by the Conference, and ordered to be published in the Congregational Journal.

Our record of God's way among our churches the past year, well might, could we do it, be framed into an anthem of praise to the glory of God's grace, in Jesus Christ our Lord. Such a year, these churches never before knew. The joy of angels in heaven over the lost, coming home, and the joy of sinners forgiven among us, has put a new song into the mouth of these churches.

Not a single church in the county, which is in the care of a resident pastor, fails to report more or less experience of God's reviving grace. In some of the churches, great and blessed revivals, by which for a time all the communities around them were moved, have been known. In others, a general concern requiring almost daily meetings for prayer and preaching; and in still others a quickened life in the means already in use; and in all the various measures of interest, some souls awakened and brought to Christ,—is the common account.

In Hampton, Exeter, Portsmouth, North Hampton, Atkinson and other places, a general reviving has been felt, and from upwards of thirty places from which reports have come, all bear witness to some measure of this blessed influence.

In this general animation of religious life, all that grows with and is fed by religion, has shown fresh invigoration.

Sabbath schools, in most instances named, have been fuller and stronger. In Exeter, a Young Men's Christian Association has set out with promising vigor. In Portsmouth, a brethren's prayer meeting has been for a twelve-month, a very conspicuous means for training and animating professors of religion and converts, (males entirely,) in religious work. In some places the children have opened meetings for prayer; which like flower-bordered paths to the gate of mercy, beaten only by the feet of lovely children, cheer us by most grateful promise.

Temperance, too, has got fresh impulse, and though blood-guiltiness is chargeable through the murder of the innocent by drinkers whom we nourish to their crimes, yet in other places the dread soul-and-body-slayer has been effectually driven out.—Venders and drinkers have been converted, not only from the error of their deadly ways in this sin, but some also to the truth as it is in Jesus. In Kensington, a noticeable reform among young men, (inebriates) occurred. In many places marked progress will be the history of temperance, the past year. But in the highest order of results—souls born again,—we, as with tears of gratitude may recount God's ways with us. In Hampton, about eighty in the Congregational church, and seventy in the other churches have found hope. Young men there were stopped in the swift careers of youthful dissipation, and old contentions of brethren, which were like the bars of a castle,—wonderfully pacified.

In Exeter, an awakening, such as has not been known for years, filling day by day their largest sanctuaries for prayer, and more than fifty cases of hope in one church. In Portsmouth, the entire year filled with the labors and experiences of an almost universal interest, from which hundreds are numbered as disciples to Christ; in North Hampton, twelve new household altars, and the heart of the church moved as by the winds of the valley; in Kingston, "the largest church meeting for years," and cases of hope; in Raymond upwards of thirty joined to a before feeble band, by covenant vows; in South Newmarket, alienated disciples returning to Jesus and to covenant duty, with unwonted devotion; in Seabrook, scattered and peeled by wasting contentions till God's people round about have turned in sorrow from them,—even there crowded assemblies for prayer, and several cases of hope; and so in cases too numerous to put in this record. The Kingdom of Christ has come,—"not by might nor by power," (of man,) but by the Sovereign and infinite Spirit of God.

From our desolate places also, come voices which touch our hearts. O, if the family of churches would provide for those of their own house, who are famishing for the bread of life, they would not be so chargeable with denying their faith. Kensington, Newington, Nottingham, East Kingston, and some other places, stretch forth their hands to us for the living bread.—Shall it be given them? Shall it be denied? Northwood, Seabrook, Newmarket and Hampstead, are moving in the selection and settlement, of pastors. "A great longing for a minister" was the report from one of these towns.

* * *

We will not mar our rejoicing, by our mourning over work yet undone and over the unworthiness in all that is done. Our longing unappeased, and our great heaviness of heart for dear ones having no hope, we will pour out in secret places,—but here will we set up this our pillar of memorial, and with hearts flowing in humble, grateful adoration, inscribe on it, "hitherto hath the Lord helped us," and to HIM be the glory.

Winship's Patent Upright

Self-Ventilating Refrigerator.

IT is now conceded by physicians that provisions are rendered very unwholesome by being confined in a refrigerator in which the air is not constantly and effectually changed, and the health of many families has suffered in consequence. The musty and sour smell common to most ice chests is a sure indication of this poisonous and offensive tendency.

This Refrigerator is the only one ever offered that is perfectly ventilated, and in so scientific yet simple a manner that Prof. Silliman has introduced a description of it in his new work on Natural Philosophy as the best illustration ever practically tested of perfect ventilation.

The temperature is always uniform.

The air never becomes stagnant.

There is no waste of ice.

The warm air cannot enter upon opening the doors. Access to the ice is had without disturbing the provision chamber.

Articles of different flavors cannot impregnate each other. Milk, delicate fruits, and meats, can be preserved much longer than in any other Refrigerator.

All who value health and pure food are advised to give this article a trial. The cost is about the same as the ice chests, and they are made with panelled sides and top, and tastefully grained.

SCHNAPPS.

This medicinal beverage is manufactured by the proprietor, at Scheidam, Holland, expressly for medicinal use, by a process peculiar to his own Factory. It is the pure Tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, whose more vinous extract is distilled and rectified with its spirituous solvent, which thus becomes a concentrated tincture of exquisite flavor and aroma, altogether, transcendant in its cordial and medicinal properties to any alcoholic stimulant now made in the world. It is now prescribed by more than 5,000 physicians in the United States, in cases of Gravel, Gout, Dropsy, and Bladder and Kidney Complaints.

YES, YOU MAY

USE or recommend HEIMSTREET'S INVISIBLE HAIR COLORING, and find it to be all its proprietor claims for it. Do you doubt it?

READ! READ!! READ!!!

SCHROON LAKE, Essex Co., N.Y., February 6, 1858.

W. E. HAGAN, Troy, N. Y.—Dear Sir: Having used your Hair Coloring and Restorative, and having been much pleased with it, I take pleasure in making the following statement: From the effects of a very severe fit of sickness when about eighteen years of age my hair commenced turning grey, and to continued to grow until it became perfectly white, being very thick and coarse. Last Summer I had reached my fifty-third year, when I was induced by a friend to purchase two bottles of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, prepared by you. I commenced using it according to directions, and in a few days was surprised to find that my hair from the roots outward was turning back to its original color. It so continued to grow until it was as truly brown and glossy as it was in my youthful days, and is now fully restored to its original color. MYRA SEAMAN.

Essex Co. ss: Myra Seaman came before me and was duly sworn, and says that the above statement is true, this 6th day of Feb., 1858.

JOHN F. PATTEN, Justice of the Peace.

PITTSFORD, VT., Aug. 1, 1857.

I hereby certify that my having become quite grey, I used Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, (prepared by W. E. Hagan, of Troy, N. Y.,) for four weeks, and my hair was in that time restored to its original color. I can fully recommend the article to be all it claims. WM. KINGSLEY.

Pastor of the Baptist Church, Pittsford, Vt.

The above are but two of the many letters of recommendation which have been tendered to the proprietor of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring and Restorative. It has been used by hundreds of people, and it never fails to restore the color and growth of hair. This singular effect is produced as when dyes are used; for it acts upon the natural secretions of coloring matter at the roots, and thus effects the change. Beside, the color produced is not a counterfeit, but the natural shade of youth. It does not color the skin. Prepared and sold by W. E. HAGAN & Co., Troy, N.Y.

Joy to the Admirers of

A FINE HEAD OF

RICH GLOSSY HAIR.

Talk of beauty, it cannot exist without a fine head of hair, then read the following, and if you ask more, see circular around each bottle, and so one can doubt.

PROF. WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.—We call the attention of all, old and young, to this wonderful preparation, which turned back to its original color, gray hair—covers the head of the bald with a luxuriant growth—removes the dandruff, itching and all other complaints—causes a continual flow of the natural fluids;—and hence, if used as a regular dressing for the hair will preserve its color, and keep it from falling to extreme old age, in all the beauty and glossy luxuriant beauty. We call then upon the bald, the gray, or diseased in scalp, to use it; and surely the young will not, as they value the flowing locks, or the wishing curl, ever be without it. Its praise is upon the tongue of thousands.

The Agent for Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative in New Haven, received the following letter in regard to the Restorative, a few weeks since:

DEEP RIVER, CONN., July 23, 1856.

Mr. Leavenworth—Sir: I have been troubled with dandruff or scurf on my head for more than a year, my hair began to come out, scurf and hair together. I saw in a New Haven paper about "Wood's Hair Restorative" as a cure. I called at your store on the 1st of April last, and purchased one bottle to try it, and I found to my satisfaction it was the thing; it removed the scurf and new hair began to grow, it is now 12 or three inches in length where it was all off. I have great faith in it. I wish you to send me two bottles more by Mr. Post, the bearer of this. I don't know as any of the kind is used in this place, you may have a market for many bottles after it is known here. Yours with respect, RUFUS PRATT.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9, 1856.

PROF. WOOD—Dear Sir: Your Hair Restorative is proving itself beneficial to me. The front, and also the back part of my head almost lost its covering—in fact BALD. I have used but two half pint bottles of your Restorative, and now the tip of my head is well studded with a promising crop of young hair, and the front is also receiving its benefit. I have tried other preparations without any benefit whatever. I think from my own personal recommendation, I can induce many others to try it. Yours respectfully,

D. R. THOMAS, M. D., No. 464 Vine street.

VINCENNES, IA., June 22, 1853.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: As you are about to manufacture and vend your recently discovered Hair Restorative, I will state for the whomsoever it may concern, that I have used it and known others to use it—that, I have, for several years, been in the habit of using other Hair Restoratives, and that I find yours vastly superior to any other I know. It entirely cleanses the head of dandruff, and with one month's proper use will restore any person's hair to the original healthful color and texture, giving it a healthy, soft and glossy appearance; and all this, without discoloring the hands that apply it, or the dress on which it may be spilled, therefore, recommend its use to every one desirous of having a fine color and texture to hair.

Respectfully yours, WILSON KING.

CARRIAGES.

THREE Good Four-Wheeled TOP CARRIAGES. A number of Second Hand WAGONS. For sale by WM. C. HATCH & CO., Carriage Establishment, my12 tf No. 11½ Fleet street.

The following remedies are offered to the public as the best, most perfect, which medical science can afford. Dr. Ayer's Extracts have been prepared with the utmost skill which the medical profession of this age possesses, and their effects show they have virtues which surpass any combination of medicines hitherto known. Other preparations do more or less good; but this cures such dangerous complaints, so quick and so surely, as to prove an efficacy and a power to uproot disease beyond any thing which men have known before. By removing the obstructions of the internal organs and stimulating them into healthy action, they renovate the fountains of life and vigor,—health courses anew through the body, and the sick man is well again. They are adapted to disease, and disease only, for when taken by one in health they produce but little effect. This is the perfection of medicine. It is antagonistic to disease, and no more. Tender children may take them with impunity. If they are sick they will cure them, if they are well they will do them no harm.

Give them to some patient who has been prostrated with billious complaint; see his bent-up, tottering form straighten with strength again; see his long-lost appetite return; see his clammy features blossom into health. Give them to some sufferer whose foul blood has burst out in scrofula till his skin is covered with sores; who stands, or sits, or lies in agonies. He has been drenched inside and out with every potion which ingenuity could suggest. Give him these PILLS, and mark the effect; see the scabs fall from his body; see the new, fair skin that has grown under them; see the late leper that is clean. Give them to him, whose angry humors have planted rheumatism in his joints and bones; move him, and he screeches with pain; he too has been soaked through every muscle of his body with liniments and salves; give him these PILLS to purify his blood; they may not cure him, for, alas! there are cases which no mortal power can reach; but mark, he walks with crutches now, and now he walks alone; they have cured him. Give them to the lean, sour, haggard dyspeptic, whose gnawing stomach has long ago eaten every smile from his face and every muscle from his body. See his appetite return, and with it his health; see the new man. See her that was radiant with health and loveliness blasted and too early withering away; want of exercise or mental anguish, or some lurking disease, has deranged the internal organs of digestion, assimilation or secretion, till they do their office ill. Her blood is vitiated, her health is gone. Give her these PILLS to stimulate the vital principle into renewed vigor, to cast out the obstructions, and infuse a new vitality into the blood. Now look again—the roses blossom on her cheek, and where lately sorrow sat joy bursts from every feature. See the sweet infant wasted with worms. Its wan, sickly features tell you without disguise, and painfully distinct, that they are eating its life away. Its pinched-up nose and pallid face, restless sleepings, tell the dreadful truth in language which every mother knows. Give it the PILLS in large doses to sweep these vile parasites from the body. Now turn again and see the ruddy bloom of childhood. It has nothing to do there now. Nay, are they not the marvel of this age? And yet they are done around you every day

Have you the less serious symptoms of these distempers, they are the easier cured. Jaundice, Costiveness, Headache, Sickness, Heartburn, Foul Stomach, Nausea, Pain in the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, King's Evil, Neuralgia, Gout, and kindred complaints all arise from the derangements which these PILLS rapidly cure. Take them perseveringly, and under the counsel of a good Physician if you can; if not, use them judiciously by such advice as we give you, and the distressing, dangerous diseases they cure, which afflict so many millions of the human race, are cast out like the devils of old—they must burrow in the brutes and in the sea. Price 25 cents per box or five boxes for $1.

Through a trial of many years and through every nation of civilized men, AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has been found to afford more relief and to cure more cases of pulmonary disease than any other remedy known to mankind. Cases of apparently settled consumption have been cured by it, and thousands of sufferers who were deemed beyond the reach of human aid have been restored to their friends and usefulness, to sound health and the enjoyments of life, by this all-powerful antidote to disease of the lungs. Some single bottle of it has settled on the lungs. The dry, hacking cough, the glassy eye, and the pale, thin features of him who was lately lusty and strong, whisper to all but him CONSUMPTION. He tries every thing; but the disease is gnawing at his vitals, and shows its fatal symptoms more and more over all his frame. He is taking the CHERRY PECTORAL now; it has stopped his cough and made his breathing easy; his sleep is sound at night; his appetite returns, and with it his strength. The dart which pierced his side is broken. Scarcely any trouble and can be found which has not some living trophy like this to shadow forth the virtues which have won for the CHERRY PECTORAL an imperishable renown. But its usefulness does not end here. Nay, it accomplishes more by prevention than cure. The countless colds and coughs which it cures are the seed which would have ripened into a dreadful harvest of incurable diseases. Influenza, Croup, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Pleurisy, Whooping Cough, and all irritations of the throat and lungs are easily cured by the CHERRY PECTORAL if taken in season. Every family should have it by them, and they will find it an invaluable protection from the insidious prowler which carries off the parent sheep from many a flock, the darling lamb from many a home.

Authenticated evidence of these facts, with directions for the treatment of each complaint, may be found in Ayer's American Almanac, of which we publish three millions, and scatter them broadcast over the world, to confer that the sick may every where have before them the information it contains. Druggists and dealers in medicine generally have them for distribution gratis, and also for sale these remedies, prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER, Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass.

Factory and Steam Power

For sale in Somerville, 3½ miles from Boston, on the Lowell Railroad.

BEING the premises formerly occupied by the Boston Brick Manufacturing Co., consisting of more than ten acres of city land of the best quality, on which are a very substantial two story brick and slated building, 127 feet by 50; brick chimney, 100 feet high; excellent steam engine of 150 horse power, boilers, shafting and belting; and the machinery necessary for the manufacture of dry clay brick, all in fine order; never failing wells; large wooden stable, sheds and boarding house. This property is admirably suited for a variety of manufacturing purposes, and will be sold very low, and on long time, with a cold had settled on the lungs. The dry, hacking cough, the glassy eye, and the pale, thin features of him who was lately lusty and strong, whisper to all but him CONSUMPTION. He tries every thing; but the disease is gnawing at his vitals, and shows its fatal symptoms more and more over all his frame. He is taking the CHERRY PECTORAL now; it has stopped his cough and made his breathing easy; his sleep is sound at night; his appetite returns, and with it his strength. The dart which pierced his side is broken. Scarcely any trouble and can be found which has not some living trophy like this to shadow forth the virtues which have won for the CHERRY PECTORAL an imperishable renown. But its usefulness does not end here. Nay, it accomplishes more by prevention than cure. The countless colds and coughs which it cures are the seed which would have ripened into a dreadful harvest of incurable diseases. Influenza, Croup, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Pleurisy, Whooping Cough, and all irritations of the throat and lungs are easily cured by the CHERRY PECTORAL if taken in season. Every family should have it by them, and they will find it an invaluable protection from the insidious prowler which carries off the parent sheep from many a flock, the darling lamb from many a home.

Authenticated evidence of these facts, with directions for the treatment of each complaint, may be found in Ayer's American Almanac, of which we publish three millions, and scatter them broadcast over the world, to confer that the sick may every where have before them the information it contains. Druggists and dealers in medicine generally have them for distribution gratis, and also for sale these remedies, prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER, Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass.

SOLD BY
W. R. Preston and all the Druggists in Portsmouth, and all Druggists everywhere. feb11

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to conduct their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public the best security for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to this scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes varying from $100 to $60; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers

A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Patriot, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Dog Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia.

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m181y

City Hotel Hacks.

HOW SOME PAPERS ARE PUBLISHED.—For some years, Mr. Loring, a postmaster in Salem, has been said to be editor and publisher of a paper called the People's Advocate, nominally democratic, but really pro-slavery, and published with no name of printer or owner. The paper has now changed hands, and Mr. Josselyn, the present editor, tells the following story of its proprietorship:

We obtained the control of the Advocate from Mr. James Coffin, the former proprietor—Dr. Loring not owning a cent in the establishment, and although he was the editor, keeping his name back from the public. Mr. B. W. Lander took charge of the office and did the printing, and also acted as penny post for Dr. Loring while he was postmaster. Neither party had paid a cent to Mr. Coffin for the use of type and materials for the past year, and previous to that Mr. Coffin had held a small position in the Boston Custom House as a compensation for the use of his property, out of the salary of which place he paid a sum per month towards the support of the paper.

Now let the reader consider that the above concern, thus owned, thus edited, and thus supported, was the People's Advocate! The concern was hired by a berth in the Boston Custom House—and then the holder of that berth was taxed to help keep it agoing! What a very independent, impartial, fair exponent of the popular will and interest such a journal must make! And how it must have enlightened and purified the morals and the politics of Essex county.

LONDON FIREMEN.—There is one man in the London fire department, who is in his seventieth year, and the ages of the rest vary from twenty to sixty years. Nearly three-fourths of them have been in the navy. Each man is on duty at the engine-house or on premises where there has been a fire, on the average, three days and three nights, of twelve hours each, in every week. Notwithstanding their hard duty and extreme exposure, the rate of mortality among them is highly favorable. For the first thirteen years of the establishment, the deaths were at the rate of 96 per 10,000. Both calculations include deaths by accident, which are very rare, and have not exceeded 44 in 10,000 in the whole period of 25 years.

To the above, abridged by the Boston Advertiser, it should be added, that the London Firemen are nothing but firemen; —that is, they do no other business;—they are paid good wages, and not liable to be turned out, but for some fault.

HOW IT LOOKS.—The Washington Union, now that Congress has adjourned, says unequivocally that—

Instead of receiving a cordial support, no administration has ever had to withstand so many assaults from an opposition House as the present democratic administration has had to withstand from a democratic House; and it is a remarkable fact that every assault that has been made upon the administration by the present Congress, though seconded, of course, by the opposition, has been instigated, directed and stimulated by democratic members.—We believe it is a fact that no measure of of the democratic party or administration has passed the present Congress by a majority of democratic votes; but that every measure that has become a law has become so by the liberality of members belonging to one branch or other of the opposition.

Mr. Forney, who carried Pennsylvania, and so elected the President, says:

Standing, as our party now does, with the ban of expulsion against many, very many, of its most influential and valuable members, defeat is as certain as the coming night. The ship which has sailed in safety alike over calm and stormy seas, for the last half century, will be seen dismantled, and in flames, dashing against the rocks. She will sink never to rise again. This will be the end, unless the ban is removed, and treachery to principle disavowed.

BAGGAGE CAR BURNT.—On Wednesday morning, after an emigrant train from Point Levi, with Norwegian passengers, had passed the Beauceour Station, on the Grand Trunk Railroad, a box-car filled with baggage was discovered to be on fire, and before the flames could be extinguished, the car and its contents were totally destroyed. The fire is supposed to have originated from matches and gunpowder being packed in some of the trunks. The loss is estimated at $6000.—Port. Argus.

"THE ALL HAIL HEREAFTER."—The New York Tribune thus closes an article review-ing political matters in this country the past years:

Thousands who ignore the connection of cause and effect are quite aware that a great change has been effected and is still in progress—that the now certain organi-zation of Kansas as a free State stops for-ever the advance of slavery towards the south and northwest—that Texas is likely to yield more free than slave States to our Union—that the attempt to re-open the slave trade is one of the most disastrous failures in this era of general bankruptcy—that Missouri is clearly preparing to swell the ranks of the free States, and that Dela-ware and others will not lag long behind. Slavery, condemned by the clear-sighted political economy no less than by the en-lightened morality of our age, is doomed to decline and vanish in the full blaze of humanity and Christianity of our age; it is clear only that it be confirmed by a qui-et, steady, determined, but constitutional alliance, to insure and hasten the benig-nant consummation. We cherish joyful hopes that 1860 will make this plain to every who now disbelieve it.

SAD AFFAIR.—There was a Sunday school excursion from the 17th ward in New York on Thursday, numbering some eight hundred children, with many friends. They proceeded to the Jones' Woods Gar-den, and at the request of the trustees, Captain Hartt, and four officers, accompa-nied the excursion.

Everything passed off pleasantly until after five o'clock. At this time a num-ber of the children were amusing them-selves with a swing, and a ruffian named John Sullivan, partially intoxicated, interfered with them. He was several times ordered to leave, but disregarded the order, and the officers finally interfered to drive him off. He became furious, cursed, and threatened any who should lay hands upon him. The police, of course, insisted upon his leaving, and were taking him away, when he suddenly ran a few steps, picked up a stone and hurled it with great vio-lence, striking officer Weith immediately behind the left ear, inflicting a frightful gash and fracturing the skull. He was then borne home in a carriage, and his wound was dressed by Dr. Mott.

Sullivan was promptly arrested by the other officers; and as soon as the occur-rence was known, a crowd of indignant citizens gathered around the prisoner and demanded that he be given into their hands. They said it was impossible to obtain jus-tice in New York, and they would take the law in their own hands and hang the rasca-l upon the spot. There was intense ex-citement, and Capt. Hartt and his men had to exert all their strength to prevent the crowd from applying Lynch Law at once. They finally got him off to the station house, where he awaits the action of the coroner.

A VALUABLE LETTER FOUND.—A corres-pondent at Milford informs us that a boy working in one of the shoe shops in that town recently found in an old mail bag, which the proprietor of the shop had pur-chased to work into shoes, a letter which had been mailed at an office in Tennessee, and directed to another place in the same state, and which contained four fifty dollar bills, twenty, a ten, a five and a three—all of $238! This same firm has purchas-ed several thousand of these worn-out mail bags, and several other letters have been found in them—one which was written by an old lady to her little grand-daughter, en-joining a dime.—Traveller.

The clergyman who made the prayer in the House of Representatives at Washing-ton on the last day of the session, unwit-tingly perhaps, supplicated a general vote of the legislation of the session from the Supreme Being, as follows: "Be with them (our members) in their weakness, strength-en them with thy strength, scan with thy searching eye all their legislative acts, and, we pray Thee, O, Lord, that Thou wilt overrule all their doings!"

Steps are now being taken by the order of St. John to re-establish a hospital at Je-rusalem for sick pilgrims of all nations; and for the interest taken in this matter by the Empress Eugenia, she has been deco-rated with the cross of the Order.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under Act of 1836.)
No. 76 State st, opp. Kilby st, Boston,
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifica-tions, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utili-ty of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting one Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantage-ges for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official de-cisions relative to patents. These, besides his ex-tensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the Uni-ted States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here obviated by inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"During the time I occupied the office of Com-missioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in advising inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trust-worthy, and more capable of putting their appli-cation in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
From the present Commissioner.
AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I re-gard him as one of the most capable and encour-ful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

Morning Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 23, 1858.

DROLL ERRORS.

FIGURES, (they say) cannot lie: but let us see. We find the following item in the papers.

THE DEAD — CURIOUS CALCULATIONS.—Scientific writers assert that the number of persons who have existed since the beginning of time amounts to 36,027,843,275,075,846. These figures when divided by 3,095,000—the number of square leagues of land on the globe—leave 11,320,689,732 square miles, which, being divided as before, gives 1,134,622,976 persons to each square mile. Let us now reduce miles to square rods, and the number will be 1,853,174,600,000, which, being divided as before, will give 1283 inhabitants to each square rod; which, being reduced to feet, will give about five persons to each square foot of terra firma. Thus it will be perceived that our earth is one vast cemetery—1283 human beings lie buried on each square rod—scarcely sufficient for ten graves. Each grave must contain 128 persons. Thus it is easily seen that the whole surface of our globe has been dug over 128 times to bury its dead.—Greensburg Dem.

This, in substance, has been going round for years. A writer in the Boston Transcript, says of it:—

Was there ever a more preposterous paragraph going the rounds of the papers, than the foregoing?

With your permission we will look at figures in another and better form. Taking the commonly received ideas, chronologically, it is 5862 years since the birth of Adam. We will now concede the balance, and call it 6000, allowing three generations to the century, the present rate, but greatly more than the average, taking the antediluvian long life of centuries, in many cases, even down to the flood; but taking three generations to the century, we have 180 generations who have lived and died. The present population of the globe is 1,000,000,000 (one thousand million,) which no one will dispute is as large, if not larger than at any former period, certainly up to the average. If we multiply one thousand million by 180—the generations—we find we have one hundred and eighty thousand millions, as all who have lived since Adam's day.

Now, so far from 1283 human beings lying buried on every square rod of earth's surface, we can make them stand up quite comfortably in the little, insignificant State of Massachusetts. Said State contains about 7500 square miles; reduced to acres, we have 4,800,000; reduced to square feet, we have 209,088,000,000, which, divided by the 180,000,000,000, gives about 1 1-3 feet to each—comfortable standing room (taking the vast preponderance of children into account) for all. This is the little State we live in, and you will allow there is a considerable space outside. So we can hardly call this world, small as it is, "one vast cemetery, all dug over 128 times for graves."

Here is another piece, just about as true.

SALE OF THE SOUTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD.—The whole of the completed portion, twenty miles, of the Southern Pacific Railroad, including iron, cars, track, appurtenances, and all other property, and the rights and franchises appertaining to the company, were sold at auction in Texas on the 2d inst. The property was estimated to be worth fully one hundred millions of dollars, and was sold for forty thousand.

$100,000,000 is a very large sum for such a thing. Probably it should have been $100,000.

VESUVIUS.—The news of the eruption of Vesuvius does not make it clear that all danger is yet over. Premonitions of the outbreak have been noted for some time, though the absence of destructive eruptions for a long period has prevented the alarm which used to attend such warnings. The first and most dreadful eruption of Vesuvius, of which we have any mention, was in the year 79, when Pompeii and Herculaneum, with over 200,000 human beings, were buried under the burning lava and cinders. In 1631 the town of Torre del Grecco, then having 4000 inhabitants, was entirely destroyed, with much of the surrounding country. In the eruption of 1794 the top of the mountain fell in, leaving the crater nearly two miles in circumference. Down to 1850 forty-nine eruptions had been recorded, three of the present century taking place in 1819, 1834 and 1839. There was quite a flow of lava in 1855, since which time, till the present outburst, the mountain has been quiet.

☞ Buffalo, Chicago, and other Western cities, it appears, are overrun with laborers who are unable to find employment. In the former place, last week, several hundred of this class paraded the streets, demanding "work or bread." In Chicago the demand for labor by poor people has been so great that the Street Commissioners have been enabled to supply each man but two days in a week, at seventy-five cents per day. It is now thought best to cut wages down to fifty cents, and put one-third more men into the service.

☞ Senator Shields passed through New York city, last Wednesday, the Tribune says, en route for Minnesota, excorating the administration in a fearful manner.

TERRIBLE FIRE IN CANADA.—We learn from the Quebec Chronicle of Saturday that a dreadful fire, caused by the clearing of lands, has occurred in the county of Chicoutimi, and has been carried by a strong wind over the greater part of nine townships in that county, consuming all before it, and rendering desolate and houseless over one hundred families, equal to seven hundred souls. By this calamity it is said more than one hundred thousand dollars worth of property has been destroyed, besides an immense extent of fencing, with several costly bridges.—More than a third of the seed sown this spring has also been destroyed, which will be very severely felt by the settlers, owing to their inability to procure seed and resow so late in the season.

PERSONAL.—The Galveston (Texas) News states on the "best authority," that the report that Bishop Weston had become a Universalist is utterly without foundation.

This comes very near to nothing. No one said that he had become such. What was said, by one who knew him well, was to this purpose, viz., that he had been a Universalist; which surely was quite another affair.

It is to be understood, by the denial, that no change has recently come over the bishop's ecclesiastical relations.

☞ An eagle, says the Statesman, was killed near Fisherville one day this week. Several lambs had been lost from the farm of Mr. Wm. Gage, and were supposed to have been killed by dogs, until the eagle was seen to drop one of these firstlings of the flock from a tall tree top. Some strychnine was deposited in the carcase, and when the bird of liberty again yielded to his appetite, the poison slew him. He weighed above ten pounds, and the spread of his wings was more than seven feet.

There is a very fine stuffed specimen of this noble bird at the hair-dressing saloon of Mr. H. S. Hartshorne, in this city—measuring about eight feet from tip to tip, when extended. He was shot in York a few months since.

We saw a handsome eagle of the Bald Head species, near Great Bay, a few days since—so tame that we approached within a hundred yards, as he sat on a low tree, and examined him at our leisure. His head and tail were white—and his size considerably less than the birds mentioned above, which are of another species.

INDULGENCES GRANTED IN HOBOKEN.—The coronation of the new church picture in Hoboken, N. J., of Our Lady of Grace, will take place on the 20th inst.: it is officially announced in the Freeman's Journal, that Those who will be present at the coronation can obtain a plenary indulgence, granted by our Holy Father the Pope for this day.

His Grace the Bishop of the Diocese has been pleased to grant one indulgence of forty days to all who shall visit the church during the Octave.

A BLOODY AFFAIR.—The confirmation of Collector Schell was received with demonstrations of joy by the Adamantines of New York city. At a demonstration of the Fifth Ward Democratic Association, one of the transparencies was a bloody head, with a "D" under the name, impaled on a bayonet, undoubtedly meant for Douglas, for on one of the transparencies the following was inscribed: "Douglas is politically dead." "Haskin and Clark" was inscribed on the banner, and underneath their names were two graves, with large tombstones at the ends. "Horton's Brass Thunder-piece rings the death-knell of traitors," was another inscription.

DEDICATION OF A JEWISH SYNAGOGUE.—A Jewish Synagogue, called Beth Hamedresch, or House of Learning, was dedicated in New York on Sunday, with the usual ceremonies. A discourse in the German language was delivered by Rev. Abraham Rice of Baltimore, on the strict observance of the Mosaic law, and the honor due to the Sabbath.

☞ The democrats of the 20th district of Pennsylvania have nominated William Montgomery for re-election to Congress, by 1500 majority over his competitor, the democratic masses expressing their preference in township meetings. Mr. Montgomery was the author of the noted "Montgomery-Crittenden amendment," and a consistent opponent of Lecompton throughout. He will probably be re-elected.

Washington June 22.—Col. Kane was in conference this morning with the President and Secretary of War. He expressed an opinion that there is still cause for apprehending danger from the Mormons. His statements are not entirely satisfactory.

☞ It is noted in the letters from Havana that there is a great tendency to suicide among the coolies. The victims are very numerous.

WHO SHALL DECIDE WHEN DOCTORS DISAGREE?—The Boston Courier says of the recent session of Congress:—

"The uncompromising, blind hostility of the republicans has uniformly resisted every measure of the dominant party, and no means, of whatever character, have been neglected to thwart executive propositions and embarass the movements of the government."

On the other hand the New York Herald, the firmest supporter of the administration, says:—

"The newspapers of all parties are at last begining to acknowledge the historical fact which we promulgated weeks and months ago, to wit:—that the success, thus far, of nearly every measure of Mr. Buchanan's administration, and of many of his appointments, may be truly set down to the support of more or less of the reasonable and patriotic members of Congress of the opposition parties. . . . .

"But while the opposition in Congress has thus, upon great things and little things shown a degree of patriotic liberality towards the administration which was not expected, the factious, mischief making course pursued by the rebellious demagogue leaders and would-be leaders of the democracy, is without a parallel in the records of party treachery, insubordination and folly. . . . .

"Indeed, all the embarrassments and all the troubles of Mr. Buchanan with this late session of Congress, were the results of the factious, demoralized and intractable condition of the democratic majority of both houses."

THE ORGANS SUSTAINED.—A Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun says:

"It seems that the provisions of law, forbidding the publication of proposals for mail lettings in Washington papers, was not in the post office appropriation bill, but a 'miscellaneous' one, which is just published. What of patronage is thus taken from the Union and Intelligencer is probably quite made up by the authorization of the continued publication of the State Papers."

The publication spoken of, being a job of three hundred and forty-six thousand dollars, was given nominally to Gales & Seaton, of the Intelligencer, but really to them in partnership with Wendell, of the Union.—Republic.

TOBACCO IN PIEDMONT. — One Antonio Gallenga has recently written a work entitled "Country Life in Piedmont," which has been published in London. We find the following extract from this work in a late English paper. It is not very complimentary either to the Piedmontese or "Yankees":

"The Piedmontese, and indeed all Italians, at the present day, smoke like Germans and spit like Yankees. Tobacco has forced back European civilization three hundred years, at least south of the Alps. A smoker is of necessity an unclean animal, and our smokers are even fouler than the foul practice need make them."

As a train on the Sullivan (N. H.) Railroad was approaching North Charlestown a few days since, a little child, two years old, standing upon the track, was caught by the cowcatcher and thrown upon the shelf around the boiler, without receiving any greater injury than a slight bruise upon the side of its head.

A correspondent of the London Times, addressing himself to the editor, says: "It twenty-one of our coasting vessels had been fired into and boarded by an American corvette in the British Channel, I can well imagine the vigorous eloquence with which your pen would announce that the 'insolent Yankee' had been brought into Plymouth Sound under the stern of her Majesty's ship."

Haying Tools.

Ho! farmers away to the well ripened field,
Where a burden of grass to your mowing will yield,
But as you go by, you will surely do well
To look into the shop of URIAH BLAISDELL,
And buy a good Scythe as sharp as a razor,
That cuts down grass and grain, without showing favor
To the great or the small, to the thick or the thin.
But buy a good Rake, before you begin.

There are Horse Rakes, and Drag Rakes, and Hand Rakes made neat,
To gather the scatterings of Hay or of Wheat,
And Sickles, steel tempered, all made of the best,
That reap Rye, Wheat or Barley when put to the test,
The Bucket and Tub, to hold water to drink,
The Threshing Machine, for a shilling, O think!
And the Tin Pots and Kettles, to carry your dinner,
Lest, if you go hungry, your face may be thinner,
So sharpen your tools, fill your kettles, and that
Will make you work easy, and laugh and grow fat.

NEURALGIA.

This terrible disease, so various in its forms, so racking in its pains, and so difficult of cure, will, in the great majority of cases, yield to the judicious use of the PERUVIAN SYRUP. GENERAL COURT.

MONDAY, June 21.

In the House, the Portsmouth election bill—separating the town business from the annual State meetings in March—was considered. Mr. Greenleaf's amendment—to postpone the operation of it till the people should vote upon it—was rejected, 73 to 135, and the bill was ordered to a third reading.

[The town of Portsmouth, for many years, (we think at least 40,) had a meeting for municipal business separate from the State. But the two were put together in the city charter, without any good reason—while there are many good reasons against it.]

Mr. Ela, of Rochester, offered some resolutions against the Dred Scott decision, and against the new assumptions of the slave power, in taking away the privileges and rights of citizens. Referred.

A bill passed the House, introduced by Mr. Brown of Portsmouth, and which will probably pass, giving this city leave to appropriate annually a sum not exceeding 25 cents to each ratable poll, for the purpose of setting out trees, under direction of the Mayor.

☞ Mrs. Fuller, wife of Dr. Frank Fuller, of this city, with a young lady friend who was calling on her, had a narrow escape from death on Tuesday afternoon. Dr. F. had a small quantity of nitric acid in a phial for caustic use, which was taken from a closet by a little daughter four years old, who in the course of play was left alone in her mother's room, where were several other bottles.

Mrs. F. is just convalescent from severe illness, and on her return from a walk, poured a little wine into a tumbler which was kept on the bureau for that purpose, and although protesting that it tasted very badly, at the earnest solicitation of her friend, drank several swallows. She soon suffered so severely that her husband was hastily sent for, and also Drs. Bennett and Treadwell; and after the administration of an emetic and absorbent powder, Mrs. F. was relieved in great measure,—though in her feeble health, the severe corrosion of the throat and stomach may be attended with severe consequences.

The young lady who was with her, could not drink the wine, although she watered and sweetened it. On questioning the child, and asking her to select the bottle she had been playing with, she picked out the identical phial from the number immediately. Her dress and hands were considerably marked and spotted with the acid, and marks of it were also found on the bureau.

LIFE'S VICISSITUDES.—Died, in Farmington, N. H., 18th inst., Mrs. Abigail Yeaton, wife of Mr. Sylvester Yeaton, aged 25. The deceased, though called away in early life, had experienced remarkable and trying vicissitudes. She was married March 28th, 1852, to Wm. Lee of the U. S. Army, then stationed at Fort Constitution. When the troops there, in 1853, were ordered to California, she left with her husband, and while waiting at New York they buried their only child. Embarking on the San Francisco, when about the 25th of Dec. that vessel suffered shipwreck and her husband and many others were lost, she with others was taken from the wreck by the bark Lady Thompson, the men on board of which, at that time, were on a short allowance of food. A supply of bread for two days only having been saved from the wreck, for eighteen days she was put on the daily allowance of a handful of roasted corn and a gill of water. Again a severe gale was encountered, in which the bark was greatly disabled, but providentially she was taken on board the Kilby, a vessel bound for New York. After their arrival there she returned to her native place, and was subsequently married on the 17th of Oct., 1855, to her surviving husband. Recently the family moved to Farmington, where, after a few days of sickness, she expired. Her remains were brought to Newcastle and buried from the Congregational Church, on Sunday, 20th inst., a large and sympathizing audience being in attendance; and the same clergyman, Rev. L. Alden, officiating at both weddings and at her funeral.

NEW COURT HOUSE.—At the Rockingham County Convention in Concord, last week, the resolution appropriating $8000 toward building a new Court House in this city, was lost by three votes,—the subject, unfortunately, being discussed at a time when that number of delegates were obliged to be absent.

☞ Wm. Hughes, the great Pedestrian, commenced his feat of walking one hundred miles in twenty-eight hours, at Cameceum Hall, yesterday afternoon. Look in and see him to-day.

FENCING.—This art—healthful as an exercise, agreeable as an amusement, and so useful in many emergencies,—is not cultivated to such an extent as it should be, but it is fast gaining public favor.

COL. MACE, formerly of the U. S. Army, during the War with Mexico, and late Professor of Tactics at the Military Academy, New Orleans, is now in this city, and is giving lessons in this art. His advertisement may be seen in another column.

Besides recommendations from military officers of high rank, the Col. has many laudatory notices by the press, from which are the following.

COL. MACE, as a swordsman, is extremely skillful. As a Teacher of the Art, I feel confident that the Colonel has no superior.—[Prof. Moreau — Sword Master; Polytechnic School, Paris.]—Paris Jour.

COL. MACE, as a Swordsman, has no superior in point of science, skill and dexterity; this has been tested by the very best Swordsmen in Europe.—Phila. News.

COL. MACE is one of the most competent Military Instructors in this country, both in Sword Fencing and in Military Tactics.—New Orleans True Delta.

☞ The "Bowdoin Bugle" is a new publication of the students of Bowdoin College, Maine; the first number of which is on our table, from our friend Jacob H. Thompson, whose name is, of course, enrolled among the five editors of the paper. Jake commenced his editorial career, by way of amusement, in the Chronicle office—where he became quite a proficient in type-setting also—and though he has grown a little hunkerish since, yet he can well be trusted with the editorial reins.—He is smart enough to become, with practice, a good printer and editor; and ought not to "fool away his time" as a lawyer. Success to the Bugle; to Bowdoin, especially the Portsmouth boys there; and more particularly to our young cotemporaries. The paper is a neat specimen of typography, from the press of our neighbors of the Portsmouth Journal; and must be of value to all who feel an interest in the College.

JESUS IN HIS OFFICES.—We have received a handsome well printed pamphlet of 116 pages, with this title, which we are told, is the "First Quarterly Number, containing six discourses, on Jesus a Deliverer, Ensign for the Nations, Sun of Righteousness, Lord of All, Great Physician,—and the Good Shepherd. By A. G. Comings."

Rev. Mr. Comings will be remembered by many persons in Portsmouth, as an able, ingenious and interesting preacher at the Pleasant Street Church; and the six sermons before us show talent of no mean order. Three more parts of about equal size with this, will make up a volume of 22 sermons, at $1. Address the author, at Assonet Village, Mass.

VIOLENT GALE.—New York, June 22.—Patrick Slane's Glass Factory at Williamsburg, was demolished by the storm yesterday afternoon. There were thirty persons in the building at the time it fell, all of whom were buried in the ruins. Only two were killed and but six or eight wounded. Bernard Slane, father of the proprietor, and Thomas Gill, engineer, were killed. Mr. Slane's loss is $10,000.

Rev. Ralph Hoyt's new church, in this city, was entirely demolished. Loss $15,000.

Much damage was done to buildings in this city and vicinity, and to the shipping in the harbor, and many persons were more or less injured.

The lightning struck in some dozen places, but the only death reported from this cause is that of Bridget Farrell, in Brooklyn, who had rushed into the street to rescue her child from the storm, when she was instantly struck down.

A FIRE.—Great Falls, N. H., June 22d. A fire broke out in the Daguerreotype rooms of W. Bracy, in a large wooden building on Market Street; his stock and apparatus were destroyed—no insurance. The lower floor was occupied by Division Store No. 175, and the Post Office. The goods in the store were insured in Providence.—The second floor was occupied by Jorden & Rolline' Law Office and the Village Library; the books were removed in good order. The roof of the building was badly burned, and the building was thoroughly drenched with water.—Insured in the Etna and some other office.

Wolfe's Celebrated Scheidam Aromatic SCHNAPPS.
This medicinal beverage is manufactured by the proprietor, at Scheidam, Holland, expressly for medicinal use, by a process peculiar to his own Factory. It is the pure Tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, whose more vinous extract is distilled and rectified, with its spirituous solvent, which thus becomes a concentrated tincture of exquisite flavor and aroma, altogether, transcendant in its cordial and medicinal properties to any alcoholic stimulant now made in the world. It is now prescribed by more than 5,000 physicians in the United States, in cases of Gravel, Gout, Dropsy, and Bladder and Kidney Complaints.
Put up in Quart and Pint Bottles, in cases of one dozen qts., and cases of two dozen pts., and for sale by all Druggists and Country Merchants.

YES, YOU MAY
USE or recommend HEIMSTREET'S INIMITABLE HAIR COLORING, and find it to be all its proprietors claim for it. Do not take our word for it!
READ! READ!! READ!!!
SCHROON LAKE, Essex Co., N.Y., February 6, 1858.
W. E. HAGAN, Troy, N. Y.—Dear Sir: Having used your Hair Coloring and Restorative, and having been much pleased with it, I take pleasure in making the following statement: From the effects of a very severe fit of sickness when about eighteen years of age, my hair commenced turning grey, and so continued to grow until it became perfectly white, being very harsh and coarse. Last Summer I had reached my fifty-third year, when I was induced by a friend to purchase two bottles of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, prepared by you. I commenced using it according to directions, and in a few days was surprised to find that my hair from the roots outward was turning back to its original color. It so continued to grow until it was entirely brown and glossy as it was in youthful days, and is now fully restored to its original color. MYLA SEAMAN.
Essex Co. ss: Myla Seaman came before me and was duly sworn, and say that the above statement is true, this 8th day of Feb., 1858.
JOEL F. PATTEN, Justice of the Peace.
PITTSFORD, VT., Aug. 1, 1857.
I hereby certify that my hearing became quite grey; I used Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, (prepared by W. E. Hagan, of Troy, N. Y.,) for four weeks, and my hair was in that time restored to its original color. I can fully recommend the article to be all it claims. WM. KINSLEY,
Pastor of the Baptist Church, Pittsford, Vt.
The above are but two of the many letters of recommendation which have been tendered to the proprietor of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring and Restorative. It has been used by hundreds of people, and it never fails to restore the color and growth of the hair. This simple article acts exactly as when dyes are used; for it acts upon the natural secretions of coloring matter at the roots, and thus effects the change. Besides, the color produced is not a counterfeit, but the natural shade of youth. It does not color the skin. Prepared and sold by W. E. HAGAN & Co., Troy, N.Y.

Joy to the Admirers of
A FINE HEAD OF
RICH GLOSSY HAIR.
Talk of beauty, it cannot exist without a fine head of hair, then read the following, and if you ask more, see circular around each bottle, and no one can doubt.
PROF. WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.—We call the attention of all, old and young, to this wonderful preparation, which turns back to its original color, gray hair—covers the head of the bald with a luxuriant growth—removes the dandruff, itching, and all cutaneous eruptions—causes a continual flow of the natural fluid—and hence, it used as a regular dressing for the hair will preserve its color, and keep it from falling to extreme old age, in all its natural beauty. We call then upon the bald, the gray, or diseased in scalp, to use it; and surely the young will not, as they value the flowing locks, or the witching curl, ever be without it. Its praise is upon the tongue of thousands.
The Agent for Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative in New Haven, received the following letter in regard to the Restorative, a few weeks since:
DEEP RIVER, CONN., July 23, 1856.
Mr. Leavenworth—Sir: I have been troubled with dandruff or scurf on my head for more than a year, my hair began to come out, scurf and hair together. I saw in a New Haven paper about "Wood's Hair Restorative" as a cure. I called at your store on the 1st of April last, and purchased one bottle to try it, and I found to my satisfaction it was the thing; it removed the scurf and new hair began to grow, it is now two or three inches in length—new it was all off. I have great faith in it, I wish you to send me one bottle more by Mr. Peat, the bearer of this. I don't know as any of the kind is used in this place, you may have a market for as much as you desire, after it is known here. Yours with respect, REUBEN PEATT.
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9, 1856.
PROF. WOOD—Dear Sir: Your Hair Restorative is proving itself beneficial to me. The front, and also the back part of my head almost lost its covering—in fact bald. I have used but two, and put bottles of your Restorative, and now the tip of my head is well studded with a promising crop of young hair, and the front is also receiving its benefit. I have tried other preparations, but none any benefit whatever. I think from my own personal recommendation, I can induce many others to try it. Yours respectfully,
D. R. THOMAS, M. D., No. 464 Vine street.
VINCENNES, IA., June 23, 1853.
PROF. O. J. WOOD: As you are about to manufacture and vend your recently discovered Hair Restorative, I will state, for whomsoever it may concern, that I have used it now for some time and know it—that, I have, for several years, been in the habit of using other Hair Restoratives, and that I find yours vastly superior to any other I know. It entirely cleanses the head of dandruff, and with one month's proper use will restore any person's hair to the original youthful color and texture, giving it a healthy, soft and glossy appearance; and all this, without discoloring the hands that apply it, or the dress on which it drops. I would, therefore, recommend its use to every one desirous of a fine head of hair, and to bring back the hair.
Respectfully yours, WILSON KING.

The following remedies are offered to the public as the best, and most perfect, which medical science can afford. AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS have been prepared with the utmost skill which the medical profession of this age possesses, and their effects show they have virtues which surpass any combination of medicines hitherto known. Other preparations do more or less good; but this cures such dangerous complaints, so quick and so surely, as to prove an efficacy and a power to uproot disease beyond any thing which men have known before. By removing the obstructions of the internal organs and stimulating them into healthy action, they remove the fountains of life and vigor,—health courses anew through the body, and the sick man is well again. They are adapted to disease, and disease only, for when taken by one in health they produce but little effect. This is the perfection of medicine. It is antagonistic to disease, and no more. Tender children may take them with impunity. If they are sick they will cure them, if they are well they will do them no harm.

Give them to some patient who has been prostrated with bilious complaint; see his brain-pan, tottering form straighten with strength again; see his long-lost appetite return; see his clammy features blossom into health. Give them to some sufferer whose foul blood has burst out in scrofula till his skin is covered with sores; see the ulcers, or sits, or lies in anguish. He has been drenched inside and out with every potion which ingenuity could suggest. Give him these PILLS, and mark the effect; see the scabs fall from his body; see the new, fair skin that has grown under them; see the latest layer that is clean. Give them to him, whose angry humors have planted rheumatism in his joints and bones; move him, and he screeches with pain; he too has been soaked through every muscle of his body with liniments and salves; give him these PILLS to purify his blood; they may not cure him, for, alas! there are cases which no mortal power can reach; but mark, he walks with crutches now, and now he walks alone; they have cured him. Give them to the lean, sour, haggard dyspeptic, whose gnawing stomach has long ago eaten every smile from his face and every muscle from his body. See his appetite return, and with it his health; see the new man. See her that was radiant with health and loveliness blasted and too early withering away; want of exercise or mental anguish, or some lurking disease, has deranged the internal organs of digestion, assimilation or secretion, till they do their office ill. Her blood is vitiated, her health is gone. Give her these PILLS to stimulate the vital principle into renewed vigor, to cast out the obstructions, and let a new vitality into the blood. Now look again—the roses blossom on her cheek, and where lately sorrow sat joy bursts from every feature. See the sweet infant wasted with worms. Its wan, sickly features tell you without disguise, and painfully distinct, that they are eating its life away. Its pinched-up nose and ears, and restless sleepings, tell the dreadful truth in language which every mother knows. Give it the PILLS in large doses to sweep these vile parasites from the body. Now turn again and see the ruddy bloom of childhood. Is it nothing to do these things? Nay, are they not the marvel of this age? And yet they are done around you every day.

Have you the less serious symptoms of these distempers, they are the easier cured. Jaundice, Costiveness, Headache, Sickness, Heartburn, Foul Stomach, Nausea, Pain in the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, King's Evil, Neuralgia, Gout, and kindred complaints all arise from the derangements which these PILLS rapidly cure. Take them perseveringly, and under the counsel of a good Physician if you can; if not, take them judiciously by such advice as we give you, and the distressing, dangerous diseases they cure, which afflict so many millions of the human race, are cast out like the devils of old—they must burrow in the brutes and in the sea. Price 25 cents per box—5 boxes for $1.

Through a trial of many years and through every nation of civilized men, AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has been found to afford more relief and to cure more cases of pulmonary disease than any other remedy known to mankind. Cases of apparently settled consumption have been cured by it, and thousands of sufferers who were deemed beyond the reach of human aid have been restored to their friends and usefulness, to sound health and the enjoyment of life, by this all-powerful antidote to diseases of the lungs and throat. Here a cold had settled on the lungs. The dry, hacking cough, the glassy eye, and the pale, thin features of him who was lately hasty and strong, whisper to all but him CONSUMPTION. He tries every thing; but the disease is gnawing at his vitals, and shows its fatal symptoms more and more over all his frame. He is taking the CHERRY PECTORAL now; it has stopped his cough and made his breathing easy; his sleep is sound at night; his appetite returns, and with it his strength. The lung which seemed his side is broken. Scarcely any neighborhood can be found which has not some living trophy like this to shadow forth the virtues which have won for the CHERRY PECTORAL an imperishable renown. But its most noble triumphs are yet to come. Now it accomplishes more by prevention than cure. The countless colds and coughs which it cures are the seed which would have ripened into a dreadful harvest of incurable diseases. Influenza, Croup, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Pleurisy, Whooping Cough, and all irritations of the throat and lungs are easily cured by the CHERRY PECTORAL if taken in season. Every family should have it by them, and they will find it an invaluable protection from the insidious prowler which carries off the parent sheep from many a flock, the darling lamb from many a fold.

Authenticated evidence of these facts, with directions for the treatment of each complaint, may be found in Ayer's American Almanac, of which we publish three millions, and scatter them broadcast over the earth, to order all who love to read, where they may have before them the information it contains. Druggists and dealers in medicine generally have them for distribution gratis, and also for sale these remedies, prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER, Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass.

STRANGE CASE OF INSANITY.—In Fayette County, Va., a bright and promising lad named Martin, aged seventeen years, died a few days ago. He was impressed from the first with the idea that he was bewitched and would never get over it. He knew at the time the conjuration was practiced upon him; he said a bridle with silken reins was put upon him so perfectly slick that it was impossible to keep it out of his mouth. While he could retain his hold upon the bridle reins, he could evade all the horrible work of the craft. He could see persons coming in at the window when no persons were near. This took place while he was wide awake, before he was taken sick, and before his reason was thought to be shaken. The affliction which terminated his life began in his thigh, and removing upwards, it finally located itself upon the brain, and soon dispossessed reason, and held mastery until a short time before death.

MILK—GOOD—AND BAD.—A writer in the Boston Transcript says,—

It is possible that a poor cow, kept upon dry feed, may yield milk of a low grade in cream that may be innocent in its poor properties; but from close observation and considerable family experience, I am convinced that the conditions which tend to reduce milk in its natural state, to a small proportion of cream, are generally unfavorable to health.

Many years ago, my family occasionally sent for extra milk to a small grocer, who advertised country milk at four cents per quart, when we were paying six cents for our regular supply, yielding 12 1-2 per cent. of cream. This cheap extra milk was given three times to an infant child with painful results in each instance, requiring an emetic for relief; the last time the child threw from its stomach a mass of coagulated matter that had well nigh caused severe convulsions. We became then satisfied of what we had suspected before, that the bad milk was the cause of the distress. Afterwards I made several examinations of the grocer's milk, and found only 3 or 4 per cent. of cream. On inquiry I learned that it came from a town 40 miles distant, celebrated for the manufacture of whiskey; it was gathered at the whiskey distilleries and brought by railroad every morning.

The Hernando (Miss.) Press reports the sale of some of the negroes belonging to the estate of Mrs. Dement, of that county, last week, at the following high figures:—Girl Amanda, 20 years old, field hand, with infant 5 weeks old, $2437; boy Jesse, 21 years old, field hand, $2000; Tennessee, field hand, 20 years old, $1755. The sale was on six months time.

SAD ACCIDENT.—Charles Ela (aged 18 years) of Fryeburg, while capping a pistol with the muzzle towards his body, (in Shelburne, N. H.,) on Saturday last, was almost instantly killed by the accidental discharge of its contents into his body.

The Richmond (Kentucky) Messenger mentions a freak of nature which is without a parallel in the animal kingdom. It is a colt with but one eye. It was foaled on the farm of Mr. Elisha Roberts, in Madison county. The eye is considerably larger than the usual size, and is in the middle of the forehead.

"Very like a whale."

☞ In a race at Detroit recently, two horses were driven twenty miles in sixty-six minutes. At the end of the twentieth mile, one of the horses fell from sheer exhaustion, and died the next morning.

☞ By the army regulations the French troops are required to wear a shirt of coarse linen; but it has just been decided that they may, if they please, wear calico, as being more healthy in warm weather.

☞ The Orsini subscription in Italy, to which has been attributed the character of a demonstration against foreign domination in that country, had reached, ten days ago, the figure of 1,700,000 francs.

The Utica Herald mentions the death of Patrick Riley. While plowing, his hands came in contact with poisonous ivy, and the swelling being neglected, increased for four or five days before he consulted a physician. At that time his arms were swollen to an immense size, and his limbs and body continued to swell and mortify till death ensued, in spite of the doctors.

HIS LITTLE FAILINGS.—"My James is a very good boy," said an old lady, "but he has little failings, for none of us are perfect. He threw the cat in the fire, flung his grandfather's wig into the cistern, put his daddy's powder horn into the stove, tied the coffee pot to Jowler's tail, let off squibs in the barn, and took my cap bobbin for fishing lines; but these are only childish follies—he's an excellent boy, after all."

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, cor. Kilby st, Boston;

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Research made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remmitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundantly more to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

EXTRACTS FROM TESTIMONIALS.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more ability, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot secure a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

THURSDAY, JUNE 24, 1858.

FOREIGN NEWS.

The Persia arrived at New York Tuesday night.

Much of the despatch from New York is a repetition of that transmitted from Newfoundland. Sir Philip Crampton, (father of John F. Crampton, the predecessor of Lord Napier,) is dead, and the ex-minister, by this event, becomes an Irish baronet.—The American horse "Priorese" and the Derby winner "Beadsman" are to run a race for £1000, and Ten Broeck's "Babylon" and Lord Chesterfield's "Telegram" are to run for £400.

The India news is given a little more in detail. A village in Central India had been stormed, after an obstinate resistance, and all the male inhabitants put to the sword.

The Paris papers discuss the Gulf outrages, and one of them is of opinion that both nations are wrong.—England, because she seeks to exercise a control over the other navies of the world; the United States, because they offer a plausible motive for the interference of which they complain, by engaging in transactions condemned by morality. France has purchased Longwood, St. Helena. We have more light in regard to the Belly Convention, which shows that a party in New York is concerned in the project for a canal to connect the Atlantic and Pacific oceans.

The letter writers represent that events indicate the fast ripening of a misunderstanding between France and Austria, and both nations are making extensive preparations for the combat. The motive is not given; but we suppose on the part of Austria it grows out of the affairs of Montenegro, and on the part of Napoleon III. the desire to give employment to the six hundred thousand warriors who are now idling and demoralizing the French nation.

From Turkey we learn, that the British Consul-General at Belgrade had been attacked by a couple of soldiers, and was severely wounded. The Turks have agreed to suspend hostilities against the Montenegrins.

New Hampshire Yearly Meeting.—The annual session of this body of Freewill Baptist churches was held at Pittsfield, commencing on Thursday, the 10th inst., and continuing till Sabbath evening following. It was a season of more than usual interest. There were more than fifty ministers in attendance; and the measure taken at the preceding session for increasing the number of delegates was the means of bringing out a large number of lay brethren. The reports from the Quarterly Meetings gave accounts of revivals and additions, which were quite refreshing and encouraging. The School at New Hampton was represented to be in a flourishing condition, though an additional building is greatly needed to accommodate the increasing number of scholars. A considerable sum has already been subscribed towards the erection of such a building; but the Trustees have wisely determined not to proceed to erect it, until they can do it without involving the Institution in debt.

In the State are about 9400 church members, of whom 839 were added during the past year.

Return of Western Emigrants.—The Boston Traveller says that it hears of the return to the East of a number of young men who emigrated Westward in the spring in the hope of bettering their condition. Their experience has been of an unfavorable character. At the West, as at the East, there are large numbers out of employment, and except in a few localities work was not to be obtained.

Russia Wos's Pay for her Gunpowder. In the U. S. Senate a memorial was presented from Benjamin W. Perkins, of Worcester, Mass., praying for indemnity for damages sustained by the non-fulfillment of a contract for firearms and gunpowder with the Russian government. The amount owing is $585,000, and Mr. Perkins says that the failure of the Russian government to comply with the contract has ruined him.

☞ Miss Fanny Hall of Cincinnati has recovered $3500 of several parties for false imprisonment for six months in a lunatic asylum, through the instrumentality of the officers of a church of which she was a member.

We give this as we find it,—but Query. Was Miss Fanny imprisoned by the church officers, or did she get her damages through their means? We suppose the latter, but "the paper don't say."

A Pinch of Salt.—A correspondent of the New York Tribune, writing from Fort Bridger on the 10th of March, says:—"Several caches of potatoes, amounting to some 200 bushels, were lately discovered at Fort Supply, and we are now luxuriating for a few days on this wholesome esculent. We have, however, to eat our potatoes without salt, that article having been quite a stranger in the camp for several weeks past. The last I saw was offered to me in a snuff-box by a gentleman with whom I was dining, in order that I might take a pinch of it."

Quackery in England.—The English papers record the conviction of Dr. Willoughby, from the Botanical College, Baltimore, United States, of fraud. His real name is John Glen, an illiterate young man, who had been engaged as a cleaner of clocks in Augusta last winter, but becoming ambitious of greater wealth and distinction than he could achieve in this employment, turned doctor and vender of medicine. Having assumed the name of Dr. Willoughby, from Baltimore, he had an extensive practice at the time of his arrest and conviction.

Mormonism.—Thurlow Weed says, in the Albany Journal:

"Within our recollection, Mormonism was a speck not bigger than a man's hand. The original imposter, Joe Smith, came to the writer of this article only thirty-two years ago, with the manuscript of his Mormon Bible, to be printed. He then had but one follower, (a respectable and wealthy farmer of the town of Macedon,) who offered himself as security for the printing. But after reading a few chapters, it seemed such a jumble of unintelligible absurdities, that we refused the work, advising Harris not to mortgage his farm and beggar his family. But Joe crossed over the way to our neighbor, Elihu F. Marshall, and got his 'Mormon Bible' printed."

☞ The following is a verbatim copy of a sign "hung out" on an establishment near North Hampton Depot, on the Eastern Railroad:

In here yo u will fin d Beer cool & clear.

The chap who drafted that sign is doubtless one of those who like "Beer cool and clear" better than books—as, indeed, most beer guzzlers do.

Chicago and Cincinnati.—A correspondent of the New York Times, travelling in the West, says:

Chicago is evidently suffering greatly from the troubles of last year. The rush of several years back has been succeeded by severe reaction. The hand of improvement is stayed. Rents have fallen. The values of real estate are greatly reduced. Numbers of stores are vacant, and whereas on my former trip in 1856 the whole city seemed as bustling as Broadway, its appearance last week was proportionally like a retired country village.

Cincinnati has resisted the pressure better than any city I know East or West. A few failures have, it is true, resulted from the commercial tornado which swept over the country last year; but the tokens of general prosperity are too palpable to be overlooked. Although the usual dull season for mercantile sales has commenced, there is an evident air of business encircling the city. The ironfounders, who contribute so largely to the trade of Cincinnati, are in full blast. The furniture makers, another important industrial class, are busily occupied in manufacturing and shipping. Few stores desirably located are empty, and dwelling houses are rarely to be found at any price.

Candidates for the Presidency.—A writer in the New York Daily News suggests the names of Jesse D. Bright of Indiana, and Edmund Burke of New Hampshire as the next "Democratic" candidates for President and Vice President.

☞ Mrs. Betsey Eastman, of Hopkinton, on her ninety-eighth birthday, spun over five skeins of stocking yarn, and has during the past year spun over one hundred skeins of yarn, and knit about 50 pairs of stockings and socks.

☞ The Aroostook Pioneer says Mr. George Grantham, tavern-keeper at the mouth of the Aroostook, was severely stabbed by a man named Wm. Russell on the 29th. Russell is in jail. It was one of rum's deeds.

Dividends.—The following dividends have been declared, in addition to those already published by us:

Western R. R., 4 per cent. payable July 1.
Bos. & Lowell, 3 " " "
Cocheco Manu. Co., $21 per share, "

☞ On Wednesday afternoon last, the wholesale grocery store of Messrs. Cordes, Ewe & Weiskirch, at Milwaukee, fell with a terrible crash, caused by defective building. Eight persons were in the building, of whom one—Mr. Ewe—was killed, and others were badly injured.

☞ Oberlin College has 845 students, 341 of whom are females.

The Gulf Troubles.—Letters from Havana state that no tidings of the whereabouts of the British steamers Styx and Buzzard have yet been discovered by the American cruisers in the Gulf. The captain of the bark Marmion, (Capt. James H. Salter, of this city,) bound from Havana to Sagua, complains that he was, on the 17th of May, detained by the Styx, who asked various questions. On the 22d of May, he was boarded from a British steamer, of which he gives the following account:—

"On the 22d of May, at 11 P. M., a strong breeze blowing from north-east-by north at the time, and being under single reefed upper courses and mainsail bralled up, on account of heavy squalls passing during the night, within three miles of Key Verde Bank, standing off shore, a shot was fired across the Marmion's bow, and soon after a boat came alongside. As soon as the boat arrived within hail, I asked what boat it was, and received in response that it was a man-of-war's boat, and was ordered to back my main yard, which I complied with. My vessel at the time being in ballast, drifted at the rate of two and a half miles per hour towards shore. The officer commanding the boat came on board, when I asked him if he came to take charge of the American bark Marmion, and he replied in the negative. Whereupon I filled away to keep off shore. The officer then came aft on the poop, demanding in an authoritative tone the name of vessel, where from, where bound, her owners, and the flag under which she sailed, and other similar questions; furthermore, insisting upon seeing the colors, which were shown to him after the various questions had been answered.

The Atlantic Straw Works at Nantucket have suspended operations for the present. No time is fixed for opening them again, as the company are waiting the turn in business matters. They usually make 9000 bonnets and about 140,000 hats per year, employing two male and 237 female operatives.

Pittsfield, June 23.—The famous Housatonic Paper Mill, at Lee, owned by Platner & Smith, was burned to the ground this morning. Loss probably $100,000. The property is insured for a considerable amount in Pittsfield, Hartford and Springfield offices.

From Washington.—Washington, June 22.—The official advices received by the last arrival from England are of a more favorable character than has been represented. They reiterate friendly sentiments towards this country, and disavow intentional offence against our flag, and mention the fact that orders have been issued to discontinue the visits which have given rise to the present difficulties. Her Majesty's government does not insist upon visitation or search as a right, but as both nations are solicitous to put an end to the African slave trade, it desires mutual understanding or arrangement as to the proper and most acceptable manner of ascertaining the character of suspected slavers. This is the mooted point.

The tenor of the despatches is satisfactory. In fact the doctrine so long maintained by our government is considered as practically acknowledged by Great Britain. The differences between the two countries are not such as cannot be amicably accommodated.

It is understood that the Cabinet to-day had under consideration the affairs of Utah, which are so complicated as to require great caution in their management. From the present indications all the troops now on the way will continue their march to Utah. What additional measures will be pursued will depend on the character of the next official despatches from that quarter.

The charge of Judge Eckels to the Grand Jury against polygamy is condemned as being calculated to embarrass the pacification of the Mormons.

☞ McGee, convicted of the murder of Deputy Warden Walker in the Massachusetts State Prison, is to be executed privately in the rotunda of the Boston Jail next Friday, 25th inst.

Free Labor Victory.—The St. Louis Democrat announces the election of David Cline, Free Labor candidate for Mayor, of Memphis, on the 14th inst., by a large majority, over Philip Payne, the Pro-Slavery candidate.

Republican Triumph in Virginia. The spring election in Hancock County, Virginia, was closely contested between the Lecompton and Anti-Lecompton forces.—The County Clerk elected is a Republican, and his majority was 180. Mr. Buchanan carried the county in '56 by 150 majority.

Tapped too low.—Muse is a good judge of human nature, and in describing men and things makes use of many quite original figures of speech, some of which are more remarkable for force than for grace or elegance. Somebody on one occasion, was praising a young lawyer as "a confounded smart fellow," and asked Muse if he did'nt think he was about the toungiest man in the county. "Yes," said Muse, "smart talking man, but tapped too low." "What do you mean by that, Muse?" "Why, just this,—if you tap a barrel of cider too near the bottom, it always runs empties.—That man was tapped too low."

Kansas.—Politicians of all parties who have become prematurely "old and grey headed," from the excitement attending that subject, will be glad to know that Hemenway's Hair Coloring will remove all traces of the battle.

NEURALGIA.

This terrible disease, so various in its forms, so racking in its pains, and so difficult of cure, will, in the great majority of cases, yield to the judicious use of the PERUVIAN SYRUP. So remarkable has been the relief obtained from this Syrup that many physicians rely upon it as a certain and radical cure.

A CARD TO THE LADIES.

DR. DUPONCO'S
French Periodical Golden Pills,
FOR FEMALES;

Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity of the Menses.

THESE Pills are nothing new, but have been used by the Doctor for many years, both in France and America, with unparalled success in every case; and he is urged by hundreds of ladies who have used them, to make the Pills public, for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using the Pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to health; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box.

Price $1. Sold in Portsmouth by JOSEPH H. THACHER, in Dover by Chas. Wm. Dyer, in Exeter by C. A. Merrill, and in Newmarket by J. A. Prendergast. They will supply dealers at the Proprietor's prices, and also send the Pills to the Ladies (confidentially) by mail to any part of the city or country, on receipt of $1 through the Post Office.

N. B.—Ladies will be particular in asking for Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills. Observe the signature J. Duponco is upon each box. You will then obtain a Pill you can rely upon.

FOURTH OF JULY. — Arrangements are preparing to have a very fine celebration on the 5th of July next, in this city.

The Portsmouth Cornet Band, and the New Market Band, have been engaged; and another Band will probably be employed. The Floral Procession, Firemen's Display, Regatta, and all the matters connected with the celebration, are in the right hands; and we shall undoubtedly have one of the best celebrations ever got up here.

Among the other attractions there is to be a mammoth tent near the Court House, in which there will be a Promenade Concert in the evening.

REGATTA.

Two Prize Boat Races

WILL take place, on Piscataqua River, at Six o'clock, P. M., on July 5, between a Buoy stationed off the Wharf of the Union Ship Building Company, and the Beacon.

1st Race will be open to all WHERRIES rowed by two men, with one oar each

PRIZE—A SILVER CUP, value $10.00.

2nd Race will be open to all FOUR OARED BOATS.

PRIZE—A SILVER CUP, value $10.00.

The distance to be rowed by each boat, is from the Judges' Stand to the Buoy near the shipyard of the Union Ship Building Co., rounding the Buoy on the westerly side, to the Beacon; rounding the Beacon on the easterly side, coming to the Judges' Stand, on the westerly side.

The Judges will be stationed before us the wharf of Messrs J. & H. Eldredge and Pray's Wharf.

No Boat shall cross the bow of another so as to interfere with it, or in any manner so crowd any boat in turning either Buoy or Beacon as to impede her progress.

A Band of Music will be in attendance at the Judges' Stand during the Regatta.

The boats can be entered at any time previous to the Third day of July by calling on either of the Committee.

All boats will be furnished with numbers at the Judge's stand, previous to the Race.

An Entrance Fee of 50 cts. will be charged each boat. For any further information enquire of either of the Committee.

The Judges are William Pettigrew, William Bancsom and Daniel Littlefield, Esqrs.

J. E. RIDER, CHAS T. EMERY,
JACOB WALDEN, WILLIAM O. HEAD,
B. B. SWASEY, JNO. O. VARRELL,
Portsmouth, June 24. Committee.

☞ Two of the 'gentlemen from abroad,' who came hither to fleece the seamen of the Portsmouth, got some exhilarating beverage into their mouths, which went up into their brain, on Wednesday, and made them pugnacious and lo dly. They assaulted a citizen, who used his fists to some purpose in self-defence; and the police interfering, one of the "gentlemen" went quietly to the lock up, and the other got there after a race and a chase, in which a policeman made a prize of him. Of course they were out of mischief that night.

ASHAMED OF THEIR BASE BUSINESS. — The drain-venders in ——street and other streets, show a little sense of shame at the abominable plunder they are just now carrying on. They keep each window half shut! SHAME well may they feel. The noted store on the corner of the first named street has its tap-room window wholly closed.

There is a little to encourage those of our citizens who would not be destroyed of their fellow men, in this remnant of SHAME. N.

☞ A notice of the Ocean House, Rye Beach, will be seen among our new advertisements this morning. This is a very large and splendid establishment, and the business is necessarily conducted with the regularity of clock-work. Mr. Job. Jenness has now associated with him his son, who has so acceptably filled the responsible and arduous position of Clerk for a year or two past—and with Mr. Ferguson for assistant, the Ocean must retain its popularity.

A number of stone cutters, who have been dressing stone for the Custom House, struck for higher wages on Wednesday.—They have been in the employ of the contractor for furnishing the stone, and are not in the pay of government.

GENERAL COURT.

TUESDAY, June 23.

A large amount of business was forwarded; among which was a bill requiring hawkers and pedlers to procure licenses of the Clerks of the Courts of Common Pleas, in a sum of not less than fifty nor more than two hundred dollars—to be renewed every year—for authority to sell, by sample or otherwise, any description of merchandize not the growth or manufacture of this State, except fish, agricultural tools and vegetable products. The bill is designed to afford protection to resident citizens and dealers against foreigners. Notwithstanding several proposed amendments, the bill was carried to a third reading just as it came from the Committee on the Judiciary, by an overwhelming majority; yeas 194; nays 52.

Hon. Daniel Clark, U. S. Senator, spent a short time in the House during the forenoon session.

The North [Picture] Gallery of the House was fully supplied with ladies, dressed in apparel in complete harmony with this vernal season.

Afternoon.—The bill changing the time of holding the municipal election in Portsmouth, and the bill relating to hawkers and pedlers, passed the House.

The Portsmouth election bill passed by 168 to 90. The pedler's bill 155 to 91.

Mr. Greenleaf of Portsmouth, moved to include colporteurs in the title of the pedler's bill, saying:—

Those colporteurs were the greatest bores among the whole tribe of pedlers, and he did not want they should be overlooked in the title of the bill, though they might be included in its provisions; neither did he want them to feel that they were slighted.

[They seem to be really subjected to the same tax with other pedlers.]

Mr. Raynes of Portsmouth, moved to postpone the Portsmouth election bill to Friday—negatived.

Mr. Greenleaf made a speech against the bill, and concluded with the startling prophecy, that the avenging spirits of those whom the majority of the House now made to "walk the plank," would rise from their watery graves, and "push them from their stools!"

Bill providing for the registration of births, marriages and deaths. Passed. Bill relating to the sale of town meeting-houses. Passed. Bill establishing watering troughs. passed. Bill in relation to the compensation of State Printer. Passed.

☞ Mr. William Hughes, the celebrated Pedestrian, has just performed the severe task of walking one hundred miles in twenty-eight hours, at the Cameneum in this city,—successfully completing his number of tedious rounds, on Wednesday evening at a quarter to eight o'clock, and having about fifteen minutes of his time to spare. He was considerably exhausted, but bore himself exceedingly well during the whole time—neither sitting or lying down, or stopping to eat.

☞ The Com. of the L. G. C. Society meet at 3 P. M., at 31 State street.

FROM KANSAS.—St. Louis, June 22.—A Leavenworth despatch of the 16th says that a call was promulgated yesterday and signed by many citizens, for the formation of a Vigilance Committee in that city.—The public meeting held pursuant to the call, discountenanced such an organization, and adopted resolutions declaring no necessity existed for its establishment, and expressive of entire confidence in the authorities to properly administer the laws.

Arradgements are being made to establish a regular communication between Fort Leavenworth and the outward bound columns of the Utah forces. Two expresses leave the garrison every week until further notice.

The Kansas City Journal of Commerce, Extra, of the 19th, says that a mass meeting was held at Fort Scott, Kansas, on the 15th, to take into consideration the best means for the adjustment of the difficulties in that region, and resolutions were unanimously adopted to the following effect:

"We will proceed to the civil organization of the County of Bourbon and townships therein, in accordance with the law approved February, 1858; agree to refer all past offences against the laws to the Grand Jury; agree to refrain from prosecutions and vexatious arrests for imaginary or petty offences, and to discontenance such proceedings from whatever source they come; agree to exert ourselves to preserve the peace, and to assist in enforcing the laws; agree to take no part in the preemption claim quarrels, but to leave the contestants to settle their differences according to law; agree to hold every citizen of Fort Scott to a strict accountability for assault or any other unlawful acts against any person whatsoever; agree to afford whatever protection the circumstances require to the citizens of Fort Scott travelling in Bourbon County."

Gov. Denver agrees to withdraw the troops as soon as the county and township organization shall be completed, and he is satisfied that peace is fully restored.—Gov. D. addressed the meeting, and approved of the resolutions. John Hamilton was President of the meeting.

A REPENTANT MOTHER. — A woman, whose "responsibilities" multiply faster than her means of providing for them, left one of the youngest on a door step in Oliver street, last evening, where it was found and taken to the second police station. The mother, who had expected that it would be taken in and cared for by the family on whose door-step it was dropped, finding that the "baby" was likely to be sent to the city crier, rushed to the station-house, claimed her progeny and carried it home. —Boston Herald.

Wolfe's Celebrated Scheidam Aromatic SCHNAPPS.

This medicinal beverage is manufactured by the proprietor, at Scheidam, Holland, expressly for medicinal use, by a process peculiar to his own Factory. It is the pure Tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, whose more vinous extract is distilled and rectified with its spirituous solvent, which thus becomes a concentrated tincture of exquisite flavor and aroma, altogether, transcendant in its cordial and medicinal properties to any alcoholic stimulant now made in the world. It is now prescribed by more than 5,000 physicians in the United States, in cases of Gravel, Gout, Dropsy, and Bladder and Kidney Complaints.

Put up in Quart and Pint Bottles, in cases of one dozen qts., and cases of two dozen pts., and for sale by all Druggists and Country Merchants.

Haying Tools.

Ho! farmers away to the well-ripened field,
Where a burden of grass to your mowing will yield,
But as you go by, you will surely do well
To look into the shop of URIAH BLAISDELL;
And buy a good Scythe as sharp as a razor,
That cuts down grass and grain, without showing favor
To the great or the small, to the thick or the thin.
But buy a good Rifle, before you begin.
There are Horse Rakes, and Drag Rakes, and Hand Rakes made neat,
To gather the scatterings of Hay or of Wheat,
And Sickles, steel tempered, all made of the best,
That reap Rye, Wheat or Barley when put to the test.
The Bucket and Tub, to hold water to drink,
The Threshing Machine, for a shilling, O think!
And the Tin Pots and Kettles, to carry your dinner,
Lest, if you go hungry, your face may be thinner,
So sharpen your tools, fill your kettles, and that
Will make you work easy, and laugh and grow fat.

Private Medical Treatise
—ON THE—
Physiological View of Marriage,
By M. B. LACROIX, M. D., ALBANY, N. Y.
A NEW EDITION, 250 pages, 120 fine Plain and Colored Lithographic and Plates.
PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS.
Sent free of postage to all parts of the U. S.

A POPULAR and comprehensive treatise on the duties and casualties of single and married life—healthy and fruitful alliances, mode of securing them—infelicitous and inertile ones—their obviation and removal—nervous debility, its causes and cure, by a process at once so simple, safe and effectual, that failure is impossible—rules for daily management—an essay on Spermatorrhœa, with practical observations on a safer and more successful mode of treatment—precautionary hints on the evil results from empirical practice; to which is added commentaries on the diseases of females—from infancy to old age; each case illustrated by beautiful plates. It points out the remedies for those self afflicted miseries and disappointed hopes so unfortunately prevalent in the young. It is a truthful adviser to the married and those contemplating marriage Its perusal is particularly recommended to persons entertaining secret doubts of their physical condition, and who are conscious of having hazarded the health, the happiness and privileges to which every human being is entitled.

Price 25 cents a copy, or five copies for $1.00, mailed free of postage to any part of the United States, by addressing Dr. LA CROIX, (postpaid,) Albany, N. Y., enclosing 25 cents in money or U. S. postage stamps.

N. B.—Those who prefer may consult Dr. LA CROIX, upon any of the diseases upon which his book treats, either personally or by mail. His medicines often cure in the short space of six days, and completely and entirely eradicate all traces of those disorders for which copaiva and cubebs have so long been thought an antidote, to the ruin of the health of the patient. His "French Secret" is the great continental remedy for that class of disorders which, unfortunately, physicians treat with mercury, to the irretrievable destruction of the patient's constitution, and which all the Sarsaparilla in the world cannot cure.

Dr. LACROIX's medicines are free from all mineral poisons, and put up in a neat and compact form, which can be sent by Express or Mail, and may be taken in public or private houses, or while travelling, without exposure to the most intimate friend or room mate, or hindrance from business or study, and no important change in the diet is necessary. Medicines sent to any part of the Union, according to directions, safely packed, and carefully secured from all observation.

A liberal discount made to book dealers, canvassers and peddlers, who purchase the book wholesale. Office 31 Maiden Lane, near Broadway, Albany, N. Y.

SCHROON LAKE, Essex Co., N.Y., February 6, 1858.

W. E. HAGAN, Troy, N. Y.—Dear Sir: Having used your Hair Coloring and Restorative, and having been much pleased with it, I take pleasure in making the following statements: From the effects of a very severe fit of sickness when about eighteen years of age my hair commenced turning grey, and so continued to grow until it became perfectly white, being very harsh and coarse. Last Summer I had reached my fifty-third year, when I was induced by a friend to purchase two bottles of Heinstreet's Hair Coloring, prepared by you. I commenced using it according to directions, and in a few days was surprised to find that my hair from the roots outward was turning back to its original color. It so continued to grow until it was as truly brown and glossy as it was in my youthful days, and is now fully restored to its original color. Mrs. Sisson's hair came perfectly white, being very harsh and coarse. ESSEX Co. ss: Myla Seaman came before me and was duly sworn, and says that the above statement is true, this 6th day of Feb. 1858.
JOHN R. PATTEN, Justice of the Peace.

PITTSTON, VT., Aug. 1, 1857.

I hereby certify that my having become quite grey, I used Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, (prepared by W. E. Hagan, of Troy, N. Y.,) for four weeks, and my hair was in that time restored to its original color. I can fully recommend the article to be all it claims. WM. KINGSLEY,
Pastor of the Baptist Church, Pittsford, Vt

The above are but two of the many letters of recommendation which have been tendered to the proprietor of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring and Restorative. It has been used by hundreds of people, and it never fails to restore the color and growth of hair. This singular effect is produced as these dyes are used; for it acts upon the natural secretions of coloring matter at the roots, and thus effects the change. Beside, the color produced is not a counterfeit, but the natural shade of youth. It does not color the skin. Prepared and sold by W. E. HAGAN & Co., Troy, N.Y.

Joy to the Admirers of
A FINE HEAD OF
RICH GLOSSY HAIR.
Talk of beauty, it cannot exist without a fine head of hair, then read the following, and if you ask more, see circular around each bottle, and so one can doubt.

PROF. WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.—We call the attention of all, old and young, to this wonderful preparation, which turns back to its original color, gray hair—whose the head of the bald with a luxuriant growth—removes the dandruff, itching, and all cutaneous eruptions—causes a continual flow of the vessels to the hair—and hence, if used as a regular dressing for the hair will preserve its color, and keep it from falling to extreme old age, in all its natural beauty. We call then upon the bald, the gray, or diseased in scalp, to use it; and surely the young will not, as they value the flowing locks, or the witching curl, ever be without it. Its praise is upon the tongue of thousands.

The Agent for Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative in New Haven, received the following letter in regard to the Restorative a few weeks since:

DEEP RIVER, CONN., July 23, 1856.

Mr. Leavenworth—Sir: I have been troubled with dandruff or scurf on my head for more than a year, my hair began to come out, and fall out by handfuls. I saw in a New Haven paper about "Wood's Hair Restorative" as a cure. I called at your store on the 1st of April last, and purchased one bottle to try it, and lo! and behold! the satisfaction it was the thing; it removed the scurf and new hair began to grow, it is now two or three inches in length where it was bald. I have great faith in it. I wish you to send me two bottles more by Mr. Post, the bearer of this. I don't know as it is proper for the kind is used in this place, you may have a market for many bottles after it is known here. Yours with respect, ELIJAH PRATT.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9, 1856.

PROF. WOOD—Dear Sir: Your Hair Restorative is proving itself beneficial to me. The front, and also the back part of my head almost lost its covering—in fact the hair seemed to have died half past bottles of your Restorative, and now the tip of my head is well studded with a promising crop of young hair, and the front is also receiving its benefit. I have tried other preparations without any benefit whatever. I think from my own personal recommendation, I can induce many others to try it. Yours respectfully,
D. R. THOMAS, M. D., No. 464 Vine street.

VINCENNES, IA., June 23, 1853.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: Are you about to cease manufacture and vend your recently discovered Hair Restorative, I will state, for whomsoever it may concern, that I have used it and known others to use it—that, I have, for several years, been in the habit of using other Hair Restoratives, and that I find yours vastly superior to any other I know. It entirely cleanses the head of dandruff and with one month's proper use will restore any person's hair to the original youthful color and texture, giving it a healthy, soft and glossy appearance; and all this, without discoloring the hands that apply it, or the dress on which it drops. I would, therefore, recommend its use to every one desirous of having a fine color and texture of hair.

Respectfully yours, WILSON KING.

The following remedies are offered to the public as the best, most perfect, which medical science can afford. AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS have been prepared with the utmost skill which the medical profession of this age possesses, and their effects show they have attained a degree which surpasses all other medicines hitherto known. Other preparations do more or less good; but this cures such dangerous complaints, so quick and so surely, as to prove an efficacy and a power to uproot disease beyond any thing which have known before. By removing the obstructions of the internal organs and stimulating them into healthy action, they renovate the fountains of life and vigor,—health courses anew through the body, and the sick man is well again. They are adapted to disease, and disease only, for when taken by one in health they produce but little effect. This is the perfection of medicine. It is antagonistic to disease, and no more. Tender children may take them with impunity. If they are sick they will cure them, if they are well they will do them no harm.

Give them to some patient who has been prostrated with bilious complaint: see his bent-up, tottering form straighten with strength again; see his long-lost appetite return; see his clammy features bloom into health. Give them to some sufferer whose foul blood has burst out in scrofula till his skin is covered with sores; who stands, or sits, or lies in anguish. He has been drenched inside and out with every potion which ingenuity could suggest. Give him these PILLS, and mark the effect; see the sores fall from his body as does the new, fair skin that has grown under them; see the late leper that is clean. Give them to him whose angry humors have planted rheumatism in his joints and bones; move him, and he screeches with pain; he too has been soaked till every muscle and fibre of his body with liniments and salves; give him these PILLS to purify his blood; they may not cure him, for, alas! there are cases which no mortal power can reach; but mark, he walks with crutches now, and now he walks alone; they have cured him. Give them to the lean, sour, haggard, dyspeptic, whose gnawing stomach has long ago eaten every smile from his face and every muscle from his body. See his appetite return, and with it his health; see the new man. See her that was radiant with health and loveliness blasted and too early withering away; want of exercise or mental anguish, or some lurking disease, has deranged the internal organs of digestion, assimilation or secretion, till they do their office ill. Her blood is vitiated, her health is gone. Give her these PILLS to stimulate the vital principle into renewed vigor, to cast out the obstructions, and infuse a new vitality into the blood. Now look again—the roses blossom on her cheek, and where lately sorrow sat joy bursts from every feature. See the sweet infant wasted with worms. Its wan, sickly features tell you without disguise, and painfully distinct, that they are eating its life away. Its pinched-up nose and ears, and restless sleepings, tell the dreadful truth in language which every mother knows. Give it the PILLS in large doses and sweep these vile parasites from the body. Now turn again and see the ruddy bloom of childhood. Is it nothing to do these things? Nay, are they not the marvel of this age? And yet they are done around you every day

Even in the less serious symptoms of these distempers, they are the easier cured. Jaundice, Costiveness, Headache, Sickness, Heartburn, Foul Stomach, Nausea, Pain in the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, King's Evil, Neuralgia, Gout, and kindred complaints all arise from the derangements which these PILLS rapidly cure. Take them perseveringly, and under the counsel of a good Physician if you can; if not, take them judiciously by such advice as we give you, and the distressing, dangerous diseases they cure, which afflict so many millions of the human race, are cast out like the devils of old—they must burrow in the brutes and in the sea. Price 25 cents per box—5 boxes for $1.

Through a trial of many years and through every nation of civilized men, AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has been found to be more relief and to cure more cases of pulmonary disease than any other remedy known to mankind. Cases of apparently settled consumption have been cured by it, and thousands of sufferers who were deemed beyond the reach of human aid have been restored to their friends and usefulness, to sound health and the enjoyments of life, by this all-powerful antidote to diseases of the lungs and throat. Here a cold had settled on the lungs. The dry, hacking cough, the glassy eye, and the pale, thin features of him who was lately lusty and strong, whisper to all but him CONSUMPTION. He tries every thing; but the disease is gnawing at his vitals, and shows its fatal symptoms more and more over all his frame. He is taking the CHERRY PECTORAL now; it has stopped his cough and he can breathe easy; his sleep is sound at night; his appetite returns, and with it his strength. The dart which pierced his side is broken. Scarcely any neighborhood can be found which has not some living trophy like this to shadow forth the wide spread benefits have won for the CHERRY PECTORAL an imperishable renown. But its usefulness does not end here. Nay, it accomplishes more by prevention than cure. The countless colds and coughs which it cures are the seed which would have ripened into a dreadful harvest of incurable diseases. Influenza, Croup, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Pleurisy, Whooping Cough, and all irritations of the throat and lungs are easily cured by the CHERRY PECTORAL if taken in season. Every family should have it by them, and they will find it an invaluable protection from the insidious prowler which carries off the parent sheep from many a flock, the darling lamb from many a home.

Authenticated evidence of these facts, with directions for the treatment of each complaint, may be found in Ayer's American Almanac, of which we publish three millions, and scatter them broadcast over the earth, in order that the sick every where may have before them the information it contains. Druggists and dealers in medicine generally have them for distribution gratis, and also for sale these remedies, prepared by DR. J. C. AYER, Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, MASS.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honest manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lottery is chartered by the laws of Georgia, as the lottery of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled the week next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $20; Halves, $5; Quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $20,000; every prize being drawn and result drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published in the morning, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

A PROCLAMATION
TO THE LADIES.

WHEREAS, it appears that the days of right, honor and manliness are fast passing away, and WHEREAS, the unscrupulous and ignorant are daily taking advantage of the profound and learned. BEIT KNOWN THEREFORE, to all, whether ladies, wives, or women, that DR. CHESEMAN'S FEMALE PILLS are alone the certain panacea for the the troubles incident to female disorganization; they alone restore the regular monthly menstruation, assuaging palpitations of the heart, disturbed sleep, pain in the side, and causing health and happiness to whole sex; more especially to those females, as they are certain to bring on the monthly period with regularity.—AND WHEREAS, these PILLS are purely vegetable and consequently free from poison, therefore perfectly harmless in their operations and wholly unlike other medicines thrust upon the public, purporting to effect the objects already detailed. THEREFORE, be it resolved, that we recommend the said PILLS of DR. CHEESEMAN will accomplish the desired object, when DISAPPOINTMENT has been experienced under the regime of OTHER PILLS; and the Ladies will cause this Proclamation to spread amongst them, to their own everlasting benefit—always promising that said Proclamation is one deemed most well and good, and worth, that is to say the PILLS MUST NOT be taken when any female is in an INTERESTING SITUATION, otherwise a MISCARRIAGE will be the inevitable result.

Explicit directions, to be carefully read, accompany each box. Price $1. Sent by mail on enclosing $1 to Dr. Chesemen's Box 1,000, Box No. 4,531, Post Office, New York City. Sold by Druggists in every town in the United States.

Winship's Patent Upright Self-Ventilating Refrigerator.

IT is now conceded by physicians that provisions are rendered purer and wholesomer by being confined in a dry atmosphere, and the air is not constantly and effectually changed, and the health of many families has suffered in consequence. The musty and sour smell common to most ice chests is a clear indication of this poisonous and offensive tendency.

This Refrigerator is the only one ever offered that is perfectly sweet and pure, and is so scientifically yet simple a manner that Prof. Silliman has introduced a description of it in his new work on Natural Philosophy as the best illustration ever practically tested of perfect ventilation.

The temperature is always uniform.

The air never becomes stagnant.

There is no waste of ice.

The warm air cannot enter upon opening the doors Access to the ice is had without disturbing the provision chamber

Articles of different flavors cannot impregnate each other. Milk, delicate fruits, and meats, can be preserved much longer than in any other Refrigerator.

All who value health and pure food are advised to give this article a trial. The cost is about the same as the ice chests, and they are made with panelled sides and top, and tastefully grained.

☞ The Philadelphia Press gives an account of the arrest of a German, who does business of a nameless character in company with a women under the name of Dr. and Madame Hubert, though under another and his proper name the man has a wife and family in the city. The fellow is heavily bearded, handsomely dressed, wears costly jewelry, and is a thoroughly self-possessed man of the world.

Madame Hubert was also elegantly dressed. She is small in statue, of gentle manners, and about the last person one would supposed to be engaged in warring upon helpless infancy.

The officers searched the bedroom of Mrs. Hubert, where they found a stock of sharp and glittering steel instruments peculiar to their avocation. They also found a quantity pills in boxes; also a large lot of papers and letters of a business character. They came from all parts of the country—from males and females, married and single, lettered and wholly illiterate. Some of them are written on tinted paper, in beautiful penmanship, while others contain miserable and mis-spelled scrawls. All however appear to have enclosed remittances in sums of considerable amount. Among the names of the writers are recognized one who is the wife of a merchant at Lancaster, one the daughter of a bank president in another town, and scores of other persons in equally miscellaneous sources. The parties were committed to jail for lack of bail in $5000 on a charge of having caused the death of a woman.

SPIRITUALISTIC BONES.—The spiritual papers have a story, which they expect people to believe, of the mysterious disappearance of some human bones from Hartford, and their equally mysterious appearance at New York, all without human agency. "Altogether, some nine or ten of the vertebræ and one scapula, or shoulder blade, have reached the latter city; some dropping down in the street, and some in the office of Dr. Orton, who tells the story. On Sunday, the 30th ult., Dr. Redmon was at Hartford, and, with another person, visited the attic where the bones are deposited, and ascertained that the missing ones corresponded exactly with the arrivals in New York. The balance of the bones be tied together with a cord; but, during the operation, a rib, which was lying quite under the eaves, was raised without contact, and, passing over a distance of some five or six feet, gave him a blow; and, as the party retired down stairs, a heavy pair of shoes was thrown after them."

The following resolutions were adopted by the Cheshire Conference of Churches, at Winchester, June 10.

Whereas, the evils of intemperance are yet great in the land, and our youth are falling under its influence: therefore

Resolved, That we regard perseverance in efforts for doing it away, a christian duty.

2. That we regard the course pursued and blessed in the early history of the temperance reform, as suited to our times—investigating and exposing the evils of intemperance, and using the pledge of total abstinence and other moral means for bringing about the discontinuance of the sale and use of intoxicating drinks.

3. That we regard as important, the more faithful execution of the valuable temperance law of our State.

Whereas, we, as Christian churches of Cheshire County, believe the use of tobacco in its various forms to be a great and growing evil among all classes—especially the young—greatly injurious to the minds and bodies of men, retarding the growth of grace and hindering the usefulness of christians and the salvation of souls: therefore

Resolved, That we earnestly recommend to the young and especially to all christians, total abstinence from its use.

WEALTH.—Wealth, true wealth, is that possession which satisfies the heart. Palaces and lands may still leave a man miserable. To be satisfied in one's cell—to feel no aching void, to sleep peacefully and wake without pain, regret, or remorse, such is wealth. With those the hardest pillow becomes soft, the roughest way smooth, the darkest future bright, and their possessor stands up a man, than whom God has made none nobler, free from the canker which follows power and frame, and independent of the exigencies which make and may shiver crowns. For the promotion of the good, the beautiful and the true, gold, goods and lands are a heritage from heaven; but when wrapped in a napkin, and bound to the heart, they congeal human sympathies and blast human life.

VOLUNTEER GRAIN.—At the ranch of J. P. Murphy, says the Sacramento Union, one mile above Patterson's Station, in this county, are one hundred and sixty acres of grain, which is all a volunteer crop. One-half is barley, and the remainder wheat. The grain is well headed out, the barley being uniformly about four feet high, and the wheat five feet. The whole cost of harrowing the land, which was the only expense in the matter, was one hundred dollars. It is estimated that the whole crop will average from thirty to thirty-five bushels per acre, leaving a wide margin for profits.

GETTING ALONG FIRST RATE.—"How are you getting along?" said an acquaintance of mine to a man now engaged in the liquor business. "O, first rate," replied he, thrusting his hand into his left pocket and pulling out a vial of a deep red colored liquid. "Do you see that?" said he; "I just sold 20 gallons, at $2 a gallon of this good Old Port, and there ain't a drop of Port Wine in it. I made it myself. It did not cost me fifty cents a gallon. Then thrusting his left hand into his left pocket, he pulled out another vial, clear and sparkling. "You see that!" said he; I just sold a fellow six barrels of this most excellent Jersey Cider, at $8 per barrel, and there ain't a drop of apple juice in it. I am getting along first rate, making as much money as I want.—C. Keener.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of decisions and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the most learned, informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and no agency of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
From the present Commissioner.
AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

Morning Chronicle.

FRIDAY, JUNE 25, 1858.

☞ The New Hampshire State Convention of Universalists met in Nashua, on Wednesday and Thursday of last week.—Sermons were preached by Brs. McCollister, Johnson and Perkins. Conference meetings were held each evening. Addresses were made by Brs. B. M. Tillotson, S. Laws and C. Spear, and also by Mrs. Spear, Br. J. M. Usher, and the Rev. Mr. Willis, pastor of the Unitarian Society in Nashua, who expressed the strongest desire that all names might be forgotten and that the two denominations might unite. The principal topics presented were the Missionary cause, the Sabbath School and the Prison Reform. The meetings, says Rev. C. Spear, were very interesting, especially the Conferences. There was a strong devotional feeling, and they were continued to a late hour. The brethren related many incidents in the early history of Universalism. At the Communion all were affectionately invited, and a very large number enjoyed the season. Brs. Cobb and Wright were very happy in their remarks.

Another writer says:

The attendance was quite large. The Conferences on Wednesday and Thursday evenings were large and enthusiastic in behalf of a higher and spiritual life. It was one of the best conventions we have attended. The Society in Nashua is in a good state, including the interests of the Sabbath School, under the able and judicious labors of Br. O. D. Miller, as their pastor.

☞ The Baptist State Convention of Connecticut, in session a day or two at Southington, discussed the Episcopal form of worship as used in the army and navy. It appears that a majority of our naval chaplains are Episcopalians, and that chaplains of other denominations are required to read the church service in the performance of their religious duties. The Connecticut Baptists consider this usage a grievance, and have appointed a committee headed by the Rev. Dr. Hodge, of Bridgeport, to memorialize Congress on the subject.

HEATHEN AT HOME.—One of the witnesses in a recent murder trial at New York, named Young—a gambler by profession—testified that he was 36 years old, that he was born in Albany, could not read writing, had never read the Lord's Prayer, though he could read a little, and did not know what the Lord's Prayer was; that he had never read a chapter in the Bible, though he had once held the sacred volume in his hand. How many boys there are in all our large cities (says the Boston Journal) who are growing up in the same ignorance. We often heard the hope expressed during the recent religious interest, that it would result in so vitalizing the churches and other religious organizations of our land that they would inaugurate and vigorously prosecute some method for christianizing these heathen in our own midst. We are not aware that any such measures have been set on foot in our own city, where there is abundant need of them.

☞ By a statement in the London Athenæum, it seems that, "after all, and in spite of his many former refusals, Prof. Agassiz, of Boston, will be won over for the dictatorship of the Museum of Natural History of the Jardin des Plantes, at Paris. It appears to be a favorite wish of the Emperor Napoleon to draw this celebrated scholar, whose personal acquaintance he made in Switzerland, to Paris. Agassiz has been offered a salary of 25,000 francs, and the immediate Senatorship, which brings another 30,000 francs; and at last he has consented to go over to Paris for a verbal and personal negotiation."

This is denied in a Boston paper.

☞ Our Exeter correspondent says, respecting the account given by Rev. Mr. Whiting of the revival in that town, that it is indeed "most cheering. The work, though commenced at a late season, has been vigorously prosecuted, and has not been without reward. The morning prayer meetings were discontinued a few weeks since because of the lateness of the season, and inconvenience which some experienced in attending. The young folks hold a prayer meeting on Wednesday of each week. The Young Men's Christian Association is on a fair road to permanent success."

The annual catalogue of Phillips Academy has just been published. The whole number of students is 126. Of these six are from Portsmouth.

☞ Mr. Diman's strawberries, at the Stratham gardens, are now in full bearing and ripe. He can supply 50 or 100 boxes per day—of the best quality.

THE TORNADO IN NEW YORK AND VICINITY.—The tornado which visited New York on Monday afternoon was also severely felt in Brooklyn. A new house belonging to Thomas Pithladdo was blown off its foundation and carried several feet, and now stands nearly turned over, with one side resting in the foundations. Mrs. Duhaine, residing in Greenpoint, died from fright occasioned by the storm. She had been in ill health some time. Her husband is now on his way from France, expecting to meet his family in good health. The lightning struck in several places, doing considerable injury, and besides killing one woman, as already reported, injured another seriously. Several houses were unroofed, trees torn up by the roots, vehicles upset, &c. A schooner was sunk in Gowanus Bay.

STATE PRISON MURDERS. — On Friday, between the hours of ten and twelve o'clock A. M., William McGee alias McKee will suffer the penalty of death by hanging, in the Rotunda of Boston Jail, for the murder of Deputy Warden Walker of the State Prison, over a year and a half since.

Cater, his follower in a similar crime, died, as our readers are aware, before his year of respite had expired. A singular incident in connection with his case is the fact that one of the jury who tried him, before scarcely a year had elapsed, hung himself in a station house, in consequence of insanity brought on by want and suffering.

☞ The mutiny in India has worked sad havoc among the bravest and most distinguished of the British officers. Neill, Lawrence, Havelock, Adrian Hope, have all died, and now the name of Sir William Peel must be added to the list of the illustrious dead. The leading papers have long obituary notices of his death, and all unite in saying that few who have died so young have left behind them so high a character for capacity, courage and heroism as Sir William Peel.

PERSONAL.—Mrs. Worth has presented to Major Byran the spurs worn by General Worth during the Mexican Campaign.

During the insurrection at New Orleans, the telegraphic operator in that city reported that Mr. Lumsden of the New Orleans Picayune was arrested by the Vigilants and kept in confinement several hours, he having been "drunk and disorderly around the Vigilants' camp." The New Orleans Crescent copies the dispatch, and characterizes it as "basely and malignantly infamous and false." Col. Lumsden did visit the camp of the Vigilants, but he went as a peacemaker, and to his great surprise was arrested and detained for about half an hour. He was neither drunk nor disorderly, nor did he do anything unbecoming a gentleman.

SUGAR PROPERTY IN LOUISIANA.—On the 5th inst., the sugar plantation of the late Samuel S. Harrison, near Bayou Goula, La., was sold for $204,400. A correspondent of the New Orleans Delta, in announcing the fact, says: "This sale proves most conclusively that the late crisis and threatening Mississippi crevasses have not much affected the value of sugar plantations in the opinion of those who should be the best judges."

☞ The Boston Traveller announces the failure of Messrs. Trull Brothers, extensive distillers in Boston. This firm have for several years transacted an extensive business upon the Continent of Europe, Smyrna, &c. The revulsions of the last year compelled their temporary suspension, but it was not until a return of their agent by the Vanderbilt, with the intelligence of his failure to make collections of their customers there, that a surrender of their property for the benefit of their creditors, was deemed necessary.

Lord Lyndhurst, who was born in Boston, completed his 86th year on the 21st of May. His lordship is in excellent health. His seniors in the House of Peers are Lord Sinclair, who will complete his 90th year if he lives to the 30th of July next, and the Marquis of Bristol and Viscount St. Vincent, who were born in 1769 and 1767, respectively. The latter nobleman is consequently at the present moment the father of the House of Peers.

☞ At the Golden Wedding of Col. Colman, at Newburyport last week, a beautiful silver goblet, lined with gold, was presented, with an inscription importing that it was an expression of good will from J. Prescott, Esq., Superintendent of the Eastern Railroad. Col. Colman was formerly an Agent of the Eastern Stage Company; and Mr. Prescott one of the drivers.

At Watertown, Wis., last Monday, a cow run her head into a barrel, and in her effort to release herself she ran into Rock river and was drowned.

GENERAL COURT.

WEDNESDAY, June 22.

SENATE.—Mr. Burleigh, by leave, presented the petitions of John P. Hanson and 45 others, and Geo. H. Pierce and 45 others, asking for the establishment of a ferry between the city of Dover and Newington.

Mr. Burleigh, also, by leave, introduced a bill in furtherance of the object of the above named petition.

Bills read a third time and passed.—An act establishing watering troughs.

An act relating to sale of town meeting-houses.

HOUSE.—The question of granting a tract of State land to Pittsburgh for school purposes brought out an earnest speech from Mr. Burbank, of Shelburne—a gentleman thoroughly posted in Coos County affairs. It is hardly necessary to add that Mr. Burbank triumphed over all opposition, and got the bill through.

Afternoon.—The seat of Sam'l R. Green, the sitting member from Bow, was vacated on report of the Committee on Elections. The House "raised" seventy thousand dollars for the use of the State; also, $1800 for the education of the indigent deaf and dumb, and $1200 for the education of the blind. For the last named object there is understood to remain of the last year's appropriations the sum of $300. The bill regarding the House of Reformation was passed on a call of the yeas and nays—166 to 79. The House, at half past 5, adjourned to 8 in the evening, when a debate was expected to take place on political affairs.

Mr. Green of Bow was unseated on account of illegal votes.

Bill to facilitate the collection of taxes—passed.

Bill regulating the fees of the harbor-master of Portsmouth—passed.

Bill relating to transient tradesmen—passed.

Saturday was fixed upon as the day of adjournment.

THE NEXT KANSAS ELECTION.—Gov. Denver's proclamation has appeared, fixing the time, place and manner of holding the election in Kansas, on the acceptance or rejection of the proposition submitted by the English bill. The voting will be on the first Monday of August, by ballots inscribed "Proposition accepted," or "Proposition rejected." Six months' previous residence in the Territory is necessary to be a voter. The election Judges are to make out triplicate returns of the election, two copies of which are to be sent within five days to the Probate Judge of the county, who shall within ten days forward one copy to the Governor at Lecompton, and the other to the President of the Council at Lawrence, and the third shall be retained by the election judge. The provisions all seems to be well adapted to secure a fair expression of the people's will.

WHO STARTED THE BRITISH CRUISERS?—It would be a very singular circumstance if the operations of the British cruisers in the Gulf should turn out to have been suggested by the representations of our own government. There is some foundation for the apprehension. For instance, Mr. Cass, our Secretary of State, in a letter to Lord Napier, dated April 10, 1858, thus referred to the action of the British and American vessels on the coast of Africa, for the prevention of the slave trade:

"This system of a joint blockade has been pursued for some years, and the benefit it has produced bears no reasonable proportion, I regret to say, to the expenditure of life and treasure it has cost. But this failure need not discourage the anxious hopes of christendom. There is another method of proceeding, without the dangers and difficulties and inefficiency which beset a blockade, and which is sure to succeed if adopted and persevered in, and that is to close the slave marts of the world, or, rather, OF THE ISLAND OF CUBA, which is now almost the only region where the slave dealer can find a market."

The italics are our own. It it should appear that this suggestion was instrumental in starting the searches made by the British cruisers, a further inquiry will arise as to any intentional bearing of the above upon such a state of things to be brought about as might favor the acquisition of Cuba. Certainly the language of Gen. Cass, at this particular juncture, is strange enough to give color to these conjectures.—[Boston Journal.

The Providence Journal truly remarks:

It is a singular fact that while the "Hartford Convention" has gone down to posterity as a name of reproach, and as almost identical with treason, Southern Conventions, which avow all that is falsely charged upon the Hartford Convention, meet annually and discuss the probability and desirability of a dissolution of the Union and extol the sectional power of the South, and the advantages of a Southern Republic.

THE GREAT ABIJAH.—The Boston Courier says:

The notorious Abijah Jenkins is in court again. Six years ago, William Simmons left a watch at Jenkins's shop to be repaired; but from that time to this he has been unable to get it or an equivalent from Jenkins. Mr. Simmons has waited patiently; and now, under the law which enables him to be a witness in his own case, he summoned the great "receiver" into court and compelled him to pay $173. Jenkins, of course, had several witnesses; but he is again unfortunate in the circumstance that the jury was unwilling to believe them. When will the authorities banish this public nuisance?

☞ Dwight's Boston Journal of Music says Mrs. E. A. Wentworth was by last accounts in Rome.

☞ During a late debate in the English House of Commons, upon the question of electing members of Parliament by ballot, Lord John Russell said that, without entering into any discussion of the liberties enjoyed in the United States, he would not be willing to exchange the liberties of the English people for them.

NON-PAYING CUSTOM HOUSES.—For about three months, a paragraph has been going round in the papers, enumerating a score or so of Custom Houses, wherein the salaries of officers exceed the revenue collected, by about $100,000. Portsmouth is one of them; and it has been suggested, in regard to this city, that the new Custom House was needless, as the old was big enough.

Herein, says Uncle Toby, is some truth, as clear as the sun; but there is also some moonshine, and much fog.

The truth is, that the old Custom-House would do very well for size; but the Post Office, under the same roof, has not been half big enough for the last ten years; the U. S. Courts, when they sit here, use a Court Room hired of the city; and their records, until Mr. Hatch took an office with a good bank-safe, were exposed to fire,—and might be so again, by a change of District Clerk. These are sufficient reasons for a good building, which shall have all the United States offices under one roof.

It is also true, that the Custom House here, does not pay: but if our wise Uncle Sam, at anybody's suggestion, will just abolish the Custom House here, and dismiss all or most of the officers, an extensive smuggling business could be carried on here which would pay, and would make our streets look lively, and our river too, especially in the night time.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY AT THE SHOALS. On Friday last Rev. George R. Beebe, Missionary to the Isles of Shoals and local preacher at Gosport, entered the school at that place kept by Miss Gunnison, and with a heavy ruler severely beat a little daughter of Mr. John B. Downs, whose back was so badly lacerated by the blows inflicted that the father felt it necessary to make a trip to Rye and take out Dr. Warren Parsons to relieve her sufferings. The wife of Mr. Beebe had previously visited the school and rebuked the child for inattention to her studies, and the girl deeming it none of her business, told her so, and hence the assault. Mr. Downs came to Portsmouth and procured a warrant against Beebe for assault and battery, which was placed in the hands of Deputy Sheriff Morse, who on Monday went to Gosport and arrested him and summoned the requisite witnesses. On Tuesday Mr. Beebe was arraigned in the police court of this city on the complaint, the charge was substantially proved, and Justice Odell required him to give bonds in the sum of $100 for trial at the October term of the Supreme Judicial Court.—Bullet.

We did not attend the examination, but from other sources of information we have heard a different statement of the facts which led to the arrest, and which give the whole matter another aspect.

The School and the Ministry at the Shoals, are not of the people, nor from the people there;—but only provided for them, by Missionary or benevolent societies, on the main land.

Mr. Beebe is the Missionary, and as such, has the supervision of the school somewhat as Principals do, in Academies or Seminaries where other teachers are employed. Moreover Mr. B. has until very recently been the teacher himself; but lately a lady has been put into that office.

On the day of the alleged assault, Mrs. Beebe called into the school, and while there, the teacher directed the "little girl Downs to lay by her sewing and take her book to study. She replied, "You —— ?" [The blank must be filled with a word rather too dirty to go into a newspaper.]

In a few minutes Mr. B. came in, without invitation, when the teacher stated that she could do nothing with the girl, and wished he would make her mind, if he could.

He then repeated the order for the girl to take the book, and for her disobedience to the order, struck her on the back, with a ruler, or as two of the government witnesses testified, "slapped her on the back."

The trip to Rye for the Doctor, and the trip over here to make the suit, were really made, and so were the complaint, warrant, arrest, and examination. But unless we are grossly misinformed, the grand jury will hardly find a bill, or the petit jury find a verdict of guilty. That a technical misdemeanor was committed, is probable. That any real injury has been done to any body except to a stubborn and impudent girl, in making her more so by this complaint,—is not so probable.

It is quite possible that the occurrence may change Mr. B's field of labor, which to him may not be a great calamity. And it is pretty certain that if such stubbornness and disorder in a scholar may go unpunished, there can be no order, and pretty soon there must be no school. And possibly the mission may be unable to survive the stupidity and folly of such an attack from a citizen of the islands.

Wolfe's Celebrated Scheidam Aromatic
SCHNAPPS.
This medicinal beverage is manufactured by the proprietor, at Scheidam, Holland, expressly for medicinal use, by a process peculiar to his own Factory. It is the pure Tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, whose more vinous extract is distilled and rectified with its spirituous solvent, which thus becomes a concentrated tincture of exquisite flavor and aroma, altogether, transcendant in its cordial and medicinal properties to any alcoholic stimulant now made in the world. It is now prescribed by more than 5,000 physicians in the United States, in cases of Gravel, Gout, Dropsy, and Bladder and Kidney Complaints.
Put up in Quart and Pint Bottles, in cases of one dozen qts., and cases of two dozen pts., and for sale by all Druggists and Country Merchants.

Haying Tools.
Ho! farmers away to the well ripened field,
Where a burden of grass to your mowing will yield,
But as you go by, you will surely do well
To look into the shop of URIAH BLAISDELL,
And buy a good Scythe as sharp as a razor,
That cuts down grass and grain, without showing favor
To the great or the small, to the thick or the thin.
But buy a good Rake, before you begin.
There are Horse Rakes, and Drag Rakes, and Hand Rakes made neat,
To gather the scatterings of Hay or of Wheat,
And Stokes, steel tempered, all made of the best,
That may Rye, Wheat or Barley when put to the test,
The Bucket and Tub, to hold water to drink,
The Threshing Machine, for a shilling, O think!
And the Tin Pots and Kettles, to carry your dinner,
Lest, if you go hungry, your face may be thinner,
So sharpen your tools, fill your kettle, and that
Will make you work easy, and laugh and grow fat. ja23

USE, or recommend HEIMSTREET'S INIMITABLE HAIR COLORING, and find it to be all its proprietors claim for it. Do you doubt it?
READ! READ!! READ!!!
SCHROON LAKE, Essex Co., N.Y., February 6, 1858.
W. E. HAGAN, Troy, N. Y.—Dear Sir: Having used your Hair Coloring and Restorative, and having been much pleased with it, I take pleasure in making the following statement: From the effects of a very severe fit of sickness when about eighteen years of age my hair commenced turning grey, and so continued to grow until it became perfectly white, being very harsh and coarse. Last Summer I had reached my fifty-third year, when I was induced by a friend to purchase two bottles of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, prepared by you. I commenced using it according to directions, and in a few days was surprised to find that my hair from the roots outward was turning back to its original color. It so continued to grow until it was as truly brown and glossy as it was in my youthful days, and is now fully restored to its original color. MYLA SHAMAN.
Essex Co. ss: Myla Seaman came before me and was duly sworn, and says that the above statement is true, this 6th day of Feb., 1858.
JOEL F. PATTEN, Justice of the Peace.
PITTSFORD, Vt., Aug. 1, 1857.
I hereby certify that my having become quite grey, I used Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, (prepared by W. E. Hagan, of Troy, N. Y.,) for four weeks, and my hair was in that time restored to its original color. I can fully recommend the article to be all it claims. WM. KINGSLEY,
Pastor of the Baptist Church, Pittsford, Vt.
The above are but two of the many letters of recommendation which have been tendered to the proprietor of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring and Restorative. It has been used by hundreds of people, and it never fails to restore the color and growth of hair. This singular effect is produced as when dyes are used; for it acts upon the natural secretions of coloring matter at the roots, and thus effects the change. Besides, the color produced is not a counterfeit, but the natural shade of youth. It does not color the skin. Prepared and sold by W. E. HAGAN & Co., Troy, N.Y.

Joy to the Admirers of
A FINE HEAD OF
RICH GLOSSY HAIR.
Talk of beauty, it cannot exist without a fine head of hair, then read the following, and if you ask more, see circular around each bottle, and no one can doubt.
PROF. WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.—We call the attention of all, old and young, to this wonderful preparation, which turns back to its original color, gray hair—covers the head of the bald with a luxuriant growth—removes the dandruff, itching and all cutaneous eruptions—causes a continual flow of the natural fluids—and hence, if used as a regular dressing for the hair will preserve its color, and keep it from falling to extreme old age, in all its natural beauty. We call then upon the bald, the gray, or diseased in scalp, to use it; and surely the young will not, as they value the flowing locks, or the witching curl, ever be without it. Its praise is upon the tongue of thousands.
The Agent for Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative in New Haven, received the following letter in regard to the Restorative, a few weeks since:
DEAR RIVER, CONN., July 23, 1856.
Mr. Leavenworth—Sir: I have been troubled with dandruff or scurf on my head for more than a year, my hair began to come out quite freely, and fall together. I saw in a New Haven paper about "Wood's Hair Restorative" as a cure. I called at your store on the 1st of April last, and purchased one bottle to try it, and I found to my satisfaction it was the thing; it removed the scurf and new hair began to grow, it is now two or three inches in length where I have not had any for years. I wish you to send me two bottles more by Mr. Post, the bearer of this. I don't know as any of the kind is used in this place, you may have a market for many bottles; other it is known here. Yours with res., RUFUS PRATT.
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9, 1856.
PROF. WOOD—Dear Sir: Your Hair Restorative is proving itself beneficial to me. The front, and also the back part of my head almost lost its covering—in fact none. I have not had but two bottles of your Restorative, and now the tip of my head is well studded with a promising crop of young hair, and the scurf is also receiving its benefit. I have tried other preparations without any benefit whatever. I think from my own personal recommendation, I can induce many others to try it. Yours respectfully,
D. R. THOMAS, M. D., No. 464 Vine street.
VINCENNES, IA., June 22, 1853.
PROF. O. J. WOOD: As you are about to manufacture and vend your recently discovered Hair Restorative, I will state, for whomsoever it may concern, that I have used it now for three years to use it—that, I have, for several years, been in the habit of using other Hair Restoratives, and that I find yours much superior to any other I know. It entirely cleanses the head of dandruff, and with one month's proper use will restore any person's hair to the original youthful color and texture, giving it a healthy, soft and glossy appearance; and all this, without discoloring the hands that apply it, or the dress on which it drops. I would, therefore, recommend its use to every one desirous of having a fine color and texture to hair.
Respectfully yours, WILSON KING.

THREE Good Four-Wheeled TOP CARRIAGES.
A number of Second Hand WAGONS
For sale by WM. C. HATCH & CO.,
Carriage Establishment,
my12 tf No. 11½ Fleet street.

The following remedies are offered to the public as the best, most perfect, which medical science can afford. AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS have been prepared with the utmost skill which the medical profession of this age possesses, and their effects show they have virtues which surpass any combination of medicines hitherto known. Other preparations do more and less good than these, for such dangerous complaints, so quick and so surely, as to prove an efficacy and a power to uproot disease beyond any thing which men have known before. By removing the obstructions of the internal organs and stimulating them into healthy action, they renovate the fountains of life and vigor,—health courses anew through the body, and the sick man is well again. They are adapted to disease, and disease only, for when taken by one in health they produce but little effect. This is the perfection of medicine. It is antidotal to disease, and no more. Tender children may take them with impunity. If they are sick they will cure them, if they are well they will do them no harm.

Give them to some patient who has been prostrated with bilious complaint: see his bent-up, tottering form straighten with strength again; see his long-lost appetite return; see his clammy features blossom into health. Give them to some sufferer whose foul blood has burst out in scrofula till his skin is covered with sores, and they who stand, or sits, or lies in anguish. He has been drenched inside and out with every potion which ingenuity could suggest. ❊ Give him these PILLS, and mark the effect; see the scabs fall from his body; see the new, fair skin that has grown under them; see the late leper that is clean. Give them to those whose angry humors have planted rheumatism in his joints and bones; move him, and he screeches with pain; he too has been soaked through every muscle of his body with liniments and salves; give him these PILLS to purify his blood; they may not cure him, for, alas! there are cases which no mortal power can reach; but mark, he walks with crutches now, and now he walks alone; they have cured him. Give them to the lean, sour, haggard dyspeptic, whose gnawing stomach has long ago eaten every smile from his face and every vestige from his body. See his appetite return, and with it his health; see the new man. See her that was radiant with health and loveliness blasted and too early withering away; want of exercise or mental anguish, or some other disease, has deranged the internal organs of digestion, assimilation or secretion, till they do their office ill. Her blood is vitiated, her health is gone. Give her these PILLS to stimulate the vital principle into renewed vigor, to cast out the obstructions, and infuse a new vitality into the blood. Now look again—the roses blossom on her cheek, and where lately sorrow sat joy bursts from every feature. See the sweet infant wasted with worms. Its wan, sickly features tell you without disguise, and painfully distinct, that they are eating its life away. Its pinched-up features, its moans and cries, and restless sleepings, tell the dreadful truth in language which every mother knows. Give it the PILLS in large doses to sweep these vile parasites from the body. Now turn again and see the ruddy bloom of childhood. Is it nothing to do these things? Nay, are they not the marvel of this age? And yet they are done around you every day

Have you the less serious symptoms of these distempers, they are the easier cured. Jaundice, Costiveness, Headache, Sickness, Heartburn, Foul Stomach, Nausea, Pain in the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, King's Evil, Neuralgia, Gout, and kindred complaints all arise from the derangements which these PILLS rapidly cure. Take them perseveringly, and under the counsel of a good Physician if you can; if not, take them judiciously by such advice as we give you, and the distressing, dangerous diseases they cure, which afflict so many millions of the human race, are cast out like the devils of old—they must burrow in the brutes and in the sea. Price 25 cents per box—5 boxes for $1.

Through a trial of many years and through every nation of civilized men, AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has been found to afford more relief and to cure more cases of pulmonary disease than any other remedy known to mankind. Cases of apparently settled consumption have been cured by it, and thousands of sufferers who were deemed beyond the reach of human aid have been restored to their friends and usefulness, to sound health and the enjoyments of life, by this all-powerful antidote to disease seated in the lungs. The dry, hacking cough, the glassy eye, and the pale, thin features of him who was lately lusty and strong, whisper to all but him CONSUMPTION. He tries every thing; but the disease is gnawing at his vitals, and shows its fatal symptoms more and more over all his frame. He is taking the CHERRY PECTORAL now; it has stopped his cough and made his breathing easy; his sleep is sound at night; his appetite returns, and with it his strength. The dart which pierced his side is broken. Scarcely any neighborhood can be found which has not some living trophy like this to shadow forth the virtues which have won for the CHERRY PECTORAL an imperishable renown. But its usefulness does not end here. Nay, it accomplishes more by prevention than cure. The careless colds and coughs which it cures are the seed which would have ripened into a dreadful harvest of incurable diseases. Influenza, Croup, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Pleurisy, Whooping Cough, and all irritations of the throat and lungs are easily cured by the CHERRY PECTORAL if taken in season. Every family should have it by them, and they will find it an invaluable protection from the insidious prowler which carries off the parent sheep from many a flock, the darling lamb from many a home.

Authenticated evidence of these facts, with directions for the treatment of each complaint, may be found in Ayer's American Almanac, of which we publish three millions, and scatter them broadcast over the earth, in other tongues than this, every where may have before them the information it contains. Druggists and dealers in medicine generally have them for distribution gratis, and also for sale these remedies, prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER, Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lottery Office of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in the most honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled for the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $20; halves, $6; quarters, $3; $1. No tickets will be sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can be deceived in them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $20,000, every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published in Savannah, Ga., in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Herald. Write your orders plainly and all direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

Winship's Patent Upright Self-Ventilating Refrigerator.

IT is now conceded by the public, that provisions are rendered every one wholesome by being confined in a Refrigerator in which the air is not constantly and effectually changed, and the health of many families has suffered in consequence. The many and so small common to most ice chests is a sure indication of this poisonous and offensive tendency.

This Refrigerator is the only one ever offered that is perfectly and effectually so; and, in the simple manner that Prof Silliman has introduced a description of it in his new work on Natural Philosophy, as the best illustration ever practically tested of perfect ventilation.

The temperature is always uniform.

The air never becomes stagnant.

There is no waste of ice.

The warm air cannot enter upon opening the doors. Access to the ice is had without disturbing the provision chamber.

Articles of different flavors cannot impregnate each other. Milk, delicate fruits, and meats, can be preserved much longer than in any other Refrigerator.

All who value health and pure food are advised to give this article a trial. The cost is about the same as the ice chests, and they are made with panelled sides and top, and tastefully painted.

TO "ANNIE."

Annie, fair Annie, we are on our way home,
The mansions of rest, where our spirits may roam;
The regions of bliss, with our friends ever near,
Will feast on those loves that now render life dear;
Those storm clouds will ne'er with an aspect of gloom,
Lower our heads as if threatening our doom;
The slanderer's tongue will ne'er pierce us again,
Now we shall have passed to that heavenly plain.
We cannot bereave us, keen anguish and pain,
Nor their hydra-headed tongues will beset us in vain;
The bliss there in store, will much more than atone
For the ills here endured,—when we meet at our home.

How delightfully sweet the prospect before us,
That heavenly home which death shall restore us;
Where the purest affection is food for the spirit
Those our hearts cleave to, in the land we inherit.

Where the waters that sparkle and gambol along,
Are the nectar of life; where the angelic throng
Take inspiration, from foundation to dome
That pearly abode—our beautiful home;
Where the flowers of Eden are ever in bloom,
Where the ambrosial air renders sweet the perfume
Of our home o'er the river, the place of our rest,
The bright hope of the saint, the abode of the blessed.

Annie, we soon shall be there, and the trials of life,
With its cares and perplexities, troubles and strife,
Will pass, with their terrors, like the storm and the cloud,
And we'll bask in the glories and presence of God.

We scarcely desire to put far off the day,
For the angels shall come to waft me away
To our true friends are waiting to embrace me once more,
They beckon me on to eternity's shore.

Long to be with them, I so well know their worth,
Not less valued now, than while children of earth;
Pure and so lovely—so constant and even,
Anxiously waiting to meet them in heaven.

Now, my fair Annie, I must haste me away,
Make your good city; and perhaps we ne'er may
Again upon earth—but where'er be my road,
I will lead very soon to our home and to God.

TRANSIT.

A NAVAL HERO, WITHOUT FIGHTING.—The New York Evening Post tells this old and true story.

The Isabel Beurmann sailed from N. Y. on Tuesday of last week with a valuable mixed cargo, bound to Port au Prince.—On the following day the Panama Railroad Company's brig Caroline, Captain Salisbury, also sailed from this port, bound for Aspinwall.

On Saturday morning last, at half-past 4 o'clock, 150 miles southeast by south from Barnegat, the Caroline discovered an abandoned wreck, which upon being boarded, proved to be the Isabel Beurmann, which had evidently been in violent collision with a large ship, and was rapidly sinking. Her port bow was completely stove down some distance below the water line, her bowsprit towing over the bows, all sails clewed up, but the main-mast towing overboard, and she had already 8 feet of water in her hold. The fact that the brig's boats were still on board, while every portable thing of value had been removed, showed that the crew had been cut off at leisure, probably by the same ship that had caused the damage, and which, from the force of the blow, must have suffered severely herself.

Captain Whitebury immediately set all hands to work on the wreck, except himself and his cook, and by drawing canvas over the bow, and diligent pumping, she was freed from water at 7 o'clock in the afternoon. The mate, Mr. John Porter, an energetic young man, then volunteered, with two seamen, to attempt the perilous task of bringing the wreck into port.—Fortunately, they have had only light variable winds most of the time, and by hard work at the pumps and careful navigation succeeded in their undertaking. The wreck arrived in the lower bay early this morning, and was taken in tow by a tug, and now lies at Burling slip, a sorry sight. She has been visited this morning by numbers of nautical men, all of whom express their amazement at the daring of the hardy seamen. The value of the vessel and cargo, as she lies, is roughly estimated at $30,000, upon which of course the highest rate of salvage will be paid.

STEAMBOATS OVER THE RAPIDS OF THE ST. LAWRENCE.—The fine steamers Canada and America have been brought safely down the rapids of the St. Lawrence to the town. They cost half a million of dollars, and were found to be worth nothing above the rapids. In passing down these, they shot some leaps seven or eight feet deep. The vessels three hundred feet long, and seven or eight feet deep, this was regarded as a desperate-or-nothing experiment.

MARRIAGE AND DIVORCE.—The queer idea some people have of the sacredness of the marriage relation, is well illustrated by the following from the Cincinnati Enquirer:—

"A lady came to this city a day or two ago, and made application to a lawyer for divorce, saying she was from the State of New York, and had come here for the purpose of effecting a separation, expecting to do so in about twenty-four hours. She appeared much disappointed when told she must be a resident in the State for a year before she could obtain her wish, and said that if she had to wait so long as that, she would return to her husband again, as the cause of their quarrel was only about a bonnet, which she wished to throw away, and he had urged her to wear it another month. Brutal and monstrous as that circumstance had shown him, she thought she might endure his presence a little while longer."

Miss Proctor, Barry Cornwall's daughter, is about to publish a volume of poems.

CITY COUNCIL.

On Thursday evening, June 24th, the City Council accepted an invitation to join the procession in celebration of Independence.

The committee of conference on appropriations agreed to reduce the bill as originally reported by by the Finance committee as follows:—On Schools $500; Streets, $200; Health Committee, $100; Fire Department, $100; Repairs and Rents School Houses, $100.

The report was adopted by the Board of Aldermen, with a proviso to the School item, that $250 be appropriated to pay arrearges in the salaries of teachers in Dist. No. 1, and $232,50 for same purpose in Dist. No. 2.

Adjourned to Friday evening, for further action on the appropriation bill.

SOUTH PARISH SUNDAY SCHOOL CELEBRATION.

We noticed in our last issue the celebration by the So. Parish Sunday School of the 40th anniversary of its establishment, by religious services at their Chapel. The following Tuesday was appointed for a second part of the celebration in the form of a rural festival; but the long easterly storm of last week postponed it. Many anxious young faces (and older ones as well) watched the clouds that tedious week, and grew long at reports of wet woods and threatened colds. But patience was last rewarded; Tuesday, the 22d, was a day to be unavoidably to mind Lowell's lines—

"Oh what so rare as a day in June?
Then, if ever, come perfect days!"

The teachers and scholars with their parents and friends, to the number of between 300 and 400, left town in the 10 A. M. train from Boston. The spot selected was the lovely grove at the South Berwick Junction, on the banks of the Great Works, or Witchcraft, river, which there makes a semi-circular sweep, enclosing the grove on three sides, and with its rippling waters and rushing rapids, joins in the chorus of winds and birds and nature's other minstrelsy with charming effect. On arriving here the company dispersed in various directions, while the committee of arrangements, assisted by other ladies and gentlemen, arranged the refreshments on two tables (each 80 feet in length) which had been previously erected. The tables were loaded with so bountiful a supply of both substantial and delicate viands, that one unacquainted with the appetites bestowed by youth and country air would have wondered at its destination. The tables were also beautifully adorned with numerous bouquets. At 12 o'clock, on a pre-arranged signal, all betook themselves to the speaker's stand erected in another part of the grove, where Mr. John P. Lyman, senior superintendent of the school, welcomed the assembly in a short address, in which he touchingly alluded to the numerous changes among them since they last met, ten years ago, in the same spot. After this, Rev. Dr. Peabody offered a prayer, at the close of which the ode on our first page, written by James T. Fields, (formerly a pupil of the school) for the celebration of its 20th anniversary, beautiful and appropriate now as then, was sung. Addresses were then made by Rev. Warren H. Cudworth of East Boston, Secretary of the Sunday School Society, and by Rev. Dr. Peabody,—after which all proceeded to the tables, where a blessing having been asked by Rev. Mr. Medbery, the demolition of the eatables proceeded rapidly, but with perfect order and decorum.—When all had abundantly satisfied themselves, another ode was sung, and each one went to amuse himself as best suited his taste; whether it were by a ramble along the banks of the stream or through the thick woods on its further shore, by a game of romps, by an aerial flight in the swings which were kept in constant motion, by a quiet chat with friends, or by a survey of the whole company as thus divided into numberless groups, each appearing to enjoy him or herself better, if possible, than the rest. After two hours thus spent, (the time seeming all too short,) the signal again summoned all together to listen to appropriate remarks by Mr. John Ball of Salem, (a former superintendent,) by Rev. Mr. Medbery, and by Rev. Mr. Cudworth, who might be well called the children's friend, so perfectly did his words seem in unison with bright little ones that looked up to him from their seat on the oak leaves, following every story, remark and friendly hint with unflagging attention. The increasing railroad time obliged this pleasant scene to close, and after singing another ode written for the occasion, the company returned to the cars and reached home safely at 5 1-2 P. M.,—thus closing a day of unusual happiness, unmarred by a single misadventure; to which memory will often look back, and for whose repetition hope will earnestly look forward to 1858.—Journal.

Timothy G. Senter, Esq. of Lynn, Mass. has accepted the invitation to read the Declaration of Independence on the occasion of the celebration of our National Birthday, in this city, on the 5th July.

LAUNCH.—Ship Onozimbo, of about 1009 tons, will be launched from Marcy & Petigrew's shipyard, South end, on Monday next, about 2 o'clock, P. M.

MACKEREL AND POGIES.—Mackerel are now schooling in abundance in Newburyport bay. The schooner Coral seined one day last week, in the vicinity of the Isles of Shoals, thirty barrels. The market is well supplied with those fish brought in daily from the Shoals.

Mr. John Janvrin of Newburyport, on Saturday last, seined thirty barrels of "pogies." On Sunday the water in the vicinity of the ship yards was black with the swarming fish. Unless driven off by their rapacious enemy, the blue fish, the fishermen will be provided with the choicest bait.—Newburyport Herald.

EXETER ACADEMY.—We have before us a catalogue of this ancient and successful institution, for the present year. The whole number of students is 135. Of these six are from Portsmouth. The advanced class containing four, three of whom are from Portsmouth—F. W. Hackett, James R. May, and Joseph H. Senter. These young gentlemen are so far advanced that they will enter college as Sophomores.

Morning Chronicle.

SATURDAY, JUNE 26, 1858.

ANTIOCH COLLEGE.—This college has long been struggling with a comparatively insignificant load of debt, which threatens to be fatal to it. Unless $60,000 is raised to pay off the debts for which it is mortgaged, it is now announced that it will soon pass into the hands of the Catholics. As an institution for intellectual education in the West, it must, we think, be of great value, and as a nucleus for religious instruction in the great western valley, we should think it would not take twenty-four hours to obtain, among those who advocate a high tone of religious morality, but untrammelled by creeds and traditions, to provide all that is needed to pay its debts.

We marvel much that among the friends of Mr. Mann in New England, there have not long ago, been found a dozen willing to compete with each other in order to supply the funds for its relief. It seems to us that the community is strangely neglectful in the matter, or else there is something behind the curtain which has not yet appeared.

UTAH.—A private letter from Governor Cumming, received at Washington, speaks earnestly of the expediency of preserving peace with the Mormons, and preventing, by this means, their exodous. Gov. Cumming says his great hope is in Brigham Young, and that if his efforts at pacification should be thwarted, the country may expect a guerilla war of years, at an expense to the country of many millions of dollars.

WARNING TO LECTURERS.—Last winter, Mr. Park Benjamin was engaged to lecture for $100 by the Young Men's Mercantile Library Association of Cincinnati. Previous to the time set, he went to that city and gave lectures on his own account. The public having become satiated with Mr. Benjamin, he was notified by the Association that he was not wanted to lecture before them. Mr. Benjamin brought a suit to recover the $100, but the court decided, the contract notwithstanding, that under the circumstances the Association should be sustained.

☞ Rev. Charles Cleveland, Missionary to the Poor in Boston, publishes a report of his doings, from which it appears that he has assisted 1574 persons. He says:—"In the twenty-five years of my mission, just expired, I have recorded one hundred and thirty-five subscribers to salary, who have gone to their 'long home.'" There is a deficiency of $140 in the Mission. Mr. Cleveland is now 87 years old.

A MURDER CONFESSED.—A villain by the name of Burns, convicted of the murder of a frail woman, at Wheeling, Ohio, named Mary Ann Montory, who formerly lived in Cincinnati, and who was of respectable family, and at one time very beautiful, made a confession a few days since, which shows the crime to have been one of unusual atrocity. He induced the girl to go with him back of the city, upon the hill, and while there he beat her until he supposed her to be dead. He says that after the first attempt, during the same morning, he returned to the spot where the bloody tragedy had been enacted, to see whether he had accomplished his purpose. On his arrival at the place he found her yet living, and wishing that she might find some means of putting an end to her existence, and relieving herself of the misery with which she was suffering. He told her he could soon do that, and with a large stone beat her head until life was extinct. It is needless to say that the miserable wretch is soon to be hung.

CARPET CONVENTION OF BARBER.—Winter Davis, of Milford, Del., son of M. J. Davis, gave a birth-day party to young ladies and gentlemen about his own age, on Tuesday last. Mr. Davis was one year old on that day, and his company, 22 in number, ranged in their ages from eighteen months down. While partaking of refreshments, they sat in a circle on the carpet, and when the plates were passed around each one insisted on helping himself to all the plate contained.

ROLL THE DRUM.—"Old Bob," a negro drummer in the Revolutionary War, died recently in Elbert county, Ga., at the advanced age of 107 years. He was present at the battles of Eutaw Springs, Guilford Court House, and Brandywine.

☞ The Virginia "Commandery" of Knights Templars arrived in Rhode Island on Wednesday; and on Thursday, being St. John's day, they had a grand reception and display of Masons.

GENERAL COURT.

THURSDAY, June 24.

SENATE.—Bill reported and ordered to a third reading.—An act to enable the towns of Stratham and South Newmarket to build a bridge over Exeter river.

Indefinitely postponed.—Bill to facilitate the collection of taxes.

HOUSE.—Mr. Messer, of New London, from the committee to whom was referred the bill in amendment of chapter 1599 of the Private Acts (to allow the Manchester and Candia Railroad further time to complete their road) reported a resolution indefinitely postponing said bill.

Mr. Brown, of Portsmouth, expressed the hope that the report of the committee would not be adopted, but that the matter would be referred to the next Legislature.

Mr. Bell, of Exeter, also opposed the adoption of the report. He thought it would be an act of great injustice to the numerous and respectable petitioners who had come before the House asking for the passage of the bill, and he thought the least the House could do, under the circumstances, was to refer the bill to the next Legislature.

Mr. Ela, of Rochester, said "ditto" to Mr. Bell. The establishment of the contemplated road, he thought, would be of great service to the only seaport in the State, and have a tendency to keep capital in this State which was now directed into other quarters.

Mr. Campbell, of Amherst, stated the facts, as they came before the committee. He said the charter of the road was granted several years ago, that the time fixed for its construction had been heretofore extended, and the committee came to the conclusion (though not unanimously) not to grant a further extension.

Mr. Greenleaf, of Portsmouth, favored the reference. It seemed to him that there was nothing unreasonable in this request, and he thought if it was granted it would have a tendency to keep the matter before the people, and show them that their wishes received some favor or consideration from the House.

Mr. Crane, of Candia, hoped the matter would lie over until the next session. The charter for the road was granted in 1849, but circumstances had been such as to prevent its being built up to this time; but they had now the fullest assurance that the means would be provided for the completion of the road. He believed it was conceded, by all who had any knowledge of the subject, that the general good of the community required the construction of the road.

Mr. Coggswell, of Manchester, said there was no opposition to the road but from persons interested in other railroads, who maintained that this branch would never be worth anything, and that whatever patronage it received would be taken from other roads. He did not concur in this opinion, and wished to have the subject referred to the next session, that it might be fully considered.

Mr. Brown, of Portsmouth, again spoke in favor of the postponement. He said it was not for the House to consider whether the road would be profitable or not, but whether the public interest required it.—Persons were not to be compelled to buy stock in the road, and if they did so it was at their own risk.

Mr. Smyth, of Manchester, said if the report was adopted great injustice would be done. The remarks of the gentleman from Manchester had reminded him of the fact that there was no opposition to the proposed measure except from railroad interests. It was a fact that the people were in favor of it, but the great monopolizing railroad interests came in, and stood between the people and their rights. But for the lateness of the session, and the want of time for a proper consideration of the matter, he should desire to have it settled before the final adjournment of this House; but the petitioners wanted the privilege of coming before the Legislature next year with this matter. Parties were now ready, as they never had been before, to come forward and build the road; and he could almost say it would be an outrage to the parties interested in this important matter, to say to them, now that they had at last procured the means for the completion of their enterprise, that they could not proceed, and that their rights should now be denied them. It seemed to him that there could not be a member of the House who would vote against the postponement to the next session.

The question being taken on the adoption of the report, it was lost.

On motion of Mr. Bell, of Exeter, the resolution was amended by substituting postponement until the next session, instead of indefinite postponement, and passed.

The Rights of Women.—On motion of Mr. Clement March, of Portsmouth, the bill to protect the property of married women was taken from the table after an interesting debate. The bill was ordered to a second reading by a vote of 104 to 101.

Mr. Campbell, of Amherst, from the Committee on Railroads, reported that the bill relating to Directors in Railroad Corporations be indefinitely postponed. Adopted.

Mr. McClure, from the Committee on the Judiciary, reported leave to withdraw on the petition for an amendment of the Temperance law. Adopted.

☞ Daniel Webster was once asked by a young law student if there was any room in the legal profession for young men.—"There is always room in the upper story of any profession for those who can reach it," was the reply.

WIFE MURDER.—John Lyons of New York, last Saturday night, murdered his wife—in the second degree we suppose, for he was only intoxicated at the time, and only kicked her in the side, by which her liver was ruptured.

☞ The Concord Steam Mill, lands, buildings and machinery, were offered at auction on the 21st inst. Mr. Leonard Holt, of that city, made the highest bid of $9150. The sale was then postponed.—The property cost about $30,000, and has many advantages which make it a desirable investment.

CONSUMPTION.

How many diseases of debility, incurable by ordinary medicines, are classed by physicians, as well as the public, under the convenient term Consumption! All of them agree in one thing, their fatal tendency; and most of them, in their primary and even secondary stages, may be arrested by purifying the springs of life through the renovating agency of the PERUVIAN SYRUP.

INDICATION OF MERIT.—Under the heading of "Yes You May" may be found the advertisement of Messrs. Hagan & Co., to which we would call the attention of our readers.

THIS may certify that I have this day given to my sons Henry J. and William F. Willey their time, to act and trade for themselves, and shall not claim their earnings nor pay any of their debts. Portsmouth, June 25, 1858.

FOR FEMALES;

Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity of the Menses.

THESE Pills are nothing new, but have been used by the Doctor for many years, both in France and America, with unparalled success in every case; and he is urged by many thousand ladies who have used them to make the Pills public, for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to health; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box.

Price $1. Sold in Portsmouth by JOSEPH H. THACHER, in Dover by Chas. A. Tufts, in Exeter by J. C. Merrill, and in Newmarket by J. A. Prendergast. They will supply dealers at the Proprietor's prices, and also send the Pills to the Ladies (confidentially) by mail to any part of the city or country, on receipt of $1 through the Post Office.

N. B.—Ladies will be particular in asking for Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills. Observe the signature J. Duponco is upon each box. You will then obtain a Pill you can rely upon.

☞ On Sunday morning the union prayer meeting will be held in the North Church, commencing at the first ringing of the bells—and the rest of the week at the Fleet Street Vestry.

Messrs. Editors:—I was pleased to notice in your paper of yesterday, a request that the ministers of this city would notify their churches to assemble on the morning of the fifth of July, where they may jointly and heartily offer thanks and praises to our Lord, for the blessings of liberty, health and prosperity of our country, both religiously and temporally. For on this Rock alone we can build our hopes for a continuance of the blessings of God, so bountifully bestowing on us as a people. In all our seasons for joy and rejoicing, let us not forget from what source and for what cause they came to us. The same God demands the first fruits of the heart, and the supreme affection of all his intelligent creatures, as n all past ages. The results of obedience and disobedience are plainly recorded, so plain that no people who read need err.

The meeting will be held in the Fleet St. Vestry at 7 3-4 o'clock, one hour.

☞ At N. P. Thacher's elegant apothecary store, corner of Market street, is a new and very beautiful Soda Fountain—of novel form and construction; from which the skillful and gentlemanly proprietor will draw you a most refreshing and healthful beverage for a hot day—and good indeed, on any day. It is worth the price of a glass of soda, to have a chance to admire so fine a piece of silver furniture; and though we don't say Thacher sells the only good soda in town, or the best, yet we do say, he sells the best among those who have complimented us—he having furnished us with a double pack of cards which all count trumps at his counter.

☞ All visitors to Diman's Highland Cottage, Stratham, bring back accounts of their treatment there, as glowing as the Israelitish spies did from the land of Canaan. The only reason the moderns don't bring back the bunches of fruit is, that it is so good they can't resist eating all they get in their possession.

☞ The Rockingham Weekly Chronicle, containing a summary of the news of the week, this day published, and for sale at the Chronicle Counting Room; price 3 cts. each. $1 per year, in advance.

CONTINENTALS NOTICE.—The Continentals will meet at Jefferson Hall this Saturday Evening, at 7 o'clock. Each member is expected to come.

H. T. LAMBERT, Captain.

The Massachusetts General Association of congregational (trinitarian) ministers closed its sessions at Dorchester on Thursday afternoon, after a meeting of three days. A resolution was introduced heartily commending the recent action of the American Tract Society at Boston. A spirited discussion ensued, but the resolution passed by a large vote.

☞ McGee, the murderer of Warden Walker, was hung in Boston on Friday noon. He appeared stupidly indifferent, and exhibited some appearance of insanity. He had great hopes of a pardon.

☞ The Corner Stone of the New Masonic Temple, in Concord, will be laid with appropriate ceremonies July 5th.

☞ Gov. Morrill has been re-nominated by the republicans of Maine.

LOFTY CONDUCT.—In the neighborhood where I once lived, a man and his wife were almost always quarreling. During their quarrels their only child (a boy) was generally present, and of course had caught many of his father's expressions.

One day, when the boy had been doing something wrong, the mother, intending to chastise him, called him and said, "Come here, sir; what did you do that for?"

The boy, complacently folding his arms and imitating his father's manner, replied, "See here, madam, I don't wish to have any words with you.—Boston Gazette.

MARINE CHRONICLE.

PORT OF PORTSMOUTH.

FRIDAY, June 25.

Arr sch Albert, Cotton, Philadelphia.
Otis, Amazeen, Boston.
J W Lindsey, Crowell, Washington, DC.

SENTENCED.—At the last term of the Supreme Judicial Court at Exeter last week, the exceptions in the case of Andrew Wentworth and Gilbert Stone, convicted of placing obstructions on the Boston & Maine Railroad, near Salmon Falls, were overruled by the Court, and the prisoners were sentenced to the State Prison for the term of seven years each. They have already spent nearly two years in our county Jail, through the ingenuity of their counsel in figtting the case, which, added to their seven years in the State Prison, will give them a pretty long term of confinement.—Dover Enquirer.

ACCIDENT.—A correspondent at Exeter, N. H., informs us that a young man in the employ of Mr. Davis, by the name of George Shattuck, was severely injured on Tuesday. While at work with a circular saw, a piece of wood caught upon the saw and was thrown with great violence at Shattuck, striking him in the face and completely crushing it from the forehead between the eyes to the mouth, the whole presenting a mass of mangled flesh. His recovery is doubtful.—Boston Journal.

The above piece of information, writes our Exeter correspondent, must be untrue. There is no citizen of Exeter named Davis, who uses a circular saw, and nothing was known of the affair until it appeared as above. It is either a mistake of locality, or a deliberate hoax.

CROWS IN THE CORN FIELD, OR, WHAT "POLL" GOT FOR TELLING A LIE.—Mr. Parker Tilton, who resides at the lower part of the city, has had a very intelligent but roguish parrot residing in his family for the past fifteen years. The bird has always been allowed the privilege of the yard, and frequently would stray into the adjoining fields. The parrot had been taught to keep a watch upon the crows that visited the cornfield of Mr. Tilton to pick up his corn, which information he had frequently imparted. On Thursday last, "Poll" took her usual stroll, and this time concluded to deceive her master, whereupon she vociferated as had been her custom, "Crows in the cornfield!" Mr. Tilton, hearing the voice of his sentinel, crept softly up to the enclosure and levelling his gun in the direction of the rustling corn, discharged the contents. On arriving at the spot to pick up the slaughtered depredators of his crop, to his great surprise he found only the mangled remains of his favorite parrot.—Newburyport Herald.

THE COLLINS LINE.—Contrary to the general impression, the appropriation for the Collins line at the late session failed on the final passage. It was on as an amendment to the Post Office bill, which was loaded down with all sorts of special legislation. Two conferences could not agree upon these outside matters, and at the last moment the House proposed the original naked bill, omitting everything but the regular and necessary appropriations, including the amendments in which both branches had concurred—that for Collins among them—and the Senate concurred on Monday morning. An application was made to the President, and he was at first inclined to assume the responsibility of the payment, but after a day's reflection he refused, and the whole thing fell through.—It is now evident that this line cannot again be started, for even with the suspended pay it could not be maintained, except by a change of the terminus from Liverpool to Southampton.—Portland Adv.

HIGHWAYMEN.—James Harlow, Esq., of Spencer, Me., in returning home from Bangor, on Wednesday evening of last week, was stopped on the toll bridge by three men, who demanded his money, at the same time displaying knives and pistols. Being unarmed, he gave up his pocket book and was allowed to pass.—Portland Advertiser.

Two boys, 18 and 12 years of age, have been arrested in South Paris, Me., on suspicion of setting fire to the Globe Hotel, which was burned in that place on Sunday. These lads were pedlers, and had been stopping at the house. One of them acknowled they had stolen money several times in different places. They are supposed to belong to Manchester, N. H.—Portland Advertiser.

Wolfe's Celebrated Scheidam Aromatic

SCHNAPPS.

This medicinal beverage is manufactured by the proprietor, at Scheidam, Holland, expressly for medicinal use, by a process peculiar to his own Factory. It is the pure Tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, whose more vinous extract is distilled and rectified with its spirituous solvent, which thus becomes a concentrated tincture of exquisite flavor and aroma, altogether, transcendant in its cordial and medicinal properties to any alcoholic stimulant now made in the world. It is now prescribed by more than 5,000 physicians in the United States, in cases of Gravel, Gout, Dropsy, and Bladder and Kidney Complaints.

Put up in Quart and Pint Bottles, in cases of one dozen qts. and cases of two dozen pts., and for sale by all Druggists and Country Merchants.

Haying Tools.

Ho! farmers away to the well ripened field,
Where a burden of grass to your mowing will yield,
But as you go by, you will surely do well
To look into the shop of URIAH BLAISDELL,
And buy a good Scythe as sharp as a razor,
That cuts down grass and grain, without showing favor
To the great or the small, to the thick or the thin.
But buy a good Rifle, before you begin.

There are Horse Rakes, and Drag Rakes, and Hand Rakes made neat.
To gather the scatterings of Hay or of Wheat,
And Sickles, steel tempered, all made of the best,
That reap Rye, Wheat or Barley when put to the test,
The Bucket and Tub, to hold water to drink,
The Threshing Machine, for a shilling, O think!
And the Tin Pots and Kettles, to carry your dinner,
Lest, if you go hungry, your face may be thinner,
So sharpen your tools, fill your kettles, and that
Will make you work easy, and laugh and grow fat. je23

APPLEDORE HOUSE,

ISLES OF SHOALS.

THIS well known Ocean Retreat is again open for visitors. The house has been refurnished, and every preparation made to secure the health, comfort and happiness of its patrons.

Boosmed as this locality is, in the Atlantic ocean ever surrounded by an atmosphere of perfect purity; its delicious coolness in the hottest days of summer; its entire exemption from all epidemics, and its freedom from dust and odious exhalations render it a superior summer residence for invalids and all those who wish to restore their wasted energies. To amateur fishermen it offers a centre of the most glorious sport that can be conceived.

The Gerrish House,

KITTERY POINT, ME., NEAR PORTSMOUTH,

HAS been newly furnished, and supplied with all the conveniences of a summer resort, and is now open for visitors. The house is pleasantly situated on the bank of the Piscataqua, in full view of the United States Navy Yard, Fort McClary, Fort Constitution, Gerrish's Island, Whale's Back and the Isles of Shoals, and is within ten minutes walk of the mansion of Sir William Pepperell and the Sparhawks. The scenery around here at this season is unsurpassed in beauty, while the heavy forests which hang around many watering places are seldom known.

This house presents a pleasant and quiet resort for the invalid, for the weary, for the pleasure-seeking—and the proprietor will do all in his power to make his guests comfortable and happy. Horses and carriages always at hand. Good and safe boats for fishing and sailing, and a fine beach for bathing. YES, YOU MAY USE or recommend HEIMSTREET'S IMPROVED HAIR COLORING, and find it to be all its proprietors claim for it. Do you doubt it?

READ! READ!! READ!!!

SCHROON LAKE, Essex Co., N.Y., February 6, 1858.

W. E. HAGAN, Troy, N. Y.—Dear Sir: Having used your Hair Coloring and Restorative, and having been much pleased with it, I take pleasure in making the following statement: From the effects of a very severe fit of sickness when about eighteen years of age my hair commenced turning grey, and it continued to grow until it became perfectly white, being very harsh and coarse. Last Summer I had reached my fifty-third year, when I was induced by a friend to purchase two bottles of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, procured by you. I commenced using it according to directions, and in a few days was surprised to find that my hair from roots outward was turning back to its original color. It continued to grow until it was as truly brown and glossy as it was in my youthful days, and is now fully restored to its original color. MYLA SEAMAN.

Essex Co. ss: Myla Seaman came before me and was duly sworn, and says that the above statement is true, this 6th day of Feb., 1858.

JOEL F. PATTEN, Justice of the Peace.

PITTSFORD, VT., Aug. 1, 1857.

I hereby certify that my hair having become quite grey, I used Heimstreet's Hair Coloring, (prepared by W. E. Hagan, of Troy, N. Y.,) for four weeks, and my hair was in that time restored to its original color. I can fully recommend the article to be all it claims. WM. KINGSLEY,

Pastor of the Baptist Church, Pittsford, Vt.

The above are but two of the many letters of recommendation which have been tendered to the proprietor of Heimstreet's Hair Coloring and Restorative. It has been used by hundreds of people, and it never fails to restore the color and growth of hair. This singular effect is produced as when dyes are used; for it acts upon the natural secretions of coloring matter at the roots, and thus effects the change. Beside, the color produced is not counterfeit, but the natural shade of youth. It does not soil the skin. Prepared and sold by W. E. HAGAN & Co., Troy, N.Y.

Sold by JOSEPH H. THACHER, Apothecary, cor. of State and Pleasant sts., and No. 12 Market Square, Portsmouth, N. H. je5 3mdsdaw

The following remedies are offered to the public as the best, most perfect, which medical science can afford. AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS have been prepared with the utmost skill which the medical profession of this age possesses, and their effects show they have virtues which surpass any combination of medicines hitherto known. Other preparations do more or less good; but this cures such dangerous complaints, so quick and so surely, as to prove an efficacy and a power to uproot disease beyond any things which have known before. By removing the obstructions of the internal organs and stimulating them into healthy action, they renovate the fountains of life and vigor,—health courses anew through the body, and the sick man is well again. They are adapted, by their gentle action and disease only, for when taken by one in health they produce but little effect. This is the perfection of medicine. It is antagonistic to disease, and no more. Tender children may take them with impunity. If they are sick they will cure them, if they are well they will do them no harm.

Give them to some patient who has been prostrated with bilious complaint: see his bent-up, tottering form straighten with strength again; see his long-lost appetite return; see his clammy features blossom into health. Give them to some sufferer whose foul blood has burst out in scrofula till his skin is covered with sores; who stands, or sits, or lies in anguish. He has been drenched inside and out with every potion which ingenuity could suggest. Give him these PILLS, and mark the effect; see the scales fall from his body; see the new, fair skin that has grown under them; see the late leper that is clean. Give them to him whose angry humors have planted rheumatism in his joints and bones; move him, and he screeches with pain; he too has been soaked through every muscle of his body with liniments and salves; give him these PILLS to purify his blood; they may not cure him, for, alas! there are cases which no mortal power can reach; but mark, he walks with crutches now, and now he walks alone; they have cured him. Give them to that poor, sour, haggard dyspeptic whose gnawing stomach has long ago eaten every smile from his face and every muscle from his body. See his appetite return, and with it his health; see the new man. See her that was radiant with health and loveliness blasted and too early withering away; want of exercise or mental anguish, or some lurking disease, has deranged the internal organs of digestion, assimilation or secretion, till they do their office ill. Her blood is vitiated, her health is gone. Give her these PILLS to stimulate the vital principle into renewed vigor, to cast out the obstructions, and infuse a new vitality into the blood. Now look again—the roses blossom on her cheek, and where lately sorrow sat joy bursts from every feature. See the sweet infant wasted with worms. Its sun, sickly features sell you without disguise, and painfully distinct, that they are eating its life away. Its pinched-up nose and ears, and restless sleepings, tell the dreadful truth in language which every mother knows. Give it the PILLS in large doses to sweep the pestiferous parasites from the body. Now turn again and see the ruddy bloom of childhood. Is it nothing to do these things? Nay, are they not the marvel of this age? And yet they are done around you every day

Have you the less serious symptoms of these distempers, there are the easier cured. Jaundice, Costiveness, Headache, Sickness, Heartburn, Foul Stomach, Nausea, Pain in the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, King's Evil, Neuralgia, Gout, and kindred complaints all arise from the derangements which these PILLS rapidly cure. Take them perseveringly, and under the counsel of a good Physician if you can; if not, take them judiciously by such advice as we give you, and the distressing, dangerous diseases they cure, which afflict so many millions of the human race, are cast out like the devils of old—we have heard even in the brutes and in the sea. Price 25 cents per box—5 boxes for $1.

Through a trial of many years and through every nation of civilized men, AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has been found to afford more relief and to cure more cases of pulmonary disease than any other remedy known to mankind. Cases of apparently settled consumption have been cured by it, and thousands of sufferers who were deemed beyond the reach of human aid have been restored to their friends and usefulness, by its power to heal and the enjoyments of life, by this all-powerful antidote to diseases of the lungs and throat. Here a cold had settled on the lungs. The dry, hacking cough, the glassy eye, and the pale, thin features of him who was lately hale and strong, whisper to all but him CONSUMPTION. He knows not the thing; but the disease is gnawing at his vitals, and shows its fatal symptoms more and more over all his frame. He is taking the CHERRY PECTORAL now; it has stopped his cough and made his breathing easy; his sleep is sound and light, his strength recovers, and with it his strength. The dart which pierced his side is broken. Scarcely any neighborhood can be found which has not some living trophy like this to shadow forth the virtues which have won for the CHERRY PECTORAL an imperishable name. But its usefulness does not end here. Nay, it accomplishes more by prevention than cure. The countless colds and coughs which it cures are the seed which would have ripened into a dreadful harvest of incurable diseases. Influenza, Croup, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Pleurisy, Whooping Cough, and all irritations of the throat and lungs are easily cured by the CHERRY PECTORAL if taken in season. Every family should have it by them, and they will find it an invaluable protection from the insidious presence which creeps under the proverbial night from many a flock, the darling lamb from many a home.

Authenticated evidence of these facts, with directions for the treatment of each complaint, may be found in Ayer's American Almanac, of which we publish three millions, and scatter them broadcast over the earth, in order that the sick every where may have before them the information it contains. Druggists and dealers in medicine generally have them for distribution gratis, and also for sale these remedies, prepared by DR. J. C. AYER, Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass.

A PROCLAMATION TO THE LADIES.

WHEREAS, it appears that the days of right, and reason, and truth, and science, have passed away, and WHEREAS, the unscrupulous and ignorant are daily taking advantage of the profound and learned. BE IT KNOWN TO THE REFORM, to all whether male, or female, or women, that Dr. CHEESEMAN'S FEMALE PILLS are alone the certain panacea for the the troubles incident to female disorganization; they are a certain cure for painful menstruation, assuaging palpitations of the heart, disturbed sleep, pain in the side, and causing health and happiness to wheel along with joyous step, and merry laugh, as they are certain to bring on the monthly period with regularity.—AND WHEREAS, these PILLS are purely vegetable and entirely free from mercury, and perfectly harmless in their operations and wholly unlike other medicines thrust upon the public, purporting to effect the objects already specified, THEREFORE, BE IT KNOWN, that DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS will accomplish the desired object, when DISAPPOINTMENT has been experienced in other quarters. DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS and the Ladies will cause this Proclamation to spread amongst them, to their own everlasting benefit—always promising that said Proclamation is one made not for gain, but for truth's sake; that is to say the PILLS are NOT to be taken when any female is in an INTERESTING situation, otherwise a MISCARRIAGE will be the inevitable result.
